PROVIDENCE. Mrs. Jennie Williams, of 1922 Brick avenue, died yesterday afternoon of pleurisy. Mrs. Williams was born in North Abington township, and was 40 years old. She came to this place about two years ago, and in that short time her winning ways and kindly disposition won for her many friends whose hearts are saddened by her death. The deceased, who was a weak and frail woman, had been ailing for several weeks before her death, but thinking that she was suffering from a cold that would in time pass off, could not be persuaded to summon a physician. About a week dollars was drawn from the sub-treas-ago her condition became more serious ary for shipment to Europe. The poor and a physician was sent for. When the physician arrived he found that her condition was hopeless. She dally grew worse, and for several days lay in a stupor. Everything was done to relieve her sufferings, but yesterday af-ternoon she died. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon. Short services commencing at 12:30 will be held at the house conducted by Rev. W. G. Watkins, after which the remains will be taken to Waverly, where services will be held at the Baptist church. Interment will be made in Franklin cemetery. Waverly. The wedding of Miss Nellie Bell and Peter Cummings will be solemnized at the Holy Rosary church this morning at

Much indignation has been aroused by a crowd of young men and boys who congregate every evening at the store owned by the Scranton Stove works, and formerly occupied by the Dunmore Hardware and Novelty company. They may be found there at all hours of the night making sleep impossible and the night hideous by singing and obscene language. This should be looked into by the police and such disturbance of the public peace stopped.

MARKETS AND STOCKS

er part of the day the stock market to

put it mildly bordered on demoralization The interviews with the leading eastern Democratic leaders were mainly responsible for this condition of affairs. hese politicians having practically admitted in interviews printed yesterday that the free silver men will not only dictate the platform of the party but will name the candidate. These statements alarmed timid holders of securities and encouraged the bears to make demonstations against the list. Professional operators as usual were the first to discern the uneasiness and hammered the list. Long stock came out freely and the fact was developed that the market was honeycombed with stop loss orders. The statements of the St Paul and Burlington and Quincy roads proved to be very unfavorable the St. Paul showing a net decrease of $161,130, and the Burlington and Quincy a deficit of $250,846. Furthermore over one million showing of the granger roads and the unexpected engagements of gold placed directly in the hands of the bear leaders and this with the prominence given the silver question made it comparatively easy work to depress values. The decline in prices ranged from 1/2 to 41/2 per cent., the Industrials and Grangers Jackets that were $198, scoring the heaviest losses. The decline brought in London orders and usually well informed firms with European connections placed the buying for foreign account at forty thousand shares. These purchases stemmed the downward movement for a time and Major McKinley's speech to the notification committee in which he heartily endersed the platform of the St. Louis convention also acted as a tonic but in Samuels, of Taylor, spent Sunday in this | the late afternoon trading the market developed renewed weakness and closed nervous. Net changes show losses of 4 6 4 percent., Chicago Gas leading.
