MEANEY IS WANTED.

Buffalo Offers Us Outfielder Goodenough and Shortstop Leewe. The rejected offer of Owner Franklin of the Buffalo club to trade Outfielder Goodenough and Shortstop Leewe for Scranton's valued Pat Meaney, made in person by Franklin when he was here with his club last month, is still rankling in the bosom of the Bison management. The offer has been renewed and here's what the Buffalo Times has to Manager Rowe is very anxious to sign Meaney and says that Patrick is very anxious to go to that city with him. Some years ago Manager Chapman, who was managing the Bisons, saw Meaney at Harrisburg, and made some complimentary remarks about his work. The jealous Harrisburg fans construed the praise as a sort of an offer to Meaney and raised a howl about it, but as Buffalo made no further effort to obtain the man, matters soon quieted down to their normal state. In those days Meaney was an ambidex-trous twirler like Ely and Chamberlain. As such he was given a short twiri by the Philadelphia club, but as he was not successful soon reverted to the Harrisburg present were: A. Thorpe, George New-club, Later he was gobbled up by Scranton, E. H. Ritter, Joseph G. Bell, John ton. If Meaney comes to Buffalo he will get a substantial increase of salary.

There would be a howl loud enough to be heard from kingdom-come if the making such a deal. If it's players they want, Meaney is one of that same, also, and if he was let go there would be a big and perceptible drop in Scranton gate receipts.

The Scranton management will not trade one good player for a dozen of the stripe of Goodenough and Leewe.

BARONS HOME TODAY.

To Begin a Four-Game Series with Wilkes-Barre---Club's Good Work While Away.

The Barons returned last night from trip during which they played eight games, losing five and winning three. None of the games lost, however, was by more than two runs, one game excepted: of the three games won, each was captured after the opposing club had secured a lead at the start. All of this goes to show that under Griffin's nanagement the team has been putting up a strong article of ball and will give Wilkes-Barre a desperate fight throughout the series which begins at Athletic park this afternoon. Either Corbett, the young Baltimorean and brother of "Pompadour James," or Gillon, the ex-Rochester man, will pitch. Bowerman, the catcher secured from Baltimore, and who is mentioned in high terms by Griffin, has not rerovered from the injury to his thumb, received in the game at Rochester. He will be able to appear in next week's games against Providence and Springfield. Tomorrow the Barons will play in Wilkes-Barre, and the Saturday games will be played here in the morning and at Wilkes-Barre in the afternoon. The two clubs have each won three games from the other that is, according to was in the box for the home team and from the other that is, according to pitched a steady game. The fielding of Umpire Gaffney's decision which lost Wilkes-Barre was far superior to that of | Scranton a game by forfeit, otherwise Scranton has won three and Wilkes-Barre two games.

Putting aside the technical right or wrong of the forfeit, the Scranton players know that the other club is credited with a game it did not win by actual playing and they are anxious to win back the laurels which on a fluke were taken from them.

Though the club on the trip lost more games than were won the cranks who have closely followed the Barons' work know that the team was deserving of wild and McPartlin was in fine better fortune. In each of the four cities they visited the base ball writers R.H.E. without exception praised them and no-Buffalo300000200-5 4 2 ticed the improvement that had been is probably that they will give Griffin after the first inning kept the hits well tainly there has been enough real, good scattered. Errors by Wright, Wise and work on their part to merit a generous welcome and no doubt they will get it.

MAY LAY DOUBLE TRACK.

Dispute Over Land at Gas House Decided in Favor of D. & H. Co.

Judge L. H. Bennett, of the Luzerne county bench, who was appointed master in the equity suit brought by the Scranton Gas and Water company against the Northern Ceal and Iron company, yesterday filed his report in dow, clothler and outfitter, 222 Lacka. the office of Prothonotary Pryor, and ave. decides in favor of the defendant. The report is a voluminous document.

The Scranton Gas and Water company by virtue of a right claimed under its charter, took possession of a lot of ground on Scranton street on the easterly bank of the Lackawanna river. This is where the gas house of the company now stands. From a point above the Dodgetown bridge to the stone arch over which the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western tracks run. the defendant company has been unable to lay a double track on account of the opposition of the Gas and Water company, which claims that a double track would necessitate an encroachment on the land on which the gas house stands, and that such encroachment would work injury to the city at large as well as the company. The railroad company, under its charter, was privileged to take a right of way sixty feet wide; only fifteen feet were taken when the single track was laid in 1871, and when the enlarged business of the railroad made a double business of the railroad made a double ache, Dizziness, Indigestion, Torpid track necessary the company went Liver, Billiousness, Ead Complexion, Irahead and proceeded to take up the remainder of its right of way, but the Gas and Water company interposed.

Judge Bennett decides that the railroad company has the right now to take its sixty feet of right of way the same it had when its charter was granted and bestowed upon it that privilege.

The Delaware and Hudson company is operating the line of the defendant company now and it is known under the title of the former.

NO CARS TO NAY AUG.

Complaint at the Poor Facilities for Reaching the Park.

The following letter has been received by The Tribune from a lady of prominence in the Seventeenth ward. At her request her name is withheld: Editor of The Tribune.

Sir: You have at various times called attention to the fact that street car com-panies are supposed to run cars for the accommodation of the public. May I ask you to make a note of the fact that our accommodating company have ceased to run cars on the Mulberry Street line to Nay Aug falls? If I wish to take my children to the woods for an afternoon, or show my friends the falls, or have a picnic in the pines, I must pay my car fare on the Pe-tersburg line, be put off a big distance away from the park and walk up in the sun over a stony, dusty road. Is it right for them to control a road and then not use it, or allow others to do so, for the purpose for which it was built?

I am told that a special car does run on Sunday and many men are taken up there then. But ladies and children who do not want to go on Sunday or with thes men, may stay at home or walk! Where are our city councils, and our park com-missioners? Can't some convenient way of getting to the park be arranged? I do not wish to write to them personally nor put any communication in papers over my own name, but I do want to enter my protest as a resident of Scran-ton and say that I think the street car company owes it to us to give us cars ev-ery day to Nay Aug, and I represent a large number of interested parties. I am ashamed to have to confess to stranger

WARDEN JAY RESIGNS.

Ex-Chief of Police W. T. Simpson Is His Successor.

Warden Thomas Jay, of the county fall, resigned his position yesterday and ex-Chief of Police William T. Simpson was appointed in his stead. Mr. Jay served until noon and at that hour Mr. Simpson entered upon the duties of warden.

Sheriff Clemons was asked if the departure of Warden Jay and Keeper W. D. Green from the jall was the result of the charges recently preferred by Forger Baird. The sheriff said that Mr. Jay's resignation was not sought nor suggested, and that the only reason Mr. Jay left was because he didn't like the work. The salary is $75 a month, and the appointment of Warder Simpson was confirmed by the court.
