WEST SIDE EVENTS.

A Reading Club Likely to be Organized by Prominent Men of Hyde Park.
Other News Matters.

Of late there has been much talk and serious talk it is that the next winter season will see a reading club organized on this side, which will rank with the best in this region as an educational and literary society. The promoters of the project are the young lawyers and the professional and business men of this side. If successful the new club will evolve from and take the present place of the Hyde Park Literary and Debating society and the meeting place will likely be the rooms of the Welsh Philosophical society. The idea of the promoters is not to have a mere reading arena for debatable members but other lines of mental cultivation and the pleasure it affords will be followed. Among those who will be asked to join the new organization are: Attorneys Will R. Lewis, David J. Davis, John H. Edwards, Herbert L. Taylor, W. E. Thayer, Matthew Conley and E. E. Robathan, Howell Harris, Dr. Heath, Dr. L. H. Gibbs, Joseph D. Lewis, C. E. Daniels, John Courter Morris, Lewis A. Hancock, Jr., John J. Davis, Robert Williams, Superintendent George Howard, D. A. Phillips, James R. Hughes. There will be many more gentlemen of a like mental culture and the natural tendency of the organization will make social affairs a frequent occurrence.

MISS WILLIAMS' RECITAL.

Miss Anna R. Williams, the accomplished teacher of music, entertained last evening with a recital given by her pupils at Miss Williams' home on Fourth street. The front and second parlors of the residence seated about one hundred and fifty people, most of whom were relatives of the pupils and friends of Miss Williams. Around the rooms were placed several pretty bunches of fresh yellow daisies and the effect was decidedly harmonious. Miss Williams and pupils were assisted by Misses Brownson and Lily Joseph. A duet, well played by Misses Elizabeth Heiser and Lola Fellows, opened the program. The young ladies are among Miss Williams' "advanced" pupils and the rendering of the selected pieces, "La Chanson Inconnue," by Kolling, was an evidence of much ability. "Nymphs at Play," by Miss Carrie Lovering, was well received and a Godefrid's Sonnet by Miss Edith Condit created favorable comment. Miss Edith Carson sang the "Swedish Song," and the effort was clever. Master Judson Hinman gave an exhibition. He played "Far From Home" in a pleasing way. Misses Edith Friend and Edith Deane delighted the audience with selections from Mozart. "Heather Bell," by Miss Edith Friend, was one of the most pleasing of the evening. A trio from Godefrid's was next given by Misses Margaret Acker, Ray Davis and Edith Deane. It was applauded. Miss Anna Young played "The Swedish" in a competent way and Miss Edith Phillips also creditably attempted to her part. At this point the Misses Joseph sang "May Flower." Miss Brownson afterward sang "Oh, Young Heart." Nettie and Edith Deane played a pretty duet and Miss May Edwards showed much talent in her execution of "The Marmoring Brook." Miss Edith Friend, Miss Helen Donnelly, Miss Heiser and Miss Lola Fellows, in their respective parts, made successful efforts. As a closing selection Misses Grace Powell and Grace Chamberlain played an intricate piece by Schubert. Refreshments were afterward served.

HE HAD A SENSE OF HUMOR.

On Jackson street, below Main avenue, is a Chinaman whose business is to make immaculate the garments of West side hot weather victims. Fourth of July was celebrated by this Chinaman in a regular star-spangled way. About 9 o'clock at night a long, linked tap, tap, tap, was heard in front of his establishment and the crowd on Main avenue rushed down to see the fun. The Chinaman stood in his store on the door of his place and in his hand was a peculiar looking bunch of peculiar fire crackers. The noise they made was far different from the usual report and the crowd were delighted and curious. This pleased the Chinaman. He walked up to Lieutenant Williams and spattered "Mellon man no know how shoot; Chinaman good, make noise; Mellon man no good." Fifteen minutes afterward this same Chinaman saw and heard the fire works go off from the stand of J. D. Williams on South Main avenue. This also pleased him and he bubbled with enthusiasm as he again saluted the lieutenant: "Chinaman no good," he said, "J. D. Williams all make noise."

SOUTH SIDE NEWS.

Fatally Injured by a Crowbar Piercing His Thigh—Owen Walsh Again.
Work for Sanitary Officer.

Stephen Jobloske, a Polish laborer, 23 years old, employed in the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western lumber yard, was fatally injured yesterday morning and his death is looked for every hour. A crowbar against which he fell penetrated the fleshy part of his right thigh near the hip joint, and the shock was so great that he cannot recover. He was brought to the Moses Taylor hospital, where the doctors found that an operation could not save his life, and they dressed the wound. He passed into unconsciousness and at midnight was sinking rapidly. He is unmarried and lived on South Washington avenue.

WIFE BEATEN IN JAIL.
Owen Walsh, of the Twelfth ward, was arrested Sunday night for indulging in one of his old pastimes, getting drunk and beating his wife. He was arrested and was given a hearing yesterday morning by Alderman Storr. In default of bail for his appearance at court, he was sent to the county jail.

SHOULD BE REMOVED.
Last Friday night the barn of John Myers, of Stone avenue and Elm street, was destroyed by fire, and his horse was roasted in the flames. The animal's body was not incinerated by any means, but was in such shape that it ought to be removed before the sun was many hours high the next day. It was still there yesterday, and one does not have to go within three blocks to know that it is still there. Round about the place is a thickly built up district, and the complaints of the residents are loud and insistent.

District Engineer Louis Schwab, who was painfully burned by the bursting of a bottle of chemicals in his face, is much improved and will be all right in a few days. How his eyes escaped from serious injury is a mystery.

The funeral of Margaret, the two-year-old daughter of Mrs. August Diebold, of Prospect avenue, will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Interment will be made in Pittston avenue cemetery.

MARKETS AND STOCKS

Wall Street Review.

New York, July 6.—The opening of the stock market was characterized by firmness, London having reported a further advance in American securities there. The early gain was equal to 1 1/2 per cent, nearly every active stock on the list participating in the upward movement. A reduction in the posted rates of Sterling exchange of 1/2 per cent, which renders gold exports out of the question unless foreign bankers are willing to pay a heavy commission was the most favorable development at this time. The firmness was short-lived, however, and soon after the opening the market broke 1/2 to 2/4 per cent, under the leadership of Chicago Gas and Sugar, the former dropping to 107 1/2 and the latter to 107 1/2. Sugar was depressed by the reduction of 1/2 to 1/4 per cent, per pound in refined. The Grangers were then taken in hand and soon lost 1/4 to 1/2 per cent. Manhattan, Jersey Central and Louisville and Nashville lacked support and scored material losses as of late the decline brought in orders for European account and according to good authorities foreign houses bought anywhere from fifteen to twenty thousand shares during the morning session. Speculation during the afternoon was quiet for a time, but in the last hour the traders brought in orders for European account and were influenced mainly by the steady buying for London account although the news from Chicago late in the day was looked upon as more encouraging. It being stated that the gold men had been able to make an impression on the silver market and that the platform to be adopted would probably be less radical than at first supposed. The later rumor led to fairly large covering of shorts which stimulated the upward movement. In the afternoon advances, Sugar, Chicago Gas, St. Paul, Erie, Central Electric and Pacific Mail were notably strong. Speculation left off firm with prices anywhere from 1/4 to 1/2 per cent, higher than on Friday last. Royal Island lost 1/4 and Jersey Central 1/2 per cent. Total sales were 29,196 shares.
