A BOON TO HORSES.

Two New Fountains to Be Set Up it the Streets.

One of the actions of the city fathers which will meet with great approval from all sides is the purchase of two fountains which will soon be erected on the principal thoroughfares.

The fountains will be of the same pat tern as the one now in use in Memorial park but will be much handsomer.

One will be put up at the intersection of Pike and Main street and the other will be located at the intersection of Church street and Garfield avenue. The fountains are due to the work of Councilman Nealon. They have been needed for a long time and there erection will be very convenient to all heart has beat very fast; then that bearing-down feeling. Her doctor says, "cheer up, you have dyspepsia; you'll be all right soon."

But she doesn't get "all right." She grows worse day by day, till all at once she realizes that a distressing female complaint is established.

Her doctor has made a mistake. She has lost faith in him; hope vanishes; then comes the brooding, morbid, melancholy, everlasting BLUES. Her doctor, if he knew, should have told her and cured her, but he did not, and she was allowed to suffer. By chance she came across one of Mrs Pinkham's books, and in it she found her very symptoms described and an explanation of what they meant. Then she wrote to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., for advice, feeling that she was telling her troubles to a woman. Speedy relief followed, and vigorous health returned. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound instantly asserts its curative powers in all those peculiar ailments of women. It has been the standby of intelligent American women for twenty years, and the story recited above is the true experience of hundreds of women, whose letters of gratitude are to be found on file in Mrs. Pinkham's library.
