

LOOK LIKE BRYAN

(Concluded from Page 1.)

"They say that we are opposing the national bank currency. It is true, Thomas Benton said that in searching history he could find but one person to oppose Andrew Jackson. When Cato destroyed the conspiracy of Catiline and saved Rome, he did for Rome what Jackson did when he destroyed the bank system and saved America. We say in our platform that the right to coin and issue money is a function of government. We believe that that power of sovereignty can no more, with safety, be delegated to a private corporation than the power to enact penal statutes or to levy taxation. Mr. Jefferson, who was once regarded as a good Democratic authority, seems to have a different opinion from the senator from New York.

THE FUNCTION OF BANKS.

"They tell us that the issuance of paper money is the function of the banks and that the government ought to get out of the banking business. I stand with Jefferson and tell them, as he did, that the issue of money is a function of government, and that the banks ought to go out of the governing business. (Cheers and laughter.)

"The senator from New York asks about the consequences of failure to maintain a party. My reply is that we cannot couple the platform with a doubt as to our own sincerity. He says he wants to try this country to secure an international agreement. Why don't you not tell us what he is going to do if they fail to secure it. (Applause.)

"They have tried for twenty years to secure information from us. Why does he not tell us what he is going to do if he fails to secure it? (Applause.) They have tried for twenty years to secure an international agreement for bimetallicism and these are waiting for it most patiently who don't want it at all. (Applause and laughter.)

"If they ask us why we say more on the money question than the tariff question, we reply that if protection has slain its thousands, the gold standard has slain its tens of thousands. (Cheers.)

"Why is it that in three months such a change has come over the sentiment of this country? Three months ago it was asserted that those who believed the gold standard were a trait and ruffianly party. Now they are the heroes of the hour. Because there is scarcely a state here today asking for a gold standard that is not within the absolute control of the Republican party. Mr. McKinley was nominated at St. Louis on a platform which declares for the maintenance of the gold standard and the protection of the Republican party by international agreement. Mr. McKinley was the most popular man among the Republicans, and three months ago everybody in the Republican party popularly elected.

PERSONAL POPULARITY POWERLESS.

"Why this change? Ah, my friends, the change is evident to anyone who looks at the matter. It is because no private character, however pure, no personal popularity, however great, can protect the people from the avenging wrath of an indignant people, the man who would declare that he is in favor of following the gold standard on this people or who is willing to protect the right of self-government, and to place legislative control in the hands of foreign potentates and power, cannot hope for an election. The president of the United States (Cheese), we are told, said the other day, 'I am confident that we shall win. Why? Because there is not a spot of ground upon which the advocates of the gold standard can carry a majority.' 'You tell us the great cities are in favor of a gold standard. Burn down your cities and leave our farms and your cities will grow in a day. (Great cheering.) (Great cheering.) We shall declare that this nation is able to legislate for its people upon every question without waiting for the consent of any other nation, and we thereby expect to carry every state in this great nation.

THE ISSUE OF 1876.

"It is the issue of 1876 over again. Our ancestors, when only three millions, declared their independence of every nation on earth. They were then a people grown to seventy millions, have less courage? We shall answer their demand for the gold standard by saying to them: 'You shall not pass down upon the brow of labor this cross of gold.' (Tremendous cheers.)

GREAT DEMONSTRATION.

Then issued perhaps the most extraordinary scene of this extraordinary convention. As if by the magic touch of a wand, delation after delation rose in solid phalanx and gave vent to the most entire demonstration in the honor of the Nebraska senator. Every body stood up, even the eastern men, who at first were disposed to remain in their seats. Westerners shouted, waved handkerchiefs, flags, canes, umbrellas and anything else conspicuous and portable. Delegates from the air, articles of every description were thrown high above the surging sea of humanity. The staffs bearing the names of the states were held aloft with flags and other things on top and waved to and fro. When that pastime became too tame, led by Delegate Wood, of Texas, nearly all of the silver states and territories and some of the gold states joined in the procession bearing the state poles and marched in triumph around the floor. Some of the eastern states kept their sign staffs in their places and confined their expressions to standing up and giving a mild cheer as individuals.

Mr. Hill required a call of states on his proposed financial plank. At 2.15 p. m. the voting began on Mr. Hill's proposed substitute for the gold coinage plank. It resulted: Ayes 333, nays 626. Mr. Hill said he did not desire a call of states upon his financial amendments, but he did desire a vote by states on the resolutions commending the administration. The second roll call was begun at 3.47. The result of the roll call on the resolution endorsing the administration was announced: Ayes 357, nays 564, not voting and absent nine. Total, 920.

THE EVENING SESSION.

Nominating Eloquent Bubbles Over. The Candidates Named.

The masses of spectators at this evening's session were even in a more dense than at any previous meeting of the convention, because the crisis of the nomination speeches, and of halting presidential candidates had arrived. There was not a vacant seat outside of the sections for delegates and alternates at 8 o'clock.

The convention was called to order at 8.30 p. m. by its presiding officer, Senator Whyte, of California, who immediately handed over the gavel to Representative Richardson, of Tennessee, who acted as president pro tem this evening as well as during the morning session.

The chairman informed the convention that the roll of states would now be called so that nominations for candidates for the presidency should be made. By an agreement entered into by the friends of the several candidates, the chairman added the nominations and the succeeding speeches would be confined to thirty minutes in length, which time might be eased either when the nominations were made or when the state of the speaker was called.

BLAND'S CHAMPION.

Senator Vest, of Missouri, was the first delegate to ascend the platform, even before the call of states had been made in the alphabetical list through the state of Arkansas. Mr. Vest spoke as follows:

They follow Jefferson, who he assailed the centralizing and monarchical doctrines of the old Federalists, and whose demands for relief are just and oppressive legislation. When a profound sense of wrong evolved from years of disease, the people are determined to have a leader, a leader is always found who is a platform in himself, and to whom they naturally turn as the loyal exponent of their hopes.

The people are not iconoclasts, not false to their convictions. They follow Jefferson, when he assailed the centralizing and monarchical doctrines of the old Federalists, and whose demands for relief are just and oppressive legislation.

When a profound sense of wrong evolved from years of disease, the people are determined to have a leader, a leader is always found who is a platform in himself, and to whom they naturally turn as the loyal exponent of their hopes.

The people are not iconoclasts, not false to their convictions. They follow Jefferson, when he assailed the centralizing and monarchical doctrines of the old Federalists, and whose demands for relief are just and oppressive legislation.

When a profound sense of wrong evolved from years of disease, the people are determined to have a leader, a leader is always found who is a platform in himself, and to whom they naturally turn as the loyal exponent of their hopes.

The people are not iconoclasts, not false to their convictions. They follow Jefferson, when he assailed the centralizing and monarchical doctrines of the old Federalists, and whose demands for relief are just and oppressive legislation.

When a profound sense of wrong evolved from years of disease, the people are determined to have a leader, a leader is always found who is a platform in himself, and to whom they naturally turn as the loyal exponent of their hopes.

The people are not iconoclasts, not false to their convictions. They follow Jefferson, when he assailed the centralizing and monarchical doctrines of the old Federalists, and whose demands for relief are just and oppressive legislation.

When a profound sense of wrong evolved from years of disease, the people are determined to have a leader, a leader is always found who is a platform in himself, and to whom they naturally turn as the loyal exponent of their hopes.

The people are not iconoclasts, not false to their convictions. They follow Jefferson, when he assailed the centralizing and monarchical doctrines of the old Federalists, and whose demands for relief are just and oppressive legislation.

When a profound sense of wrong evolved from years of disease, the people are determined to have a leader, a leader is always found who is a platform in himself, and to whom they naturally turn as the loyal exponent of their hopes.

The people are not iconoclasts, not false to their convictions. They follow Jefferson, when he assailed the centralizing and monarchical doctrines of the old Federalists, and whose demands for relief are just and oppressive legislation.

When a profound sense of wrong evolved from years of disease, the people are determined to have a leader, a leader is always found who is a platform in himself, and to whom they naturally turn as the loyal exponent of their hopes.

The people are not iconoclasts, not false to their convictions. They follow Jefferson, when he assailed the centralizing and monarchical doctrines of the old Federalists, and whose demands for relief are just and oppressive legislation.

When a profound sense of wrong evolved from years of disease, the people are determined to have a leader, a leader is always found who is a platform in himself, and to whom they naturally turn as the loyal exponent of their hopes.

The people are not iconoclasts, not false to their convictions. They follow Jefferson, when he assailed the centralizing and monarchical doctrines of the old Federalists, and whose demands for relief are just and oppressive legislation.

When a profound sense of wrong evolved from years of disease, the people are determined to have a leader, a leader is always found who is a platform in himself, and to whom they naturally turn as the loyal exponent of their hopes.

The people are not iconoclasts, not false to their convictions. They follow Jefferson, when he assailed the centralizing and monarchical doctrines of the old Federalists, and whose demands for relief are just and oppressive legislation.

When a profound sense of wrong evolved from years of disease, the people are determined to have a leader, a leader is always found who is a platform in himself, and to whom they naturally turn as the loyal exponent of their hopes.

The people are not iconoclasts, not false to their convictions. They follow Jefferson, when he assailed the centralizing and monarchical doctrines of the old Federalists, and whose demands for relief are just and oppressive legislation.

When a profound sense of wrong evolved from years of disease, the people are determined to have a leader, a leader is always found who is a platform in himself, and to whom they naturally turn as the loyal exponent of their hopes.

The people are not iconoclasts, not false to their convictions. They follow Jefferson, when he assailed the centralizing and monarchical doctrines of the old Federalists, and whose demands for relief are just and oppressive legislation.

When a profound sense of wrong evolved from years of disease, the people are determined to have a leader, a leader is always found who is a platform in himself, and to whom they naturally turn as the loyal exponent of their hopes.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVORERS.

Fifteenth International Convention Opened at Washington, D. C.

Washington, July 9.—The business session of the Fifteenth International Christian Endeavor convention opened here this morning. President Clark's annual address and the report of Secrease the English societies surrendered the different tents. The presentation of the prize banners of the greatest growth in the state societies which followed the addresses in each tent, was a scene of great enthusiasm. The lucky delegations were loudly cheered by the competing delegations. For the greatest proportionate increase in number of societies for the past twelve months, the honor passed from Assinibola to Scotland. For the greatest absolute increase in junior societies goes from the banner to Pennsylvania. The Junior banner for greatest absolute increase in Assinibola to Mexico.

Both of the evening Christian Endeavor tents, each holding 10,000 people were crowded tonight, and the convention met at 7.30 o'clock, and as many more people were turned back to the city unable to gain admittance.

Secretary Reeder holds that acetylene is a manufactured product and does not interfere with the exclusive rights of companies that furnish gas to consumers.

ACETYLENE GAS WINS.

Charter Is Issued to the Lebanon Company Manufacturing the Stuff.

Harrisburg, July 9.—Secretary of the Commonwealth Reeder, after a hearing today, decided to issue letters patent to the Acetylene Gas Company of Lebanon, whose charter was issued by the old company which claims exclusive rights.

Secretary Reeder holds that acetylene is a manufactured product and does not interfere with the exclusive rights of companies that furnish gas to consumers.

Maceo Killed.

Madrid, July 9.—A dispatch to the Imperial from Havana says: It is officially stated that Jose Maceo, the rebel leader and brother of Antonio Maceo, the second in command of the revolution, was killed in a recent fight near Santa Clara.

SHE KNEW IT ALL.

Was a Telephone Expert, and Treated with All Honors of War.

From the New York Herald.

She looked like the embodiment of spring as she tripped into an uptown apartment and introduced her caller. She very prettily said she wouldn't trouble anyone to ring up her connection for her—she knew all about it.

"Give me No. 999 Ninety-sixth street," she murmured. Then she hung up the receiver and made an examination of the telephone. She had been carrying in her purse.

The inspection had been quite completed and the unappreciated person at No. 999 hadn't responded to the wire. Then she rang again and, after a few seconds, said:

"I want that number I asked for. Oh, yes I did. No. 999 Ninety-sixth street."

Then she again carefully hung up the receiver and tried to look unconcerned. The clerks were beginning to look interested, and when she finally twisted the crank again she was an inaudible whisper to the clerk.

She said: "I haven't got my number yet." She looked very much vexed as she again hung the receiver on the hook and began drumming on the table.

One of the clerks volunteered to get the number for her, but she had grown tired and declared that she needed no assistance. When she rang the bell again it was the signal for another smothered laugh on the part of the force of the store.

BLACKBURN NOMINATED.

Hon. John R. Rea, Kentucky, with a voice almost as resonant and very closely resembling that of the senator he nominated, placed in nomination the name of Senator Joseph Blackburn, of Kentucky. He prefaced his remarks with the pledges that whoever was nominated Kentucky would give him her vote. He spoke of his candidate as "Joe" Blackburn, because the anglans he was "Joe" Blackburn, and that meant everything. (Cheers.) It was true he was from the South and he had been a Confederate soldier, but his candidacy was not a sectional one. (Cheers.)

Who called A. W. Patrick, of Ohio, took the platform and placed Mr. John R. McLean in nomination.

When Pennsylvania was called Pattison was not formally named, but state was made that choice of state would be expressed when ballot was taken.

July 10.—At 12.25 the convention adjourned until 10 a. m. today.

MCKINLEY NOT AGITATED.

He Regards the Democratic Pow Wow at Chicago with Complacency.

Canton, July 9.—The proceedings of the Chicago convention which came by special wire to Major McKinley's residence seemed to be viewed with much complacency by the senator. He apparently found neither alarming or disquieting, save for the thought of the disturbing effect they might have upon the business of the country.

GROVER WATCHES THE LINE.

President Does Not Appear to Take Great Interest in the Convention.

Buzzard's Bay, July 9.—The President spent a very little time today reading bulletins from Chicago, but enjoyed his private day fishing.

THE COLLAPSE OF THE PATTON BOOM.

Chicago, July 9.—Mr. Beck, of Pennsylvania, has just informed a representative of the United Press that he will not deliver the speech he had prepared to nominate Mr. Pattison.

Pennsylvania, he says, will simply cast its vote for Patton. It would be imprudent, he said, in the circumstances to make a speech in favor of Mr. Pattison.

HERALD'S WEATHER FORECAST.

New York, July 10.—In the middle states, slightly cloudy, slightly warmer, sultry with westerly to southwesterly winds and local rain in northern portion. On Saturday, fair and slightly warmer, sultry with westerly winds, with local rains in northern districts.

STEAMSHIP ARRIVALS.

New York, July 9.—Arrived: Halle, from Bremen; Sailed: Normania, for Hamburg; State of California, for Glasgow; Arrived at: Spree, at Bremerhaven; Columbia, at Bremen; Rotterdam, from Amsterdam; Rotterdam, from New York; Kaiser Wilhelm III, from Genoa; Mississippi, from Glasgow.

HOW SMART A HEN CAN BE IN THAT STATE.

From the Philadelphia Times.

J. C. Wheaton of Texas, has some very fine breeds of chickens which he raises for market. While most of his poultry is all of the darker breeds, he recently imported a pair of white birds, which in his own words present to him with sixteen chicks. Last week these little fellows were good flying stock and were ready prey for hawks, their white feathers gleaming in the sun and making them visible from afar. In fact, in spite of Wheaton's efforts, the hawks made away with six of the young ones.

One morning, however, after the remaining ten had been duly accounted for the night before, Wheaton was surprised, on going to the poultry yard, to see not one single white chicken. The birds had all disappeared, and he was left with sixteen chicks. Last week these little fellows were good flying stock and were ready prey for hawks, their white feathers gleaming in the sun and making them visible from afar. In fact, in spite of Wheaton's efforts, the hawks made away with six of the young ones.

One morning, however, after the remaining ten had been duly accounted for the night before, Wheaton was surprised, on going to the poultry yard, to see not one single white chicken. The birds had all disappeared, and he was left with sixteen chicks. Last week these little fellows were good flying stock and were ready prey for hawks, their white feathers gleaming in the sun and making them visible from afar. In fact, in spite of Wheaton's efforts, the hawks made away with six of the young ones.

One morning, however, after the remaining ten had been duly accounted for the night before, Wheaton was surprised, on going to the poultry yard, to see not one single white chicken. The birds had all disappeared, and he was left with sixteen chicks. Last week these little fellows were good flying stock and were ready prey for hawks, their white feathers gleaming in the sun and making them visible from afar. In fact, in spite of Wheaton's efforts, the hawks made away with six of the young ones.

One morning, however, after the remaining ten had been duly accounted for the night before, Wheaton was surprised, on going to the poultry yard, to see not one single white chicken. The birds had all disappeared, and he was left with sixteen chicks. Last week these little fellows were good flying stock and were ready prey for hawks, their white feathers gleaming in the sun and making them visible from afar. In fact, in spite of Wheaton's efforts, the hawks made away with six of the young ones.

One morning, however, after the remaining ten had been duly accounted for the night before, Wheaton was surprised, on going to the poultry yard, to see not one single white chicken. The birds had all disappeared, and he was left with sixteen chicks. Last week these little fellows were good flying stock and were ready prey for hawks, their white feathers gleaming in the sun and making them visible from afar. In fact, in spite of Wheaton's efforts, the hawks made away with six of the young ones.

One morning, however, after the remaining ten had been duly accounted for the night before, Wheaton was surprised, on going to the poultry yard, to see not one single white chicken. The birds had all disappeared, and he was left with sixteen chicks. Last week these little fellows were good flying stock and were ready prey for hawks, their white feathers gleaming in the sun and making them visible from afar. In fact, in spite of Wheaton's efforts, the hawks made away with six of the young ones.

One morning, however, after the remaining ten had been duly accounted for the night before, Wheaton was surprised, on going to the poultry yard, to see not one single white chicken. The birds had all disappeared, and he was left with sixteen chicks. Last week these little fellows were good flying stock and were ready prey for hawks, their white feathers gleaming in the sun and making them visible from afar. In fact, in spite of Wheaton's efforts, the hawks made away with six of the young ones.

One morning, however, after the remaining ten had been duly accounted for the night before, Wheaton was surprised, on going to the poultry yard, to see not one single white chicken. The birds had all disappeared, and he was left with sixteen chicks. Last week these little fellows were good flying stock and were ready prey for hawks, their white feathers gleaming in the sun and making them visible from afar. In fact, in spite of Wheaton's efforts, the hawks made away with six of the young ones.

One morning, however, after the remaining ten had been duly accounted for the night before, Wheaton was surprised, on going to the poultry yard, to see not one single white chicken. The birds had all disappeared, and he was left with sixteen chicks. Last week these little fellows were good flying stock and were ready prey for hawks, their white feathers gleaming in the sun and making them visible from afar. In fact, in spite of Wheaton's efforts, the hawks made away with six of the young ones.

One morning, however, after the remaining ten had been duly accounted for the night before, Wheaton was surprised, on going to the poultry yard, to see not one single white chicken. The birds had all disappeared, and he was left with sixteen chicks. Last week these little fellows were good flying stock and were ready prey for hawks, their white feathers gleaming in the sun and making them visible from afar. In fact, in spite of Wheaton's efforts, the hawks made away with six of the young ones.

One morning, however, after the remaining ten had been duly accounted for the night before, Wheaton was surprised, on going to the poultry yard, to see not one single white chicken. The birds had all disappeared, and he was left with sixteen chicks. Last week these little fellows were good flying stock and were ready prey for hawks, their white feathers gleaming in the sun and making them visible from afar. In fact, in spite of Wheaton's efforts, the hawks made away with six of the young ones.

One morning, however, after the remaining ten had been duly accounted for the night before, Wheaton was surprised, on going to the poultry yard, to see not one single white chicken. The birds had all disappeared, and he was left with sixteen chicks. Last week these little fellows were good flying stock and were ready prey for hawks, their white feathers gleaming in the sun and making them visible from afar. In fact, in spite of Wheaton's efforts, the hawks made away with six of the young ones.

One morning, however, after the remaining ten had been duly accounted for the night before, Wheaton was surprised, on going to the poultry yard, to see not one single white chicken. The birds had all disappeared, and he was left with sixteen chicks. Last week these little fellows were good flying stock and were ready prey for hawks, their white feathers gleaming in the sun and making them visible from afar. In fact, in spite of Wheaton's efforts, the hawks made away with six of the young ones.

One morning, however, after the remaining ten had been duly accounted for the night before, Wheaton was surprised, on going to the poultry yard, to see not one single white chicken. The birds had all disappeared, and he was left with sixteen chicks. Last week these little fellows were good flying stock and were ready prey for hawks, their white feathers gleaming in the sun and making them visible from afar. In fact, in spite of Wheaton's efforts, the hawks made away with six of the young ones.

One morning, however, after the remaining ten had been duly accounted for the night before, Wheaton was surprised, on going to the poultry yard, to see not one single white chicken. The birds had all disappeared, and he was left with sixteen chicks. Last week these little fellows were good flying stock and were ready prey for hawks, their white feathers gleaming in the sun and making them visible from afar. In fact, in spite of Wheaton's efforts, the hawks made away with six of the young ones.

One morning, however, after the remaining ten had been duly accounted for the night before, Wheaton was surprised, on going to the poultry yard, to see not one single white chicken. The birds had all disappeared, and he was left with sixteen chicks. Last week these little fellows were good flying stock and were ready prey for hawks, their white feathers gleaming in the sun and making them visible from afar. In fact, in spite of Wheaton's efforts, the hawks made away with six of the young ones.

One morning, however, after the remaining ten had been duly accounted for the night before, Wheaton was surprised, on going to the poultry yard, to see not one single white chicken. The birds had all disappeared, and he was left with sixteen chicks. Last week these little fellows were good flying stock and were ready prey for hawks, their white feathers gleaming in the sun and making them visible from afar. In fact, in spite of Wheaton's efforts, the hawks made away with six of the young ones.

One morning, however, after the remaining ten had been duly accounted for the night before, Wheaton was surprised, on going to the poultry yard, to see not one single white chicken. The birds had all disappeared, and he was left with sixteen chicks. Last week these little fellows were good flying stock and were ready prey for hawks, their white feathers gleaming in the sun and making them visible from afar. In fact, in spite of Wheaton's efforts, the hawks made away with six of the young ones.

Connolly & Wallace Hosiery Baldgins

WORTH LOOKING AFTER Men's Half Black Half Hose, with white feet, actually worth 25c. a pair, at 2 PAIR FOR 25 CENTS. Ladies' Fast Black "Hermsdorf Dye," fine gauge and full regular made, 2 pair for 25c., worth double. Another lot of White Duck Skirts at $1.25, just in.

CONNOLLY & WALLACE, 209 Washington Avenue, Opp. Court House.

ONE CENT A WORD.

WANTS OF ALL KINDS COST THAT MUCH. WHEN PAID FOR IN ADVANCE BY THE ADVERTISER, THE ADVERTISING IS MADE NO CHARGE WILL BE LESS THAN 25 CENTS. THIS RULE APPLIES TO SMALL WANT ADS. EXCEPT LOCAL SITUATIONS, WHICH ARE INSERTED FREE.

HELP WANTED—MALES.

WANTED—RETYPE AND PRESSMAN on perfecting press; young man preferred. Address letter, giving experience and wages expected, to J. H. BROWN, 100 Broadway, New York.

WANTED—FIRST-CLASS SALESMAN on salary or commission to sell our goods to the manufacturing trade. Address: W. H. HAZLET, 271 Broadway, New York.

WANTED—AS AGENT IN EVERY SECTION to canvass $4.00 to $5.00 a day made on commission. Address: J. H. BROWN, 100 Broadway, New York.

WANTED—WELL-KNOWN MAN in every town to solicit stock subscriptions. Address: W. H. HAZLET, 271 Broadway, New York.

WANTED—MIDDLE AGED PROFESSIONAL MAN as nurse and housekeeper in small family. Good home; $3 per week. Address: "H," Tribune office, 100 Broadway, New York.

LADIES—MAKE BIG WAGES doing pleasant home work, and will gladly send full particulars to all sending 2 cent stamp. Miss M. A. STEPHENSON, 100 Broadway, New York.

WANTED—LADY AGENTS IN SCRANTON to sell and introduce Sudder's cake; experienced canvasser preferred; work permanent and very profitable. Write for particulars, enclosing stamp, to Margo Chemical Company, No. 75 John Street, New York.

FOR RENT.

FOR RENT—FRONT AND THREE CORNERING ROOMS, with bath, gas, and water. 225 Adams avenue, opposite court house.

FOR RENT—DESIRABLE HOUSE, GREEN RIDGE ROAD, $18; possession Sept. 1st. Inquire 1836 Washington avenue.

FOR RENT—HALF OF DOUBLE HOUSE; modern improvements; gas, water, and electricity. Corner of Pine and Blackley streets, Dunmore.

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE—A SILVER-PLATED CONNOR double bed sofa, with springs, which will sell for $100. Address: "H," Tribune office, 100 Broadway, New York.

FOR SALE—ORIENT—SIX-ROOMED COTTAGE, Wyoming Camp Ground; partly furnished. Inquire at 100 Broadway, New York.

FOR SALE—MY COTTAGE AT ELMHURST, with four bedrooms, which is most desirable location in Elmhurst; prices reasonable. Terms easy. Inquire at 100 Broadway, New York.

WELL-FURNISHED AND CENTRALLY LOCATED; first-class business; reasons for sale. Inquire at 100 Broadway, New York.

UNFURNISHED ROOMS.

UNFURNISHED ROOMS, WITH USE OF BATH AND CUPBOARD, and reading room. 215 Lackawanna avenue.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.

ALL PARTIES WHO ARE INDEBTED TO THE STEPHENSON CHEMICAL COMPANY, in this city, are hereby notified to make payments in part or whole within 30 days of the date of this notice. Failure to do so will result in legal proceedings. Address: P. O. MOODY, 622 Adams Ave., Scranton, Pa.

AGENTS WANTED.

WANTED—SALESMAN; SALARY FROM $100 to $150 per month, with expenses. Address: J. H. BROWN, 100 Broadway, New York.

AGENTS WANTED—TO SELL CIGARS; $75 per month; salary and expenses paid. Address, with two-cent stamp, FIGARO CIGARS, 100 Broadway, New York.

AGENTS TO SELL OUR PRACTICAL gold, silver, nickel and copper electro plating; prices from $1 upward; salary and expenses paid. Address: J. H. BROWN, 100 Broadway, New York.

AGENTS TO SELL GIGARS TO DEALERS; $25 weekly and expenses; experience unnecessary. CONSOLIDATED MFG CO., 48 Van Buren, Chicago.

SALESMAN TO CARRY SIDE LINE; 25 new commodities; salary, book, and travel free. Address: L. N. CO., Station L, New York.

AT ONCE—AGENTS APPOINTED TO sell our medicinal and hygienic toilet soap, mosquito and house fly liquid at 10 cents and 20 cents a bottle. Simple free. BOLDIGANO 1074 CO., Baltimore, Md.

AGENTS—HINDS' PATENT UNIVERSAL Hair Cream and Wavy (used without heat), and "Fry Pointed" Hair Pomade, and other hair preparations. Free sample and full particulars. Address: P. O. Box 56, New York.

CLAIRVOYANT.

MADAME AUBREY, GREATEST LIVING clairvoyant in the world; tells past, present and future. Address: 100 Broadway, New York.

SITUATIONS WANTED.

WOMAN WANTS TO DO WASHING at home, 723 Birch street.

WANTED—SITUATION AS BARBER; 10 years experience. Address: 1115 Diamond avenue, G. W. FRANTZ.

SITUATION WANTED BY A GOOD strong boy; will work at anything; aged 17 years. Address: J. C. Tribune office.

SITUATION WANTED—AN EXPERIENCED accountant will undertake to fill the vacancy of any bookkeeper who is taking their vacation during the next two months; very low salary. Address: ACCOUNTANT, Tribune office.

SITUATION WANTED—BY A YOUNG man driving team or any kind of work, delivering goods preferred; good education. Address