ence to a treaty of arbitration. The exchange of letters between Socretary Olney and Lord Salisbury has been offected through the British ambassador at Washington, Sir Julian Pauncefote. While the correspondence has been in progress for nearly a year the number of important latters which have passed has been comparatively limited. What than made up in the length of some of the communications and the whole if published would fill many columns of

The correspondence covers two points. first, with reference to a general treaty of arbitration, and secondly the final disposition of the boundary dispute between Venezuela and British Gulana. It is said at the state department that if the treaty of arbitration be agreed upon it will not only simplify but mater-ially aid the settlement of the Venezueia dispute. The tone of the correspondonce is most friendly and it shows the progress that has been made with refrence to arbitrating all differences between the great English speaking nations. Secretary Olney had been very inothers there is a wide divergence of opinion. It is still hoped that a middle course will be found upon which both governments can agree, so that the treaty may be framed early next winter and laid before the senate in time for favorable action before its adjournment in March next.

It is expected that Secretary Olney will leave Washington for his summer outing shortly after the publication of the correspondence. The British ambassador, Sir Julian Pauncefote and the Venezuelan minister, Senor Andre, will both take their departure at the same time, as neither, in view of complications between the three countries, can absent himself from Washington until the secretary sets the example.

E. Russell, and Colonel Francis Peabody, of Boston, arrived at Little Pabos yesterday for a few days' fishing. They pitched their camp in the woods near the settlement of Little Pabos. Their tent was divided into two rooms, one of which was occupied by the governor and the other by Henry Russell and Colonel Peabody. The party retired carly, as they intended to start about daylight for the fishing place. Colonel Peahody and Henry Russell were up early and were surprised that the severnor had not put in an appearance when they were ready to start. They went to call him and were horrified at finding him dead. The coroner was im-mediately notified and will hold an inquoet, when the remains will be taken to his late home in Boston.

Little Pabos, where Governor Russell died, lies near the entrance to the bay of Chalcara, a large inlet of the Gulf of St. Lawrence. It has always been a favorite resort for salmon fishermon. It is reached by a small steamer from Quebec.

HOW TO TREAT BURNS.

From Current Literature According to a Berlin physician thiol

is highly approved as an application in the treatment of burns in all degrees. The first step is to wash the surface with a very weak solution of corrosive sublimate, then remove whatever cuti-cle hangs loose, taking care not to break any blisters that are whole. The burn is dusted with powdered boric acid, then the entire burned surface and a considerable portion of the healthy skin around it are painted with a solution of equal parts of thiol and water, then a layer of greased cotton is kept in place with a bandage.

This is undoubtedly a very scientific way to handle a burn, but for the mass-es of people, many of whom live some distance from drug stores and doctors, there is nothing better than the old-time application of pure lard and flour. It is well worth while for every housekeeper to buy some pounds of pure leaf lard, render it with the utmost care and put it while piping hot into pots or bottles that may be heremetically sealed. A cupful of lard, mixed with flour, to form a soft paste, may be applied to a burn without loss of time. The experience of years has demonstrated that if this application is followed up there will be neither scar nor irritation following the healing of the injured part.
