THE LORD'S DAY AT CAMP JOHN GIBBON

Thousands of Visitors Strolled Through the Streets of the White City.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES WERE HELD

Eight Privates of the Thirteenth Succumbed to the Heat During the Brigade Dress Parade--None of the Cases Serious--Location of the Camp--How the Thirteenth is Situated--Camp Notes.

By United Press.

Camp John Gibbon, Lewistown, Pa., July 19.—This has been a day of religious rest and recreation in camp. The attendance of visitors has been apparently much lighter than on the Sunday of previous division encampments, but the camp is so large that it would take an army of visitors to make any kind of a showing.

The day was opened with a 4 o'clock gallop through the entire camp by General Snowden and Lieutenant Colonel Rutledge, of the Eleventh regiment, who was division officer of the day at that time. The general found everything in its usual order, and he and his staff will continue to make his 4 o'clock rounds every morning. After breakfast the men in the various commands got ready for divine services, which were held in every command. Governor Hastings attended the services of the Fifth regiment, his old command. The governor was accompanied by Lieutenant Colonel Reynolds and Howell, of his staff, and by Mrs. Hastings and Mrs. Willour E. Reeder.

DRUM FOR A POPULIST

The services were held in the mess tent of Company B, the pulpit being constructed of a bass drum surrounded by two snare drums. The regimental band and a string orchestra, composed of members, played the accompaniment for the hymns. Major General Snowden accompanied by Major Lewis and Williams, of the United States Army, attended the services of the Third regiment. The services were held in an orchard and were largely attended, and so it was throughout the entire camp, the men gathering in respectful groups in each command to listen to the spiritual advice of their chaplain.

In the afternoon the visitors gave the camp a thorough overhauling. The center of attraction appeared to be the quarters of the regulars, where two troops of cavalry and a battery of artillery ate in camp.

United States Governor Hastings delivered an address in the Methodist church in Lewistown. The governor spoke of the relations of the National Guard organization of the state to its church and educational institutions.

Sunday in Camp.

Special from a Staff Correspondent.

Camp John Gibbon, Lewistown, Pa., July 19.—What had been an almost unbroken hot and life day closed with an event which caused a momentary stir in the Thirteenth. During brigade dress parade at 6 o'clock eight privates in the regiment were reported killed or were assisted out of the company lines. While regimental dress parade is a hard physical test the brigade event is especially so, as the companies have to stand "parade rest" and "attention" for about twenty-five consecutive minutes. The men were ordered to the band to march down the long line and back again and for the other details attending the formation. The unfortunate were one man from Company A, one from B, one from C, two from E, two from G and one from H. They were attended by Assistant Surgeon Keller and Parke and within a few minutes all but one man were able to walk off the field. The latter was carried to the hospital tent and tonight is practically well and will be allowed to sleep in company quarters. The other three cases in the hospital are trivial and the general health of the camp is remarkably good, though six men were carried or helped off the field in this evening's parade from regiments other than the Thirteenth.

LITTLE WORK DONE.

Excepting the dress parade and the necessary duties connected with camp life the day has entailed no work. Scores of men from each regiment spent the day in town while crowds of sightseers numbering thousands visited the camp. Only a small portion of these passed into the lines of the Thirteenth as it is the farthest removed from the town. The number that did come was sufficiently large to tax the attention of the guard.

Company C is provoking Lewistown tonight. The company began that duty at 8 o'clock in the morning and will not be relieved until the same hour tomorrow. The men had plenty to do, as the town was filled with soldiers and thousands of visitors.

For today Captain Corwin of Company H was appointed officer of the day; Lieutenant Jessup of Company G, commander of the guard and Lieutenant of Company B, superintendent of the office of the day. At guard mount Muscien Sohm, of Company A, was selected for adjutant's orderly, and Private Crego, of Company D, for colonel's orderly. Tomorrow Captain Kambeck, of Company B, will be officer of the day; Lieutenant Gilman, of Company D, commander of the guard, and Lieutenant Joachim, of Company G, superintendent of the office of the day.

The regimental guard mount tomorrow will be conducted by Adjutant Stanton, of the Second battalion, General Golin and Colonel Coursen, Coryell, Price Case and Macree yesterday began examining officers recently elected in their brigade. Of the Thirteenth officers Assistant Surgeon Keller, Lieutenant Mason, adjutant of the first battalion, Captain Wood, of Company E, and Captain Robling, of Company C, passed successfully, while Lieutenants Decker and Davis, of F, and Smith and Kambeck, of E, will be examined later.

PREPARING FOR INSPECTION.

Tomorrow and Tuesday there will be busy times preparing for Wednesday's inspection of the Third brigade by Inspector General Morrell. The Thirteenth being the junior regiment will go

PROTEST FROM LEACH.

The Defeated Candidate for State Chairman of Republican Committee Objects to Manner of Elkin's Election.

Philadelphia, July 19.—Frank Willing Leach, former chairman of the Republican state executive committee, and recently a candidate against Deputy Attorney General John P. Elkin to succeed Senator Quay for the chairman of the general state committee, has written to his successor, ex-Speaker Henry K. Boyer, protesting against the manner of Mr. Elkin's election as state chairman and asking Mr. Boyer to call a meeting of the state committee to elect Mr. Elkin. In conclusion Mr. Leach says: "Permit me to add, in conclusion, that I am not a candidate for the position in question, and that I would not support any candidate for the position. Although two-thirds of the delegates to the late state convention were opposed to the election of Mr. Elkin to the chairmanship, I have no doubt the state committee will be happy to give him a unanimous vote if called together for this purpose. I certainly shall be pleased to vote for him. I am not objecting to the selection recently made, but to the manner of it."

Mr. Leach submits with his letter an opinion by John E. Johnson, the eminent lawyer, and the state chairman should be selected by the state committee. Mr. Johnson's opinion follows: "I am advised that the Republican party here applicable to the election of a chairman of the Republican state committee reads as follows, and that there is no contest affecting the matter: 'The chairman of the state committee shall be elected by the candidates nominated at the state convention and the permanent chairman thereof, as soon as practical after the adjournment of the state convention, and shall hold his office until his successor is elected.'

"I am advised that at the state convention held on the 25th instant the following resolution was adopted: 'Resolved, That the rules which provide that the chairman of the state committee shall be chosen by the nominees on the state ticket in conjunction with the permanent chairman of the convention be sustained, and that the state committee be elected by the delegates to the convention.'

"Hon. M. S. Quay was chosen by the state convention chairman of the state committee. I am asked now, in case of Mr. Quay's resignation at any time prior to the meeting of the next state convention, the vacancy in the chairmanship of the state committee will be filled."

"It is very evident that the party rule contemplates election of a chairman almost immediately after the adjournment of the convention of a quasi transitory body, candidates who may soon cease to exist, and a permanent chairman of the convention, whose functions would ordinarily have ceased with the life of the convention itself. In my judgment there has been no provision for the contingency of a vacancy. I cannot think it was intended that in case of a resignation, the permanent chairman of the convention should be deemed to be candidates until he is, in my opinion, the power vested in the candidates and in the permanent chairman unless legally restricted, is the power to elect its own officers, including a chairman. In my opinion, therefore, the state committee shall be chosen by the delegates to the convention, and the permanent chairman will have power to fill the vacancy until the meeting of the next convention."

FATAL STABBING

Catcher Chamberlain, of the Triton Base Ball Club of Tunkhannock, is the Victim of an Assassin.

Wilkes-Barre, July 19.—Charles W. Chamberlain, catcher of the Triton base ball club was fatally stabbed at Tunkhannock shortly after midnight last night by David Meyers, a resident of that town. There had been some trouble between the two during the day over a game of ball and Meyers, who wanted revenge had Chamberlain in front of the New Age newspaper office where he and his brother, Alfred Meyers, and a mob attacked Chamberlain. The latter in attempting to defend himself was stabbed several times and fell unconscious to the sidewalk. He was removed as speedily as possible to the Keeler Home parlors. Physicians were summoned and it was found that the blade of the knife penetrated the lungs. Chamberlain was somewhat revived tonight but it is feared that he cannot recover.

MAJOR MCKINLEY'S REST.

For the First Time Since His Nomination He Has a Quiet Day.

Canton, July 19.—Major McKinley has had a day of uninterrupted rest. For the first time since his nomination there were no callers of note and he was able to devote the day to his own affairs. He will leave with Mrs. McKinley at noon tomorrow for Cleveland where they will be guests of Mark Hanna, until they return to Canton on Friday.

Steamship Arrivals.

New York, July 19.—Arrived: La Gascoigne, from Havre; Schiedam, from Antwerp; Steamship from Rotterdam. Arrived out: La Touraine, at Havre; Sailed for New York: Luania, from Queenstown; Sailed: Saale, New York for Congo and Bremen, passed Prawl Point.

March of the Army Worm.

Franklin, Mass., July 19.—The army worm is reported in several places in the town and vicinity in numbers sufficient to destroy some small area of crops.

Marlboro, Mass., July 19.—The army worm has made its appearance here, and several farms in the eastern part of the city are being overrun.

MR. HARRISON WILL TAKE THE STUMP

Will Be Among the Speakers in the McKinley Campaign.

REPUBLICANS DEPEND ON ORATORY

Senator Foraker, Thomas Reed, Governor Hastings, Charles Emory Smith, Chauncey Depew, Senator Thurston, Senator Sherman and Other Prominent Orators Will Speak for Protection.

Canton, O., July 19.—For the first time since his nomination for the presidency, Major McKinley will this week leave Canton and his own home. The pressure upon him to visit other cities for the purpose of making speeches and participating in celebrations of various sorts has been persistent and strong. Fifty towns wanted Major McKinley on the Fourth of July and if he had given heed to half the requests which poured in upon him he would have had scarcely an hour at home since the St. Louis convention.

Tomorrow Major McKinley expects to go to Cleveland, and it is not probable that he will return to Canton before Thursday afternoon. His promise to go to Cleveland to take part in the centennial exercises is of long standing, and the occasion is one of dignity and importance, the purpose of it being to observe in fitting way the one hundredth anniversary of the settlement of the western reserve. Wednesday is founder's day, and on that day the formal inaugural ceremonies occur. Major McKinley has not been to Cleveland to remain longer than a few hours for some weeks and he feels that he ought to spend a few days among his host of ardent friends in that city. There will be a great many people in Cleveland, too, this week, from all parts of the country, and Major McKinley will want to talk to some of them on matters relating to the campaign and its conduct. He leaves the details to the management of Mr. Hanna and the committee in all of which he has great confidence, but no important step has been taken without his advice and consent.

After his departure in the public functions of founder's day at Cleveland, Major McKinley will go to Alliance on the day following to spend a few hours at Mount Union college. This will finish his little tour, and he will be back in Canton that night, where he will doubtless remain until he goes to the annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, in Minneapolis, in September.

He may run home from Cleveland occasionally but it will be for a single night or a few hours only.

WILL NOT TAKE THE STUMP.

Major McKinley does not propose, if he can help it, to be turned from his home and election at his own house. He is still averse to taking the stump and thinks that there will be no occasion for him to do so.

The Republicans expect to conduct a very strong speaking campaign. McKinley's managers in looking over the list of available speakers think that they have more than fifty men of wide acquaintance and established reputation upon whom they can call. In addition to these well known "speakers" there are a hundred and fifty names of men whose names are known and neighboring states for their oratory of uncommon excellence. Ex-Senator Harrison, Senator J. B. Foraker, Thomas B. Reed, Senator Thurston, Charles Emory Smith, Henry Cabot Lodge, General Stewart L. Woodford, J. P. Sawyer, Senator Sherman, Governor Hastings and Chauncey M. Depew will be expected to do the heavy work.

Several committees have been to see ex-President Harrison and a number have called upon Senator Foraker. It is understood that Senator Foraker has promised to go to the Pacific slope and that General Harrison will make a tour through some of the western states.

CAMERON FOR MCKINLEY.

He Says He Really Is for Free Silver, but He Is Not a Fool.

Havre, July 19.—Senator Cameron has announced that he will favor the Republican ticket this fall and propose to assist the campaign of McKinley and Hobart. If the Democracy at Chicago had simply declared that they were favorable to the cause of free coinage of silver, looking to the uplifting of that metal from the national bank money to a basis of coinage, it is a question whether Senator Cameron would not have declared his preference for the ticket nominated at Chicago, but when the champions of silver embraced all the doctrines of Populism and the latent socialism of the country, Senator Cameron was shut out of one opportunity.

When questioned as to his support of the silver cause in the approaching campaign, the senator said he would support McKinley and Hobart. He added:

FELL UNDER A CAR.

Shocking Death of Attorney Charles E. Smith.

Wilkes-Barre, July 19.—Charles E. Smith, a prominent employe of the Lehigh Valley Coal company, in this city, was killed at the Lehigh Valley depot at Mill Creek last night. He tried to jump on a passenger train which was just pulling out and went under the wheels, his skull being fractured and his arm taken off.

A special train was sent to Pittston for his family and they arrived a few moments before he died. He was 46 years old, and leaves a wife and four children.

Bank Cashier Confesses Forgery.

El Dorado, Kan., July 19.—S. C. Fleming, cashier of the Exchange National bank, has been arrested for alleged forgery and embezzlement in the sum of $10,000. He admits his guilt. This is the same bank that was robbed of $15,000 about a year ago.

POPULISTS ASSEMBLE.

Advance Guard of the St. Louis Convention is on the Ground--Bryan Popular with Delegates.

St. Louis, July 19.—The situation tonight is Bryan and anti-Bryan, or more strictly speaking Bryan against some member of the Populist party yet to be named. Not more than 300 of the 1,300 delegates to the Populist convention have arrived and these are individual members who constitute the advance guard of a number of delegates from the south and west. It is yet too early to predict with reasonable certainty what decision the convention may reach, but from the surface indications today it would appear that the sentiment for Bryan will be very strong, if, indeed, his friends be not in a majority when the roll is called.

It is a curious fact that some of the southern Populists have been converted from free traders to extreme protectionists through their affiliations with the late years with the Republicans. While some of the men place silver above the national issue, there are others unwilling to give their support to a tariff reformer, but say as between two, they would prefer McKinley. Generally speaking, however, "Cyclone" Davis, the Texas member of the national committee, says there are only two states in the union that the Democrats can carry without the aid of the Populists, and they are Louisiana, Arkansas, Mississippi, Florida and South Carolina.

There was talk today of a bolt if Bryan be nominated, they do not hesitate to say, however, the best vote here to the silverites the electoral votes of Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama, and Florida, and certainly result in the election of McKinley. There is but one thing the anti-Bryan men fear, that is a possibility that some one may make a ringing speech, full of allusions to the boy orator of the Platte and his long devotion to silver, that may sweep the convention off its feet and bring about his nomination in a whirlwind of enthusiasm even as Bryan himself succeeded in doing at Chicago, less than a fortnight ago. In such event, the list of malcontents might be so reduced as to make a bolt impossible, but this is not expected. Inquiries among the Alabama, Georgia, Tennessee and Texas delegations tonight disclose the fact that under no circumstances will they support Bryan and Sewall as the head of the ticket. They go so far as to say that if the convention either endorses or nominates Bryan and Sewall, they will bolt and hold another convention. They will adopt the Omaha platform and will nominate men for president and vice president who are uncomparably in the middle of the road between Populists, and who will be able to secure at least 50 per cent of the voting strength of the party.

BRYAN'S BUSY DAY.

The Democratic Candidate Wrestles with an Avalanche of Mail.

Lincoln, Neb., July 19.—It was six o'clock this evening before Mr. Bryan, with the assistance of Mrs. Bryan and W. F. Schwind, who are acting as secretaries to the nominee, had opened and sorted the day's mail and then they signed and they looked at the big volume of mail matter that came from the postoffice in such event, the list of malcontents might be so reduced as to make a bolt impossible, but this is not expected. Inquiries among the Alabama, Georgia, Tennessee and Texas delegations tonight disclose the fact that under no circumstances will they support Bryan and Sewall as the head of the ticket. They go so far as to say that if the convention either endorses or nominates Bryan and Sewall, they will bolt and hold another convention. They will adopt the Omaha platform and will nominate men for president and vice president who are uncomparably in the middle of the road between Populists, and who will be able to secure at least 50 per cent of the voting strength of the party.

THE VENEZUELAN CONTROVERSY.

A Sensation in the Dispute Will Be Due in a Day or Two.

Washington, July 19.—Something of a sensation in the Venezuelan dispute is expected in a day or two, possibly tomorrow, when a report to the Pollock argument which prefaced the British blue book is delivered to the commission and made public simultaneously in this country and England. Up to this time the agents of the various governments have contented themselves with piling up evidence before the Venezuelan commission and pointing out the numerous inconsistencies and false deductions in the British case, but since the distinguished Boston lawyer, James J. Storrow, has become associated with counsel Scruggs in Venezuela's behalf the case has been whipped into legal shape and a brief has been prepared which is understood to handle Lord Salisbury, Prof. Pollock and the other British lawyers and delegates without gloves.

It is said that Mr. Storrow has utterly demolished the vital points of the British contention and turned Prof. Pollock's favorite arguments directly against Lord Salisbury's pretensions. In his few months' connection with the case his entire conduct has been characterized from one of defense to that of most vigorous aggressiveness.

TROUBLE IN WISCONSIN.

Believed That a Gold Democratic State Ticket Will Be Supported.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 19.—General Edward S. Bragg, Senator Vilas, James J. Hogan and James G. Flanders, the delegates at large from this state to the Chicago convention, held a conference yesterday and issued a declaration explaining the action of the delegation in not voting in the convention. As a result of the meeting it is certain that the gold Democrats of Wisconsin will put a ticket in the field in the state election, regardless of the bolters in other states. General Bragg is about the only one of the leaders who still believes that the gold men of the state will be able to control the Democratic state convention to be held September 5.

J. J. Hogan expressed the sentiments of the majority when he said: "I believe the sentiment of a large proportion of the Democrats of the state is in favor of a new ticket, and it is probable one will be put in the field."

In the statement which was issued and which is signed by nineteen delegates to the Chicago convention, reference is made to a mass meeting or a convention of the gold men to take action to repudiate the Chicago platform and nominees.

TROUBLE EXPECTED.

If an Attempt is Made to Put in Imported Men at Terre Haute.

Terre Haute, Ind., July 19.—Trouble is expected at the Star City mine in Sullivan tomorrow, when an attempt may be made to put to work imported miners to take the place of the men in the bituminous fields who went out on strike. The scene of probable trouble is where the governor sent the militia in 1894 to quell serious disturbances.

Herald's Weather Forecast.

New York, July 20.—In the middle states, today, partly cloudy to fair and rather sultry weather will prevail, with local rain in the northern districts and fresh southerly to southwesterly winds. On Tuesday, fair and warmer weather will prevail, possibly preceded by local rain in the south, with fresh southwesterly and southerly winds.

RATIFICATION AT INDIANAPOLIS

Two Thousand Democrats Bow Down to the Free Silver Ticket.

GOLDMEN TAKE THEIR MEDICINE

They Are Willing to Abide by the Decision of the Majority of Convention Delegates--Governor Matthews Avers That They Are Not Anarchists, Traitors or Repudiators.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 19.—The Indianapolis Democrats held a ratification meeting last night which was presided over by Governor Matthews. There was about 2,000 people in the audience and Governor Matthews was given an ovation when he was introduced by Chairman Holt, of the State Central committee. Holt has been a gold Democrat, but declared from the platform that they were all Democrats and bowed to the majority. Governor Matthews said in part:

"I assure you there is no room for feelings of regret, discontent or dissatisfaction. The platform adopted and the ticket selected are both good to both I give and will continue to give my cheerful allegiance and most earnest support."

Speaking of the character of the convention he said:

"It was not a gathering of anarchists, traitors or repudiators, as our Republican friends in the frenzy of fear proclaim, but a coming together of patriots for the welfare of their country; of honest, earnest men, animated by a great cause and of American citizens and their rights and liberties, determined to maintain them. It is this year supremely the people's fight, their struggle against the most miserable and degrading enslavement that can be conceived by men."

"In spite of the nearly solid opposition of the metropolitan press of the entire country, notwithstanding the ungrateful crusade against it by certain hired men, professing to be Democrats, say, even claiming to be Democratic leaders, but in truth Hessians in the camp; in spite of the crowds of alarmists, or would-be speakers of avowed and greed, the great country has grown and will continue to grow."

Senator Turpie, and W. R. Meyers, ex-secretary of state, also spoke. The latter was one of the leaders of the gold faction. He had, he explained, changed his views to agree with the majority. In the course of his speech he declared that they would send Matthews to the Senate for the next six years, saying nothing about Voorhes.
