AN ENGLISH ADMISION.

Mr. McKinley's protective policy will, of course, check the influx of gold, so no doubt it will cause a falling off in the imports of British and European goods and there will, consequently, be less gold required to pay for them.—The Financial Post, London, June 21, 1896.

FULL GRAIN BINS FOR THE FARMERS

The Country's Crop Promises to Equal That of Last Year.

A VERY LARGE YIELD IS ASSURED

Everywhere, except in Texas the Cereal is Flourishing—Kansas is the Banner State—Official Figures on the State of the Crops in General Indicate a Season of Prosperity.

Washington, July 21.—In the last two days information regarding the growing corn crop has been received at the department of agriculture. There are indications of a big yield. It has been impossible until now to get an accurate idea of the prospects. The July reports are therefore of unusual importance. There are growing in the United States $1,000,000 acres of corn. In many of the leading corn states the crop is in splendid condition. Everywhere excepting Texas it gives encouraging promises.

The official method of the government for communicating the state of growing crops to the public is to take a basis of 100 as a reasonable standard of excellence. Averages in excess are exceptionally good, and averages below 100 become less encouraging the lower they go. With this explanation the statements of the officials of the agricultural department become plain to those outside the board of trade.

AVERAGE CONDITION OF CORN.

The reports just received justify the following estimates of the average condition of the crop in the leading corn states, which are given alongside the averages for July, 1895:

Ohio	1896	1895
Michigan	106	91
Illinois	111	96
Indiana	111	96
North Dakota	106	96
South Dakota	98	96
Nebraska	97	96
Minnesota	107	104
Wisconsin	106	95
Kansas	108	104
Texas	108	118
Tennessee	90	95

For the entire country the present average is 92.4 against 99.3 in July, 1895.

In Texas there is general complaint of dry hot weather and hot winds, so that cornfields are parched. In Indiana, although the moisture has been excessive in some places, the crop has a fine condition. Complaints of wet weather are received also from Iowa and Missouri, but this does not seem to have had serious effects. In Illinois the stalks are reported in fine condition, and are unusually forward, giving promise of a big and early harvest.

KANSAS THE GREAT CORN STATE.

Kansas, as usual, comes forward as one of the greatest corn states of the union. If the dry, hot winds of August and September do not parch the stalks, this state will produce a wonderful crop. The spring was wet in Kansas, and corn has had a rapid growth, so that it will be better able to stand the hot fall winds than so often ruin the crop.

The extent of the corn crop of the United States this year is about 1,000,000 acres less than it was last year. Then it was $2,000,000 acres. In 1894 it was only 700,000. The average acreage in the principal corn states is reported as follows for the two years:

Ohio	1896	1895
Michigan	106	104
Illinois	111	106
Indiana	111	106
North Dakota	106	96
South Dakota	98	96
Nebraska	97	96
Minnesota	107	104
Wisconsin	106	95
Kansas	108	104
Texas	108	118
Tennessee	90	95

There is every indication now that the corn crop of the country will equal the enormous crop of last year, which was 2,151,139,000 bushels. That was the largest corn crop the United States has produced for many years. The crop of 1894 had only been 1,212,000,000 bushels, and it was but a trifle more in 1895 and 1896. In 1891 it reached beyond 2,000,000,000 bushels. Though Iowa led all the other corn states in yield last year, harvesting over 239,000,000 bushels, it will probably not do so this year.

WINTER WHEAT PROSPECTS.

The agricultural department is now able to give some pretty reliable information on the winter wheat crop, though the harvest has not progressed far enough to enable an accurate estimate of the yield to be made. In some states thrashing has already been started, but as a rule the harvest is now in progress. The department has prepared a statement to be made public tomorrow which will give the following averages of present condition, compared with the condition this time last year:

New York	1896	1895
Pennsylvania	70	79
Kentucky	61	55
Ohio	59	69
Michigan	78	69
Indiana	65	55
Illinois	60	59
Missouri	75	68
Kansas	75	62
California	82	106
Oregon	95	95
Washington	100	93

GENERAL CONDITION GOOD.

The condition of the entire crop throughout the United States is 75.6 against 65.3 in July, 1895. This is an encouraging state of things. Correspondents of the agricultural department report with regard to winter wheat that in Pennsylvania it was much winter killed; that in Indiana thrashing discloses the low yield of 9.3 bushels per acre; that in Kansas, where a large portion of the crop has been harvested, the grain is found to be of light weight and the quality below expectations; and that on the Pacific coast the spring has been very favorable for wheat.

With regard to spring wheat it is reported that in Minnesota the crop had a rapid and rusty growth, but that rust appeared in the middle of June, which after all may not do much damage if the weather conditions are favorable. Spring wheat, however, is in fair condition. The report will show the following averages for spring wheat:

Ohio	1896	1895
Michigan	95	91
Illinois	111	96
Indiana	111	96
North Dakota	106	96
South Dakota	98	96
Nebraska	97	96
Minnesota	107	104
Wisconsin	106	95
Kansas	108	104
Texas	108	118
Tennessee	90	95

Iowa.....96 109
Kansas.....90 96
Nebraska.....90 89
North Dakota.....99 112
South Dakota.....98 94
Washington.....97 94
Oregon.....93 90

HOW OTHER CROPS ARE FARING.

The average condition of winter rye is better than it was a year ago, but it is not good, being only 83.3.

The condition of barley is not as good as last year.

Oats are in much better condition.

The acreage of potatoes is not as large by many thousand acres, but the crop is much better, approaching an average of 99, against 91 last July. A condition above 100 is found in Massachusetts, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Kentucky, Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, South Dakota and Nebraska, embracing the chief potato states, except New York, where the condition is 99, and Minnesota, where it is 100. The crop is poor in most of the other states, owing to drought, and on the Pacific coast.

The reports received by the department in a general way on all crops are encouraging. This ought to be a prosperous year for farmers in most sections of the country, unless some great calamity befalls the harvest. The fact that a fall campaign is on may cause some farmers to neglect their crops from this time on. The presence of a campaign is often felt in the crops that mature late in the season. The corn crop is generally past all danger before the heat of the Pennsylvania campaign. "Farmer" Bland, it is recalled, was "laid by" his corn crop when the Chicago convention was in progress. After corn is "laid by" neglect is good for it, for then it is supposed to grow without attention. Some farmers who do not neglect their crops, but those who do would probably have neglected them for some other reason. Taken all in all, the men at the agricultural department, who are farmers themselves, and the best in the world at that, take a very rosy view of the agricultural outlook for the present year. President James V. Watson said that in his opinion there existed no good reason at present for the Philadelphia banks moving for the relief of the treasury, and President George M. Troutman, of the Central National bank, declared that Philadelphia would readily respond if the occasion demanded action, but frankly stated he saw no necessity for such a movement at this time.

PHILADELPHIA WILL ASSIST.

Quaker City Bankers Ready to Aid the Treasury Gold Reserve.

Philadelphia, July 21.—The clearing house committee representing the banks of Philadelphia, met this morning and informally discussed the proposed plan of the banks of New York city to furnish $20,000,000 to protect the treasury's gold reserve, but those who were present stated that no action upon the question bearing upon the local situation was taken. President James V. Watson said that in his opinion there existed no good reason at present for the Philadelphia banks moving for the relief of the treasury, and President George M. Troutman, of the Central National bank, declared that Philadelphia would readily respond if the occasion demanded action, but frankly stated he saw no necessity for such a movement at this time.

Laid Himself Across the Rails.

Edward Cole, a Colored Man, Commits Suicide with Deliberation.

Washington Court House, Ohio, July 21.—Edward Cole, colored, aged 23, the snare drummer of the newly organized McKinley and Hobart club, threw himself in front of the fast east-bound Baltimore and Ohio train, and was crushed to pieces. He and Mary Hardin were out walking. When they reached the railroad track Cole lay down across the track, and placing his ear to the rail, said he wanted to see if the train was coming. "There it comes now!" exclaimed the girl. He raised up on his elbow, and saw the train coming at full speed. Looking at the girl, he said: "I want to show you how I can die," and he again placed his body across the track. She sprang toward him and tried to pull him off the track, but finding she could not, she sprang away to prevent being killed herself. The engineer reversed the engine, but it was too late, and when the train backed up the conductor found Cole's body out to pieces. His legs and one arm were severed and his head scalped. The girl ran screaming through an adjoining field. Cole and his wife separated recently.

ELECTRIC POWER TRANSMISSION.

Nicola Tesla Declares It is a Demonstrated Success at Niagara.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., July 21.—Among the men who are working to bring the Tesla, the electrician, and Chief Engineer Melville, of the United States navy. They came to look over the electrical developments here. Mr. Tesla, in an interview, said that he was immeasurably impressed with the great work here. He said that late in the afternoon he worked to perfect the system of long distance transmission and he now regarded such transmission as an absolute success and certainty. It was both possible and feasible that electrical power would in the not distant future be transmitted great distances at probably one-half the present cost of steam power. Asked as to his system of telegraph without wires, he said he had nothing new yet to give out, though he was working on it. The same answer was given when the subject of artificial sunlight was broached.

DARIUS FIES IN JAIL.

His Desperate Deed Was Prompted by Unrequited Love.

Reading, Pa., July 21.—Darius Fies, of Birdsboro, who attempted to kill Mrs. Israel Rehr last night, was arrested in Philadelphia this morning. After the shooting Fies swam the Schuylkill river. He then took a big dose of arsenic but the quantity was too great and he will recover.

It appears that Mrs. Rehr's injuries are not as serious as at first reported.

AN ASSAILANT IDENTIFIED.

Mrs. Boughamer Remembers One of the Men Who Assaulted Her.

Altoona, Pa., July 21.—Mrs. K. L. Boughamer, who was so murderously assaulted yesterday morning, recovered sufficiently today to give the name of her assailant. He is Albert Boughamer, a nephew of her husband. He is described as being 5 feet 7 inches tall, with red hair and mustache, and wearing a dark suit and brown straw hat. Mrs. Boughamer did not recognize the other man, but describes him as being short and stoutly built, and wearing a dark suit.

THE DIFFERENCE.

The interest-bearing debt has been increased by $282,325,629 since March, 1895, under the present Free-Trade administration. Under the previous Harrison administration it was decreased by $241,319,720.
