GOOD SHOWING ON THE INSPECTION

Successful inspections. But the rain was only brief and in the Thirteenth's camp, especially, there was much of locality. This is the feeling of superiority over the other regiments was warranted as evidenced by a remark by General Gobin to Major Oakford, of Scranton, and of the Third brigade staff. He said he saw no reason why the Thirteenth should not maintain its high standing. A statement of that kind by a brigade commander and during an inspection of all the commands is not only a compliment but a weighty one among the listeners of tonight's band concert at division headquarters were Mr. and Mrs. William Connell. The latter, with the ladies of the headquarters, will spend tonight in Lewistown, because of a camp regulation prohibiting the presence of women within the lines after taps. Mr. Connell and Attorney General McCormick occupy at night a tent adjoining that of Governor Hastings and used for reception purposes during the day. Mr. Connell will remain here until Friday morning. He called on Colonel Coursen this evening. To the Tribune correspondent he said he was interested and delighted with his camp experience, which was something new to him.

DIVISION DRILL AND REVIEW. Tomorrow and Friday the Thirteenth will participate in a division drill and a review on each day. The drills will be in the morning and the reviews in the afternoon. Tomorrow Governor Hastings will review the division and Major General Miles, of the United States army, will review on Friday.

Captain Fellows, of Company F, has been appointed officer of the day for tomorrow, and Lieutenant Smith, of Company D, commander of the guard.

DETAILS OF INSPECTION.

Number of Men Turned Out by the Different Regiments.

By the United Press. Camp John Gibbon, Lewistown, Pa., July 22.—The inspection of all the commands except the cavalry and artillery was completed today, when General Gobin's Third brigade was inspected. The heat was intense, but barring a few cases of men dropping from the heat, the entire brigade made a remarkably good showing, the personnel of the men being exceptionally good. The regiments were: The Thirteenth, Ninth, Fourth, Twelfth and Eighth. The Thirteenth, the crack regiment of the brigade, reported 47 officers and men present out of a total membership of 482. Their drill was remarkably fine. The Twelfth regiment also presented a fine appearance and had 495 present out of 500. The Fourth regiment, which only had one absentee out of 505 members, and the Ninth regiment, not only put up a fine drill, but had 483 men present out of 492, and the Eighth regiment made a splendid showing, not only in appearance and drill, but with only two absentees in a membership of 613.

During the afternoon there was artillery and cavalry drills and battalion and regimental drills in the infantry organization of the Second brigade, the day's work ending with a magnificent brigade drill by the First brigade under General Schall.

PROGRAMME FOR TODAY. Arrangements have been made to make tomorrow, Governor's day, a great success. At 9 o'clock in the morning the entire division will assemble on the parade ground for division maneuvers. There will also be fancy drills by the troops G and E, of the Sixth United States cavalry, under Captain West and Lieutenant Brooks, and an artillery drill by Captain Lancaster's light battery C of the Third United States artillery. At 4.30 in the afternoon the event of the camp will take place, the governor's review of the division, which, if the weather be clear, will be a magnificent spectacle.

On Friday morning General Miles will arrive in camp, escorted by two troops of regulars and three troops of national guards, cavalry, and at 4.30 o'clock in the afternoon the division will pass in review before the commander of the United States army. After the review on Friday evening the troops will begin to break camp. The Second brigade will move first, and the First and Third next. Colonel Cullinan expects to have both brigades and their baggage homeward bound by 2 o'clock Saturday morning.

MAJOR GENERAL'S SALUTE. While the Twelfth regiment of the Third brigade was being inspected this afternoon, Battery G, of the brigade, was turned out and fired a major general's salute and the brigade band played a dirge for the late General J. K. Sigfried, who was being buried in Pottsville, and who had been a former commander of the brigade.

Major John Van Rensselaer Hoff, of the United States army, arrived in camp this afternoon. He has been detailed to report to the government on the inspection drills of the hospital corps of the guards. Lieutenant Army.

WATER SUPPLY FOR JERMYN BOROUGH

Pros and Cons of the Situation Argued Before Judge Gunster.

Water Company Claims That Its Valuable Improvements Will Be Rendered Useless if the Borough Constructs Its Own Water Works. Mount Vernon Street Injunction Proceedings—Interesting Point Raised.

Two equity cases were heard before Judge Gunster in chambers yesterday. In the morning a hearing took place in the case against Jermyrn borough, where the action was brought to restrain the borough from constructing a water works to supply the town with water from an artesian well, now being bored. The other case was heard in the afternoon. It was the action to restrain the Mount Vernon Street Railroad company from laying its tracks in the borough of Winton.

In the first named case, Attorneys A. J. Colborn, Jr., E. C. Newcomb and I. H. Burns represented the defendant, and ex-Judge Jessup, C. H. Wells and S. B. Price were attorneys for the plaintiff. The people of Jermyrn are at present supplied with water by the Jermyrn & Rushbrook Water company. Those who object to the increase of indebtedness are members of the company and others are heavy tax payers. It is alleged that according to law the borough could not legally vote to increase the indebtedness, because the law under which the proposed increase has been assumed, has been declared by the Supreme court to be unconstitutional.

SOME OF THE TESTIMONY. Burgess John F. Nicholson swore to the ordinance which was passed authorizing the vote on the increase of indebtedness to be taken. J. D. Stocker, of the Jermyrn & Rushbrook Water company, was put under oath and he said that the company had tunneled from Chapman lake to the watershed of Hay creek at a cost of $15,000 to procure a pure water supply. Although the company has expended about $100,000. He told of the damage that would result if the company should be deprived of the patronage of the people of Jermyrn, which would be the case if the borough constructed its own water works.

Judge Jessup argued at length on the illegality of the ordinance and the election. The present debt of the borough was shown to be $2,200 and an additional $16,000 as contemplated for the improvement, would enlarge the debt beyond the limit allowed by law. Even though the $16,000 is not assumed at once, but is subject to an increase of bonds, he said that circumstances might in future arise when the regular funds could not be available by virtue of the overhanging indebtedness.

MR. BURNS' ARGUMENT. Mr. Burns argued that the law allows a borough council at any time without a vote of the citizens to increase its debt two per cent. more than the debt that then exists. Any higher debt that is contemplated cannot be assumed without submitting the question to the voters and then the law does not permit an increase of more than 5 per cent. of the assessed valuation to be voted upon. An election was held in Jermyrn and by a large majority the people agreed to increase the debt five per cent. The two per cent. which the council can at any time levy without going before the people, and the five per cent. voted upon make a 7 per cent. maximum to which the borough can be bonded. The $16,000 which the water works will cost is within 7 per cent. of the assessed valuation.

Mr. Price argued also on authorities in law and the papers were submitted to Judge Gunster for consideration. The evidence taken was copied by Stenographer John Taylor.

MOUNT VERNON CASE. In the afternoon the Mount Vernon Street Railway case came up. Hon. Lemuel American and Attorney I. H. Burns represented the defendant and Hon. John P. Kelley and Hon. C. P. O'Malley represented the plaintiff. Before any further step was taken the defendant presented a petition asking that the preliminary injunction be dissolved for the reason that the name of the borough of Winton was used without authority as plaintiff in the equity suit. A hearing was had on this branch of the case. The defendant alleged that a special meeting of the council was called without the knowledge or consent of the burgess, and that five members of the council met in response to the call and decided to bring the action against the com-

NOTES OF THE CAMP.

The ration issue to the Pennsylvania guards is one of the most liberal in existence, including that of governments.

Major Miller, who is one of the inspectors assisting Colonel Merrill, the inspector-general, has spent over 12 hours per day in the saddle since Sunday.

Private Foster, of Company D, was selected as guard mount for Colonel Coursen's orderly today. His was the third selection from Company D since camp opened. Company A has been honorably mentioned.

Amateur photographers are numerous. Their bent is apparently to secure snap shots of ludicrous scenes in which the central figures would probably not care to have their friends at home witness.

W. C. Scott, first sergeant and company clerk of Company B, was told by the regular army officer to whom was delivered the company's papers at brigade headquarters, that the set was the first out of three brigades that was complete and that did not require some question or explanation.

One of Company C's compliments at inspection was that its treasurer's report was the first received that exactly compared with the counter-record in the adjutant general's department. First Lieutenant Raub is the treasurer of the company; the papers were prepared by W. S. Gould, the company clerk.

A swarm of bootblacks, "bummers" and "strikers," each included in the category of "camp followers" are with the Thirteenth in large numbers. They are a sort of the respectable and hazardous lot and their presence in camp might be objected to, but for the fact that they are useful in many emergencies, seem willing to perform almost any kind of labor and are loyal to the companies to which they have attached themselves. In the most of the controversies among them and an occasional fight over the proficiency of their adopted companies are the rule. They sleep on the mess tent benches, get their food no one knows how, gamble at craps and cards half of the time and are interested in the doing of the most hazardous as though they formed a recognized part of it.

Private Young, of Company D, who wears all the state marksmanship badges that have been issued, save in 1895 when the Thirteenth's team contained its efforts to winning the shooting business if anyone else was to get a chance at marksmanship notoriety. He and Private Stone, also of the rifle team, and of Company D, reached here Tuesday noon and returned to Scranton today. The other members of the team are Captain Hobling and First Sergeant Henry Cullen, of Company C, and Sergeant Royce Watkins, regimental quartermaster.

NAMES OF WITNESSES CERTIFIED.

Two Hundred and Fourteen Men Who Are Entitled to Fees.

A list of 214 witnesses who were sworn in the Twelfth ward election contest was certified to City Clerk Lavelle yesterday, and next week he will begin to make out orders on the city treasurer for those entitled to witness fees. The witnesses whose names were certified yesterday will receive altogether $461.

The city has already paid out about $2,300 for expenses incurred during the contest and before all of the bills are paid it will be over $3,000 poorer than if the contest of two years ago had never been instituted.

FUNERAL OF MRS. PARROTT.

Services Conducted By Rev. W. H. Pearce, D. D., of Wilkes-Barre.

The remains of Mrs. Elizabeth Parrott, formerly of this city, who died at Shamokin, arrived here yesterday afternoon at 2.14 from that place and were conveyed to the home of her cousin, Mrs. Blackwood, of 1014 Vine street, where funeral services were conducted by Rev. W. H. Pearce, D. D., of Wilkes-Barre, until recently pastor of the Elm Park church.

A large number of the friends of the deceased attended the services and followed the remains to Forest Hill cemetery where interment was made.

WORK OF A SNEAK THIEF.

Stole Over One Hundred Dollars and a Silver Watch.

During the early part of Wednesday evening a sneak thief entered the house of John Frederick, of 1217 Blair avenue, while the members of the family were absent and stole over $100 in cash, a silver watch and a chain. The thief was evidently well acquainted with the premises and knew where the valuables were concealed. He entered the house through the window of a small, unused room, which furnished easy access to the room in which the money and watch were locked in a bureau drawer.
