playing. Crooks, of Washington, in 1883, made five safe hits, four of which were home runs.

BASE BALL IN ENGLAND.

A Good Story of the British Way of Acclimating Our Game. Jimmy Ryan, of Chicago, explains thus the way base ball is played in England.

"So far as fielding and batting went they weren't half bad. The pitcher stood well up in the box at the start, let go a good, swift ball, and the batter socked it. The shortstop made a rattling good line catch.

"I hadn't a word to say. They kept on hitting the ball and the fellow who had made the first hit kept on running. Finally when three men had been put out I figured up that the gentleman had made seven runs and the rest of the team three.

HERE'S A SAMPLE BRICK.

Of How the New York People Dote on "Freedy's" Team. There seems to be no doubt now that the New York base ball will win the pennant for Manager Freedman.

He had previously lost 1,000 straight games in the South African league, but this time he was due to his wildness.

AMATEUR BALL NOTES.

The Lillys of Archibald accept the challenge of the Nonpareils of Dunmore and will play them on their grounds on Saturday, July 25.

The Eureka Base Ball club wishes to state that they are unable to play the Olympian Browns this afternoon.

The Signing of these two "phenoms" only goes to prove once more that "Freedy" is determined to give New York a pennant team, no matter what the odds.

Some people here imagined that the strongest players in the world belonged to the National league, but it remained for Andy Freedman to dispel that illusion.

I don't know how much he paid for the release of these two "phenoms," but with his characteristic modesty, he remains silent, the same as he did when he exchanged "no good" Doyle for Gleason and $2,500 to boot.

I believe that I am breaking no confidences when I say it is rumored he paid something like $50,000 to consummate this deal, which, if true, is the most stupendous base ball transaction on record.

Now, let the "knockers" be silent. The New Yorkers are going right up the ladder to first place.

Diamond Dust. Springfield has released the amateur pitcher, Milligan. Lancaster has signed Catcher Westlake.
