

CARBONDALE.

Readers will please note that advertisements for job work, and items for publication left at the establishment of Harrison & Co., newdealers, North Main street, will receive prompt attention; office open from 9 a. m. to 10 p. m.

UNION PICNIC.

Sunday Schools Will Go to Riverside Park, Lansboro.

Today the various Sunday schools of this city will go to Riverside park for their annual picnic. The resort is said to be one of the most delightful in the country. The grounds have been fitted up with swings and everything for the amusement of people and children. The scenery is said to be very grand. A clergyman from Brooklyn who has frequently visited Europe says, "There are few views in England more delightful than this spot." The fare is very cheap and includes a steamboat ride of ten miles.

The New Bridges.

The contractors for the building of the new concrete bridges are urging on the work as fast as possible. Some of the men struck for higher wages yesterday but when they found that their places were to be filled immediately, they gladly returned to their work at the old prices. Foreman Blaylock was the first struck. He was in thirty-five years, and it did not last long either.

Over One Thousand Dollars.

The collections for the relief of the Pittston sufferers taken at St. Rose's church on Sunday, with other sums contributed by the parish organizations, will exceed, it is thought, over $1,000 for the general fund. The offerings on Sunday amounted to over six hundred dollars.

Evangelistic Services.

Evangelistic services will be held on upper Belmont street for two weeks. The tent in which the services will be held was brought here yesterday.

PERSONAL AND OTHER ITEMS.

Rev. James Watson, pastor at the Baptist church, of Coventry, N. Y., and family will spend the coming Sunday with the former's sister, Mrs. R. S. Johnson, on Canaan street. David Hickett is confined to his house with an attack of the articular rheumatism. Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Herbert expect to leave on Saturday for a week's stay at Atlantic City. The Miss Emmeline Rold and Annie Crier, of Dickson, former pupils of Professor John E. McCaskey, are visiting at his home on Elm street. Harry Leash, of Susquehanna, late of Philadelphia College of Pharmacy, is visiting friends in town. Mrs. Thomas Ryan and children, of Sag Harbor, L. I., are guests of Mrs. Maria Farrell, on Pike street. Mrs. Oscar Wonnacott and daughter, Charles, will spend a few weeks with relatives in Waymart.

Mrs. Charles Peterson, of Canaan street, who has been ill for the past week is growing worse. Miss Eva May Whiting, of Scranton, is visiting friends in town. C. E. O'Connor and John O'Connell will join the excursion to Atlantic City on Saturday. Dr. R. Hampton is moving his household goods to Scranton. Edgar Corey and Ezra Edwards, of Lakes Ariel, are visiting their uncle, S. R. Swingle. Miss Annie Hall, of Archbald, has returned home after a few days' visit in this city. Monday morning a party of young men, chaperoned by Rev. E. J. Bales, left for Camp Crystal at Crystal Lake. The persons comprising the party were: Mr. Martin, Charles Brockett, Willard Joe Isaac, A. Hickett, Wyland Gregory, Theodore Morgan, John Elrhis and George Rettow. They will be gone about ten days and anticipate a good time. Yesterday's paper reports them as settled and doing well. P. Miller, of Scranton, called on friends in town yesterday. Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Place and family will leave next week for a month's stay at Ocean Grove. They will be accompanied by Miss Susie Jadin. Miss Rosa Boland, of Upper Dunbar street, left yesterday morning for a visit with friends in Scranton. J. E. Coleman, of the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy, arrived home yesterday and will spend his vacation at his home on Wayne street. Rev. J. Malone, of Susquehanna, is spending his vacation with friends in Carbondale. Miss Annie and Peter O'Brien, of Oneonta, N. Y., are guests of friends in this city. Miss Frances Daley returned home Saturday from a stay of several weeks at Mount Prospect, near Binghamton, N. Y. Miss Susie Jadin goes to Preston Park on Thursday for a week's visit. Miss Mary O'Malley, of Scranton, is visiting Miss Marie McDermott, of South Church street. Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Wetherby, of Wayne street, who went to Florida with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Malloy in the spring, returned home last evening. The climate did not agree with Mr. Malloy, who is an invalid. Miss Myrtle Pengeley, of Birkett street, is the guest of friends in Plymouth. Mrs. William Felter, of Franklin, N. Y., is visiting her sister, Mrs. E. J. Bales, of River street. Miss Mary Burr, daughter of Dr. Charles Burr, a former resident of this city, now living in Morristown, N. J., is visiting friends in town.

PRICEBURG.

The funeral of the late P. K. Callahan took place from his late residence yesterday morning. The procession extended wedding trip. They will reside at Elmira.

TAYLOR.

The board of trade has issued a call for a meeting on Thursday evening to try and assist the widows and fatherless children of the embowed miners at Pittston. The meeting will be held in the Price Library hall at 8 o'clock. All of the citizens are cordially invited to be present.

Miss Annie Sherers, of this place, has been spending the past few days with relatives at Milwaukee. The conflict over the appointment of teachers is ended. At the meeting last Friday evening Professor James F. Foley was re-elected supervising principal, and all last year's corps of teachers have been re-appointed.

The Taylor Social club have discontinued their weekly socials for the summer. There is considerable talk that the Pyne, Archibald and Continental will petition court for a borough. Why not become annexed to Taylor borough? The two former especially would be benefited thereby considerably.

Rev. Mr. J. Watkins, of Packer ville, visited friends and relatives in this borough on Monday. William Prince, a young man who lately removed here from Clearfield county, has accepted a position with the Taylor Social club.

Griffith Thomas, of Fair street, foreman at the Tain shaft, Pittston, removed his family to that place yesterday. M. C. Judge left for Clinton, Iowa, Monday to spend his vacation. Several property owners are improving the look of Main street, by laying long sidewalks in front of their lots.

Last evening the lecture at the Methodist Episcopal church, given by Yeartario Olmsted, was largely attended.

CLARK'S SUMMIT.

Mr. Farrell, of Scranton, has moved in the Trotter house, recently vacated by William Waters. Mrs. Jennie Tinkham leaves this week to attend camp meeting in York state. Miss Ella Jennings is visiting friends in Fairlee.

Elmer Taylor and son, Dr. Ernest Taylor, of Forest City, visited relatives here last week. Alphas Rodney, of Highland Park, is entertaining his father and mother from Scranton.

Miss Carrie Dutesman has returned from a visit with relatives at Lakeville. Professor Thayer, of Nicholson, gave a free concert at the Methodist Episcopal church Monday night for the purpose of starting a singing class. If the required number of names can be secured he will organize a school. Names may be left with Rev. F. W. Young.

WYOMING.

Miss Appleby, of Exceter, visited with friends here Saturday evening. Many of our people attended a lawn party last Friday evening given by Miss Daily, of West Pittston. Miss Cora Bowler is quite ill. Rev. J. G. Eckman called on friends here Monday on his way to the Wyoming camp grounds.

THE CUSTOM OF TIPPING.

Efforts Which Are Being Made in Certain Quarters to Censure It Into Disuse.

In censuring the "Economic Effects of Tipping," the writer says that it is a remnant of the latter midgetage. It was born of the sympathetic, patronizing instinct of "masters" to give the laborer a special attention, or out of sympathy for exceptional hardships arising from an unusual long illness, disability, or other social disadvantages. As wage conditions developed and laborers became more definitely grouped by industries in which uniformity of wages prevailed, the patronizing habit of giving an extra gratuity declined. Very naturally, as it has long since become an obsolete custom, it is being abolished to obtain more wages involved friction with the employers which tended to destroy the motive to drop the laborer an extra sixpence.

In all the complex industries where the highest organization, best wages and greatest freedom among the laborers exist, tipping has long since disappeared. And conversely, where wage conditions are less developed and the sentiment of wardship and the minimum individuality exists among laborers, the tipping system is most prevalent. In Spain, Italy and on the European continent, tipping is as necessary but as to amount almost to mendacity. In England, it is sufficiently prevalent to be offensive to one not reared in the atmosphere of aristocratic institutions.

In the United States we have been gradually freeing ourselves of this semi-mendacity. During the last few years, however, the tipping habit has been gradually on the increase among a certain class of laborers. The occupations in which this system is chiefly practiced are domestic servants, waiters, barbers, waiters at hotels and restaurants, and porters on railway trains. It will be observed that these occupations are nearly all filled by foreigners and negroes who for the most part have been reared under the patronizing and semi-feudal influences of paternalism, and are, therefore, in a social sense, the colored people represent the remnants of menial servitude from centuries of slavery. The Italian, Spanish and French waiters and English and Irish coachmen have the same mental impression, received in the atmosphere of the paternalistic, patronizing conditions of Europe.

Tipping, as a practice, is obviously un-American and positively uneconomic. It is un-American, not merely because it did not arise in America, but because it is contrary to the whole spirit and goal of American life and thought. It is a social handicap, a stigma, a mark of inferiority. It is a practice, as a practice, is obviously un-American and positively uneconomic. Merit

Made and Merit Maintains the confidence of the people in Hood's Sarsaparilla. If a medicine cures you when sick; if it makes wonderful cures every where, then beyond all question that medicine possesses merit.

Made

That is just the truth about Hood's Sarsaparilla. We know it possesses merit because it cures, not once or twice or a hundred times, but in thousands and thousands of cases. We know it cures, absolutely, permanently, when all others fail to do any good whatever. We repeat

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is the best - In fact the One True Blood Purifier. Hood's Pills biliousness, indigestion, constipation.
