SECRETARY MORTON ON THE CURRENCY

Extracts from a Political Speech Delivered at Nebraska City.

NEW VERSION OF SIXTEEN TO ONE

The Secretary Explains the Difference Between Demand and Money--Democratization of Silver Was Not an Act of Secrecy. Money is Plenty for Those Who Have Anything to Exchange for It.

Nebraska City, Neb., Aug. 2.—Secretary J. Sterling Morton delivered a political speech here last night before a large and representative audience. The address was confined entirely to the financial question and contained no reference to Mr. Morton's alleged candidacy for the presidential nomination on a second Democratic ticket.

Secretary Morton declared that the demonization of silver in 1873 was done after full discussion. The issue of depreciated silver money caused the hearing and taking by foreigners of the better gold money. This was the cause of the panic in 1893. The creation of the gold reserve of one hundred million dollars declared the purpose of the government to maintain a gold standard. If there was any conspiracy in 1873 against silver there was a crime against the fiat boat by the steamboat, and a crime against the steamboat by the railroad and against the horse by the trolley car and bicycle. People confounded the desire and the demand for more money unless you have something to give in exchange. All desire money. The silver dollar is not mentioned in the act of 1873, but was demonized in 1893 and the law did not harm nor hinder the circulation of silver dollars among the people. There are plenty of them, enough to put eighty-five in the hands of every man, woman and child in the land. There is no demand for the silver. Ninety-seven per cent. of the wholesale and fifty per cent. of the retail business of the country is done without the use of any coin.

If his audience was given all the money in the universe on condition that they hold it and not use it, they would be as poor as could be. If the silver men carry their point, all who purchase of us will pay in silver, and all who sell us will demand gold and we will have to pay the premium. The value of commodities is regulated by the law of supply and demand and this is why silver is now cheap. The United States can no more fix the value of silver than they can fix the price of corn. If the price of silver can be made permanent so can the price of all commodities be fixed by international agreement. Values cannot be created by statute. A dollar cannot be made from fifty cents worth of silver for a dollar is not built that way. The farmers never knew how badly off they were until told by the walking delegates whose oratory consisted of sixteen parts of wind to one part of fact.

WILL FUSE WITH THE POPS.

Kansas Democracy Will Nominate No Candidates for State Offices.

Topeka, Kas., Aug. 2.—Ex-Senator John Martin, a leader of the Kansas Democracy, is authority for the statement that the Democratic state convention at Hutchinson, Tuesday, will nominate no candidates for state offices, but that action will be deferred pending the action of the Populist convention which will meet at Abilene on Wednesday, and that the nominees of the Abilene convention will then be endorsed by the Democrats.

As to presidential electors, according to Mr. Martin, there will probably be a fair division, representation being given to each of the several political organizations favorable to free silver legislation. The electors so nominated will be instructed to vote for Bryan and for either Sewall or Watson, whichever has the majority of votes cast in the United States.

OHIO GOLD DEMOCRATS.

Denounce the Chicago Convention as Un-Democratic and Populistic.

Columbus, O., Aug. 2.—The conference of gold Democrats here yesterday was attended by about 25 prominent members of the Democratic party in this state. Ex-Congressman Joseph H. Outwater was chosen to represent the gold Democrats at Ohio in the conference that has been called at Indianapolis on Aug. 7.

Resolutions were adopted declaring that the Chicago national convention adopted a platform that is un-Democratic but Populistic and dangerous. It was declared to be the sense of the meeting that a state convention should be held here at an early date as possible to select delegates to the national Democratic convention and that an advisory committee be selected to arrange for nomination for electors-at-large, but that no state ticket be nominated.

REFUSES TO SUPPORT BRYAN.

An Old Democratic Paper Cannot Stand the Boy Orator.

Burlington, Ia., Aug. 2.—After the Chicago convention the Burlington Gazette, one of the oldest Democratic papers in the state, announced that it would stand by the Democratic ticket, although free silver was almost too much for it to stand.

Last night, however, it said editorially that although it has fought the battles of Democracy for sixty-two years, it must now refuse to support the Chicago nominees.

GETS AROUND LAWLER.

Minnesota's Member of the National Democratic Committee.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 2.—A telegram was received from Hope, Ark., last evening from James K. Jones, chairman of the Democratic national committee, appointing Thomas D. O'Brien, of St. Paul, as Minnesota's member of the Democratic national executive committee.

Senator Jones cannot remove Daniel tional committee, but he gets around Lawler by appointing O'Brien on the executive committee and turning the work of organizing this state over to him.

MR. BRYAN NAILS ONE

Has Not Promised Governor Altgeld a Cabinet Position.

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 2.—This was a quiet Sunday for Mr. Bryan. He attended services at the First Presbyterian church in the morning and took a drive in the afternoon. Mr. Bryan's attention was called tonight to a statement published in a Chicago paper this morning that he had promised the position of attorney general, in the event of his election, to Governor Altgeld. He immediately detailed the following and handed it to the United Press: "In order to answer once for all in regard to rumors of promises of places, I desire to say that I have not directly or indirectly promised any office of any kind to any person whomsoever, and shall not during the campaign promise any office of any kind to any person."

BOURKE COCKRAN TALKS.

Denounces the Silver Movement as a Conspiracy Against Wages--Will Fight the Bryan Ticket.

New York, Aug. 2.—The Sun tomorrow will publish an interview with the Hon. Bourke Cockran, who returned from Europe on Saturday, in which Mr. Cockran declares that the present political situation is the gravest in the history of the country, existing in importance the crisis of 1890.

"The secession movement," said Mr. Cockran, "was but an attempt to divide this country between two governments, each of them claiming to give the property within the limits of its jurisdiction. No political convention can issue a valid license to commit offenses against morality, and I decline to follow Mr. Bryan in a crusade against honesty and the rights of labor."

In a contest for the existence of civilization no man can remain neutral. Who ever does not support the forces of order aids the forces of disorder. If I can do anything to thwart a movement, the success of which I would regard as an irreparable calamity not only to this country but to civilized society everywhere, I shall certainly do it. I believe that all Democrats who are so thoroughly in favor of sound money that they place the defeat of Bryan above the interests of any organization or party should meet in convention for the purpose of considering the form and method by which they can give the greatest efficiency to their opposition. For my part I do not believe that the nomination of either candidates for president and vice president, however eminent and deserving they might be personally or politically, would serve any useful purpose. Should they be elected, and any Democrat whose hostility to Republicanism would not allow him to support either Bryan or McKinley could show his opposition to both by remaining at home on election day quite as well as by voting for either of them. It is not a question of money and other Democratic principles.

"Now, the mere election of McKinley will be the defeat of the free silver movement. The obvious policy, then, would be to endorse the McKinley electors and to secure the immediate success of the main features of the platform. The Democrats who have achieved the success of their financial plank by the election of McKinley will yet constitute an opposition to the Republican party the day after election based on principles which are certain to be ultimately adopted by the American people. What is needed, therefore, is not a new ticket, but a new platform which will declare in unmistakable language the cardinal features of the party faith and which while endorsing McKinley electors, will provide for a really Democratic opposition to the McKinley administration during the period of its existence."

"What is your opinion of the ultimate outlook?" "Everything depends on the way in which this campaign is waged. It can easily be demonstrated that this whole free silver movement is a conspiracy against wages, and if the campaign is fought out on this line I have no doubt that every northern state—that is to say every state of the Union in which it is practicable to hold a free election—will be carried by the intelligence and morality of the American people against the monstrous proposition submitted to them by the convention which nominated Mr. Bryan for the presidency."

POTTSVILLE PRIMARIES.

Banker Horace Dengler Develops Surprising Strength.

Pottsville, Pa., Aug. 2.—The result of Saturday's Republican primaries it appears that Horace C. Dengler, a young banker of Shenandoah, has developed surprising strength against Congressman C. N. Brumm. Provisionary Deegan and Commissioners Benz and Allen will likely be renominated. Hon. J. T. Schoener, sergeant at arms at Harrisburg, will receive the nomination for clerk of the courts. In the Twenty-ninth senatorial district Major Sam A. Losh has undoubtedly two-thirds of the delegates and will be nominated to succeed Senator Keefer. Dr. C. E. Quail is the next strongest candidate to Losh while Keefer elected scarcely a dozen delegates.

In the Fourth district Representatives Schrick and Orms will be renominated. Representative Stuck will be supplanted by a new man. In the First district it is claimed Representative Wyatt tied by his opponent, Hon. D. Phillips, of Gordon, will be nominated on the second and J. D. Kewerth, of Tammany, in the Third. Major Losh's victory at the delegate elections is to be followed up by the selection of W. J.

CLAIMS TO HAVE KILLED BONNEKA

A Maryland Convict, Before Suicide, Admits the Crime Charged to Wilson.

THE MONEY BURIED NEAR ALTOONA

Frederick Whitney Tells a Story Calculated to Clear One of the Men Captured by the Harring-McSweeney Detectives--A Case in the Circumstantial Evidence Line.

Baltimore, Aug. 2.—The convict known as Frederick Whitney, who committed suicide at the Maryland penitentiary yesterday, now appears by his own confession to have added murder to his long list of crimes. Friday afternoon Whitney sought out Warden Weyler and intimated that he meant to end his miserable existence, in the course of his conversation with Mr. Weyler the man said his real name was Frederick Hildebrandt, and that his home was in Detroit.

The "hold up" of City Councillman Swindell, for which Whitney was serving an eighteen years' sentence, occurred on March 23, 1895. In his confession he said that while the men of the Baltimore detectives he killed and robbed a man in Altoona, Pa., in April of last year. "While we were at Altoona," declared Whitney, or Hildebrandt, to the warden Friday, "I assaulted a man on the street, gagged him and robbed him of his money, quite a large sum. For this murder another man was arrested, tried and convicted, and was sent to the Pennsylvania penitentiary for life."

"Was your pal, Williams, implicated in this murder?" asked the warden. "No, sir, I did it all myself. I alone am guilty, and can stand the strain no longer."

WHITNEY'S SUICIDE.

The warden tried to gain more information from his prisoner, but failed. He set apart an hour for a further conference with Hildebrandt but the opportunity for which the prisoner had long waited presented itself yesterday and the unfortunate man threw himself from a window and dashed out his brains on the flagging thirty feet below.

Information from Altoona states that on April 5, 1895, Henry Bonneka, a reputed miser, was murdered; a man named Wilson was arrested and convicted of the crime mainly on circumstantial evidence, and is now awaiting the death sentence.

The suicide was 35 years old. When incarcerated in the penitentiary he gave his occupation as a ball player.

John B. Williams, who was implicated in the Swindell "hold up" in this city, and is serving eighteen years in the penitentiary conferred to Warden Weyler today that Hildebrandt's statement was true. "Hildebrandt killed old man Bonneka," he said, "and secured $11,000. I helped him count the money. We buried it near Altoona."

Wilson was arrested on a Delaware, Lackawanna and Western train by the Harring-McSweeney detectives last winter and brought to Scranton. He was kept without a hearing in the office of the detectives in the Commonwealth building for two or three days. While a prisoner there he communicated with the employees at Hill & Connelley's furniture store by writing messages and holding the paper up against the window.

Convinced that his detention was irregular the furniture men engaged a lawyer and applied for a writ of habeas corpus with a view to securing the release of the prisoner. The case was heard before Judge Archibald and attracted considerable attention. The detectives were enabled to show their authority to arrest Wilson, and were allowed to take the prisoner to the penitentiary.

The news created a good deal of excitement in this city, especially among the people who believe that Wilson and Farrell are innocent, they having been convicted of the murder of the miser on circumstantial evidence.

JURIES NEVER NECESSARY.

Two Negroes Are Lynched at Montgomery, Alabama.

Montgomery, Ala., Aug. 2.—Two weeks ago an attempt was made to assassinate C. D. Hunter, a prominent citizen of Dallas county while sitting on his porch surrounded by his family. Two loads of shot were fired at him, but fortunately he was not fatally wounded. Isidore Mobley, a negro, was arrested on Wednesday charged with the crime and confessed, implicating Billy Hunter, a negro.

The negroes were committed to jail by the magistrate. As the constable was on his way to the county jail at Selma with the prisoners he was overtaken by a mob of masked men who took the prisoners to a bridge and hanged both. After the hanging a volley was fired into their bodies and the mob dispersed.

ENGINEER FARR'S FUNERAL.

Red Men Release a Snow White Dove at His Grave.

Camden, N. J., Aug. 2.—There has not been a funeral in Camden for years that has attracted public attention to so great a degree as that of Edward W. Farr, engineer of the express train which collided with the excursion train on the Atlantic City meadows Thursday evening, which occurred this afternoon from the residence of his brother, Charles W. Farr. From 10 o'clock in the morning until 3 o'clock in the afternoon

5,000 people around the little house in which the body lay, and a steady stream of people passed through the house by the remains.

The services were conducted by the aged Rev. J. H. Sowden, superannuated minister of Union Methodist Episcopal church, who has been a life long friend of the family, and Rev. J. H. Saur of the Eighth Street Methodist Episcopal church, of which Farr was a member when he lived in Camden. The funeral procession to Evergreen cemetery was headed by fifty members of Ottawa tribe, Improved Order of Red Men of Camden, to which Farr belonged. Representatives of a half dozen other lodges of Red Men and other secret societies were also in line. There was a crowd of 2,000 people at the cemetery.

The widow, who had to be carried to and from the carriage, gave way completely when the body was lowered to the grave, and her hysterical cries and last "good byes" to her husband were distressing to witness. A short burial service was read by Rev. Sowden, and then the lodge rituals were gone through. Past Supreme Commander Charles H. Ellis read the Red Cross liturgy, and Prophet Joseph M. Mowery, of Ottawa tribe, conducted the distinctive burial service of the Red Men. The members of the order each dropped a sprig of evergreen, emblematic of immortality into the grave and at the last word of spoken "farewell" a snow white dove was set at liberty over the bier. In the Red Men's ritual the flight of the bird is typical of the flight of the soul to spirit land.

ATLANTIC CITY TRAGEDY.

Coroner McLaughlin Thoroughly in Earnest in His Determination to Place the Blame for the Accident.

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 2.—Up to this evening there had been no further deaths among the victims of Thursday's railroad collision lying at the sanitarium. On the contrary there was a marked improvement in the condition of all but two of these.

Mrs. Estelle Fralinger, of Philadelphia, whose leg was amputated and for whom no hope was entertained, was much better today, and now has chance for life.

Miss Brannin, of Millville and Frank Morse are hovering between life and all small prospects of living. As was mentioned yesterday, one of the wounded Chinese in the adjacent Church of the Ascension this morning played "Nearer My God to Thee," and as the sweet strains of the familiar hymn poured out the maimed and wounded men and women listened reverently to the air. Some were deeply moved.

Governor William McLaughlin is thoroughly in earnest in his determination to sift the accident to the bottom and to fix the blame for it where it belongs. He said this afternoon that he expected that the inquiry will consume two or three days, but that he will take a month to it if it should be necessary to a full inquiry.

The most important witnesses will be called tomorrow. Among these will be George Hauser, the signal tower man, who gave the right of way to the excursion train and the signal signal to the Reading express, and who is now under bail to answer for his appearance; Engineer Greiner, of the excursion train; Fireman Hallman, of the Reading train, and Superintendents Deice and Dayton, of the Reading and West Jersey railroads.

Coroner McLaughlin this afternoon sort and labeled by name the property of the killed in the wreck. In the collection are a dozen watches, some battered out of all shape, and others uninjured, lockets, rings and about $300 in money. These articles will be returned to the relatives of the dead upon proper identification.

A big accident of any kind nearly always brings out the curious fact that people are constantly disappearing and leaving no trace behind them. Since Thursday the Atlantic City authorities have received a number of inquiries for missing people, whom their relatives feared might have gone to Atlantic City and been killed or hurt in the wreck. In nearly every case none of the dead and injured bore the slightest resemblance to the person sought.

Mr. Sorg Declines.

Columbus, O., Aug. 2.—Congressman Paul J. Sorg has written a letter in which he declines to be a candidate for reelection to congress next year, but that he is not concerned in the murder. District Attorney Hammond talked with the warden of the Baltimore penitentiary today and learned that Hildebrandt was insane when he made the confession.

Tierney Convicted.

Sandusky, O., Aug. 2.—Frank Tierney was found guilty of murder in the first degree by a jury last evening. He murdered Frank Helman, of New York, in a box car near here May 25. Tierney will be the first man to be electrocuted in this state.

"Cyclone" Is Nominated.

Texas, Aug. 2.—"Cyclone" Davis, the People's party leader, was yesterday nominated for congress by Populists on the Fourth district, to succeed D. B. Culbertson.

Socialism Becoming More Odious Than Ever in Germany.

A MAKER OF INFERNAL MACHINES

Paul Koschemann Is Placed in Jail. Other Anarchists Under Arrest. British Course on the Cretan Affair Causes a Slump in the Markets.

Berlin, Aug. 2.—The Cologne Gazette and other semi-official organs have during the past week devoted more than the usual amount of space to the proceedings of the international Socialists trades congress which closed its session in London yesterday. The fact that more attention than usual was paid to the congress was not due to recognition of the special importance of the meeting, but to the delight felt in being able to expose the crazy idiosyncrasies of the delegates and the general impotence of the Socialists to combine as a political factor. Following on the Lille (France) congress of Socialists, where the French members of that party scoffed at the sentiments of the German delegates regarding the war hatchet being forever buried, the London meeting, where Herren Hebel and Singer, Madam Clara Zetkin and other German delegates were feeble and ineffective figures amid the general riot, greatly tend to make socialism more odious than ever throughout Germany.

An electric explosive machine was sent a few days ago to Colonel Krause, of the Berlin police. Fortunately its character was suspected and the machine was opened and its contents rendered harmless before any damage was done. The police traced the machine and found that it had been sent by an Anarchist named Paul Koschemann, who was arrested and jailed. Max Westphal and his wife and Wilhelm Weber, all Anarchists, were found to be implicated in the affair and are also under arrest. Machines similar to this sent to Colonel Krause and a quantity of explosives were found in Koschemann's lodgings.

CRETAN SITUATION AFFECTS BOURSES.

The opposition of the British prime minister, Lord Salisbury, to a blockade of the island of Crete to prevent the Christian insurgents there from obtaining arms from outside the island, and the general situation arising from the revolts in Crete and Macedonia, had a bad effect on the Berlin and Vienna bourses. Austrian government securities closed 3/4 per cent. down. German imperial securities, after a similar decline, recovered. The Cologne Gazette describes the situation as more critical than ever.

The Tagblatt says that Great Britain pursues her own aims though in so doing she menaces the peace of Europe.

KILLED HIS FATHER.

An Aged Man the Victim of His Son's Cruelty.

Greensburg, Pa., Aug. 2.—Last night about 12 o'clock, Patrick Coyle, an old gray-haired miner, 70 years of age, was pummeled and choked to death by his son, Walter Coyle, aged about 24 years. Old Mr. Coyle's mother of the murderer, was an eye witness to the horrible crime, and on her knees pleaded for the life of her husband, but was finally compelled to flee.

Young Coyle's wife recently became demented and was sent to an asylum on Friday last. Coyle's aged parents taking charge of her infant. Young Coyle came home late Saturday night and was reproached by his father for drinking and neglecting his child. The young man sprang at his father and choked and beat him to death. The mother sounded the alarm and a number of stalwart miners of the neighborhood came and after a desperate struggle overpowered the murderer. The sheriff was sent for and Coyle was placed in jail.

FRANK DUGGAN KILLED.

Run Down by a Small Locomotive Near Steel Works Station.

Frank Duggan, aged 29, was killed last night about 10:30 on the narrow gauge track of the Lackawanna Iron and Steel company near the steel works station. He was on his way home when he was struck by one of the small locomotives that ply between the North and South works. He was dragged a distance of thirty feet and received a fracture of the skull, laceration of the left shoulder and a cut on the left leg. Fifteen minutes after the accident he died.

Duggan was a machinist by trade and was employed in the mill works. He was a single man and boarded with his sister, Mrs. Daniel Toomey, of 123 Cedar avenue. His remains were taken to that place and Coroner Longstreet will hold an inquest today.

Deceased was also a brother of Mrs. Timothy Lavelle, of the Twentieth ward, and Morris Duggan, who has charge of the engines at the South mills. His aged mother is prostrated by the sad accident.

Had a Hollow Sound.

Pensacola, Fla., Aug. 2.—A sound money convention was held under the Jacksonville call in this city last night. Only eight persons responded to the call, but an organization was effected and a resolution adopted to name three or more delegates to attend the Jacksonville convention on Monday.

Conductor Killed.

Altoona, Pa., Aug. 2.—Simon C. Henry, of this city, one of the oldest conductors on the Pennsylvania railroad, was struck and instantly killed by the New York and Chicago limited express late last night. He is survived by his wife and five children.

Steamship Arrivals.

New York, Aug. 2.—Arrived: La Bourgoigne, from Havre, Sailed: Marselles, for Hamburg. Arrived out: La Gasconne, at Havre. Sailed for New York, Cammaria, from Queenstown.

Herald's Weather Forecast.

New York, Aug. 2.—In the Middle states today, partly cloudy to fair and sultry weather, preceded possibly by rain on the coast, fresh variable winds mostly southerly and rising temperature followed probably by a hot wave in the southern part of this section. On Tuesday, fair, sultry and warmer with southerly winds and dangerously high temperature, followed by local thunder storms.
