DIAMOND MATCH BOOM COLLAPSES

Gigantic Speculation Scheme of Moore Brothers Ends in Disaster.

THE CHICAGO EXCHANGE CLOSED

Commercial Circles in the Windy City Are Thrown luto a State of Excitement -- A Scheme to Form a Pool and Buy Stock to Hold Until the Flurry Is Over.

Chicago, Aug. 4.-Nothing in years has caused such a flurry in commercial circles as the collapse of the Moores in their efforts to maintain their control of the Diamond Match stocks and New York Biscuit. It has been the talk of every man connected with the stock exchange and the board of trade. Another striking feature of the fallure and one which in a measure showed its extent and breadth is the fact that the Stock Exchange for the first time in its history adjourned indefinitely at once. Its doors were opened without doing a fashion's latest early autumn bul-letins, and therefore the most de-ing notice was posted on the doors of ing notice was posted on the doors of the Exchange;

"The Chicago stock exchange has adjourned subject to the action of the Governing Committee, Signed,

"J. R. WILKINS, Secretary," Outside the doors and through the corridors of the building were excited groups of brokers and traders in stocks discussing the situation. Every one connected with the Exchange was endeavoring to convince everybody else that there was no cause for alarm. They announced that the officials of the Exchange were endeavoring to form a pool to buy up the stock of the Moore Brothers, to hold it until the flurry was

At a meeting of the governing committee a resolution was adopted cailing for the appointment of a committee of four, the chairman of which shall be the president of the stock exchange, and the other three to be appointed by him to confer with the bankers of Chicago and the Moore Erothers, to arrange a basis of settlement. This committee will meet at 2 o'clock today. This action had the effect to modify the excitement of many of those interested. Those best posted in the matter declare that there is no fear of a general panic. The governing committee, at a meeting today, adopted the following:

Resolved, That in cases of all stocks bought and sold "regular" the trades shall be carried out, and that in cases where stock has been bought regular and sold in the account the stock shall not be delivered until the opening of the clearing house

It is learned from Inside sources that the committee from the stock exchange gathered little information of use to them in their interview with J. H. Moore this morning. Mr. Moore, it is formation regarding his affairs, but furnish the exchange with a written

THE BANKS UNCONCERNED.

The fallere has caused little or no bank, says he would not have known that Moore Bros, had failed had he not ead it in the papers. The First National holds some of the Diamond Match stock, and upon being asked about this the stock on which we loaned $150 a share. The stock is good and we are not bothering our heads about it. As to the exchange closing, that is a matter of little importance. The Chicago Stock Exchange is a good place to buy, but a very poor place to sell. The brokers on the exchange are quite excitable, and I presume the closing did make quite a little commotion among themselves, it perhaps is just as well, as a few days suspension cannot do much

The governing committee of the Stock Exchange beid a second meeting this afternoon, but accomplished nothing. They adjourned until tomorrow at noon to await the statement promised by J. H. Moore, of the finances of Moore Bros., and their dealings in Diamond Match and New York Biscuit stock. It was decided that it would not do to reopen the exchange until the Moore tangle is straightened out. Offers were made around town during the afternoon for batches of Diamond Match stock all the way from 165 to 175, but nobody seemed to care to sell.

P. D. Armour, who is supposed to be me of the heaviest holders of Diamond Match stock, took a hopeful view of the situation when seen today. He did not think that the failure of Moore Bros. would affect any other securities than Diamond Match and New York Biscuit and over these he does not expect any panie. Mr. Armour said:

"All the banks have agreed to make no calls on the stock until arrangements can be made and the private individuals who hold stock are all rich men and able to carry it and so I see no cause for apprehension.

THE MATCH LOANS.

The interest of the banks in the unortunate affair is primarily confined to keping the market value of Diamond Match and New York Biscuit stocks thove the figure which represents the of the stocks. In the case of Diamond Match the loans were on a basis of 120 to 120 and the opinion of the bankers s that the intrinsic worth of Match stock is above these figures. Bankers are not disposed to speak definitely on the situation till the governing committee of the exchange has been heard guests. from, but all interviewed this morning commend the closing of the exchange, The Commercial Loan and Trust and the Illinois Trust and Savings Banks are believed to be the largest holders of the two stocks as security for loans, but they are not alarmed at the outlook Other banks have a few small loans with a good margin of security or no oans at all, therefore are only indirectly interested in co-operating to prevent further failures.

"Diamond Match and New York Bisuit are still good properties," said J. H. Moore today to a reporter, just after the sub-committee of the Stock Exchange had called on him. "I am not prepared ing to gain by rusion as they believe four-or assets because I don't know what they are myself." "I will say this, Moore Brothers are not broke. They are simply temporarily embarrassed and will pull through all right. The bankers at the stock exchange will Diamond Match is good property and worth more than we claim for it. It's earning capacity has not nearly been reached. We shall make a statement just as soon as it can be prepared."

MR. BRYAN'S CALLERS.

He Receives Crumbs of Comfort from Various Visitors.

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 4.-Among Mr. Bryan's callers to-day was George W. Phompson of Tacoma, Washington, national committeeman of the National Silver party for his state. Mr. Thompson has no doubt that the state of Washington will east her vote for Bryan and free silver.

As to Iowa, the conditions are not so promising, though the sentiment for free sliver is gaining ground and I feel that Iowa, too, may wheel into line in time to be counted for Mr. Bryan. Mr. Bryan has sent a letter to John C. Harmony, secretary of the Bryan club at Canton, Obio. The letter fol-

My Dear Sir-I am in receipt of you message conveying greetings from the members of your club and beg you to as-sure them of my hearty appreciation of their support. The fact that those of your fixens who believe that the United States is strong enough to have a finincial pol-cy of its own, are willing to carry themelves against a townsman of high charter and great personal worth, indicates the depth of their convictions. Whenever a great issue arises, the American people always prove their independence and moral courage, characteristics without which self-government is impossible, It gratifies me to know that the silver entiment in its growth is disregarding party lines. Strikers Fire Into a House Which Harbored a "Scab" --- Believed to Have Plotted to Blow Up the House.

Cleveland, Aug. 4.-Shooting by soldiers and rioters marked the opening of anotherday in the vicinity of the Brown Hoisting Works. At 1:30 o'clock this morning two men stopped in front of Mrs. Lind's boarding house, a few squares from the Brown Hoisting Works, where a man named Gettner, who is employed at the works, boards, The two men velled for the "scab" to ome out, and then they began to throw stones at the house. Presently one of the men fired at the door, the bullet pasing through the panel and

As the soldiers turned a neighboring corner the two said, was able to offer no detailed in-formation regarding his affairs, but charge shouted "Hall." The pursued made a promise that tomorrow he would men paid no attention to the order and the soldiers began firing at them. They returned the fire, and for a few moments there was a lively fusilade. One of the men suddenly made a cry and was heard to groun. A moment later, stir in banking circles here. Lyman G. however, both had disappeared in the Gage, president of the First National darkness. The affair caused the utmost excitement in the neighborhood for a time. The bullets struck several houses. Two went clean through the side of a grocery store. The soldiers and others believe that the two men Mr. Cage said: "Yes, we have some of had planned to blow up Mrs. Lind's

ARRANGING THE POW WOW.

St. John Making Preparations for the Bryan Notification Meeting.

New York, Aug. 4.-Treasurer William St. John, of the Democratic National committee, and the National Silver party, was early on hand this morning at his headquarters at the hotel Bartholdi.

There was quite a crowd of people awaiting to get an audience with Mr. St. John and he was kept busy answering questions of all kinds. Mr. St. John when seen said that the names of the speakers at the notification meeting at Madison Square Garden had not yet been selected and would not be for a few days more.

The advance arrangements for the big meeting are, however, being mapped out. protect us and will come out all right." Result of the Coroner's Inquest in Atlantic City Disaster.

TESTIMONY REGARDING THE SIGNAL

The Engineer Might Have Saved Himself by Jumping, but Died with His Tower Operator Hauser's Story.

Atlanite City, Aug. 4.- The testimony brought out at to-day's session of the coroner's inquest of the Meadow raiiroad collision seems to fix the direct responsibility for the accident upon the dead engineer of the Reading railroad express, Edward Farr. From the testimony Farr's action in runnning at a speed of forty-five miles an hour past a danger signal seems inexplicable and as the man is dead the reason for it will probably never be known.

Farr is given the reputation of having been an experienced engineer and a man of exceptionally high moral character, and not of a reckless or careless disposition. Only two weeks previous to the accident his train was signalled to stop at this crossing and he promptly brought his train under control.

One witness to-day testified-Conductor Pinkerton of the express-that Farr saw the signal set at the crossing for he heard him give the regular signal in reply to notify the tower man that he had the signal-a blast of his whistle. Conductor Pinkerton intlmated rather than charged that the signal was suddenly changed on Farr, as he heard the whistle blow furiously in a moment again for what he took to be another signal blast. Still this witness was forced to admit that when he looked from the platform of the car the danger signal was set and this position of the semaphore was corroborated by every other witness. It was shown that Farr made every effort to stop his train when he saw the coming collision and succeeded in reducing its speed from forty-five miles an hour to fifteen miles in a few hundred feet, He might have jumped after putting on air brakes and reversing his engine, but he died with his hand on the lever of his engine.

HAUSER'S STATEMENT.

Tower Operator George F. Hauser. who set the signals, told a straightforward story as to the position of the semaphores and declared that he did not move the signals on the Reading line from the way they were set when he entered the tower which was at danger, but only moved those on the West Jersey road to a clear track.

Witness testified that it is usual to the militia and a detachment of Com- give a first-class express right of way amendment to the constitution of the on railroads over such trains as the ex- United States providing for the election at risk, into water which splashed its cursion and that Hauser did an un-usual thing in giving the latter train United States senators by the direct But women who were frightened the right of way. Still as the danger signal was set for him Farr should have stopped even if it was usual for his train to get the right of way. Fireman Hollohan, of the express, testified that he did not see the signals until the train was within twenty-five feet of the distant signal and is was then set at danger. He knew nothing of Farr's actions as he could not see him from his side of the cab across the top of the boiler and saved his own life by running back to the tender.

Engineer Greiner, of the excursion train, testified that he got a clear signal and went over the tracks at the crossing at the rate of 30 miles an hour. He did not notice the express particubarly until it was nearly on top of his train as he was attentively watching enormous crowd of strikers and their for his signals and supposed the exsympathizers were present but no press would stop at the danger signal. The inquest will probably not conclude until Thursday.

FIGHT ON A SHEEP RANGE.

doubly armed, wearing revolvers as Two Cuttienien and a Sheep Herder Killed Near Snow Mountain.

Fossil, Oregon, Aug 4 .- J. M. Smouth, who arrived here yesterday from Can-yon City, brings news of a desperate battle between sheepmen and cattlemen on the Snow Mountain, southwest of Canyon City, about a week ago. Mr. Kitchen, employed by the Princeville Sheep and Land company, and two cattlemen were slain. Another of the sheepmen killed was Ernest Shearer, a nephew of Joseph Shearer, a well known wool grower and buyer.

For years young Shearer has been buying and shipping sheep for his uncle, and on the occasion of the battle he, with several others, including Mr. Kitchen, was driving a band of sheep across the country to the railroad, presumably to Huntington, for shipment. Many "sheep fights" have been reported this year which had no foundation in fact, but the story of Mr. Smouth is generally believed. There has been hard feeling for a long time between the cattlemen and sheepmen in Oregon. Numerous disputes have taken place over the possession and use of the ranges, the cattlemen asserting that the sheep drove the cattle from the ranges, Democratic State Convention at Minneapolis a Lively Affair.

Minneapolis, Aug. 4.-The Democratic state convention met here today. The committee on credentials reported recommending the striking out of the names of Dan Lawler, Frank W. Mc-Cutcheon and Judge McCafferty. J. T. Bowditch, of Wabash, said he advised this step because the men in question were known to be gold delegates. The report was adopted. When the vote was announced the greatest confusion ensued. Mr. Lawler tried to make himself heard, but his efforts were vain. The expelled men then walked out of the hall, followed by one whole delegation, of which they were members. The platform as adopted declared for the Chicago convention; denounces the platform of the Republican party, and demands an vote of the people. John Lind was the only one put up before the convention for candidate for of them were left huddled high upon governor and received the nomination by acclamation.

UNEXPECTED END OF A CIRCUS

The Interior of the Big Tent Suddenly Becomes a Pond.

The Newly Married Couple Endeavor THE ANIMALS HOWL WITH TERROR

> River at Atlantic, Iowa, Rises and Inundates Ringling Brothers' Big Tent -- Many Spectators Carried Out on Shoulders.

Atlantic, Iowa, Aug. 4.-Terror overcame the multitude of men, women and hildren who thronged the tents of Ringling Brothers' circus tonight, when, just as the grand cavalcade had finished its circuit of the hippodrome course, water began to flood the level ground.

It rose so fast and so evenly that what was at the first alarm just a shining covering to the ground in a few moments became the rippling waves of a lake reflecting the colors of the myriad of lights above. But the multitude did not stop to look at the colors. With the appearance of the water, which came from the over-flowing river near by and covered a vast Friday, July 31 area of bottom lands, some of which were below the level of the river bank, the menagerie attendants were put into commotion getting ready to move the cages. The animals set up startling and uncanny shricks and cries, and the elephants, which were just finishing the parade, trumpeted tempestuously as they splashed in the waters while leaving the main tent.

SCARE AMONG SPECTATORS.

The spectators had not been much disturbed by the quietly rising waters until the uproar and bellowing of the animals commenced. Then with each rising inch fright increased, and in a moment terrified thousands were splashing their way toward exists. The splendid discipline of the Ringlings was manifested in the care of attendants, which prevented a panic. Their mer were at every exit directing the people, and whenever possible the tent sides were raised to permit exit. Without, loud-voiced men shouted out the way to higher ground. Before half the vast crowd was out of the tent the water was a foot deep.

They plunged into the shallow pond. which had now become thick with mud by skurrying feet, often without regard to trousers or boots, but many took off foot gear and rolled up trousers legs. There was humor in the commotion, as barefooted men waded along, carrying shoes and stockings and often coats upon their shoulders and above their heads. A few venturesome and self-possessed women picked up all flowing garments and plunged, with shoes and stocking But women who were frightened and children alarmed by the uproar hesitated to take the water. Possibly 1,000 the seats, when only a few hurrying spectators were picking their way, with bare feet and legs or elevated skirts through the water, which was rapidly becoming two feet deep. Then rescue parties were formed. Big men, with trousers well up to the hips, and lusty circus men, who had not tried to keep clothing dry, took pale women upor their shoulders and little ones under their arms and carried them out to the dry land. Dainty misses, who had recovered from their fright enough to see that nobody was being drowned, and who laughed at the funny sights, put conventionalities aside, and laughingly mounted the willing carrier's shoulders and were borne out. There were tears and disgust and laughter in the motley throng when the fair burdens were put Circus people can pack their belong ings in a hurry, and the performers prepared to leave upon the first appearance of water, so little real damage was done to the circus property. SUNSTROKE ENDS A DIVORCE CASE.

Plaintiff Dismisses Her Bill and

Nurses Her Sick Husband. Louisville, Aug. 4 .-- A divorce case in the local courts was knocked out by a sunstroke. Annie Housel had filed sult for separation from Thomas Housel, and the case was to have come up Saturday. Early editions of the afternoon papers, however, contained a brief announcement that Thomas Housel had been taken to the city hospital in a precarious condition from a sunstroke, Mrs. Housel, as soon as she read it, rushed up to the hospital and is now nursing her husband. She telephoned for her lawyer, and when he reached her the reconciliation was complete, and an hour later the case was withdrawn from the docket. NO HURRAH FROM REYNOLDS.

Prospects of Trouble in the Bedford

Democratic Camp. Bedford, Pa., Aug. 4.-The Democratic county convention met here today and nominated a full county ticket. Interest centered in the convention, as this is the home of Assistant Secretary of the Interior John M. Reynolds, who for years has been the leader of his party in this region, and who, it is believed, will repudiate the work of the Chicago convention, as he and his followers de-clined to take part in the convention. Bryan and Sewall were endorsed, also the action of Governor Pattison in announcing his intention of supporting the Chicago platform.
