BOARD OF HEALTH'S BUSY MEETING

Exhaustive Report Was Made by Health Officer Allen.

HEADACHE POWDERS CONDEMNED

They Caused One Fatality--Board to Confer with Council's Sanitary Committee--Spring Brook Company Will Be Asked to Furnish Better Water for the Bellevue District.

More than the usual volume of business was, notwithstanding the terrific heat, transacted by the board of health yesterday afternoon, though the only members present were Dr. James K. Bentley, president; Dr. W. E. Allen, health officer; Dr. W. E. Payne, and Henry J. Zeigler, Sanitary Policeman.

The report of Dr. Allen as health officer was as follows:

To the Board of Health: Gentlemen--Owing to the exceedingly humid weather the usual "summer complaints" to the board of health--have been greater than those of last year during the month of July.

The most unsatisfactory and, in fact, absolutely inefficient arrangement we now have to contend with is the very imperfect method of collecting garbage. It seems to be a fact that people will not separate garbage from ashes unless compelled to and at present we have no means of doing that.

MENACE TO HEALTH. The pens and standing pools are still with us, though in a greatly diminished degree. It is a sad fact that notwithstanding the right rules of the board of health and the watchfulness of the sanitary officer, there are still some hogs left in the city of Scranton.

SECRETARY'S REPORT. A motion prevailed, following the reading of the foregoing, that the secretary arrange for a conference between the board and the sanitary committees of the two branches of the council.

CERTIFICATES OF PLUMBERS. For carrying out the registration provisions of the code plumbers' certificates have been procured and will be issued by the secretary of the board.

COMPTON DIED IN A PRISON CELL

He Was Arrested on the City Hall Lawn While Intoxicated.

HE WAS EMPLOYED HERE AS DYER

Compton's Father Lives at Port Jervis and He Has a Brother at Pittston--His Relatives Were Notified and His Body Taken to Raub's Undertaking Establishment--Coroner Will Investigate.

Lying cold, stiff and dead in a cell of the Central police station yesterday was the end of the dissipated life of Frank Compton, aged about 35 years and a dyer by trade.

Compton's father lives at Port Jervis, N. Y., and his brother at Pittston. He had worked in Bartlett's dyeing establishment on Penn avenue up to a year ago when he went to Harrisburg to work and returned here recently.

At intervals during the afternoon he was seen by policemen and others who passed through the cell room and was observed lying in different positions.

At 6 o'clock when the rounds of the cells were made to count the number for supper, the door of Compton's cell was unlocked and Detective Dyer on trying to rouse the man found him stiffened and dead. It was with difficulty that his limbs could be bent.

Coroner Longstreet was summoned and directed that the body be removed to the undertaking. Previously, however, Dr. Brewster, who lives but a few doors away, was called and pronounced Compton dead.

SINGING IN SALOONS. Two Girls and Two Men Taken to the Police Station by Patrolmen Lowry and John Thomas.

Complaint was made last night to the police that two little girls, possessed of sweet voices, were going from one saloon to the other on Lackawanna avenue, and two men with them were pocketing the pennies and nickels collected, and were expending the same for liquor.

Robert H. Dettler, acting lieutenant, made an investigation and found the party coming out of the saloon on signs street. The men and the girls went down to Franklin avenue, to Lackawanna, and were lost to sight around the corner.

At the police station the children sided with their father and told Chief Robling that he does not force them to give up the money they make to spend it for drink.
