mmmmmm BISHOP NEWMAN ON THE FREE COINAGE FALLACY.

"In my opinion, this country is passing through a crisis almost, if not quite as grave as that which led up to the revolution and the rebellion. It is vime for patriots, not partisans, for heroes, not demagogues. In such a crisis the responsibility of the clergy is great and their duty is plain. The duty of every Christian minister is to preach the Ten Commandments, particularly the one which says, "Thou shalt not steal."

"For the present, we must go back from Christ to the Mosale law. No, I do not mean guite that, for Christ was the defender and expounder of the Mosaic law. Let me say, rather, that we should preach, over and over again, the Sermon on the Mount. Those who have nothing to risk would assail the rights of property. There is no more sacred right than the right to have, to hold, and enjoy the product of the brain or the muscle. The Ten Commandments surround property with the muniment of law, and as the rights of property are now threatened, let the voice of the pulpit, from ocean to ocean, proclaim to the Populists and Anarchists and Communists, 'Thou shalt not steal.'

"In the conferences committed to my charge there are something over 1,000 ministers. I shall call their attention to what I believe is the plain duty of the clergy and shall urge upon them the importance of using all the influence they possess, in the pulpit and out, against the danger which threatens our country, against the possible triumph of Bryan and Sewall and the election of a congress that is pledged to pass a free sliver coinage measure. The pulpit was a powerful agent in freeing the slaves. It can be made a powerful agent in reclaiming those of our people who have been led away from their notions of honor and honesty by the false prophets of a false doctrine. If such a stand on the part of the clergy causes dissension in the churches, let the dissension come. Better dissension in the churches for the sake of the right, than peace and quiet while dishonor triumphs and the sappers and miners of the national credit are enthroned in high places.

"The advocates of free coinage say that there is not enough money with which to do business, and that the passage of a free coinage measure will double the money in the country. Let us see if that is true. It must be admitted of course, that before we can have more silver dollars the silver ore must be mined and then the bullion must be coined into money. Now, the silver ore is controlled by the comparatively few men who own the mines. They will have the money. How are you and I to get it from them? Shall we sandbag them, or shall we rob their treasure houses, or how are we to get it? They will not give it to us for nothing. Then how will the circulating medium be increased? The silver can come from only one source, and that is controlled by a few persons. They will be benefitted and we shall have a new set of plutocrats, the basis of whose wealth is silver. But you and I won't be benefited.

"There are a great many idle men in this country today who are ready and willing to work, who are crying, 'give us, for God's sake, bread for ourselves and our families.' Many of these men believe that their condition will be bettered if a free colnage measure is passed. That might be true if the men who own the silver mines and who will have the silver dollars, in the event of a free coinage measure, would guarantee that they would spend their newly-acquired wealth in opening up new industries and in reopening old ones that have been shut down. But we have no assurance that such a disposition will be made of the money. In fact, we have no assurance of anything. All you can get from a silver man is '16 to 1,' and that is the alpha and omega of his argument.

"The advocates of free silver say that '16 to 1' is the poor man's hope. They do not explain how a laborer, who gets his wages in dollars that are worth only 53 cents, can be benefited when the price of the necessities of life will be just doubled in order that the merchants may live. And the farmer, too! How is he to be benefited? He is promised double the price for his wheat and his corn and his barley. Admit that. Then he will have to pay double what he pays-now for his seed, his clothing, his shoes, and whatever luxuries he enjoys. He will be, therefore, no better off than he is now

The Phonograph Will Be Introduced to Reproduce Campaign Speeches. Indications That the Madison Square Demonstration Will Be the Greatest on Record.

Bureau of the Tribune,

501 With Street, N. W., Washington, Aug. 7. President Cleveland has given the direct cut to Secretary Hoke Smith. Mr. Cleveland at the same time he requested Mr. Carlisle to visit him invited the other members of the cabinet, with the exception of Hoke Smith, to come to Gray Gables. The members of the cabinet will not visit the president in a body, however. If the present program is carried out Mr.Carlisle will return here with Mr. Clevelands letter, and as a matter of cabinet courtesy will show it to the other members of the official household for their endorsement. It is understood here that Mr. Cleveland will further show his disapprobation of his secretary of the inter on by ignoring him in regards to the entire course which the administration will pursue toward the ticket. If Mr. Smith is anxious to leave the cabinet every opportunity will be given him to do so, but the president will not make any special request for his resignation.

The fight between the Democrats and | But the Women Shoppers Could Not he southern Populists is now well developed. The Democratic managers have no idea of letting Bryan accept the St. Louis nomination, and their present plan is to freeze Watson out. But Watson has no idea of getting off the track The readiness with which he accepted Jones' interview, wherein the senator is made to speak contemptuously of the southern Populsts, indicates very clearly Watson's eagernes to fall out with Bryan. There has never been a time when Watson was willing to countenance fusion save by the withdrawal of Sewall. His influence in Georgia is great, but it is practcally imited to that state, as was shown by the Alabama election on the 3rd, inst.

opportunity which presents itself to make an open fight on the ticket. He has practically been forsaken in his by the western Populists Senator Jones will try to effect fusion in other southern states before a reply to the St. Louis nomination can be forced from Bryan. No one familiar with the inside situation at all believes that Mr.

Bryan will take any position which would amount to the abandonment of Mr. Sewall, or in any way embarass him. There is no possibility of his run-ning on a ticket with Watson without compromising Sewall and therefore the ordinary ethics of the case make it impossible for him to accept the nomina ion with Watson.

The phonograph is destined to play an important part in this campaign. A suggestion has been made to Senator Jones, chairman of the Democratic national committee that he consider the matter of buying or renting graphophones and putting them to work for the Democratic ticket. Such a suggestion has, in part, already been acted upon by the Republicans, and it remains to be seen what Chairman Jones will do. If he does not care to make the na-five people. The sections immediately joining the speaker's stand will be reserved for the national committee and distinguished guests. In front of the stand on the floor of the garden three hundred press seats with tables will be placed. The railing will divide the press from the twenty-five hundred seats to be placed on the floor. The 2,000 seats will take up one-half of the floor space. The remainder will be for the crowd that have no reserved seats. By placing the speaker's stand where it is and by protecting the press by a stout railing it is hoped to prevent the scenes of the Cleveland notification meeting when the crowd tried to reach the platform and were prevented only by the action of the police.

Senator Faulkner, chairman of the Democratic congressional committee is still putting out interviews to the effect that this campaign is narrowing down to a fight between the masses and the classes. While ostensibly deploring the fact, in reality he is pointing out this danger in order that the fight might assume this aspect. Faulkner lays the blame of the situation at the doors of the Republicans. He accuses the Republican managers of consorting with the champions of aggregated wealth. It is a pity that such a man as Faulkner should descend to such a low trick to prejudice the poor against property holders. In his country where labor and capital are so closely united, it is impossible to draw the line of battle upon his plan however much Senator

Faulkner may try to do so. W. R. B.

They had been shopping. There was no room for doubt on that score, and bundles of all sizes and shapes encumbered their laps and two or three seats in their vicinity in the New Haven Wailroad waiting room, at the Grand Central station.

I had, fortunately secured my resting place to wait for a train before the women entered. They flounced into seats directly behind me as they dumped their bundles down, and almost simultaneously remarked, "Oh, My, but The young Georgian will take the first I'm tired.'

"And while we are adjusting ourselves to the new conditions, if we ever can adjust ourselves to them, there will be panic and business failures and financial ruin. What is the farmer and the laborer going to do during that period? Sober thought will convince both, I believe, that honesty is the best policy, and to the inspired command of Moses, ringing up the centuries, I believe the answer will go back. 'I will not steal.'

"If I am entitled to speak for anyone at all, it is for Protestant Christians. The cross, among Protestants, is regarded as the symbol of atonement. Among Catholics, however, the cross is revered with a love that is deep and, in some cases, almost sublime. In the convention that nominated Bryan at Chicago, and in the convention that indersed him at St. Louis, his friends and supporters, in their ecstacy of delight, raised aloft a wooden cross, painted yellow, and surmounted with a crown of thorns, and marched around the convention halls, hurling cries of derision at that, the symbol of our Savior's death, and the symbol which is the Catholic's hope and to which his eyes turn in love and adoration. How a Catholic can support a man who countenances scotting at the cross, I can't understand, and I don't believe they will."

What we want is a sound policy, finan-cial and industrial, which will give courage and confidence to all, for when that is done the money now employed because of fear for the future and lack of confidence in investment, will quickly appear in the channels of trade.

Gentlemen, the employment of the idle money we already have in gainful pursuits will put every idle man in the country at work, and when there is work there wages, and when there are work and wages there are consumers who constitute the best market for the products of our

The money of the United States, and every kind and form of it, whether of pa-per, silver or gold, must be as good as the best in the world. It must not only be current at its full face value at home, but it must be counted at par in any and every commercial center of the globe.

Recent events have imposed upon the patriotic people of this country a respon-sibility and a duty greater than any since the civil war. AMERICAN BUSINESS.

The American Economist. There has been a remarkable change in the volume of busines transacted throughout the United States since 1890, change that seems almost incredible. But it shows conclusively the disastrous effect of a Democratic administration and policy of free trade. Taking our bank clearings during the first half of each year, they show the following business re BANK CLEARINGS OF THE U. S.

First six months of

......$92,223,301,447 1890 894 ..... 22,149,846,234 1895 ..... 25,257,823,047 Since 1890 the bank clearings have decreased at the rate of thirteen and a half billion dollars a year, meaning an approximate loss of business of a billion dellar

a month. The gain of the first half of this year, over 1895, is comparative ? trifing-only $25,000,000 a month. Comparing the three periods 1820. 792, under a Republican administration, with the corresponding three periols, 1894-1896

under a Democratic administration, the contrast is very forcible. Thus: BANK CLEARINGS. First Total, Half-yearly

Democratic loss.$17,510,932,978 $5,830,977,659

Doubling these figures, so as to get the full year's business, the total bank clearings during three Democratic years were approximately Thirty-five Billons of Dollars less than under the three years of Republican adminstration. The bank clearings are always regarded as afford-ing an approximate idea of the volume of business that is transacted throughout the country. It is not necessary to com-ment upon them. They must appeal to every wage earner and every man of busi-tional committee, the official managers of such a unique campaign other persons may put the idea into operation. It is said that the Republicans have put the phonograph to work in larger cities, supplying campaign songs for the amusement and edification of enthusiastic Republicans. The suggestion to Chairman Jones, however, is of a difdifferent nature. It is that himself, Candate Bryan and other noted silver speakers make ten or fifteen minute peeches for enrollment on the cylinders of the graphophones. These will be taken and put in machines which will be sent all over the country. They will prove double attractions, and, it is believed, would draw large crowds. The proposition which is regarded as the most feasible and which will probably be made use of is that the committee shall get Mr Bryan to deliver his now noted Chicago speech into a number of phonographs and that wherever he is invited and cannot attend that the phonograph be sent in his place.

The indications are that the Madison Square notification meeting next Wednesday night will be the largest demonstration ever held in New York. The Cleveland meeting eight years ago was a great outpouring, but the Bryan affair promises to be much larger. Great crowds are going over from here and
