NEW PLUMBING CODE IS NOW COMPLETE

Full Text of the Provisions Adopted by the Commission.

IT GOES TO THE MAYOR TODAY

All Unsanitary or Unworkmanlike Plumbing Will Soon Be Things of the Past in This City—Many Innovations Introduced Which Must Necessarily Inure to the General Healthfulness of the City.

Master Plumber M. T. Howley, Architect F. L. Brown, Building Inspector John Nelson and Health Officer W. E. Allen, the commission appointed by the board of health to draft a code of rules for the regulation of plumbing and drainage work, have completed their task, the code has been approved by the board and it will to-day probably be presented to Mayor Bailey for his approval.

Master Plumber M. T. Howley, Architect F. L. Brown, Building Inspector John Nelson and Health Officer W. E. Allen, the commission appointed by the board of health to draft a code of rules for the regulation of plumbing and drainage work, have completed their task, the code has been approved by the board and it will to-day probably be presented to Mayor Bailey for his approval.

PLANS MUST BE FILED. Regarding inspection the code provides that the architect, owner or agent of the property shall file with the board of health suitable plans of all plumbing and drainage work, whether reconstruction, construction, alteration or repair, which plans shall be drawn to a scale and show clearly the location of every pipe, fixture and trap, and also the ventilation of rooms in which plumbing fixtures are to be placed.

WORK WILL BE TESTED. Plumbing work will be tested by the plumber in the presence of an inspector, first by the water test and finally by the improved smoke-testing device or peppermint test. Under the new code materials and workmanship following provisions are found: All materials used in the work of plumbing and drainage must be of good quality and free from defects.

ABOUT LAYING PIPES. Sewer pipes in yards may be of the best quality vitrified pipe with cement joints, in no case laid nearer than four feet to any exterior wall of a building, nor in bad or made ground, and when within four feet of any exterior of a building shall be of iron. All such pipe must be not less than three feet below the surface of the ground.

When rain-water conductors are connected with a house drain or sewer, they shall be connected on the house side of main intercepting and in every case when a leader or conductor opens near a window or light-shaft, they shall be properly trapped as near the house drain as practicable. Rain water pipes shall not be used as soil, waste or vent pipes, nor shall soil, waste or vent pipes be used as rain-water pipes.

vent pipes shall be of extra heavy cast iron or heavy wrought iron or steel pipe. Wrought iron pipe shall be asphalted, galvanized or otherwise made rustless. Lead waste pipes shall be allowed only in short lengths, and not less than the following weights per foot. One inch pipe, 2 pounds, one and one-fourth inch pipe, 2 pounds, 3 ounces; one and one-half inch pipe, 3 pounds, 8 ounces; two inch pipe, four pounds.

Each and every trap shall be ventilated by an airpipe running from the crown of the trap, extending above the roof. Each line of vent pipe shall be connected at the bottom with the adjacent waste, soil or sewer pipe. The branch of vent pipe must be set above the overflow point of the fixture so that the vent cannot act as a waste pipe in case of stoppage.

SIZE OF VENT PIPES. The size of vent pipe except for water closet traps shall not be less than that of the trap which it serves. A pipe not exceeding twenty-five feet in length, which ventilates the traps of two water closets, shall be two inches in diameter. If it ventilates more than two closets it shall have a diameter of three inches.

SOME OF THE REQUIREMENTS. Traps and branch waste pipes shall not be less than the following sizes: Basin and pantry sinks 1 1/2 inches; slop sinks 2 inches; kitchen sinks 1 1/2 inches; bath tubs, 1 1/2 inches; urinals, 1 1/2 inches; one laundry tub 1 1/2 inches; set of tubs, 2 inches; water closets, 4 inches.

China Cream Jugs, 10c; Manicure Trays, 25c; Odd Fine Plates, 50c; Covered Mustards, 10c; Cut Glass Salts and Peppers, Silver-Plated Tops, for 15c.

LIQUOR DEALERS MEAN BUSINESS

Will Declare a Boycott on Brewers Who Fail to Comply with Request.

MUST NOT SELL TO SPEAK-EASIES

The Brewer is Guilty of That Offense, Hereafter He Can Expect No Quarters from the Liquor League

Next Saturday morning the papers may possibly be called upon to announce a boycott on one or more of the local breweries. The retail dealers, according to the statement of one of the leading members of the Protective League, are determined upon taking final action at next Friday night's meeting, and in his opinion nothing can restrain them from declaring a boycott on any brewer who refuses by that time to comply with their demand that the supplies be cut off from unlicensed places.

The present movement is a county affair and as it would undoubtedly be an extremely costly experiment to stand out against the league in these days of red-hot competition, it is not likely that the meeting next Friday will be called upon to order a boycott, but such a thing lies outside the possibilities.

Thus a supply was assured in case the local brewers banded together to fight the league. This is hardly necessary now that one of these local brewers has acceded to the league's demands, but the foreign brewers will nevertheless be held to their agreement as an extra fortification.

Economical Buyers. Always watch for our annual "odd ware" sale. They know what it means—that it means useful, desirable crockery and glassware of almost every kind at half of regular prices.
