A NEW JAIL.

Van Dorn Iron Works, of Cleveland, the Successful Bidders.

This city will soon be provided with a new jail of the most improved pat-tern, the contract for the work having been awarded to the Van Dorn iron works, of Cleveland, Ohio,

There were several bidders, but their price was far beyond that of the successful contractors. They were as follows: Hunt & Connell, Scranton, $1,-434; E. T. Barnum, Detroit, $1,338; Van Dorn Iron works, $817.

The plans and specifications of the work were drawn up by the Van Dorn company and the representatives of the other companies hinted that they required certain fixtures upon which Van Dorn held the fixtures and that thus all other competitors were shut out. The Van Dorn agent, however, denies this, and says that the only patent held by them was on the square bar work and that has run out.

The new jail will be of concrete and steel and the contract requires the work to be done in sixty days. In the south side will be the compartment for females, which will have steel doors and observation panels. Across the corridor will be the six steel cages for the men. They will have grated tops and doors, while the back and sides are solid. Each case will contain a water closet and be equipped with the most sanitary plumbing.

BADLY BITTEN.

A Vicious Dog Tears a Little Boy's Face.

A ferocious attack was made upon Willie, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry McLaughlin, of Brooklyn street. by a neighbor's dog and before the animal could be pulled off the lad's face had been torn in a horrible manner.

The boy has always been on good terms with the dog and often played with it for hours, so that the attack cannot be explained. At the time the little fellow was going into the owner's house when the animal jumped upon him and knocked him down. His screams soon brough help and the dog was finally pulled off. The face of the boy presented a horrible appearance. It was torn and scratched and there was a large cut under the ear. The victors animal has since been shot,

FOREST CITY.

The police of Forest City are evidently intending to wage a war of extermina-tion against our noble canines. Officers Holden, Bates and Wescott were noticed traversing the streets this morning with lasso in hand and "blood in eye." One of the first canines to chance their way was an innocent but, as he proved to be, wily pug. After considerable flirtation the intended victim retreated to the shades of one of our gutter bridges. Officer Bates signalled for help and Officer Wescott made quick response. The chances were ten to one against the pug. but, crafty brute that he was, he lunged forward right through the waiting snare and, wiser than Lot's wife, never looked back until, at least, the catchers were beyond his vision. By this time our chief wore a determined visage and spying another member of the same numerous family coming from North Main street at a rapid rate toward the Bennett house the officer stationed himself and snare in the middle of the street and waited. The dog came; the dog was caught; but upon examination, alas! he was found to be muzzled. Monday afternoon at Midway Grove. Mrs. Jennie V. Dinsmore addressed the W. C. T. U. Monday evening the meetings were brought to a close by a concert in the Methodist Episcopal church, given by "the Beveridges." Admission, 10 cents. Attendance large. The "Gospel meetings" may be said to have been a success, Much interest has been manifested and the addresses were able and instructive. The Republicans of Forest City should endeavor to secure ex-Speaker Galusha A. Grow to address them on the issue of the day. There is perhaps no states-man of the present who understands better than he the cause of our industrial ills. W. A. May, of Scranton, was in town esterday on official business. Miss Mary Smith, of Scranton, has seen the recent guest of V. L. Petersen Rev. Mr. Wilbur, pastor of the Baptist church in Jackson, was in attendance at the gospel meetings Monday. Frank Cunningham, our efficient and popular postmaster, has returned from Atlantic City looking much refreshed by the ocean breezes. Rev. G. B. Stone, the energetic pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, is still at the seaside recuperating.

MONTROSE.

Monday opened quarter sessions court and the usual augmentation to the own's population. Among the legal men from abroad who are in attendance at court are: E. R. W. Searle, J. D. Miller and R. J. Manning, Susquehanna: S. L. Tiffany, Lathrop, and H. O. Watrous, Carbondale. The number of criminal cases for trial is exceedingly large. Marshal Barney, who was recently in-jured near New Milford by falling from his bleycle, is rapidly improving. Two successful balloon ascensions were accomplished on Saturday by Mr
