WILL VISIT FRIENDS AT RED HOOK

After a Season of Repose Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Will Swing Around the Circle and Turn Their Faces Toward the Setting Sun--Their Photographs Have Been Taken.

New York, Aug. 14.—It was not until one o'clock this afternoon that William J. Bryan was able to announce definitely his plans for the next few weeks. The decision arrived at last night that he should take a rest at some quiet resort to recuperate from the effects of the severe strain imposed by his tour from Lincoln to New York and to give him the opportunity to write his formal letter of acceptance, set Mr. and Mrs. Bryan to thinking about a suitable place and it was finally decided to accept an invitation tendered some time ago to visit Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Perrine at their home, Upper Red Hook, in Dutchess county, New York. A telegram was sent Mr. and Mrs. Perrine and when the answer was received this afternoon saying that the visit would be agreeable at this time, Mr. Bryan announced his programme. Mrs. Perrine was a teacher at the Female academy in Jacksonville, Ill., while Mrs. Bryan was a pupil there. Mr. Bryan also knows her well, as he was a student at the same time at Jacksonville college.

Standing in the vestibule of William P. St. John's residence, No. 125 West Thirty-fourth street, Mr. Bryan told a group of newspaper men what his plans were. He said that he, Mrs. Bryan and Mr. Sewall would leave New York over the New York Central some time tomorrow forenoon, probably at 10.45, for Irvington-on-the-Hudson, to stop over Sunday with John Brislin Walker, editor of the Cosmopolitan, and an old friend. Mr. Sewall will return to Maine from Irvington, while Mr. and Mrs. Bryan will proceed on Monday to Upper Red Hook. They expect to be with the Perrines a week or ten days and on the conclusion of the visit they will start west.

WILL GET OFF AT BUFFALO.

Mr. Bryan said he expected to stop at several places on his western journey among them Buffalo, Erie and Cleveland. He was not prepared to give the dates, but it is known that he will be in Buffalo August 27 and in Erie on the 29th. At the latter place he will address the convention of Democratic clubs of Pennsylvania. He will reach Lincoln about September 1 and probably receive the nomination committee of the national silver party at that time. Beyond the information contained in this statement Mr. Bryan had nothing to say. With reference to his physical condition he told a United Associated Press reporter with a smile that while he felt that he had not reached the end of his physical strength and power, he felt it was necessary to have as much rest and quiet as possible while engaged in the composition of his letter of acceptance. Mr. Bryan will not make any speeches, according to present intentions, on his trip to Upper Red Hook. He said his speaking programme had not been arranged, but that he might speak again before the election. Mr. Bryan's voice is still husky, but he looks well and strong.

The decision to proceed west immediately after the visit to Upper Red Hook is understood to mean an entire abandonment of the contemplated visit to Mr. Sewall at Bath, Maine. Whether Mr. Bryan will visit New England during the campaign is doubtful, but it is said that his personal inclinations are toward a New England campaign and he may go there when he comes to New York again.

This afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Bryan went to Prince's photograph gallery, Broadway and Sixteenth street, and had more photographs of themselves taken. Afterwards they took a drive about town with Mr. St. John and Mr. Sewall. Among the callers to-day were Senator Stewart of Nevada, Congressman H. C. Sulzer and ex-Governor Holden.

Senator Jones, chairman of the Democratic national committee, said to-night that he would not announce the different committees until after he reaches Washington. He will arrive in that city tomorrow morning. Late this afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Bryan, with Mr. Sewall and Mr. St. John, drove to Coney Island.

GOV. HASTINGS WILL SPEAK.

Will Talk for McKinley and Sound Money.

Chicago, Aug. 14.—Mr. Hanna will leave for Cleveland tomorrow night and spend a couple of days at home before proceeding to New York headquarters. He will return west in time to attend the national convention of the Republican league at Milwaukee August 25-27.

Governor Hastings, of Pennsylvania, has been assigned to speak at a campaign rally at Toxola, Sept. 1. A. C. Rankin, a prominent union moulder from Pittsburg, has been engaged to make labor speeches for McKinley and protection, and will begin his tour in Racine, Wis., spending two weeks in that state from Aug. 17.

COLLISION ON THE PENNSY.

Passengers Are Thrown from Seats and Trainsmen Are Injured.

Jersey City, Aug. 14.—A collision which wrecked two locomotives, a passenger and a dining car occurred this afternoon on the Pennsylvania railroad elevated tracks at Henderson street and Railroad avenue. A New York, Susquehanna and Western railroad train from Paterson due at Jersey City at 12.50 o'clock crashed into a Pennsylvania Railroad locomotive, No. 965, which was going backwards and drawing an empty Chesapeake and Ohio train to the Weide avenue yards. The two locomotives met at a switch and collided with terrific force.

The passengers on the Susquehanna train were thrown from their seats. Conductor John Baxter narrowly escaped being crushed to death. The Sus-

GENERAL SHELBY'S OPEN LETTER

Criticizes His Friend Crittenden for Forsaking "Sound Money."

WILL VOTE FOR MAJOR MCKINLEY

The Chicago Convention a Conglomeration of All Parties with Populism and Anarchy in the Ascendant--The Platform Is Populist Sugar-Coated--Its Candidate a Dangerous Rhetorician.

Washington, Aug. 14.—A copy of an open letter from General J. O. Shelby, Cleveland's marshal for the district of Missouri, and the personal friend of Senators Vest and Cockran, to ex-Governor Crittenden, now counsel general to Mexico, in which the general criticizes his friend for forsaking "sound money" for the cause of silver, and declaring that he (Shelby) must vote for McKinley and "sound money" has reached the Republican committee and it will be given a wide distribution. The friendliest tone prevails the letter, but the general expresses his astonishment at the sudden "flip" of his old friend, and his "surprise that you have, with hasty hand chained yourself to the triumphal chariot of three governors, Altveld, Stone and Tillman, a turbulent trinity of strong political petrels whose piping notes have always preceded storms and shipwreck to the Democratic party."

Referring to the convention, General Shelby says that the Chicago convention was not Democratic. That it was a conglomeration of all parties, anarchism and Populism being in the ascendency. Democracy is rock-ribbed and stands upon principle and cannot be swept from its feet by mixed metaphors and graceful periods. Democrats are not a Roman rabble to be swayed from duty by a Nebraska Mark Anthony.

After praising the platform at some length, General Shelby said: "I see the way clearly and shall follow the path of Democracy as laid out by the fathers of the republic. Is there one line in the practical declarations of the Chicago platform that was ever there before? Of the practical living issues now present, there is as marked an absence of true Democratic doctrine in the Chicago platform as there is of vital piety in one of Colonel Ingersoll's addresses. You must go to Ocala and Omaha to find the progenitors of the vital issues presented at Chicago. Repudiation of public and private faith and social disorder will be the twin offspring of the unholy alliance between the Populists and the Democrats, whose bans were published at Chicago and whose marriage tie was consummated at St. Louis last month. The alien blood imported from Omaha will taint the Democracy and make the issue spurious."

Calling General Crittenden's attention to the position he assumed at the outbreak of the war when he (Shelby) and others besought him to join the Confederates, General Shelby concludes as follows:

"I will abandon friends, party and kindred rather than yield even implied consent to such a base assortment of political heresies. A good patient will not take a quack's medicine. If he does he dies, and if the party swallows the Chicago prescription its days are numbered. Its death certain. The Chicago platform is Populist sugar-coated. Its candidate is a rising demagogue, a dangerous rhetorician, who for a momentary applause, would light a torch and apply it to the very citadel of American liberty. There should be but two candidates, and we who believe in sustaining law, order and sound currency, should vote for McKinley. Those who favor free and unlimited coinage of silver, disorder, mischief and ultimate ruin, should support Bryan and take their choice between Sewall and Walton."

COCKRAN CHALLENGES BRYAN.

Desires to Meet the Candidate in an Open Debate.

New York, Aug. 14.—It was stated at the headquarters of the Democratic Honest Money League of America to-day that he Hon. W. Bourke Cockran had expressed a desire to meet the Democratic presidential candidate, William J. Bryan in a debate on the silver question at any time and place the latter wished.

Mr. Cockran will be the chief speaker at the meeting arranged by the Democratic Honest Money League of America to take place at Madison Square Garden on Tuesday next. There was not much doing at Republican national headquarters this morning. The Hon. Joseph Manly has sent to General Powell Clayton a list of speakers and assignments.

Among the speakers is the Hon. Howard Sewall, of Bath, whose assignments are especially notable for the reason that he is the son of Hon. Arthur Sewall, the Democratic candidate for vice-president. Mr. Sewall is booked for ten speeches. The list of orators comprises many distinguished men.

SOMETHING IN THE WIND.

Buzzard's Bay Has Again Been Discussed on the Maps.

Buzzard's Bay, Mass., Aug. 14.—The President had two of his cabinet officers at Gray Gables this morning. Secretary Carlisle came over from Marion. An early train brought Secretary of War Lamont and Dr. Bryant. Secretary Olney, however, was not present, and is not expected to-day. That the two of the cabinet should arrive at Gray Gables at the same time gave rise to the supposition that the President had summoned them here, but inquiry at the Gables fails to confirm this.

THE QUEEN'S SPEECH AT PARLIAMENT

Her Majesty's Address Proroguing the Body Until October 31.

TURKEY CAUSED MUCH ANXIETY

The Queen Also Regrets the Cruel Murders That Have Characterized the Rebellion in Matabeland. House Commended for Providing Defences, Etc.

London, Aug. 14.—The Queen's speech proroguing Parliament was delivered to the House of Commons at 6.10 this afternoon. The speech says: "My relations with the powers continue to be friendly. The hostile movements of the Dervishes in the valley of the Nile against the position occupied by Italy east of that river convinced me that it was necessary for Egypt to take steps toward arresting their advance. By my advice and sanction an expedition has undertaken to restore to the government of the Khedive as far as Dongola, the territory which was lost a decade ago. The operations of the expedition are proceeding, and by the brilliant action at Firket a large proportion of the territory has already been recovered."

The condition of portions of Turkey continues to cause anxiety and at present Crete is the principal centre of the disturbance. I have observed strict neutrality, but in conjunction with the powers I endeavored to reconcile the contestants by proposing a system of government which should be equitable and equally acceptable to Christians and Mussulmans. I regret the serious rebellion, signalized with cruel murders, has broken out in Matabeland, the rising having extended into Mashonaland. The work of defense and repression has been undertaken, the settlers displaying great courage. They have since been reinforced by imperial and "disposals."

The speech refers to the Matabeland country and expresses hope that the rebels will shortly accept the clemency which has been offered to them.

THE INDIAN FRONTIER.

Referring to the matter of the delimitation of the Indian frontier the speech says that the engagements between the Shah of Persia and the Amir of Afghanistan upon the subject are friendly to the Chitral. Relief garrisons sent to Chitral have received the co-operation of the tribesmen. Her majesty expresses her thanks to the house of commons for their provisions and services for the year and concludes by saying that she has given her consent with pleasure to the measures for naval defenses, for lessening the agricultural taxes, for the protection of the cattle from "disposals," and measures for various other purposes, including the Irish land bill. In bidding farewell to the members of the house her majesty prays they may receive the blessings of Providence and rest from their labors. Parliament was formerly prorogued to October 31.

Case Gets a Plum.

Harrisburg, Aug. 14.—Marshall L. Case, of Lebanon, has been appointed to a position in the executive department.

Herald's Weather Forecast.

New York, Aug. 15.—In the middle states, today, fair and slightly warmer; weather and light easterly and southerly winds will prevail, preceded possibly by rain on the coasts of New England in the morning. On Sunday, fair to partly cloudy, warmer weather will prevail with light and fresh southerly and southwesterly winds and probably local thunder storms on the coast.
