

BILLY BRYAN SAILS ON THE HUDSON

The First Experience of the Boy Orator on America's Rhine.

MAKES REMARKS AT POUGHKEEPSIE

Will Make No More Speeches While on His Vacation, but May Possibly Talk on the Issues of the Day When Pressed by Fellow Citizens—Mr. Sewall Returns to Maine.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Aug. 17.—Mr. and Mrs. William J. Bryan took a train from Irvington this morning for Yonkers where they boarded the steamer Albany on their trip up the Hudson. Yonkers shelled a hearty farewell as the steamer left her wharf. The wharf was crowded with the people who gave three cheers for the nominee and three more for his wife and yelled again as the Albany cast off her lines. Several hundred persons were on the boat and nearly all of these pressed around Mr. and Mrs. Bryan with hands outstretched when the boat had started up the stream. A state room was placed at the disposal of the candidate and his wife by the steambath officials and in this Mr. and Mrs. Bryan received a number of passengers. It was their first experience on the Hudson and they were delighted with their trip. The weather was perfect and everything tended to make the short voyage delightful.

At Newburgh the dock was crowded with people anxious to get a glimpse of Mr. Bryan. When the boat arrived Mr. Bryan was at dinner, but in response to calls from the crowd he came out on deck and bowed to the throng. It was 1.20 when the Albany reached Poughkeepsie. Fully four hundred people were gathered on the wharf and a cheer was given as Mr. Bryan walked over the gang plank. The crowd followed him the two blocks he and Mrs. Bryan walked to the Central station where Mr. Bryan was met by a throng in the waiting room and finally forced out on a truck. Here he made a little speech, the first since his appearance at Madison Square Garden. Mr. Bryan said:

"I am coming up here into this section of the state for a rest and therefore am not going to make speeches. I do not expect to be able to see you again and I take this opportunity of thanking you for the interest you are taking in the campaign. I have read some of the New York papers and it would seem that there is no silver sentiment in New York, but the great daily papers are not able to suppress the sentiment of the masses of the people. (Cheers.) I believe that this campaign will be characterized by more intense feeling than we have ever known. The men have been engaged. In this campaign the people are thinking and when they decide they act. (Applause.)

The so-called financiers believe that they have the right to use the ballot to protect their interests. Why have not the rest of the people the right to use the ballot to protect their interests? Here Mr. Bryan paused, but in response to "more," "more," he asked how many of you have been studying the silver question. Hold up your hands. A number of hands were raised. "Now, I will ask each of you to consider this question."

A voice interrupting: "How are you for the working classes?" Mr. Bryan: "You take what I have said and what I have done and let the thinking people decide." (Applause.) "It is not for a candidate to tell you how to vote," said Mr. Bryan, "but I have too much respect for the rights of individuals to attempt to tell anyone how to vote. I can simply defend the policies for which I stand and let the people choose between my opponent and myself. I do desire to urge you to find out what your duty is and then have the courage to do it." (Applause.)

Mr. Bryan held a short reception and took the New York Central train for Tarrytown at 1.50 p. m. The ride from Poughkeepsie to Tarrytown was short and was made in an ordinary day coach. At Tarrytown, reached at 2.30, Mr. and Mrs. Bryan were met by Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Perrine and after some of the two score of people at the little station had shaken hands with them they were driven off by the Perrines to their home at Upper Red Hook, six miles distant. Mr. Sewall returned to New York from Yonkers and will return to his home in Maine.

TWINS PREVENT A FAMILY JAR.

Political Differences of the Parents Happily Bridged Over.

La Grange, Ind., Aug. 17.—A letter received here says two bits of humanity, supposed to be the smallest boys ever born to American parents, have been christened William McKinley Milkegan and William Jennings Bryan Milkegan by their parents. The midwifery was born across the Indiana line in Berrien county, Michigan, and each weighs thirty-four ounces. They are cradled in a doll cab. The father is a Republican and the mother a Democrat, and to harmonize differences the names of the two leading candidates for the presidency were adopted, and both have been baptized by mail of the honor paid them.

SERIOUS RIOTING IN BELFAST

Public Demonstration of the Nationalists Causes the Trouble.

STONES THROWN AT THE PARADERS

The Insult Is Resented and Fierce Battle Follows—The Police Charge Upon the Combatants and Several Broken Heads Result.

Belfast, Aug. 17.—A large Nationalist demonstration in favor of granting amnesty to all Irish political prisoners took place here today and was the cause of serious rioting. An immense procession of Nationalists marched through the streets of the city and proceeded to Hanninstown, a suburb of Belfast headed by bands of music and displaying numerous banners bearing inscriptions indicating the purpose of the movement. The streets were lined with spectators who hooted, groaned and jeered the processionists and finally threw a few stones at the paraders. Some of the paraders were armed with spears and these men made an attack upon their tormentors despite the efforts of the police who were out in full force to prevent them. A fierce fight ensued and the police made several charges with their batons upon the combatants as the result of which there were a great number of broken heads. A dozen or more of the rioters on both sides were taken to the hospital after order was restored. All of this occurred before noon. Later the city estimates held a meeting and ordered that the troops be readied to put down the disturbances which it was feared would occur when the paraders returned from Hanninstown in the evening. Every preparation was accordingly made to help the police and any attempt at rioting and for a time the general order of the city was maintained. The morning was confined was quiet although the streets were alive with excited people.

The procession returned to Belfast in the evening when it was soon seen that the misgivings of the authorities were not unfounded. As the procession approached the city the disturbance broke out. A number of opposition mobs had gathered along the intended route of the procession on its return with the object of making an attack upon the paraders and to prevent rioting of the most active character. The police were ordered to fire and had been laid out for the return march of the procession and turned the parade off into another direction. In the meantime a heavy rain began falling but this had not the slightest effect in diminishing the size of the crowds which thronged the streets nor in allaying the excitement of the people.

DOVER COURT SUSTAINED.

The Single Tax Prisoners Must Remain in Jail.

Wilmington, Del., Aug. 17.—Judge Wales in the United States court this morning gave a decision in the case of the single tax speakers in Dover jail. He decided that the Dover justice of the peace had authority to try and to remand James J. Haggerty the appellant, to jail for violating town ordinance by speaking on the street. The decision applies to all the other single tax prisoners in jail. Judge Wales gave a carefully prepared decision of about three thousand words. The salient point in Judge Wales' decision follows: "When the law is assailed on the ground of unconstitutionality, the objection must be made so clear that the court cannot hesitate however reluctant to take the responsibility to declare it void, but if it be all doubtful and uncertain whether the statute, when fairly construed and executed, comes within the constitutional inhibition, no court or judge should attempt to strike it down by the use of the word 'unconstitutional.'"
