CITY NOTES.

Max Koehler was discharged from the county jail yesterday as an insolvent.
 The Pine Brook Colliery Accident fund will run its annual excursion to Lake Ariel today.
 Edward D. Shea and Marcelle Hannon, of Connetquot, were arrested a few days ago by Clerk of the Courts Thomas yesterday.
 John Subtick was fined $10 and John Rotash $5 yesterday by Alderman Howe. They were arrested for drunkenness and carrying concealed weapons.
 Samuel Pelly was arrested yesterday at the instance of Street Commissioner Kinsley for hauling garbage in open barrels. He was taken before Alderman Howe, who discharged him on payment of the costs.
 County Superintendent Taylor now has his office in the office of Register of Wills Hopkins. The rebuilding of the court house has compelled Mr. Taylor to vacate his own office on the second floor of the building.
 George Wright stole a watch from the rack in Wright's jewelry store on Lackawanna avenue last evening and was arrested by Patrolman Goeritz. He will be given a hearing before Alderman Howe this morning.
 Three tramps, arrested by Patrolmen Jay and Karlin Thursday night at the Jersey Central switch near Emmet street, were sentenced to yesterday's police court to ten days in jail. They gave their names as Patrick Meyer, Alexander Scott and L. W. Sweetney.
 On the charge of having abused his wife and family, Shadrach Pritchard, who was arrested at his home on New York street by Sergeant Deiter and Patrolmen Saltry and Jolter early yesterday morning, was sent to the county jail for thirty days by Alderman Howe.
 A horse owned by James Van Horn, a Wyoming huckster, was killed at the Lackawanna depot by the Lackawanna, Lackawanna and Western company on Thursday by being struck by a train. Van Horn was thrown from his wagon and painfully bruised.
 Mr. and Mrs. David J. Davis yesterday filed their report asking the court to allow them to adopt Lizzie Hughes, minor child of Daniel M. Hughes. The father has given his consent to the proposed adoption. Judge Edwards fixed Sept. 14 as the time for hearing the petition.
 The effects of F. C. Hazzard, a butcher of Dickson avenue were sold yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Price to George T. Bardick and others for $25. Later in the day Schwarzscheld & Sulzberger Beef company secured a writ of replevin to obtain possession of the effects sold as Hazzard's. The company claims them.
 The will of Thomas Venson, of Archbald, was admitted to probate yesterday by Register of Wills Hopkins and letters testamentary were granted to Thomas J. Gilday, Justice of the peace of Archbald. The will of Leah Showmaker, late of Taylor, was admitted to probate and letters testamentary granted to Peter Sutton.
 The following made an inspection trip Thursday over the new electric road between Dunmore and Olyphant: P. S. Cane, Joseph Page, Dr. B. H. Throp, L. A. Watres, Lemuel Amerman, Contractor Hodge, of New York, who built the road, and Messrs. Hillman and Fox, of the Scranton Traction company.
 W. J. Walker, of the West Side, on Thursday withdrew the charge made by him against William Saunders before Alderman Howe. In his information Mr. Walker accused Mr. Saunders of striking him with a shovel. This Saunders alleges is not true. He maintains that Walker struck the first blow. At all events the charge has been withdrawn and Mr. Walker has paid the costs.
 A Washburn street car collided with Saunders' express wagon in front of McGarragh & Thomas' drug store on Lackawanna avenue last evening at 7 o'clock and threw the driver, John Cobb, from his seat to the pavement, injuring him severely about the back and hips. Dr. Keller attended him, and found that no bones were broken and that his bruises were fortunately not serious. He was able to walk home.

DESERTED ALL FOR AN ERRAND BOY
 Queer Infatuation of a Handsome Binghamton Woman.

THE CLIMAX CAME IN THIS CITY
 The Boy, Who Grew Up to Be a Motorman, Arrested Last Night at the Instance of the Wrong Husband—Erasing Wife Is Educated, Refused, of a Good Family and Is an Heiress.

The climax of a sensational Binghamton case was enacted in Alderman Howe's office last night. It was there that Miller, an influential citizen of the Parlor club had E. L. Downes, a young Traction company motorman arrested for alienating the affections of his wife. The story is one of the most remarkable of its kind that has come to light in this city. Miller is a man about 35 years of age, a member of one of the leading families of Binghamton, and holding a remunerative position as superintendent of the big clear factories of that place. His wife is an unusually handsome woman, it might be said beautiful, well educated and to all outward appearances a woman of exceptional social refinement. She is 30 years of age but looks several years younger. She has been married ten years and is the mother of two children. She is also the prospective heir of a very handsome estate owned by her grandmother.

The man of whom she is the prospective heir, for he is only 21, for whom she sacrifices her comfortable home, attentive husband, two bright children and possibly her prospective fortune is a fat, stumpy little fellow, with appearances decidedly against him in the matter of intellectuality and with scarcely anything about him to recommend him to any woman of taste.

LIVED AT BINGHAMTON.
 Downes was, up till about a year ago, employed as an errand boy at the Binghamton Insane asylum. In some way or another he became acquainted with Mrs. Miller, and was admitted to her home as a friend. He appeared to be a nice, quiet, young fellow and Miller raised no objection to his being received as a friend of the family. After a while, however, when he took to visiting in the morning and afternoon, while Miller was at his office, his conduct was deemed somewhat questionable by the husband and he spoke to his wife about it. She became highly incensed at the mild insinuation, and declared that as long as she knew she was not doing anything wrong she didn't care what any body else thought.

After a time friends cautioned Miller that he had better order young Downes to cease coming to the house as his wife was liable to get herself talked about. He took this advice and gave Downes to understand that he was no longer accorded the privilege of his home. Downes, however, did not heed the notice, but kept up his clandestine calls, and occasionally was seen in Mrs. Miller's company in the streets. He called on her, and she called on him, and he returned to her in a hunting trip he found his wife's young friend again at his house. A personal encounter ensued and a scandal was the result. This seemed to make his wife reckless and for about a month afterwards their home was, according to the husband's own statement, "a veritable hell."

WENT TO DOWNES' HOME.
 Last December she left him and when her husband next heard of her, she was about a week after her departure, she was living at the home of Downes' parents in Burlington, Bradford county, this state, Downes also going there. He decided not to bother them and for some time he stayed together under the same roof. Downes' parents offering no objection although they knew who Mrs. Miller was and all about her. About the middle of last month Mrs. Miller had a falling out with Downes' sister and had to leave. She and Downes then came to this city and took up their abode in the home of Downes' father. He says he can prove that they lived here as man and wife, and Mrs. Miller holds that she can prove nothing of the kind, that both were known under their true names and that Downes merely boarded with her. The proprietress of the boarding house, at which they were residing, will be called upon to testify in establishing which of these statements is the correct one. The hearing will take place at 10 o'clock this morning.

ACCUSED OF PERJURY.
 Louis Epstein charged with Furnishing Straw Bail.
 Louis Epstein, well known in aldermanic offices, because of the interest he is wont to take in providing bail for foreigners who get into trouble, was arrested yesterday for furnishing straw bail before Alderman Roberts.
 Otto Myers and Adam Spitzer, North End business men had one Simon Petrus arrested for obtaining goods under false pretenses. When Petrus was arraigned before Alderman Roberts, Epstein became his bondsman in the sum of $300, swearing that he owned unincumbered real estate. The prosecutor made an investigation of the court records and became satisfied that Epstein had perjured himself.
 Epstein when arrested by Special Officer Charles Voerkroth, decided to go before Alderman Howe, taking a hearing and enter bail, taking S. Hinerfeld along as bondsman. The alderman had heard of Epstein and Hinerfeld and refused to accept the latter as surety.
 They then went out and got J. M. Frank, of 429 Oakford court, who qualified all right, but refused to sign the bail piece because his religion forbids him doing any writing on the Sabbath,

NEW APPOINTEES SWORN IN.
 Hart, Cullen, Frens, Bryant and Ross Take the Oath of Office.
 Mayor Bailey yesterday administered the oath of office to the five new appointees confirmed at the previous night's meeting of select council. They are Patrolman James Hart, Food Inspector Thomas F. Cullen, Jacob Frens, permanent man at the Relief Engine house; Peter Ross, inspector of the Swetland street pave, and Jacob Bryant, inspector of the Monroe avenue pave.
 Hart will go on duty Monday night next. The new food inspector will not take hold until the end of the month, but through him it was learned that with the present inspector, Richard Thomas, in order to become acquainted with the duties of the office.

Wherever no especial precaution is taken in feeding children, hot weather is just as sure to multiply the deaths of infants as the infants are to be born. Babies and young children feel the disastrous effect of high temperature much more than others.
 Half the deaths in August are those of children under five years. Every summer more than a third of all who die are infants.
 Where a falling off in the nourishing qualities of baby's earliest food is suspected, lactated food is the most perfect substitute for the healthy mother's milk. Physicians when called in cases of severe bowel affections, which come

JOHN EINIG IN THE CITY.
 Came Here to See His Daughters and Prosecute Bishop Who Enticed Them from Home.

It developed yesterday that the enticement of the two daughters from Philadelphia through the medium of Mrs. Hunter's employment, agency by old Emmet Bishop, of this city, was not Bishop's first offense in that line.
 John Einig, the father of the two girls, came here to see his little ones, and through him it was learned that Bishop several months ago brought an Alice Clark here from Philadelphia, under much the same circumstances as in the case of the Einigs. He obtained the Clark girl also through the Hunter woman's agency. Her father, too, came to Scranton and took her home.
 Mr. Einig is an intelligent and respectable German. He arrived here yesterday morning and with Father Christ, to whom the girls had gone for protection, and Mrs. Duggan, the Associated Charities agent, visited the House of the Good Shepherd, where the girls were sheltered. The meeting between Einig and his children was very affecting. He will see to it that the girls give testimony against Bishop before the grand jury.

Einig's story was much the same as that of the girls at the hearing before Mayor Bailey, and which resulted in Bishop being sent to jail in default of bail. He told in detail that Helen, the younger girl, was ill and in the hospital during Bishop's Philadelphia visit, but was to go away with him long as he insisted on the husband's picture of the "big stone hotel," where the younger girl could have care and conveniences and regain her health. Bishop, he said, succeeded in getting away without leaving an address, and the father knew nothing of the whereabouts of his children nor their plight until he read an account of it Thursday in a Scranton dispatch to a Philadelphia paper.

The father urged that he be allowed to see Bishop, but was pacified and dissuaded from his purpose.

POOR SCHOOL CHILDREN.
 Must Put Up with an Extra Seven Days of Vacation.
 At the meeting of the teachers' committee of the board of control yesterday afternoon it was decided to recommend that the schools do not open until Sept. 14, instead of Sept. 7, the time first set.
 It was semi-officially announced, also, that Professor E. A. Cruttenberg, now of the Scranton Business college, was agreed upon for the principalship of No. 29, which position is made vacant by the resignation of Miss Belinda McCaffery, who is to be married next week.

A Hunting Firm.
 Myer Davdow, the well-known Lackawanna avenue shoeman has purchased over one thousand pairs of ladies' fine shoes from a well-known manufacturer for spot cash. This opportunity enables Mr. Davdow to offer the greatest bargains ever heard of in Scranton before. This is another victory for this enterprising firm. Last week they sold men's russet shoes for 69 cents, something never done before. The 50-cent ladies' shoes they are selling are sold elsewhere for $1.25. It will pay you to read his advertisement on page 8.
