SALOON ROBBED.

Whiskey and Cigars Taken from Brennan & McNulty's Place.

The saloon of Brennan and McNulty on South Main street was entered Sunday night and a quantity of whisky and eigars taken from the store. This is the third time the saloon has been thus entered, Constable Neary has been busy in following up some clue to the robbery, and arrested a suspicious charone Joseph Murray, who with two other men were suspected.

Murray was found near the canal and hidden in the sand near him were nine bottles of whiskey, eight boxes of eigars, two umbrellas, some silver spoons and an overcoat. He is lodged in the city lock-up and it is thought the entire gang will be apprehended.

WOMEN WHO HATE MEN. United States.

From the Albany Argus.

While it would, of course, be unfair to suppose that all, or even the greater portion, of those women who elect to lead a life of single blessedness are men-haters, still there are some to whom that designation fully applies, There is a lady residing in an eastern state town well known for her pronounced views regarding the sterner sex. Man, if she knows it, is not allowed, directly or indirectly, to contribute to her wants in life. Males are strictly forbidden the house, and the lady declines to have any dealings with business carried on by men, Her baker, grocer, dairy dealer, and milk dealer all are women, and it is said that meat has been entirely obliterated from the establishment die-Mr. and Mrs. Bull, of Greentown, tary simply because there is not a entertaining thoughts of entering the marriage state is promptly served with a notice to quit. The colony of women suffragists who have a quiet summer house on Cape Cod do not go to these extremes, bu are content to exclude male callers, whether they are relatives or not. A Chicago woman not long since displayed her abhorrence of the opposite able discourses in the Methodist Epis- sex by refusing to accept a legacy left her by a male connection. Another, who was herself rich, executed a will by which, at her death, substantial bequests were left to her female relacaller at the home of his parents on Monday. They made a visit to No. 2 tives, while the males inherited the paltry sum of $1 each. A third left a sum of money at her decease to be expended in founding and endowing a home for women who had attained a certain age without marrying.

There is reported to be, in one of the western states, a society of women sworn to renounce the companionship of man for life.
