Special to the Scranton Tribune. Susquehanna, August 27 .- For the past three years a submarine monster, of undefined species, has occupied Butler lake, a body of water in Jackson township, five miles from Susquehanna, to the great unrest of fishermer and farmers. Last week it came up out of a deep morass fringing the lake, and clipped off the leg of an aged horse, and the next day it suddenly snatched a large string of fish belonging to an angler and suddenly disappeared under a log raft. The vicinity farmer occasionally loses a sheep pig, and the monster is invariably credited with the theft. At night the bellowing and lashing of the strange creature can be heard half a mile. It is said to be about ten feet long and as large around as a flour barrel. It has a head not unlike a seal, and is equipped with two paws and a whalelike tail. An effort will be made to capture the creature alive. Shots fired at it seem to have no effect, except to accelerate its movements.

RAILROAD DASHES.

The Erie paymaster scattered about $40,000 in town on Tuesday. Delaware and Hudson Superintendent

C. R. Manville, after enduring a sprained ankle for several weeks, is again on deck.

Two Delaware and Hudson trains collided near Starrucca on Sunday. Sev-eral cars were derailed. The Susque-district. hanna wreckers were called. The Carbondale conductors will run an excursion to Cooperstown on Saturabout 7 o'clock a. m. The Delaware and Hudson cars are because they worked on Sunday. A Susquehanns county man permit-ted his life insurance to lapse in order to purchase a bicycle for his wife. Lightning struck an oak tree in Lanesboro, s few days since. Two squirrels were in the tree, but they es-caped death. They ran down the tree in a struct the and heat the lightning in a straight line and beat the lightning which followed the crooks in the tree. Tom Howe, of Great Bend, planted out of reach. There is a rumor that and, falling, would have been killed, had he not struck aside of an ear of corn twenty feet from the ground.

THE GENUINE ARTICLE. Unconquerable curiosity impelled a Lansboro man to touch a match to the drippings of a whiskey barrel. In two minutes the air was full of kegs, a section of fence was off on a summer vacation, and the Lansboro man was rubbing an aching head. "Gosh blame those mosquitoes," he remarked, "I'd rather be hit by a train of cars."

A CROW KILLER.

An Ararat young man is killing several hundred crows a day for the farmers, for a bounty of two cents a head. He finds a flock of the pesky birds and scatters prepared corn for them to eat. Shortly after eating them the birds fail dazed to the ground, and the headsman gathers them in. He keeps secret the solution he uses to soak the cora in. and travels from one place to another making good money. He expects to purchase a farm with the proceeds of his crow killing. MINOR MENTIONETTES.

The McKinley and Hobart club is growing great in membership. The free silver crase is on the wand.

If it were possible, a goodly array of Susquehanna county Republicans would rejoice to vote for William Connell for congressman. In congress he will be the right man in the right place.

The annual Tingley gathering was held in Harford on Wednesday. During the past few weeks a Scranday next. It will leave Lanesboro at ton man has sold $800 worth of cooking steamers in Susquehanna. HE SELLS BUGS.

Over at Lake Ariel, Wayne county, "Water Bug Jones" earns a good living by catching water bugs and shipping them all over the county to expert anglers. This season he has caught over 40,000 and sold them for $1 per hundred. These bugs are black fel-lows, and are seen skirmishing upon the surface of the streams. Bass and other game fish prefer them to grampus or minnows.

THE TICKET MATERIALIZING.

The new party in Wayne county is fast materializing. The alert and wide-awake Sarah Ulrich Kelley, realizing that it would not seem proper to have the president and vice president hall from the same state, has arranged to have the ticket read: "For president-Sarah Ulrich Kelley,

Of the state of Pennsylvania.

For vice president-Brer Benjamin Haines,

Of the state of Uncertainty."

The platform is now being prepared There will be a straddle on the cur-rency question. There will be some kind words for the Mormons, and a plank will favor giving the ballot to the Indian. The eyes of some 60,000,000 people are now upon the new Wayne county ticket.
