Runaway on South Main Avenue---Fellows-Acker Wedding Announcement---News Notes.

A runaway team of handsome black horses attached to a stylish surry dashed down ain avenue last evening before dark and it is remarkable that no damage resulted. The team is the property of Franklin Howell and when the start was made they were standing in front of his residence on Scranton street. The coachman left his seat to attend to something in the rear of the wagon. While he was there the team started. The coachman hung on for a block and when Main avenue was reached he was thrown off, the horses tearing at a fast rate down the avenue toward the South. They kept the middle of the road and were not stopped until Eynon street was reached. The damage was slight.

FELLOWS-ACKER NUPTIALS. The marriage of Miss Carrie M. Fellows, of Tenth street, to Harry Acker, of South Mai naenue, will take place on Wednesday evening, Sept. 23, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Movement to Incorporate Minooks, Greenwood and Moosic Into a Borough.

A petition is in circulation among the property owners and voters of Minooka, Greenwood and Moosic, which, if it is acceptable to a majority of them an they sign it, will be presented to the November grand jury praying that into a borough. A petition is now filed of record in court by the residents of the Pyne, Archbald, Sloan, Hampton and Continental villages asking to be granted leave to organize the borough of Pyne. The Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad company and the Lackawanna Iron and Coal company, owning five-sixths of the property, are that Pyne borough should be willing formed. It is regarded as almost a foregone conclusion that it will be formed, and in that event Lackawanna township will be left with but Minooka. Greenwood and Moosic. As a matter of protection, the people of these places are seeking to get a borough also; for as a township they would flounder along like a ship at sea without a rudder. It remains to be seen whether the people of Minooka who are anxious to see that place annexed to the city will fight the proposed borough or not.

HE WON IT ON BASE BALL.

Messrs. McCoy, Goddard and Hartman at the Scranton Axle works, six weeks ago began betting cigars on the result of the games played by the Scranton base ball club. They bet on every game and a few days ago decided to settle up. Mr. McCoy was more fortunate in his guesses and yesterday received payment in the shape of a cigar large enough for Gulliver to smoke. It was manufactured by William Koch, of Cedar avenue, and is three feet long. Mr. McCoy is going to smoke it when he has about a six weeks' vacation.

ocrats, agree that Mr. Bryan is talking too much for a presidential candidate. To say the least, it is below the dignity of the office to which he aspires to stump the country in his own behalf. If his speeches measured up to those deliv-ered by ex-President Harrison from the rear platform of the train which carried him across the continent five years ago, there might be some ex-cuse for Mr. Bryan's course. But they fall far short of the utterances of a statesman. They are common place to begin with, and are too long and windy to be read with any degree of interest or intelligence. Nobody appreciates these short-comings of Mr. Bryan more fully than the Democratic leaders. They are helpless, however, for talk is the "long suit" of their candidate. If he was not permitted to "shoot off his mouth" at every place his train stops Mr. Bryan would, indeed, be a very miserable and unhappy man. His managers, therefore, are glad that he is eaving "the enemy's country," as Mr. Bryan is wont to call the east, where he has made no converts to free silver during his two weeks' sojourn. Mr. Bryan will, therefore, confine most of his speech-making to the south and west during the remainder of the campaign. He has certainly failed to 'electrify" the east. Before he left his far-off western home, Mr. Bryan became imbued with the idea that he would "take the east by storm," and that the voters in that section simply stampede to him and his free silver fallacy. But they failed to stam-

The other evening a party of gentle-men at an up-town hotel were contrasting Bryan's speeches with those de-livered by ex-President Harrison on his western trip five years ago. A supporter of the "Boy Orator" attempted to apologize for his weakness in that direction by saying that Mr. Harrison was twenty-five or thirty years older than Mr. Bryan. To this a McKinley man replied:

"Then, he (Bryan) ought to wait until he is old enough to have good sense before he aspires to the presidency." The laugh as well as the drinks were

lic politics, and are determined toinform themselves, and stand like patriots in the hour of their peril and vote to the best of their knowledge, for the best interests of the common people of the whole country. It means further that every voter wants to know, not only the doctrines of his own party, but the views of all other parties and the reason for the differences-Gold, Silver, Tariff and Free Trade. To this end we have secured a complete handbook of public political information, edited by Lawrence F, and got them ready for school and sewed a button on Johnny's coat and mended a rent in Nellie's dress. Then I tidled up my siting room and made two beds and watered my house plants and glanced over the morning paper. Then I dusted my parlor and set things to right in it and washed some lamp himneys and combed my baby's hall and sewed a button on one of her little shoes, and then I swept out my front entry and brushed and put away the children's Sunday clothes and wrote a note to Johnny's teacher, asking her to excuse him for not being at school on Friday. Then I fed my canary bird and gave the grocery man an order and swept off the back porch, and then I
