FEW FACTS ABOUT LABOR IN MEXICO

A Review of the Situation by Mr. Archibald Butt.

WAGES LOW AND PRICES HIGH

An Appalling Picture of Poverty in a Land That Should Be Flowing with Milk and Honey-Beggarly Wages Paid at the Smelting Works -- Exorbitant Prices of Furniture, Etc.

Washington, Aug. 31. One of the most valuable publications gotten out by the Republican national campaign committee is from the pen of Mr. Archbald W. Butt, one of the best known southern writers in Washington. The volume deals with the silver situation in Mexico and is the only work of its kind which gives any comprehensive view of the labor conditions in the southern republic. Mr. Butt has had every opportunity to study the question from a practical point of view. When General Ransom, ex-United States senator from North Carolina, was appointed minister to Mexico by President Cleveland, he appointed Mr. Butt one of his attaches. During his stay in Mexico he made a complete study of labor limited coinage of silver, should those in the United States be more? As night follows day, so surely will increased wretchedness follow the free and unlimited coinage of silver in the United Washington. The volume deals with he made a complete study of labor and its conditions in that republic. His connection with public men and affairs in Washington gave him the experience necessary to become competent judge of the questions he had heard discussed in congress, when put into practical operation. Mr. Butt spent one year in Mexico and resigned to resume his journalistic career in Washington.

The volume contains about nine thousand words, and it is as much a picturesque sketch of the poorer class in Mexico as it is a complete refutation of the claims of the free silver The volume is composed of a series of the author's letters from Mexico City, written more than a year ago before the agitation of the silver question was much discussed. Addenda has been added and the whole series brought up to date. Foia moral to every laborer in this coun-

"There was never a time in the his-

"There was never a time in the history of the United States when a dollar would buy so much. There was never a time in the history of Mexico when a dollar would buy so little.

"From the moment the American traveling into Mexico gets in exchange for one American dollar two Mexican dollars until, when on returning he gives two Mexican dollars to get one American dollar back his life is full of American dollar back, his life is full of surprises. The order of horse-racing here is a fair example of how entirely and completely the civilization of the United States is reversed in Mexico. There are no better races than those given by the great jockey club here, yet it is hard to get accustomed to seeing thoroughbreds race from left to right instead of from right to left.

"It is equally difficult to get accustomed to the great opulence and excessive poverty which seem to dwell together, living closer together than the two extremes are ever seen existing side by side in the United States. The entire social system in Mexico is in-teresting, so interesting, in fact, that it becomes impossible to give any general outline which would adequately por-tray the habits, customs, virtues and vices of these people. It must be hanvices of these people. It must be han-dled from time to time in detail, fol-lowing from their source the laws of this people, which have, more than zone acter of the Mexicans.
"There is one element which enters

"There is one element which enters largely into the life at present in this country, which is of peculiar interest to the American people. It is the currency system under which they live, and which, if not the basis of many of the troubles of Mexico, failed to be of benefit to the people. fit to the people.

'The average wages in Mexico range from 12½ to 25 cents a day in the cities and baciends or plantations, and in the remote mining districts there is a slight increase. All laborers have to feed or "find" themselves in Mexico. On all plantations there are stores owned by the landiord. What is usually earned by labor on the land is always spent with the owner of it. with the owner of it.
"The question naturally arises, es-

"The question naturally arises, especially after one has heard the promises of the silver men from the floors of congress and on the stump. Why have wages not risen in Mexico? Why, even on a silver dollar basis, are they so much lower than the lowest paid in the United States? It must be remembered, too, that the wages paid here are in denreciated coin, worth only half as much as the same amount received for labor in the United States.

"The free and unlimited coinage of silver in Mexico has a more direct influence upon the laboring classes of this country than is at first apparent to the American visiting the tropical republic. The silver leaders in the states give it out, and it is generally believed, that the laboring element here is made uponted.

the laboring element here is made up solely of unskilled labor; that there is no such thing as high-class workmen in the republic of Mexico. This is false, and the thousands of handsome dwell-ings, factories and business houses stand in proof of it.

There is a vast deal of skilled labor in the republic—as skilled labor as can be found in the states, and it is this very class that suffers more than any

WAGES PAID AT SMELTING WORKS.

The smelting business here is an immense industry, and the smelters are as good as those employed in the United States. In Omaha the average salary of the smelter is $2.75 and $3 a day. The same men who pay these salaries in Omaha operate smelting works at Monterey, in the state of Nuevo Leon in this republic, and pay their smelters in this republic, and pay their smetters 75 cents in Mexican money, which is only equal to 37½ in American money. Measured from the Mexican basis the smelter in the United States gets from $2.55.50 kg along while the same class. to $6 a day, while the same class over in Mexico makes only 75 cents. It is accurately estimated that the high-grade laborer here gets only one-seventh of what the same grade of labor does in the United States. These are facts-indisputable—which every miner, smelter, stoker, feeder and tapminer, smeiter, stoker, feeder and tap-per should remember. As one descends the scale the wages get poorer. For instance, sheep herders, who are re-garded as good class laborers, get only $6 a month and one bushel of corn. Bricklayers get only $5 cents a day. The best stonecutters—and there are none better in the states—get only a slight increase over this. It must constantly be kept in mind that all the wages are computed on the sliver basis, which must be divided by two when its purchasing power is considered.

which must be divided by two when its purchasing power is considered.

"The clerk in the store who draws monthly $25 or $50 thinks himself prosperous. The best waiters in the restaurants get $10 a month, and find themselves. The most expert seamstress gets only 35 cents a day and must bring her own dinner if she goes out by the day. The best cook can command $3 a month, but housegirls and men servants get only from $3 to $5. men servants get only from $3 to $6 a

"The spinners, yarners, dyers and others employed in the various factories get from 15 to 50 cents a day. Rents in every part of the republic are very high, higher than they are in the United States, and a respectable house or room even half as good as those occupied by our factory hands, is entirely beyond the reach of the best paid labor. There is no exaggeration in this. The whole seething mass of labor live for the most part in adobe or mud-made huts, and to all intents and purposes sleep on the ground. Furniture is so high that it would take half a year's salary to buy a ground. Furniture is so high that it would take half a year's salary to buy a bedstead.

"But, after all, the condition of the well-to-do is not the vital point in the well-to-do is not the vital point in the money question as now raised in the campaign, or whether on gold or silver basis this class will be able to live and prosper. It is a vital matter to the man only who is dependent on his labor for his living. Undoubtedly Mexico holds out great inducements to the manufacturer and the American with capital. Everything manufactured here is sold on the gold basis, yet under the free coinage system it is produced on the silver basis. It would be a great advantage to the miner in the western states to sell his product on a gold basis, at the same time paying his labor in silver.

"The American laborer cannot review imited coinage of silver in the Unite W. R. B.

SCANDAL AT BUCHAREST.

A Well-Known Society Heiress Abducted by a Friend of Her Family. New York, Aug. 21.-The European edition of the Herald contains the following account of a singular abduc-

A great sensation, says the Berlin Boersen Courier, has just been caused in society circles in Bucharest by a scandal that occurred a few days ago in the Roumanian capital. Some weeks ago a young and wealthy lady, Mile. Joanid, was engaged to a well known engineer in Bucharest. The fact that she had a dowry of 500,-000f. aroused the cupidity of a M. Jean Fourgeon, and he conceived the plan of abducting her in the hope that to lowing are some extracts which point avoid a scandal her parents would consent to her marriage with him. His family approved the scheme, and one of his sisters, Mile. Rosa Fourgeon, who was one of Mile. Joanid's friends, acted as his accomplice.

She persuaded the latter to go for a walk with her in a wood near the town. Here M. Fourgeon was waiting with carriage. The young girl was seized and in spite of her screams and struggles was forced into the vehicle, which was driven off to her abductor's estate at Diamant, in the vicinity of the city. The young lady's disappearance soon began to arouse anxlety and the police were informed. Suspicion naturally fell on the Fourgeon family, as it was known that Rosa Fourgeon had been with her the day she disappeared.

A descent was made on the house at Diamant. At first M. Fourgeon refused to allow the police to enter the house, and when they forced the door he fled to the woods. In one of the rooms Mile. Joanid was found, nearly out of her mind with terror, with her face all scratched and her clothing torn as the result of her desperate struggles with her abductor. RUSTIC BEAUTY CAUSES A FEUD.

Village of Hunlock in a State of Armed Partisanship.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Aug. 31,-A reign of terror exists in the village of Hunlock. Annie Sharpe is at the bottom of it. Annie is a rustic beauty. She persisted in attending a country dance ple, against her father's wishes. The parental door was closed against her. She found refuge in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Handler, and the girl's father and brother attacked Handler's home. They were armed with rifles. Fom an upstairs window Handler lev- He said: eled his gun and the Sharpes retreated.

The Sharpes next went in pursuit of Jacob Hoffman, an uncle, who took swore out warrants for the arrest of the Sharpes. More trouble is expected, and there is a lively demand for firearms upon the part of the residents a high pitch of excitement.

HUSBAND ACCUSED OF DESERTION.

Woman Prominent in Southern Society Causes His Arrest.

Pittsburg, Aug. 21.-Alderman Mc-Masters held A. L. Silling today on a charge of desertion. His wife says she is the daughter of Judge Kenneth Raynor of North Coralina, who was a vice presidential candidate on the know-nothing ticket.

Her mother, she says, was a niece of President Polk. Before her marriage to Silling, she says, she was prominent in Washington society, and s a members of the Daughters of the Revolution. She is, she claims, the divorced wife of Dr. A. H. Glennau of the marine corps. Silling says he was never married to her. He is a member of Frank Talmage's church.

There are 150 men in pusuit, and a complete circle has been formed around a radius of twenty miles. Hall feels confident of making a capture. The robbers are thought to be hiding in Cook's Peak Muntains, eighteen miles north of Deming.

He said he had a great regard for the work done at Chautauqua, and that the Chautauqua platform was broad enough to allow the discussion of every question. "People who come here carry away ideas which only are productive of good to the citizens of a country like this. After visiting the various parts of the grounds I am pleased to note that it had a very democratic appearance, and that there are no palaces and no hovels." He thanked the people for assem-Teurgee, who is at present stumping for Major McKinley, at 10.30. Mr. Bryan spoke here from the balcony of the hotel to 400 persons and his reference to Judge Tourgee's books caused laughter from the crowl that heard him. Mr. Bryen said that Mr. Jefferson had the correct idea when he said that governments were founded in jealousy, not in confidence-that confidence was everywhere the parent of despotism. "Show me a people." said Mr. Bryan, "who are so confident in their leaders that they take no part in the detail of government and I will show you a people whose leaders look out for themselves and not the interest of all the people. Show me a people who instead of having too much confidence, are jealous of their liberties, are watchful of their public servants, and careful as to the policies proposed by the different parties, and I will show you a people that have a good sovern-(Cheers).

This is the last opportunity which I shall have to say a word in the state of New York. I am greatly pleased with the interest which is being taken sides with the girl. Hoffman fled to by the people of New York in the isthe woods. He came to this city and sue of this campaign. I am able to carry back to the people of the west the news that while we have not met with a very hearty reception in Wail street, we have met a hearty recepof the village, who are worked up to tion in every other part of the state of New York. (Chees.) And I have come to believe that there is among the masses of the people of New York about as little love for what is known as Wall street as you will find in any western state. (Cheers)

And as this is my farewell meeting in this state for the present, I desire to submit just a word to the people of New York.

I desire to offer one suggestion. We have a great fight in the Democratic party, one of the most memorable contests ever waged in the United States, and those who advocate the free coinage of silver have won by carrying their cause not to conventions but to the people themselves, the source of all political power. (Cheers.) If we had waited until the convention assembled at Chicago and then made our appeal to the delegates who had been sent there uninstructed and without regard to the money question we should have been defeated, but we saw that the strength of bimetallism was on the rank and file of the party and recognized the Democratic idea that power comes up to the machinery.
