

Sale of High Class Hosiery

BE BEGINNING THURSDAY, SEPT. 3.

A Word of Explanation.

Conditions with which we are all more or less familiar have completely upset all the calculations of importers.

These facts explain why we are enabled to offer such extraordinary values.

Important.

We may add that the goods offered below are with one exception exactly the same as regular numbers we carry in stock.

BARGAIN FACTS.

Lot Ladies' Silk Hose. Hermsdorf stainless black, 60 gauge fine, warranted not to crack or turn green.

Lot Ladies' Rembrandt Hose. Better known as drop stitch ribbed hose, warranted all silk and Hermsdorf stainless black.

Lot Ladies' Lisle Hose. Stainless black high-spined heels and toes, 60 gauge fine, made from the celebrated Maco or Egyptian farms.

Lot Engrain Lisle Hose. Hermsdorf dye, drop stitch rib, extra resists at season, and at that they are a matchless value.

Lot Embroidered Hose. 40 large Hermsdorf dyed black cotton hose, plain or drop stitch, with prettily embroidered foot.

Lot Maco Yarn Hose. Absolutely fast colors, with polka-dot, produced by the new extracting process.

Lot Split Feet Hose. Guaranteed real Maco or Egyptian yarns, Hermsdorf fast black, 60 gauge fine.

Lot White Feet Hose. Prime fast black, fine gauge genuine Egyptian yarns, extra long double heels and toes.

Lot Out-Side Hose. Extra sizes for those who like comfort and ease, improved elastic tops, stainless Hermsdorf dyes.

Lot Imported Hose. Stainless black, white feet, full gauge, best ladies' stocking on the market for 50c.

Lot Men's Half Hose. Full gauge, pretty silk-embroidered, Hermsdorf dyes in black or tan.

See Our Windows. They will interest you.

GLOBE WAREHOUSE

GOLD DEMOCRATS AT INDIANAPOLIS

Nearly All of the States and Territories Send Delegates.

MR. FLOWER'S RINGING ADDRESS

The Most Scathing Arrangement of the Chicago Platform--Report of National Committee--Other Business of the Convention.

Indianapolis, Sept. 2.--The sound money Democratic national convention was called to order at 12:30 by Senator Palmer.

The call for the convention was then read. When the name of Cleveland was read in the call in connection with the names of Jefferson and Jackson the secretary reported that the complete roll of states showed that forty-one had responded to the call.

Alaska responded "Alaska is here" and the delegate who thus responded was greeted with loud applause.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE. The report was read by Mr. Brennan of Wisconsin, as follows:

Pursuant to the call for this convention the delegates elected thereto have been reported to the secretary of the national committee.

Those in which no delegates have arrived are Wyoming, Idaho, Utah, and Nevada. In justice to the true Democracy of those states it should be stated that they are so far distant from the headquarters of the executive committee that the time available for correspondence and organization has been relatively so short and the population of said states so widely scattered that it has been impossible to take the necessary steps to form local organizations and secure election of delegates to this convention. Democrats of true faith in these states doubtless regret the absence of representatives from this convention as deeply as can the convention.

Although territories are not mentioned in the call for the convention the Democracy of the territories of Alaska, Arizona and New Mexico have gallantly sent delegations.

We recommend that the delegates reported to the secretary shall be entitled to participate in the preliminary organization of the convention and that those who are present and alternates for those absent, if any, shall be entitled to cast full number of votes to which their respective states are entitled.

We recommend that until otherwise ordered the rules of the Democratic convention which was held in 1892 shall govern the deliberations of this convention.

We recommend that all resolutions be referred to the appropriate committee without reading.

We recommend the following temporary officers of this convention: Chairman, ex-Governor Rowwell P. Flower, of Watertown, N. Y.; secretary, John R. Wilson, Indianapolis; sergeant-at-arms, Walter P. Kolesky, Indianapolis.

The reading of this report was interrupted by frequent applause, particularly that passage which recommended that the rules of the last national Democratic convention, "held in 1892," be adopted as the rules of this convention.

Senator Palmer designated Governor Jones, of Alabama, and George Foster Peabody to conduct ex-Governor Flower to the chair in the name of Mr. Palmer, rendered his gavel and Governor Flower spoke as follows:

GOVERNOR FLOWER'S SPEECH. This gathering is not to the world that the Democratic party has not yet surrendered to Populism and Anarchy.

The danger lies in the revolutionary influences which controlled the convention and animated its platform.

Men may differ as to the best scheme of national finance and may debate their differences without recrimination or without questioning the honesty of motive.

But when men, led on by ambitious politicians, their minds fired not by the example of American patriots, but by that of the radicals of the French revolution,

VERMONT'S DISPLAY OF MAPLE SUGAR

The Greatest of the Sound Money Triumphs Up to Date.

VOTE EXCEEDS ALL PRECEDENT

Grant, the Republican Candidate for Governor, Receives Nearly Four Times as Many Votes as His Opponent--A Judgment on the Currency Question That Cannot Be Mistaken.

St. Albans, Vt., Sept. 2.--According to the returns gathered here by the chairman of the Republican committee with six towns to hear from, Grant, Rep., for governor has a plurality of 38,757.

The missing towns in 1892 gave a Republican plurality of 161 and in 1894 a Republican plurality of 225. Chairman Merrill, of the Republican state committee, states that the official figures will show a majority for the party he represents of at least 27,000, while some estimate the final result as high as 39,000.

Major Grant, the successful candidate for governor, states in an interview that the returns of the election emphasize more particularly than political majorities generally do the judgment of Vermont in the matter of the free and unlimited coinage of silver, which has been fully discussed and the purport of which he had every chance to understand.

At 1 o'clock Mr. Merrill sent this message to William McKinley, Canton, Ohio: Vermont claiming the honor of making possible your unanimous nomination, today shows her fealty by a majority of more than 38,000, the largest ever cast in the state by more than 10,000.

Even the advocacy of free silver coinage by Bryan and many of his associates is not a cloak for the spirit of revolution behind it.

Every true democrat, and every man who has his cause dependent for success upon those who would reorganize the Supreme court when its decisions do not please him, should be vigilant to repudiate the national debt if free silver coinage did not accomplish bimetalism, who would attempt to destroy the sanctity of private contracts, who would have the government take the property of the country's railroads and telegraphs who would restrain the strong arm of the law from the suppression of disorder.

Even if I believed that the Democratic party in the United States independently and alone would, under proper conditions, restore bimetalism, I could not bring myself to support so selfish and impotent a undertaking as men of Bryan's experience or associations, and I would suffer forever the alleged evils of a gold standard before I would incur the responsibility of law to an attack on our silver coin and to the subversion of our form of government by loading it down with ungovernmental functions.

Every true democrat, and every man who would have the government take the property of the country's railroads and telegraphs who would restrain the strong arm of the law from the suppression of disorder.

Even if I believed that the Democratic party in the United States independently and alone would, under proper conditions, restore bimetalism, I could not bring myself to support so selfish and impotent a undertaking as men of Bryan's experience or associations, and I would suffer forever the alleged evils of a gold standard before I would incur the responsibility of law to an attack on our silver coin and to the subversion of our form of government by loading it down with ungovernmental functions.

Every true democrat, and every man who would have the government take the property of the country's railroads and telegraphs who would restrain the strong arm of the law from the suppression of disorder.

Even if I believed that the Democratic party in the United States independently and alone would, under proper conditions, restore bimetalism, I could not bring myself to support so selfish and impotent a undertaking as men of Bryan's experience or associations, and I would suffer forever the alleged evils of a gold standard before I would incur the responsibility of law to an attack on our silver coin and to the subversion of our form of government by loading it down with ungovernmental functions.

Every true democrat, and every man who would have the government take the property of the country's railroads and telegraphs who would restrain the strong arm of the law from the suppression of disorder.

Even if I believed that the Democratic party in the United States independently and alone would, under proper conditions, restore bimetalism, I could not bring myself to support so selfish and impotent a undertaking as men of Bryan's experience or associations, and I would suffer forever the alleged evils of a gold standard before I would incur the responsibility of law to an attack on our silver coin and to the subversion of our form of government by loading it down with ungovernmental functions.

Every true democrat, and every man who would have the government take the property of the country's railroads and telegraphs who would restrain the strong arm of the law from the suppression of disorder.

Even if I believed that the Democratic party in the United States independently and alone would, under proper conditions, restore bimetalism, I could not bring myself to support so selfish and impotent a undertaking as men of Bryan's experience or associations, and I would suffer forever the alleged evils of a gold standard before I would incur the responsibility of law to an attack on our silver coin and to the subversion of our form of government by loading it down with ungovernmental functions.

Every true democrat, and every man who would have the government take the property of the country's railroads and telegraphs who would restrain the strong arm of the law from the suppression of disorder.

Even if I believed that the Democratic party in the United States independently and alone would, under proper conditions, restore bimetalism, I could not bring myself to support so selfish and impotent a undertaking as men of Bryan's experience or associations, and I would suffer forever the alleged evils of a gold standard before I would incur the responsibility of law to an attack on our silver coin and to the subversion of our form of government by loading it down with ungovernmental functions.

Every true democrat, and every man who would have the government take the property of the country's railroads and telegraphs who would restrain the strong arm of the law from the suppression of disorder.

Even if I believed that the Democratic party in the United States independently and alone would, under proper conditions, restore bimetalism, I could not bring myself to support so selfish and impotent a undertaking as men of Bryan's experience or associations, and I would suffer forever the alleged evils of a gold standard before I would incur the responsibility of law to an attack on our silver coin and to the subversion of our form of government by loading it down with ungovernmental functions.

Every true democrat, and every man who would have the government take the property of the country's railroads and telegraphs who would restrain the strong arm of the law from the suppression of disorder.

Even if I believed that the Democratic party in the United States independently and alone would, under proper conditions, restore bimetalism, I could not bring myself to support so selfish and impotent a undertaking as men of Bryan's experience or associations, and I would suffer forever the alleged evils of a gold standard before I would incur the responsibility of law to an attack on our silver coin and to the subversion of our form of government by loading it down with ungovernmental functions.

Every true democrat, and every man who would have the government take the property of the country's railroads and telegraphs who would restrain the strong arm of the law from the suppression of disorder.

Even if I believed that the Democratic party in the United States independently and alone would, under proper conditions, restore bimetalism, I could not bring myself to support so selfish and impotent a undertaking as men of Bryan's experience or associations, and I would suffer forever the alleged evils of a gold standard before I would incur the responsibility of law to an attack on our silver coin and to the subversion of our form of government by loading it down with ungovernmental functions.

VERMONT'S DISPLAY OF MAPLE SUGAR

The Greatest of the Sound Money Triumphs Up to Date.

VOTE EXCEEDS ALL PRECEDENT

Grant, the Republican Candidate for Governor, Receives Nearly Four Times as Many Votes as His Opponent--A Judgment on the Currency Question That Cannot Be Mistaken.

St. Albans, Vt., Sept. 2.--According to the returns gathered here by the chairman of the Republican committee with six towns to hear from, Grant, Rep., for governor has a plurality of 38,757.

The missing towns in 1892 gave a Republican plurality of 161 and in 1894 a Republican plurality of 225. Chairman Merrill, of the Republican state committee, states that the official figures will show a majority for the party he represents of at least 27,000, while some estimate the final result as high as 39,000.

Major Grant, the successful candidate for governor, states in an interview that the returns of the election emphasize more particularly than political majorities generally do the judgment of Vermont in the matter of the free and unlimited coinage of silver, which has been fully discussed and the purport of which he had every chance to understand.

At 1 o'clock Mr. Merrill sent this message to William McKinley, Canton, Ohio: Vermont claiming the honor of making possible your unanimous nomination, today shows her fealty by a majority of more than 38,000, the largest ever cast in the state by more than 10,000.

Even the advocacy of free silver coinage by Bryan and many of his associates is not a cloak for the spirit of revolution behind it.

Every true democrat, and every man who has his cause dependent for success upon those who would reorganize the Supreme court when its decisions do not please him, should be vigilant to repudiate the national debt if free silver coinage did not accomplish bimetalism, who would attempt to destroy the sanctity of private contracts, who would have the government take the property of the country's railroads and telegraphs who would restrain the strong arm of the law from the suppression of disorder.

Even if I believed that the Democratic party in the United States independently and alone would, under proper conditions, restore bimetalism, I could not bring myself to support so selfish and impotent a undertaking as men of Bryan's experience or associations, and I would suffer forever the alleged evils of a gold standard before I would incur the responsibility of law to an attack on our silver coin and to the subversion of our form of government by loading it down with ungovernmental functions.

Every true democrat, and every man who would have the government take the property of the country's railroads and telegraphs who would restrain the strong arm of the law from the suppression of disorder.

Even if I believed that the Democratic party in the United States independently and alone would, under proper conditions, restore bimetalism, I could not bring myself to support so selfish and impotent a undertaking as men of Bryan's experience or associations, and I would suffer forever the alleged evils of a gold standard before I would incur the responsibility of law to an attack on our silver coin and to the subversion of our form of government by loading it down with ungovernmental functions.

Every true democrat, and every man who would have the government take the property of the country's railroads and telegraphs who would restrain the strong arm of the law from the suppression of disorder.

Even if I believed that the Democratic party in the United States independently and alone would, under proper conditions, restore bimetalism, I could not bring myself to support so selfish and impotent a undertaking as men of Bryan's experience or associations, and I would suffer forever the alleged evils of a gold standard before I would incur the responsibility of law to an attack on our silver coin and to the subversion of our form of government by loading it down with ungovernmental functions.

Every true democrat, and every man who would have the government take the property of the country's railroads and telegraphs who would restrain the strong arm of the law from the suppression of disorder.

Even if I believed that the Democratic party in the United States independently and alone would, under proper conditions, restore bimetalism, I could not bring myself to support so selfish and impotent a undertaking as men of Bryan's experience or associations, and I would suffer forever the alleged evils of a gold standard before I would incur the responsibility of law to an attack on our silver coin and to the subversion of our form of government by loading it down with ungovernmental functions.

Every true democrat, and every man who would have the government take the property of the country's railroads and telegraphs who would restrain the strong arm of the law from the suppression of disorder.

Even if I believed that the Democratic party in the United States independently and alone would, under proper conditions, restore bimetalism, I could not bring myself to support so selfish and impotent a undertaking as men of Bryan's experience or associations, and I would suffer forever the alleged evils of a gold standard before I would incur the responsibility of law to an attack on our silver coin and to the subversion of our form of government by loading it down with ungovernmental functions.

Every true democrat, and every man who would have the government take the property of the country's railroads and telegraphs who would restrain the strong arm of the law from the suppression of disorder.

Even if I believed that the Democratic party in the United States independently and alone would, under proper conditions, restore bimetalism, I could not bring myself to support so selfish and impotent a undertaking as men of Bryan's experience or associations, and I would suffer forever the alleged evils of a gold standard before I would incur the responsibility of law to an attack on our silver coin and to the subversion of our form of government by loading it down with ungovernmental functions.

Every true democrat, and every man who would have the government take the property of the country's railroads and telegraphs who would restrain the strong arm of the law from the suppression of disorder.

Even if I believed that the Democratic party in the United States independently and alone would, under proper conditions, restore bimetalism, I could not bring myself to support so selfish and impotent a undertaking as men of Bryan's experience or associations, and I would suffer forever the alleged evils of a gold standard before I would incur the responsibility of law to an attack on our silver coin and to the subversion of our form of government by loading it down with ungovernmental functions.

Every true democrat, and every man who would have the government take the property of the country's railroads and telegraphs who would restrain the strong arm of the law from the suppression of disorder.

Even if I believed that the Democratic party in the United States independently and alone would, under proper conditions, restore bimetalism, I could not bring myself to support so selfish and impotent a undertaking as men of Bryan's experience or associations, and I would suffer forever the alleged evils of a gold standard before I would incur the responsibility of law to an attack on our silver coin and to the subversion of our form of government by loading it down with ungovernmental functions.

Every true democrat, and every man who would have the government take the property of the country's railroads and telegraphs who would restrain the strong arm of the law from the suppression of disorder.

Even if I believed that the Democratic party in the United States independently and alone would, under proper conditions, restore bimetalism, I could not bring myself to support so selfish and impotent a undertaking as men of Bryan's experience or associations, and I would suffer forever the alleged evils of a gold standard before I would incur the responsibility of law to an attack on our silver coin and to the subversion of our form of government by loading it down with ungovernmental functions.

VERMONT'S DISPLAY OF MAPLE SUGAR

The Greatest of the Sound Money Triumphs Up to Date.

VOTE EXCEEDS ALL PRECEDENT

Grant, the Republican Candidate for Governor, Receives Nearly Four Times as Many Votes as His Opponent--A Judgment on the Currency Question That Cannot Be Mistaken.

St. Albans, Vt., Sept. 2.--According to the returns gathered here by the chairman of the Republican committee with six towns to hear from, Grant, Rep., for governor has a plurality of 38,757.

The missing towns in 1892 gave a Republican plurality of 161 and in 1894 a Republican plurality of 225. Chairman Merrill, of the Republican state committee, states that the official figures will show a majority for the party he represents of at least 27,000, while some estimate the final result as high as 39,000.

Major Grant, the successful candidate for governor, states in an interview that the returns of the election emphasize more particularly than political majorities generally do the judgment of Vermont in the matter of the free and unlimited coinage of silver, which has been fully discussed and the purport of which he had every chance to understand.

At 1 o'clock Mr. Merrill sent this message to William McKinley, Canton, Ohio: Vermont claiming the honor of making possible your unanimous nomination, today shows her fealty by a majority of more than 38,000, the largest ever cast in the state by more than 10,000.

Even the advocacy of free silver coinage by Bryan and many of his associates is not a cloak for the spirit of revolution behind it.

Every true democrat, and every man who has his cause dependent for success upon those who would reorganize the Supreme court when its decisions do not please him, should be vigilant to repudiate the national debt if free silver coinage did not accomplish bimetalism, who would attempt to destroy the sanctity of private contracts, who would have the government take the property of the country's railroads and telegraphs who would restrain the strong arm of the law from the suppression of disorder.

Even if I believed that the Democratic party in the United States independently and alone would, under proper conditions, restore bimetalism, I could not bring myself to support so selfish and impotent a undertaking as men of Bryan's experience or associations, and I would suffer forever the alleged evils of a gold standard before I would incur the responsibility of law to an attack on our silver coin and to the subversion of our form of government by loading it down with ungovernmental functions.

Every true democrat, and every man who would have the government take the property of the country's railroads and telegraphs who would restrain the strong arm of the law from the suppression of disorder.

Even if I believed that the Democratic party in the United States independently and alone would, under proper conditions, restore bimetalism, I could not bring myself to support so selfish and impotent a undertaking as men of Bryan's experience or associations, and I would suffer forever the alleged evils of a gold standard before I would incur the responsibility of law to an attack on our silver coin and to the subversion of our form of government by loading it down with ungovernmental functions.

Every true democrat, and every man who would have the government take the property of the country's railroads and telegraphs who would restrain the strong arm of the law from the suppression of disorder.

Even if I believed that the Democratic party in the United States independently and alone would, under proper conditions, restore bimetalism, I could not bring myself to support so selfish and impotent a undertaking as men of Bryan's experience or associations, and I would suffer forever the alleged evils of a gold standard before I would incur the responsibility of law to an attack on our silver coin and to the subversion of our form of government by loading it down with ungovernmental functions.

Every true democrat, and every man who would have the government take the property of the country's railroads and telegraphs who would restrain the strong arm of the law from the suppression of disorder.

Even if I believed that the Democratic party in the United States independently and alone would, under proper conditions, restore bimetalism, I could not bring myself to support so selfish and impotent a undertaking as men of Bryan's experience or associations, and I would suffer forever the alleged evils of a gold standard before I would incur the responsibility of law to an attack on our silver coin and to the subversion of our form of government by loading it down with ungovernmental functions.

Every true democrat, and every man who would have the government take the property of the country's railroads and telegraphs who would restrain the strong arm of the law from the suppression of disorder.

Even if I believed that the Democratic party in the United States independently and alone would, under proper conditions, restore bimetalism, I could not bring myself to support so selfish and impotent a undertaking as men of Bryan's experience or associations, and I would suffer forever the alleged evils of a gold standard before I would incur the responsibility of law to an attack on our silver coin and to the subversion of our form of government by loading it down with ungovernmental functions.

Every true democrat, and every man who would have the government take the property of the country's railroads and telegraphs who would restrain the strong arm of the law from the suppression of disorder.

Even if I believed that the Democratic party in the United States independently and alone would, under proper conditions, restore bimetalism, I could not bring myself to support so selfish and impotent a undertaking as men of Bryan's experience or associations, and I would suffer forever the alleged evils of a gold standard before I would incur the responsibility of law to an attack on our silver coin and to the subversion of our form of government by loading it down with ungovernmental functions.

Every true democrat, and every man who would have the government take the property of the country's railroads and telegraphs who would restrain the strong arm of the law from the suppression of disorder.

Even if I believed that the Democratic party in the United States independently and alone would, under proper conditions, restore bimetalism, I could not bring myself to support so selfish and impotent a undertaking as men of Bryan's experience or associations, and I would suffer forever the alleged evils of a gold standard before I would incur the responsibility of law to an attack on our silver coin and to the subversion of our form of government by loading it down with ungovernmental functions.

Every true democrat, and every man who would have the government take the property of the country's railroads and telegraphs who would restrain the strong arm of the law from the suppression of disorder.

Even if I believed that the Democratic party in the United States independently and alone would, under proper conditions, restore bimetalism, I could not bring myself to support so selfish and impotent a undertaking as men of Bryan's experience or associations, and I would suffer forever the alleged evils of a gold standard before I would incur the responsibility of law to an attack on our silver coin and to the subversion of our form of government by loading it down with ungovernmental functions.

Every true democrat, and every man who would have the government take the property of the country's railroads and telegraphs who would restrain the strong arm of the law from the suppression of disorder.

Even if I believed that the Democratic party in the United States independently and alone would, under proper conditions, restore bimetalism, I could not bring myself to support so selfish and impotent a undertaking as men of Bryan's experience or associations, and I would suffer forever the alleged evils of a gold standard before I would incur the responsibility of law to an attack on our silver coin and to the subversion of our form of government by loading it down with ungovernmental functions.

GREAT BRITAIN TO ACT ALONE

Will Be Independent in Dealing with Turkey.

LORD SALISBURY'S RECENT DECISION

Instructions Sent to Sir Phillip Currie--The Entire Blame for the Recent Massacres is Now Placed on the Porte--The British and American Bots Will Be Welcomed by Foreigners at Constantinople.

London, Sept. 2.--It is believed in official circles here that the Marquis of Salisbury has determined to pursue his own course at Constantinople in future and that he has given the British ambassador, Sir Phillip Currie, precise and significant instructions with greater powers, to command naval aid in enforcing the demands of Great Britain.

The Constantinople correspondent of the Times cables an announcement that the ambassadors of the Powers are preparing a note to the sultan supplementary to the recent note and telegrams of warning in which the sublime porte was told that failure to suppress the riots in the streets of Constantinople, precipitated by the attack on the Ottoman bank by the Armenians, was endangering the existence of the Turkish empire.

Berlin, Sept. 2.--The Vossische Zeitung's Constantinople correspondent says that the British minister is desirous of detroning the sultan, whose palace is now constantly guarded by 15,000 men.

THE SULTAN AGITATED.

Constantinople, Sept. 1, via Sofia, Bulgaria, Sept. 2.--The much threatened Abdul Hamid II, Sultan of Turkey, is known to be in a very much perturbed state of mind, although the looked for success has been reported in the death of the Russian minister for foreign affairs, Prince Lobanoff-Rostovsky, and the "Shadow," as some English newspapers dub the head of the House of Osman, breathes more freely. In spite of this, the air is by no means clear, the entire blame for the recent massacres is now placed by the representatives of the powers upon the Turkish government and there are rumors that the outbreaks here have had their echo in butcheries of Armenians in several places of Asia Minor.

Consequently the return of the British fleet to Turkish waters cannot have anything but a salutary effect and the Americans here are greatly pleased to hear that a squadron of United States warships has been detailed to protect American interests, for there is no doubt that the American missionaries will once more be in serious danger.

It is believed that the representatives of this time last year are to be repeated Diplomatic remonstrances and similar representations when not backed up by a display of force have absolutely no lasting effect upon the Porte.

TOM BUTLER WON.

Springfield, Mass., Sept. 2.--The close finishes, fast time and the lack of disagreeable features made the big bicycle meet an immense success. The great tournament of '96 brought together at Hampden Park the most representative American bicycle men of the tournament. But the time made in various events was not so uniformly fast as last year. This is undoubtedly due to the fact that the racing was this year by single riders--last year by tandems.

The race of the day was, of course, the one mile international, professional, in which all the "big" men of the season's previous meets appeared, Tom Butler won, and in the best form, by a grand spurt at the last turn, Cooper finished second, by half a wheel, whereas fractions of inches measured the distance between Newton and Bald. Bald claimed that Cooper pushed him in the confusion on the upper turn of the second lap, which resulted in Newton's fall, and protested him. Referee Robinson this evening heard the evidence, disqualified and fined $50. Sanger finished tenth.

The complete superiority of Tom Butler over the rest of the riders was clearly demonstrated.

Summaries: Half mile, professional--Won by Tom Butler, Cambridgeport; E. C. Bald, Buffalo, second; Tom Cooper, Detroit, third. Time, 1:01 4/5.

Half mile open, amateur--Won by E. M. Blake, of Keeseville, N. H.; Joe Harrison, Ashbury Park, N. J., second; R. F. Ludwig, Chicago, third. Time, 1:06 3/5.

One mile, professional--Won by A. W. Porter, Newton, Mass.; W. J. Helfert, Utica, second; F. J. Jenny, Utica, third. Time, 2:01 4/5.

Three mile, amateur--Won by C. C. Ingram, Dixville Notch, N. H.; Ray Davidson, Brooklyn, N. Y., second; Joe Harrison, Ashbury Park, third. Time, 2:07.

Mile, international, professional--Won by Tom Butler, Cambridgeport; Arthur Gardner, Chicago, second; E. C. Bald, third. Time, 2:05 2/5.

Two mile handicap, professional--C. J. Lacle, Northampton (20 yards); Geo. L. Bates, Springfield (20 yards); second; J. B. Bowler, Chicago (80 yards), third. Time, 4:20 3/5.

One mile handicap, amateur--A. M. Christie, Meriden, Conn. (40 yards), won; P. A. Gately, Boston (70 yards), second; R. M. Alexander, Hartford (40 yards), third. Time, 2:09 3/5.

Bardsley's Case Continued. Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 2.--The board of pardons this afternoon recommended a pardon in the case of Robert Bardsley, the alleged Homestead poisoner. The case of John Bardsley, ex-city treasurer of Philadelphia, will be further considered on Friday.