Tonight on a Special Train-- To Be Greeted and Banquetted--Sacred Concert Tomorrow Night- . Excursion to Farview on Monday.

One event above all others in th pleasure calendar of the mirth and nusic-loving Leiderkrnaz, is their an nual saengerfest, which begins tonight and continues tomorrow and Monday This year it is proposed to make the fest outshine all former occasions of a like character. The committee of arnor expense in preparing the programme of entertainment and as a result it is of a most varied and elaborate nature

Tonight will be given up to welcoming the special guests of the occasion, the famous Franz Schubert Maennerchor of New York city. The Schubers will come 150 strong and will travel to and from Scranton in a special train over the Lehigh Valley and Delaware and Hudson roads. They will arrive at 7.45 o'clock p. m., and will be met by the Julius Cohn and which is fitted out Leiderkranz and Bauer's full hand, and escorted to the quarters secured for them at the Westminster and Valley

"KOMMERS" TONIGHT.

This evening about 9 o'clock a banquet, or to be more exact, a "Komters" which is a feast of welcome, will e given in the visitors' honor at Music Hall. The ladies who accompany them vill be entertained at the "Elk" by the number of the local German singing societies will be at the "Kommers" to help receive the visitors. Dr. L. Wehlau will preside.

On Sunday the visitors will be shown about the city. Escort committees for the different interesting points have The illuminated exterior of an Irish been delegated from the Leiderkranz nembership. The visitors can be enolled in any party they may choose. Sunday evening the Schuberts will give sacred concert at Music Hall. It will be of the highest order of merit. They will bring with them several noted soloists, among them Miss Mary Brandis, one of New York's leading sopranos. A chorus, "There Are Yet Days of Roses," will be sung by the united singing section of the Maennerchor, the Leiderkranz and the Scranton Saenrerunde, 250 volces in all. Choruses, solos, etc., by the Schuberts will make up the first part of the programme. The econd part will be an operata in which the whole New York society will take part. The programme will be under the direction of Professor Hein, the noted director of the United Singers of New York, FARVIEW EXCURSION. Monday morning at 8.30 o'clock the Leiderkranz, with their guests together with different singing societies from this city, Carbondale and Honesdale and a Wilkes-Barre delegation will go Stanley, and including Eleanor Carey to Farview to spend the day in picnicing. Bauer's full band and orchestra will go along. The return from Farview will be made at 5.30 and in the evening the fest will come to a close with the departure of the Maennerchor attempted her own life by drinking carbolic acid. She had become infatuated witht Policeman O'Brien, who is much older than she, and is attached to the Morrisania station. She drank the acid on the street, and was taken in an ambulance to the Fordham hospital, where at first her life was despaired of. The girl, who is but seventeen and is daughter of George Fanning, a North End miner, met the policeman for the first time by accident. She had asked him the way to some address for which she was looking, and he had directed her how to reach it. She became captivated at once, and although her aunt, at whose house she was stopping, was not pleased at the manner in which the acquaintance was made, her words had no effect upon the girl.

AMUSEMENTS.

"He that soweth the wind, shall reap the whirlwind," has been the theme of many a sermon from the sacred desk but the terrible truth of the text has never been more vividly set forth than in Sydney Grundy's great play, "Sowrangements has spared neither pains ing the Wind," which will be seen at the Academy of Music Monday. Mr. Grundy would have more fitly named his play had he called it "Reaping the Whirlwind," for it is the harvest time of sin that he depicts. An old man stands face to face with a lovely woman, the child of his own youth, whose mother he had betrayed and forsaken. Their relationship to each other is unknown to both. On that situation rests the play, which is produced by an excellent company under the direction of with superb scenery and costumes. On Monday afternoon and evening Tony Farrell will appear at the Froth-ingham in a new play, "Garry Owen," which is termed an Irish comedy drama, and has an unusually interesting story running through it. It is entirely unlike the ordinary run of Irish comedy dramas, as the author was particularly careful to avoid utilizing any of the old conventional and threadbare fealadies' section of the Leiderkranz. A tures, which generally pervades Irish plays. In order to portray the action of the play in a proper manner the management has provided the company with new and elegant scenery, among which are a number of mechanical and sensational stage effects church with its cathedral organ and church choir of nine trained voices is generally conceded to be one of the most beautiful scenes of any of the many realistic sensational features which has been seen on the American stage. The play is interpreted by a carefully selected company of artists who have been chosen for their indiwho have been vidual capabilities. "Simplicity is one of the great charms of 'An Innocent Sinner,'" the new comedy drama by Lawrence Marston and Lillian Lewis, and in which Miss Lewis, America's most interesting actress, will appear at the Academy of Music September 8. The play is a plain tale of the lives and loves of the hill folks of Tennessee. Fifteen characters, each a strong type, tell the story to which a novelty is given by the ingenious weaving in of a hypnotic theme, about which the more intense dramatic periods of the drama turn There is no straining for effect. Lillian Lewis is supported by a carefully selected company, headed by Lawrence Maud LeRoy, Ida Burrows, Mrs. Frank Tannehill, David M. Murray, J. P. Keefe, Edwin Brown, Frank Calburt Frederick Lauder and C. H. Kittredge

ROMANCE, NOT TRAGEDY.

Its Ending Was Much Happier Than the Beginning.

A romance in which a Scranton girl next week. appears was revealed in yesterday's New York Journal. That paper con-tained a story to the effect that in the announcement that Miss Kate Fanning was married to Policeman Edward O'Brien was contained the sequel to a romance which a few weeks ago threatened to end in a tragedy. The wedding was performed in St. Augustine's church, One Hundred and Sixty-seventh street and Franklin avenue. #### THAT WEST MOUNTAIN BABE.

It is Accepted as a Charge on the Poor District.

At the meeting of the poor board yes terday, by request of the Sisters of St Joseph's Foundling Home, the babe found on the West Mountains was re ceived as a charge on the district. It was the intention of the Sisters to have the child indentured to the South Sidcouple who are willing to adopt it, but they neglected to state this and for economy's sake Mrs. Swan's proposition that it be sent to the Hillside Home was adopted. It developed that after the meeting that the child is now "out on trial" with the people who propose to adopt it and for the present it will not b sent to the poor farm. At the next meeting it will likely be indentured to its South Side admirers.

Despite its terrible experience th hild is said now to be a fine healthy One of the several applicants for ou door relief was Mrs. Catherine Samp son, colored, whose husband recently deserted her, and who, she has learned is living with a white woman in Cort land, N. Y. She was allowed $5 a month. Dr. Strang, the resident physician reported he wrote 416 prescriptions during the month, and that on September 1, there were 184 patients remaining in the asylum. Superintendent Beemer' heport showed that there were 162 in the almshouse. During the month 27 were admitted, 11 were discharged and two died.
