Sale of High Class Hosiery

BEGINNING THURSDAY, SEPT. 3.

A Word Of Explanation.

Conditions with which we are all more or less familiar have completely upset all the calculations of importers. There is a widespread craze for low-priced goods and dealers in fine, foreign-made hosiery find themselves generally loaded down with big stocks and heavy obligations, and little cash to meet them. Banks will no longer discount paper readily, and when hard pinched for money there is but one thing left for the importer, and that is to find a firm that has the ready cash to help him out in exchange for goods on the best terms he can make with them.

These facts explain why we are enabled to offer such extraordinary values, for these are the conditions under which we bought the goods.

Important.

We may add that the goods offered below are with one exception exactly the same as regular numbers we carry in stock, and the figures we bought them at are lower than those asked by the manufacturers in Europe, as we know by experience.

BRYAN ADDRESSES THE WORKINGMEN

A Large Audience Greets the Willie of the Platte.

AN EULOGY ON AMERICAN LABOR

Did Not Make a Political Speech, but Advised People Not to Vote According to the Ideas of Their Employers, His Address Was Applauded at Frequent Intervals.

Chicago, Sept. 7.—As early as 10 o'clock Sharpshooters' Park began to fill up with men and women and by twelve every seat before the speakers' stand was taken by people who sat in the boiling sun for two hours to get a chance to hear the orator of the day. A few minutes after 2 o'clock half a dozen carriages bearing the Bryan party arrived at the park and were followed into the grounds by a cheering, running crowd of men and boys. Without sufficient police protection Mr. Bryan was forced to push his way through the crowd at the speaking platform, and after shaking half a hundred outstretched hands he dropped to a seat with his party following, amid the same obstacles to their passage. In Mr. Bryan's carriage were Edward Carroll, president of the Building Trades council; J. G. McKinley, president of the Carpenters' district council, and J. J. Ryan, a local labor leader.

The crowd of 15,000 was a motley and disorderly one and it was fifteen minutes before Chairman Carroll could be heard. Nobody wanted to hear him, and he quickly introduced the man for whom the thousands kept up an intermittent fire of "Hurrah for Bryan." The crash around the platform was so great that several women fainted and narrowly escaped being trampled upon. Mr. Bryan appealed for quiet, and finally it was accorded him, broken occasionally by cries of "Good boy, Willie." The speaker began with an eulogy on American labor.

Although his audience was largely in sympathy with him politically, judging by the general manifestations and the absence of any hostile demonstrations, Mr. Bryan did not make a partisan speech. He said he did not intend to disregard the proprieties of the occasion by entering into a discussion of partisan questions. His speech was devoted to an exposition of the form of government in this country, its usefulness and its abuses; to an appeal to workingmen to maintain the integrity of the ballot, to bring about a reformation in the conditions which surrounded them if they were discontented and wanted a change.

He told the people not to vote according to the ideas of their employers and was greeted with tremendous appause. Discontent lay at the foundation of all progress. He impressed upon the workingmen the importance of voting only as their judgment and conscience dictated. When he said: "Some people have criticized labor organizations," voices cried "Hanna," derisively. His address was applauded at frequent intervals.

BRYAN'S SPEECH.

Mr. Bryan said in part: Ladies and Gentlemen: I desire to thank the building and trades council for this opportunity which they have extended me of speaking to the people assembled on Labor Day. Labor Day has become a fixed event among our institutions and it is well that it is so, because on this day, all over this nation those who are engaged in the production of wealth meet in order that they may commune with each other, discuss those questions in which they are especially interested, and emphasize before the world that there is nothing dishonorable in the fact that one earns his bread in the sweat of his face. I am glad to stand on this day in the presence of those to whom this nation is so largely indebted for all that it has had, for all that it has now, and for all that it can hope to have. I am not indulging in idle flattery when I say to you that no part of the people of the world are so important to the welfare of mankind as those whose labor and brains convert the natural resources of the world into material wealth. I might quote to you what Mr. Carlisle said to these people in 1878, when he described them as the struggling masses who produced the wealth and who paid the taxes of the country. He did not praise them too highly. The struggling masses not only produce the wealth and pay the taxes in time of peace, but the struggling masses have ever been and must ever be the nation's surest protection in time of peril. The speaker then took from his pocket the copy of an address by Abraham Lincoln delivered in congress, from which he quoted certain paragraphs, one of which called attention to an effort made to place capital on an equality with labor in the structure of government and following with the assertion that capital is only the fruit of labor and could have never existed without it. "Labor," said Lincoln, "is superior to capital and deserves much higher consideration."

HE QUOTES SOLOMON.

Mr. Bryan followed with a quotation from Solomon and continued: "Solomon favored neither poverty nor riches. He regarded that condition best which is not at either extreme, but lies between the extremes, neither great riches nor abject poverty, furnish us the soil in which grows the best civilization. Those who are pressed by poverty lose the ambition, the inspiration, the lofty purpose that are necessary to lead one on to the greatest achievements, and those who possess too great wealth, lose the necessity for labor—that labor which is absolutely essential to the development of that which is best in human nature. Solomon was right, therfore, when he praised this intermediate condition for the great middle classes are the bulwark of society and from the middle classes have come almost all the good that has come to bless the human race.

Let me call your attention to the fact that when the meek and lowly Nazarene came among men and preached peace on earth and good will towards men he was not welcomed by those who are described as people who devour widows' houses and under pretenses made long prayers, but when he gave that great commandment "love thy neighbor as thyself" who listened to him? The Scripture tells us it was the common people who listened to his commandments and who welcomed him, it is the greatest compliment ever paid to the master. The Scriptures say the common people heard him gladly—and the common people are the only people who have ever heard gladly any man who preached humanity and equal rights. (Prolonged cheers.

THERE ARE EXCEPTIONS.

I don't mean to say that there are no exceptions to the general rule. There have always been found among the richer classes those who are filled with the spirit of philanthropy, there have always been

JOHN BARDSLEY'S CASE.

Governor Hastings Will Be in No Hurry to Grant the Pardon.

Harrisburg, Sept. 7.—Governor Hastings arrived at the executive department from Bellefonte and at once began clearing his table so as to be able to leave tomorrow evening for Erie, where he will make a speech before the Republican clubs on Wednesday night. He said tonight that he had not taken up the Bardsley matter and said he would not be in a hurry to do so. The board of pardons has had three years to consider the case and he does not propose to dispose of it in a day or two.

He denies the statement of a Philadelphia paper that he had appointed a commission of three physicians to examine Bardsley. He says no physician or commission of physicians were ever appointed by him. He has a letter from Dr. Charles K. Mills and Edward Martin, of Philadelphia, who say that Dr. John M. Musser with them made an examination of Bardsley on the 19th of August, and that they find him in bad shape physically. The governor says these physicians are personally unknown to him and were never commissioned by him to make any examination.

REPUBLICAN GAINS.

Arkansas Election Returns Show an Increase of 24,000 Votes Over the Count of Last Year.

Little Rock, Ark., Sept. 7.—The election held in this state today was for all state, judicial and county offices, including two-thirds of the legislature, which will elect a successor to Senator James K. Jones, chairman of the Democratic National committee. He has no opposition within his party and his re-election is an assured fact. As far as heard from, the election throughout the state passed off quietly and an unusually large vote was polled. The question of licensing saloons was the principal issue in the majority of the counties. Here in Little Rock it was the issue of the day. The Prohibitionists, or anti-license advocates, were defeated by a large majority. Democrats and Republicans had full tickets in the field, while the Populists and Prohibitionists nominated candidates for governor only. Republican returns received in this city up to 9 o'clock indicate that the vote will exceed 160,000, an increase of 24,000 over 1894.

At Democratic headquarters the election of Colonel Dan W. Jones, the Democratic candidate for governor, is claimed by 45,000 plurality. Chairman Cooper, of the Republican committee, disputes the claim, basing his estimates upon reports received late this evening. He says a large percentage of the increased vote was polled by negroes. Of the 205,000 poll tax receipts in this state 45,000 are held by negroes, 15,000 more than were paid by the negroes two years ago.

EXCURSION TRAIN DERAILED.

Narrow Escape of Six Hundred Passengers.

Baltimore, Sept. 7.—Odd Fellows from all over Maryland and Pennsylvania met at Penmar today for a great reunion. The Baltimore contingent filled two trains on the Western Maryland railroad. As soon as the train reached Mount Wilson on the return trip tonight the engine was derailed and turned over on its side.

The baggage car, too, left the track, but the coaches occupied by 500 or 600 excursionists remained on the track. A number of persons were bruised and cut by broken glass, but no one was seriously hurt.

WILL VISIT M'KINLEY.

Pennsylvania Railroad Employes Are to Take a Day Off.

Pittsburg, Sept. 7.—An excursion of railroad men will leave Pittsburg next Saturday to call on Major McKinley. The Pennsylvania railroad company has offered a train and a day off to the employes in its general offices in Pittsburg. Over six hundred of the men have signified their acceptance of the offer.

The office force of the Allegheny Valley road will accompany them, and the shopmen in the Pittsburg territory have applied for accommodations.

BICYCLE ACCIDENT.

Harry Warner Runs Into a Carriage and Is Killed.

Philadelphia, Sept. 7.—One more casualty was added tonight to the list of fatal bicycle accidents. The victim was Harry Warner, aged 22 years, who ran into a carriage at Thirty-third and Oxford streets and was so badly injured that he died in an hour at the German hospital.

The carriage was driven by William Rex, who was arrested, but afterward released.

Bynum Seeks a Wigwam.

Indianapolis, Sept. 7.—Chairman Bynum, of the National Democratic party, went to Chicago this morning to find suitable headquarters of the national committee. He stated before leaving that the remainder of the executive committee will probably not be appointed until he meets the nominees at Louisville on September 12, at which time also the secretary will be named.

Gold Medal for Bravery.

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 7.—Arthur Schneider, vice consul of Belgium in this city, today pinned on the lapel of the coat of Victor Adams, a Belgian plate glass worker of Charleroi, a gold medal conferred by King Leopold for bravery and courage in rescuing five of his countrymen from drowning in the Monongahela river on July 15, 1895.

Big Fire at Wysox.

Towanda, Pa., Sept. 7.—The house, barn and outbuildings on the Patrick farm, in Wysox, the property of John C. Piolett, were burned this afternoon. The loss will amount to $10,000, is partially covered by insurance.

Li at Toronto.

Toronto, Sept. 7.—Earl Li Hung Chang and his numerous retinue reached Toronto late this afternoon by a special train accompanied by Sir Henry Jolly, representing the Dominion government.

On Account of Mike Lee.

Sharon, Pa., Sept. 7.—Maggie Reardon, aged 21 years, shot herself in the street this morning, dying instantly. She had quarreled with her lover, Mike Lee.

MAJOR M'KINLEY HAS A HOLIDAY

He Reads Papers and Views the Labor Day Bicycle Parade.

SHAKES HANDS WITH 20 SCRIBES

Delegations Desiring Future Dates. Editor Robinson, of the Railway Age, Sends a Cheering Message. The Editorial Associat on Will Be Received Today.

Canton, O., Sept. 7.—Major McKinley had something of a holiday today. He read letters and newspapers most of the morning and viewed the labor day bicycle parade from his porch. He was cheered by those in the parade and so was the handsome new flag which was unfurled in honor of the occasion. At noon about 20 newspaper correspondents called on Major McKinley to shake hands with him and congratulate him on the manner in which he is sustaining the continuous hard work of the campaign. In the afternoon Mr. McKinley took a long drive into the country. This evening a number of friends came in and he and Mrs. McKinley spent the time chatting with them and listening to some good vocal and instrumental music.

Several delegations have asked for dates today. Among those expecting to come to Canton soon is a large delegation of women from Cleveland. Major McKinley had a number of callers this evening. Among them were J. G. Johnson, of Montana; Representatives R. Harris, of Ohio; Colonel Fisher, of Denver, Col.; Wilbur F. Wakeman, of New York; Colonel R. B. Brown, of Zanesville, and Hon. J. M. Eckles, of Newark, Ohio. The Republican club of Oil City, Pa., have telegraphed that they will be here to call upon Major McKinley on September 27. Among the dispatches received late this evening was the following:

Chicago, Sept. 7.

Hon. William McKinley:

As a bit of good news for Labor Day, I take pleasure in informing you that the number of railway men's sound money clubs now organized has reached 300, with an aggregate membership of 120,000, and the ball has only started rolling.

(Signed) Harry P. Robinson, Editor of the Railway Age.

A number of Ohio editors arrived tonight to attend the meeting of the State Editorial association Tuesday. Major McKinley will address the editors tomorrow afternoon.

WOULD WED HIS MOTHER-IN-LAW.

Love Affair at Fall River, Mass., Nipped by Indignant Relatives.

Fall River, Mass., Sept. 7.—Widower Charles F. Borden, aged 42, senior member of the firm of Borden & Remington, who control the drug trade of southern New England, tried unsuccessfully to marry his mother-in-law, Mrs. Elizabeth Remington, aged 63, widow of Robert K. Remington, one of the most distinguished men of whom Fall River ever boasted.

Mr. Borden's wife died one year ago, and six months ago her mother and Mr. Borden began their courtship. The fact was not known until the license was procured, when it was stopped by the indignant relatives of both parties.

TRAGEDY AT RICHMOND.

A Father Shoots and Kills the Betrayer of His Daughter.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 7.—A terrible tragedy was enacted tonight on Broad street, the principal business thoroughfare of the city. James E. Wimmer, aged 46, a blacksmith working at the Richmond locomotive works, stabbed and killed S. G. Thalheimer, son of Charles Thalheimer, a well known liquor merchant.

The cause of the homicide was the alleged betrayal of Wimmer's partially paralyzed daughter by young Thalheimer. Thalheimer walked about a half block and then fell dead. Wimmer surrendered himself.

ANTI-VIVISECTION SOCIETY MEETS.

Reports for the Year Read and Officers Elected.

Aurora, Ill. Sept. 7.—The fourth annual meeting of the Illinois Antivivisection society was held yesterday in this city. The usual preliminaries were followed by the report of the secretary, Mrs. Fairchild Allen. Officers were elected as follows:

President, Mrs. A. K. Perry; vice presidents, Mrs. I. K. Suthphin and Mrs. M. G. Snover; secretary, Mrs. Fairchild Allen; treasurer, White Dawson; recording secretary, Miss Josephine Thompson.

TOM WATSON TALKS.

He Claims to be the Mascot of the Silver-Populistic Ticket.

Dallas, Tex., Sept. 7.—Tom Watson, of Georgia, addressed five thousand persons at a Labor Day celebration at the state fair grounds this forenoon. His speech was purely a Populistic political effort. He devoted most of his time to personal attacks on Sewall. The Democratic candidate for vice-president, he declared, would not retire from the race in Sewall's favor.

"If Bryan wins," he said, "it must be as Bryan and Watson. If Bryan is defeated he can blame Sewall."

LATE STRAWBERRYS SELL WELL.

Indiana Firm Pays a Fancy Price for the Michigan Fruit.

Benton Harbor, Mich., Sept. 7.—A crate of ripe strawberries was picked in several of the patches here today and sold to a commission merchant of Kokomo, Ind. They brought a fancy price.

Newman, Ill., Sept. 7.—Nelson Harbart, who resides west of this city, has three cherry trees in full bloom. A large crop of fruit was picked from the trees in June, and if frost delays its coming a short time a larger crop than the first one will be gathered.

ANTIETAM DELEGATES.

Assistants of the United States Battle Field Board.

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 7.—Governor Hastings today commissioned Captain Sylvester H. Martin, of Philadelphia; John D. Vaudier, of Philadelphia; John M. Wallace, of Philadelphia, and Samuel G. Boon, of Berks county, as delegates to assist the United States Antietam battlefield board in locating the position of organizations from this state in that battle.

Alexander G. Morris, of Blair county, and T. B. Patton, of Huntingdon, were appointed as delegates from Pennsylvania to the national prison congress at Milwaukee on September 26-30.

KATE FIELD'S BODY.

It Will Be Cremated in Hawaii or Sent to Boston.

Chicago, Sept. 7.—Before Kate Field left for Hawaii she advised Mr. H. H. Kohlsaat, editor of the Times-Herald, that she had provided in her will for the disposition of her remains in the event of death. Diligent search failed to discover this will until Friday last. Meanwhile the body has been lying in a vault at Hawaii. It appears from this will that Miss Field directed that her body be cremated and that her ashes, together with a plain gold ring worn by her, be placed in an urn and deposited above the coffins of her father and mother in Mount Auburn cemetery at Cambridge, Mass.

Mr. Kohlsaat has undertaken the immediate execution of these instructions, and has written to Consul General Mills at Honolulu making provision for the expense and directing that the cremation shall take place there if practicable, but that if not the remains shall be forwarded by next steamer via San Francisco and overland to Boston, where the desired disposition of them will be made.

REPUBLICANS AT ERIE.

The Advance Guard of the League Arrives.

Erie, Pa., Sept. 7.—Chairman Given, of the national committee for Pennsylvania, has appointed Mayor Robert J. Saltzman, of Erie, and ex-Judge Patterson Church, of Meadville, members of the campaign committee for Pennsylvania. Colonel J. A. Bliss, of Erie, has been appointed a member of the finance committee.

The advance guard of the Republican league club convention has arrived. M. B. Young, of Philadelphia, the league president, has opened headquarters at the Reed House and is a candidate for re-election. Other candidates for the presidency are: Isadore Sobel, of Erie, and James E. Burke, of Pittsburg. Burke is said to be Quay's choice.

NEW JERSEY BICYCLE RACES.

A Chapter of Accidents Developed by the Programme.

Bergen Point, N. J., Sept. 7.—The feature of the Labor Day games of the New Jersey Athletic club was the breaking of the world's record for 300 yards by Bernard J. Wefers, the Georgetown college and New York Athletic club crack, who ran the distance in 31 seconds. Wefers held the previous record of 31 1-5 seconds, which he made at the New York Athletic club fall games at Traver's Island last year.

The bicycle races developed a chapter of accidents. In the two mile Waller, of the New Jersey Athletic club, fell and broke his collar bone while in the one mile. Livingstone, of the same club, was badly shaken up.

HILEARY HERBERT'S VIEWS.

He Showers Compliments Upon Candidate John M. Palmer.

London, Sept. 7.—The Daily News will tomorrow publish an interview with the Hon. Hilliary Herbert, secretary of the American navy. In the course of the interview Mr. Herbert pays a high tribute to the character and abilities of the Hon. John M. Palmer, the candidate for the presidency of the gold Democrats, and says that his nomination will keep the true Democratic principles of honest currency and a low tariff before the nation.

He believes that the Bryan movement has reached its height and is now declining.

PYSCHE KNOT SAVED HER LIFE.

Miss Jennie Stewart's Ample Coiffure Prevents a Fracture of Skull.

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 7.—Miss Jennie Stewart was saved from fatal injury today by the Psyche knot of her hair. She was struck by an electric car and knocked over on a side track.

Her head struck the rail with great force, but the knot of heavy hair protected her and she suffered neither fracture of the skull nor concussion of the brain.

Li Hung Chang's Wreath.

Washington, Sept. 7.—The Chinese minister Yang Yu, accompanied by several members of his legation visited Mount Vernon today by special train and deposited on the tomb of Washington the handsome wreath which Li Hung Chang was prevented by inclement weather on Saturday from placing there with his own hands.

Adlai Will Speak.

Chicago, Sept. 7.—Vice President Stevenson arrived in the city today from Mackinac with his family. He called at Democratic national headquarters and spent more than two hours in conference with Chairman Jones. It was officially stated that "it is thought" Mr. Stevenson will make several speeches for Mr. Bryan in Illinois and other states.

Death of a River Man.

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 7.—Captain John R. Neeld, one of the best known river men, died at his home at Banksville at the age of 75 years.

ELECTION DAY IN ARKANSAS

The Republicans Had No Ticket in the Field.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET WAS ELECTED

Several Clashes Occur Between the Populists and Democrats--A Riot Reported from Clinton, Which Is Twenty-five Miles from a Telegraph Line.

Little Rock, Ark., Sept. 7.—Official returns received from the following counties late tonight give Daniel W. Jones majorities as follows: Miller (Texarkana), 500; Phillips, (Helena), 100; Woodruff, 1,900 out of a total of 2,500; Franklin, 600; Lafayette, 500; Sharp, 1,700. If these majorities are kept up throughout the state Jones and the entire Democratic ticket will receive 60,000 majority.

The Republicans had no ticket in the field, the opposition being an independent ticket composed of men, a majority of whom are but little known. The Populists scratched Files, their candidate for governor, and voted almost solidly for Jones, as did many of the sound money Democrats, who voted at all. The prohibition vote throughout the state shows a marked decrease. Several clashes occurred in the doubtful counties between the Democrats and Populists, notably was this the case at Clinton, Van Buren county, the place where Congressman Dinsmore was assaulted last week. Clinton is twenty-five miles from the nearest telegraph station, and it is impossible to learn full particulars, but it is thought here that no serious results came of the reported riot.

LABOR DAY OBSERVANCE.

Thousands of Artisans Parade in Various Cities About the Country.

Philadelphia, Sept. 7.—Although Saturday was the legal Labor Day in this state, the national Labor Day was observed here today, exchanges, banks, etc., being closed. Three thousand members of trades unions, headed by a contingent of the socialistic labor party, paraded this morning. The procession was headed by two young women who were dressed to typify trades unionism and socialism, respectively. The latter representative was dressed in red. The paraders marched to a local park, where Frank Gessner, of Pittsburg, and others made addresses.

Terre Haute, Ind., Sept. 7.—The Labor day celebration here was the largest both in the parade and the attendance at the fair grounds on record. President Debs, of the American Railway union, presided at the meeting and spoke briefly to an audience which received him with great applause.

Pittsburg, Sept. 7.—The National Labor day was not celebrated in this city today. Banks and exchanges were open as usual. The state labor day was observed Saturday.

NEGRO DEMOCRATS VISIT BRYAN.

He Is Assured of the Colored Man's Support in Chicago.

Chicago, Sept. 7.—A delegation representing the national negro Democratic league called on William J. Bryan at the Auditorium annex this morning. W. J. Scott, president of the league, headed the delegation, and, addressing Mr. Bryan, assured him of the colored man's support and his sympathy with a revenue tariff and free silver. Mr. Bryan responded briefly, remarking that it was a healthy sign to see the negro breaking away from his old-time relations with the Republican party and acting independently.

Ex-Governor Peck, of Wisconsin; Governor Lee, of South Dakota; Mayor A. W. Ely, of Galveston, Tex.; John T. McGraw, national committeemen from Tennessee, were among the callers at headquarters.

Congressman James Richardson, of Tennessee, chairman of the National Press Bureau at Chicago headquarters, arrived during the day and will begin active work tomorrow.

STATE TOPICS.

Compulsory education of school children will prevail at Dubois.

Labor Day was not very generally observed in Pennsylvania.

A Lancaster man paid $200 to the conscience fund of the state.

There are in Lehigh county 22,391 voters, of whom 8,276 live in Allentown.

A letter written three years ago in Chicago has just reached its owner at Reading.

A train at Derry struck and killed Daniel Wilhelm, a Pennsylvania Railroad brakeman.

Survivors of the Fifty-fourth regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteers, will have a reunion at Johnstown tomorrow.

Six months ago William Patterson, a Wilkinsburg carpenter, started to work one day and not a trace of him has since been seen.

FOREIGN GOSSIP.

Affairs are still unsettled in Korea and the king continues under Russian protection.

Emperor William's second son, Prince Eitel Frederick, was thrown from his horse and kicked.

The Chinese government has paid the indemnity for the outrages on American missionaries at Kiang Yin, and the chief conspirator has been punished.

The Socialist congress at Sieblichen, Germany, promises to witness personal encounters between Herr Liebknecht and the editorial staff of the Vorwaerts.

General Von Hahnke, the chief of the kaiser's military cabinet, will probably succeed General Von Loe to the command of the Brandenburg Marts and the governorship of Berlin.

Silver Convention Splits.

Washington, Sept. 7.—The following telegram was received at Democratic headquarters today from Montana: "Silver Bow Republican convention split on the question of the United States senatorship. Both conventions repudiated the St. Louis platform and endorsed Bryan and Sewall."

Herald's Weather Forecast.

New York, Sept. 8.—In the middle states, today, clear weather will prevail, fresh westerly to southerly winds, occasionally followed by higher temperature. On Wednesday fair and warmer weather and fresh southerly winds will prevail.
