yesterday's parade and then allowed them a holiday.

there will be a meeting to arrange for a

Poles Arrested for Sunday's Rioting Pay from $15 to $30 Each in Police Court.

Police court was crowded yesterday at the hearing of the rioters arrested Sunday at the Polish Catholic church.
Mayor Bailey presided and was anything but lenient with the offenders.

The prisoners would have preferred being bound over for court and expected that this would be done, but the authorities deemed summary punishment the more efficacious in their case.
Experience, the police claim, proves the wisdom of this course, for it was found that through the pocketbooks of the offenders the most effective punishment could be meted out.

Mrs. Annie Sillkowski and Mrs. Volun-tina Ventine were fined $15 each. Mrs.
Josephine Chonoki, the other of the trio of women, did not appear. She sent word that one of her ribs was broken and that the doctor would not allow her to appear. She forfeited the $25 deposited as bond for her appearance.

SOME OF THE LEADERS.

Kasimir Bonczkus and John Pedrick were fined $30 each. W. Sinter and Stanislaus Strumionick, who, while they did not take an active part in the conflict, were known leaders of the disturbance and were heard inciting the women to resist the officers. They were fined respectively $15 and $20.

Anthony Swinski and Joseph Urbanowicz were fined $20 each. Savilian Hrechiza, who was arrested Saturday night for being in the line of the riot, was fined $15. He had an open knife in his pocket when taken into custody.
All paid their fines with money subscribed at a meeting held Sunday night by the anti-Aust element.

Warrants are out for three of the leaders of the warlike element and the names of all implicated in Sunday's affair are being secured with the intention of bringing them to trial.

State Convention of Masters of the

The annual state convention of the

The sessions will be held in O. U. A. M. hall on Lackawanna avenue and will begin at 1 o'clock p. m.

There will be about one hundred delegates in attendance, Philadelphia sending a large representation in a special car over the Delaware and Hudson road.

Scranton Business College.

The rush continues. Buck, Whitmore yesterday, but were not quite prepared for the number that came for both sessions.

to their utmost capacity.

BOTHER AT BOLAND'S
BRYAN-SEWALL CLUB

Eye-of-Convention Meeting Adjourns Amid Confusion.

THEY REPUDIATE THE OFFICERS

Because They Were Foisted on the Club by Alleged "Snap" Work; Also Because Objectionable Persons Were Among Those Chosen, and Also Because It Was a "City Hall" Crowd--A Smile and Merry Twinkle That Vanished.

It was a hard blow to Mr. Boland.
There had been mutterings of discontent and certain developments have caused him to suspect that there were breakers ahead, but he was wholly unprepared for them. It came at the close of last night's meeting of Mr. Boland's Bryan and Sewall club.

During the week the city treasurer secured the county for free silverites who had formerly been identified with the Republican party and last night had them on exhibition at the meeting.
There were fully six of them and each was billed to make a speech. As one after another at Mr. Boland's invitation got up and told the party's "fault" he had to find with some monotonous of the virtues he had discovered in free silverism.
Mr. Boland would cast his eye over at the reporter's desk to see if the scribes of the sound money press were taking notes.

There was a merry twinkle in his eye and a certain smile on his face which as much as said: "Just tell your gold bugs about that in the morning." Once he provoked much laughter and applause by hoping "that The Tribune reporter would make mention of the large number of Republicans who were present."

JUST AN INCIDENT.

There was a little incident which Mr.
Boland did not call the reporter's attention to. It was this way:

At the previous meeting of the club a committee on permanent organization was appointed. The committee at the opening of last night's meeting submitted a report and it was adopted without discussion or dissent. The recommendations were C. G. Boland, president; L. P. Wedeman, vice president; D. J. Reedy, corresponding secretary; H. T. Koehler, treasurer; executive committee, Edward Merrifield, W. J. Burke, A. T. O'Boyle, E. J. Lynett, P. J. Keally, D. P. Replogle, W.
W. Baylor, J. F. Hammes, Joseph O'Brien, D. P. Battle and E. F. Blew-itt.

As the meeting was drawing to a close Chairman Boland requested the members of the executive committee to wait for the meeting, as there was some business for them to attend to.
"Executive committee?" queried Ben Castles. "Has an executive committee been elected?"

"Yes, sir," answered the chairman.

"Tonight again queried Mr. Castles.

"I guess it was before you came in," remarked Mr. Boland.

"I guess it was," said Mr. Castles.

Then he proceeded to tell them what he thought of their way of doing business. He had, he explained, attended every meeting of the club and it was never the custom to begin business much before 8.30 o'clock. On this occasion he arrived at the hall at eight minutes past eight and found that the most important business of the club had been transacted. He had also learned that the meeting had skipped the first two orders of business in order to get at the report of the committee on permanent organization.

MR. HONAN SAYS THINGS.

"It was a snap committee," interrupted P. J. Honan, who sat next to Mr.
Castles.

"There was something unusual about it," said Mr. Castles. "There are men on that committee whom I would not have voted for."

"There is just this about it," again broke in Mr. Honan, leaning forward for his hat. "It's a city hall committee and I repudiate it."

There were cries of "Hear! hear!" and as Mr. Honan moved toward the door he was followed by many others who took that means of showing their sympathy with Mr. Honan's sentiments.

As Mr. Honan stood on the threshold he shouted out loud enough to be distinctly heard above the din about the chairman's desk: "A few men can't run the Democratic party. Backsliders and pledge-breakers have no place in the ranks, anyhow."

Mr. Castles was trying to get an audience, but the chair refused to argue the question any further. There was a general protest against this amid shouts of "Give him a hearing!" and the like. Mr.
Boland insisted, however, that the executive committee had to meet and he could not allow an unnecessary prolonga-tion of the club meeting.

The crowd filed out slowly, some upholding the chairman and others declaring that they did not propose to have anything objectionable sprung on them if they knew it.

Those who spoke at the meeting were C. Comegs, Edward Merrifield, D. J.
Reedy, D. P. Replogle, Dr. J. P. Sackler, L. P. Wedeman, W. J. Burke, Michael Duffy and Nathan Vidaver.

Mr. Burke cautioned the county Democratic not to allow any "snake" to creep into the resolutions." Mr. Duffy offered a motion that the club recommend to the convention that no candidate be named who would not subscribe to the Chicago platform. His motion was not put, however.

NOBODY KNOWS.

Not Even a Guess on the Outcome of Today's Democratic County Convention.

Just what today's county Democratic convention is going to develop no one can say. Unless a slate is made this morning there will be a free-for-all fight. There are various combinations on the minor offices but the head of the ticket is not being figured in on any of the deals as far as is known.

There is a suspicion that the city hall ring has something up its sleeve and will try to force it through in the confusion that will surely reign.

It looked last night as if the Democrats were all at sea. The only settled thing was that School Controller T. J.
Jennings would be selected as chairman.

Nathan Vidaver declared himself ready to take up the congressional fight but would not, he said, make any fight for the nomination. He would not deny that he was anxious for the honor. There may be an effort to induce Edward Merrifield to take it, but he has not, as far as is known, been approached on the subject.

For county commissioner there are

Wife of the Great Republican Leader Adds Her Testimony to That of Thousands of Others for Paine's Celery Compound.

Among the testimonials received this year by the proprietors of that greatest of all remedies, Paine's celery compound, are found many, as usual, from families of national reputation.
One of these is the following sincere statement that bears the signature of Agnes B. Quay, the wife of the Hon.
Matthew S. Quay, United States Senator, whom Pennsylvania so urgently named for the Presidency at St. Louis, Washington, May 15, 1896.
"Messrs. Wells & Richardson, Hurlington, Vt.

"Dear Sirs:—My daughter and I have been using your Paine's Celery Compound this spring with most beneficial results.
"These in an over fatigued condition will find it a gentle stimulant, and an excellent tonic, and I add my testimony to others without reluctance." The relative merits and efficiency of Paine's celery compound in making people well is clearly shown in the charter of the people who today rely on it to cure insomnia, nervous debility, persistent headaches and a rundown condition.
It is the power of rapid repair of the tissues that makes Paine's celery compound the great savior of life that it is.
It brings just the needed nutriment to the distracted nerve tissues all over the body and increases the volume of healthy blood so that a breaking down of some vital part is averted. While taking Paine's celery compound there is a general building up of the deep-lying issues of all over the body, and a throwing off of unneeded elements that clog and interfere with its healthy activity.

The story of the discovery and unparalleled success of Paine's celery compound is the story of a high purpose, steadfastly followed; the reward for the life-long study of the nervous system in health and disease. Prof. Edward E.
Fehling's discovery in the laboratory of the Dartmouth Medical School proved a monumental work in the art of dealing successfully with many diseases that were up to that time held to be obstinate of cure. Today rheumatism and neuritis, heart palpitation and nervous dyspepsia are taken in hand by Paine's celery compound with the absolute assurance of freeing the system of them entirely.
In this greatest of all remedies there is hope for every person distressed by symptoms of dyspepsia, impure blood, falling vigor or low nervous condition.

PASTORS' UNION OFFICERS

Rev. J. P. Moffatt, of the West Side, is Elected President--Special C. E. Services.

An election of officers took place at yesterday morning's meeting of the Scranton City Pastors' union in the Young Men's Christian association parlors.
The officers elected were: President, Rev. J. P. Moffatt, pastor of the Washington Street Presbyterian church; vice president, Rev. Thomas Bell, pastor of the Plymouth Congregational church; secretary-treasurer, Rev. A.
F. Chaffee, pastor Asbury Methodist church; the music committee, Rev.
W. J. Ford, Green Ridge Baptist church; Rev. W. F. Gibben, Dunmore Presbyterian church; Rev. J. B. Sweet, pastor Simpson Methodist Episcopal church.

It was the first meeting held since the early part of July. Rev. W. J.
Ford, the retiring president, presided.
After devotional exercises, Revs. W. H.
Stubbins, Thomas Bell and F. A.
Dony were appointed a committee on nominations and on their recommendation the officers mentioned in the foregoing were elected.

Regarding special services pertaining to the approaching state convention of Christian Endeavor societies in this city, Rev. Thomas Bell offered the following resolution which was unanimously adopted: "Resolved, That it be the sense of the Pastors' union that the pastors of the city be requested to devote some part of the Sunday preceding the Christian Endeavor State convention, namely, October 4, and also the Wednesday evening prayer meeting preceding it, to special consideration of and prayer for the convention and its work."

In presenting the resolution Mr. Bell explained that in the services convention subjects might be considered, but special prayer and a service for the convention should be given by the churches. The secretary was directed to notify all pastors not present of the devotion of the resolution Sunday preceding the Christian Endeavor State convention, read a paper on "The Diaconate."

The next meeting will be held on the first Monday in October.
