

Norman & Moore FIRE INSURANCE, 120 Wyoming Ave.

"Husband, this air is stuffy and bad; I'll get a divorce if there's to be had. Air that's pure, and a house that's bright, can only be found with The Suburban Light."

SUBURBAN ELECTRIC LIGHT COMPANY.

The greatest luxury in a modern home (next to a good bath room) is the Incandescent Electric Light. No flicking of switches or "up-to-date" without both. No business place without the latter.

Our system, using the alternating current, is absolutely safe from fire.

Lackawanna THE Laundry.

Special Notice

ABOUT Sept. 20th our new store will be completed, which will be the largest Carpet, Wall Paper, Drapery and Curtain Store in the State, and we will show the largest stock of new goods in each department ever shown in Scranton.

Williams & W. Andry Carpets, Draperies and Wall Paper. 127 WYOMING AVE.

CITY NOTES.

The Delaware and Hudson company paid yesterday at the White Oak and Jermyn mines.

A meeting of the railway committee of select council will be held in the city clerk's office this evening.

The Susquehanna Association of Universalists will meet at Kingsley, Susquehanna county, today and tomorrow.

The report of the mine inspectors who investigated the Twin shaft catastrophe will be made about the 25th of this month.

The funeral of Mrs. F. M. Cobb will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from her late residence, 22 Mulberry street.

Miss Mary Hill, of Moody institute, Chicago, addressed a gathering at the Young Women's Christian association hall last evening.

The Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company paid yesterday at the Store mine and today will pay at the Store and the Cayuga and Bribin mines.

Arthur Burkhouse, a 12-year-old Scranton street lad, was arrested by Patrolman Peters at 8:30 o'clock last night for climbing about the trusses of the Linden street bridge.

P. J. Farrell, of the Fourth ward, and James McCann, of the Fourteenth ward, have announced themselves as legislative candidates on the Democratic side in the First district.

There will be an adjourned business meeting of the Twin shaft catastrophe of the First Presbyterian church held in the lecture room this evening at the close of prayer meeting.

Marriage licenses were granted yesterday by Clerk of the Courts John H. Thomas to Thomas Myers and Lydia A. Moore, of this city; Michael Sieracki and Francesco Szyniska, of Priceburg.

The annual clam bake of the Scott township farmers will take place Friday at Lake Chapman. The committee consists of J. Nelson Graves, P. J. Lee, Dell Carpenter, E. L. Back and Dr. S. E. Lynch.

Nearly ever seat in Davis' theater was occupied last night with an audience that derived a great deal of amusement from "Little Trixie," as presented by the versatile May Smith Robbins and her excellent supporting company.

The will of Laura S. Gay, late of this city, was probated yesterday and letters testamentary were granted by Register W. E. Hopkins to Alderman Fred Fuller.

The will of Conrad Becker, late of this city, was probated and letters testamentary were granted to his two sons, Charles and Louis Becker.

The semi-annual meeting of the Tricounty Undertakers' association was held yesterday at the Lackawanna Valley house. Its members are from Lackawanna, Luzerne and Wyoming counties. It is a long established organization whose chief purpose is to discuss matters pertaining to the undertaking business and embalming.

Arrives Today.

Miss Katherine Timberman, the new teacher of Kingston's school for piano, voice and organ, arrives in the city today. The prestige which Miss Timberman has as a concert and oratorio singer in connection with the rare opportunities for study which she has had in Paris and London, places her in the front rank of American vocal teachers. Miss Timberman will be at the studio, 301 Madison avenue, corner of Linden street, tomorrow for the reception of pupils. Persons desiring an impartial opinion of their voices, free of charge, should permit Miss Timberman to hear them.

Rebelling Music School.

Instruction in piano, organ harmony and voice culture, 209 Washington ave.

Best Key West Cigars.

$3.00, $2.25 and $2.50 box. Coursen.

Read Williams' Business College ad.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

Under this heading short letters of interest will be published when accompanied, for publication, by the writer's name. The Tribune will not be held responsible for opinions here expressed.

Scranton, Pa., Sept. 5, 1896. Editor of The Tribune.

Dear Sir: Whereas an infamous lie has been circulated concerning Isaac P. Jones, the present candidate for legislative honors by certain malicious persons, there is not a grain of truth in the same. As a witness thereof we the officers of Cardinal's law lodge, No. 1, W. L. of America place our signatures.

John J. Henry, President. William W. Thomas, Treasurer. Job Jenkins, Secretary. John J. Evans, Cor. Secretary.

MERRIFIELD NAMED BY THE BOLANDERS

To Keep Out Vidaver or Any Other Anti-Ring Man.

CHOSEN AGAINST HIS WISHES

Five Scrantonians on the Ticket--No Recognition for Out-of-Town People--Clark's Friends Claim He was Crowded Out--No Germans Need Apply--Boland's Will Name a Man if Merrifield Declines.

The Democratic county convention yesterday nominated the following ticket:

For Congress--Edward Merrifield, Scranton.

For County Commissioners--W. J. Burke, Scranton; John Demuth, Scranton.

For Auditors--Robert E. O'Boyle, Scranton; P. W. Costello, Scranton.

The dominant power at the convention, the city hall ring, had not expected Mr. Merrifield and did not expect that he would accept the nomination. He was simply put in to defeat Nathan Vidaver, who is not of the ring's ilk. During the confusion at the close of the convention, when half the delegates had left the Music Hall auditorium and nearly everybody was crowding towards the street exits, a motion was made at the suggestion of Chairman Jennings, that the county committee be empowered to fill any vacancies on the ticket. Thus the ring succeeds in getting what it all along has striven for, the power of naming a candidate.

MR. MERRIFIELD'S STATEMENT.

Last night a Tribune reporter sought Mr. Merrifield at his residence on Wyoming avenue. He said he had not seen any committee, but of course had heard that he was nominated. At first Mr. Merrifield declared to the reporter that he would "expressly decline" the nomination, but after a few moments' thought decided to make this statement. It was written by Mr. Merrifield:

"This nomination is wholly unexpected and expressly against my wishes. I certainly appreciate the honor and feel grateful to the delegates for their good opinion. What I shall do, however, must be a matter for further consideration. I am very much averse to a political fight."

The opinion about town last night was that Mr. Merrifield will accept.

Owing to the fact that three caucuses were in progress during the morning, the convention did not meet until 11:30 o'clock, an hour and a half later than the scheduled time. The city hall people were at the Bryan and Sewall club rooms on Spruce street figuring out their programme for gaining sure and absolute control of the convention.

A party of old-time Democrats, some of whom favored William Connell for congress because they believed he would be the best representative from this district, and others who realized the necessity of electing a Democrat from this county who would have to stand on the Chicago platform, met at the St. Charles hotel and agreed to the endorsement of Mr. Connell, and combined on Clarke and Gilmarin for commissioners, and Warnke and Koch for auditors. Another crowd of delegates held forth at the Columbia, on lower Lackawanna avenue. They wanted to make E. F. Blewitt chairman and prevent any ring or faction from controlling the convention.

FIRST BLOOD FOR THE RING.

City Treasurer Boland and his men, however, outgeneraled them all. This was first made evident in the election of a temporary chairman. School Comptroller T. Jennings was nominated by D. J. Reedy, and Hon. John E. Roche was named by J. J. McAndrew, of the Twenty-first ward. Before the ballot had proceeded very far, Mr. Roche withdrew his name, saying that it was evident the convention did not want him for chairman. Mr. Roche made the motion to have Mr. Jennings' election declared unanimous and also introduced him to the convention. Upon taking the chair Mr. Jennings made a brief speech of thanks. A reference to Bryan was cheered, but not with any wild burst of enthusiasm.

John E. Gaffney and M. D. Flaherty were elected temporary secretaries without any opposition.

Chairman Jennings appointed the following committees:

Resolutions--D. J. Reedy, Scranton; T. C. Richards, Hazleton; E. F. Blewitt, Scranton; James Pidgeon, Carbonate; Stephen S. Sorick, Scranton. Credentials--George Timlin, Taylor; P. H. Gibson, Joseph Roser, Thomas E. Flynn.

Permanent organization--Joseph McNally, Scranton; John McAndrew, Scranton; Thomas Cummins, Archbald.

On motion of John M. Corbett, the convention took a recess until 2 o'clock.

During the noon recess M. F. Gilmarin, of Carbonate, withdrew from the candidacy for commissioner.

The morning session had not been attended by a very large crowd but in the afternoon the hall was packed to the doors. When 2 o'clock came around and there was no sign of the convention being called to order the delegates commenced clamoring for a speech and after a time Hon. A. F. McNulty was induced to take the platform. He declared that the Almighty chastiseth those whom he loveth most and as a proof of this held up the infliction of Grover Cleveland upon the Democratic party. He compared the Chicago platform to the Declaration of Independence and in a blood curdling, hair-raising, pyrotechnical peroration affirmed that "if Tillman and Altgeld were made anarchists by being contrasted with Governor Hastings" then he from the bottom of his heart was an anarchist of the anarchists, and such like.

PERMANENT ORGANIZATION.

When the smoke from the Hon. McNulty's burning eloquence had cleared away, Chairman Jennings announced the reception of reports of committees in order. The committee on permanent organization made the following recommendations all of which were accepted without a murmur:

CHAIRMAN--T. J. Jennings, Scranton.

SECRETARIES--John E. Gaffney, Scranton; John M. Corbett, Scranton; M. D. Flaherty, Scranton.

D. J. Reedy then read the local platform:

The Democrats of Lackawanna county in convention assembled, rejoicing in the fact that the party of Jefferson and Jackson has taken its stand where it rightfully belongs and always should be, as the party of the people, and against the trusts, the monopolists and the gold syndicates of Wall street and Lombard street, which have won exorbitant profits out of the necessities of the government caused by the enforced maintenance of the gold standard, do hereby resolve:

First--That we unqualifiedly endorse the nomination of William J. Bryan to be president of the United States, and we commend them to the support of the patriotic Americans of all parties.

Second--That the platform adopted by the Democratic national convention, seeking as it does the support of the people against the evils of a constantly appreciating currency, against the repetition of the raids of the gold syndicates upon the treasury, against the arbitrary interference of federal authorities in time of peace in the local affairs of a state, approaches nearest to perfection as a political creed of the common people than any other political deliverance of the present generation.

Third--That we regard the Democratic victories in the city of Scranton and the city of Carbonate last February and the change in the control of the executive departments of both those cities from Republican to Democratic support as a hopeful awakening of the local Democracy and an omen of the redemption of Lackawanna county this year and in the years to come.

Fourth--That we pledge a hearty and loyal support to the candidates nominated at this convention.

There was no great interest manifested in the resolutions and the applause following their reading was only half-hearted.

RULES COMMITTEE REPORT.

The committee on rules appointed at the recent meeting of the county committee reported, through Chairman E. F. Blewitt, the following resolution, looking towards the avoidance of a clash such as occurred at Allentown:

Resolved, By the Democrats in the county convention assembled, that the chair appoint a committee of members of this convention who shall meet within thirty days to so amend deficiencies in existing rules as to conserve to the better government of the county, and that said rules as amended shall be published in the Democratic press of the county and govern the party thereafter, until otherwise amended.

It was adopted without discussion.

The chair next announced that nominations for congress were as follows:

J. Reedy, floor manager for the city hall ring, named Edward Merrifield.

Senator McDonald named Nathan Vidaver, contending that it was such bold, intrepid young orators as him that Bryan would want as his lieutenants.

Thomas Gilgallon named Colonel F. J. Fitzsimmons.

Mr. Vidaver withdrew in favor of Mr. Merrifield, saying: "If he wants it, let him have it."

Colonel Fitzsimmons said he would be content to remain as a private in the ranks and also made his declination.

Mr. Merrifield's nomination was made by acclamation and a committee consisting of Colonel Fitzsimmons and Senator McDonald was dispatched to bring him before the convention. They went, but did not return.

Then came the county commissioner fight. Only three of the numerous candidates allowed their names to go before the convention. They were Select Councilman M. E. Clarke, of the Sixth ward; John Demuth, the present minority commissioner, and W. J. Burke, ex-county commissioner.

TALLY WAS MIXED.

As the balloting proceeded there were a number of squabbles among the delegates and Chairman Jennings was kept busy settling disputes. In the confusion the tally got mixed up and no two counts agreed. The secretaries, however, declared that their respective tallies agreed and their findings was accepted. It was as follows:

BURKE 119
DEMUTH 91 1/2
CLARKE 91 1/2

Clarke's friends who had been keeping tally declared their man had been counted out and for a time it looked as if there was going to be a brawl. They wanted a new ballot for all three candidates, as a contest between Clarke and Demuth meant Clarke's defeat, for it was Burke's desire to have a German on the ticket with him and consequently his friends would go in a body for Demuth. The chair however declared Burke nominated and ruled that another ballot should be taken to decide between Clarke and Demuth.

The voting had scarcely begun when Clarke withdrew his name, seeing that it would be useless to combat both the Demuth and Burke strength.

Ex-Mayor Loftus was first on the floor when the nominations for auditor were declared in order. In a fatherly kind of a way he told them E. J. Warner of Moosic was the man they wanted. "He's the son of a widow woman and let ye elect him," was his closing injunction.

Robert Emmet O'Boyle was placed in nomination by Dennis Gannon in a voice that was long and staccato telephone stock to drop. He characterized his man as the "Rising Star of the North," "the son of his father" and "a chip of the old block." His speech evoked more enthusiastic applause than any other utterance of the day.

FOR AUDITORS.

W. W. Baylor clamored for recognition for the rural districts and named Judon E. Callender, of South Abington, as the person delegated by the farmers to receive the desired recognition.

Joseph E. Dolgan, of Olyphant; Fred W. Warnke, of the West Side; P. W. Costello, William Koch and Fred W. Burge, of Scranton; and John J. Flynn, of Olyphant were also placed in nomination.

The ballot resulted as follows:

O'BOYLE 113 1/2
COSTELLO 95 1/2
CALLENDER 22
WARD 16
DOLPHIN 16
WARNKE 19
FLYNN 9
BURGE 9
KOCH 3

O'Boyle and Costello were declared elected. Ward, Warnke and Koch withdrew their names before the balloting was finished.

When the result was announced the delegates and spectators made a rush for the door and while everything was in a state of confusion the motion empowering the county committee to fill vacancies on the ticket was made and adopted.

Nothing had been heard from the committee that went out to seek Mr. Merrifield. One delegate shouted out: "Where's Merrifield?" His question was answered with a general laugh of derision. The convention scattered without hearing from either Mr. Merrifield or the notification committee.

KOEHLER GOT EVERY VOTE.

Second District Democrats Have a Very Tame Convention.

The Second district Democrats convened in the arbitration room of the court house yesterday morning and named Henry T. Koehler for representative. The only other bidder was Frank Moeller, but he did not receive even the vote of his nominator.

Chairman M. J. Donahoe called the convention to order and when Secretary John F. Moeller had read the call the roll of delegates was made up. Attorney Thomas P. Duffy was chosen temporary chairman and Secretary

Murphy continued. Permanent organization was effected with these two as officers.

The committee on resolutions, M. J. Coleman and M. J. Foley, submitted the following as its report:

The Democrats of the Second legislative district of Lackawanna county, in convention assembled, heartily endorse the nominees of the party for the offices of president and vice president of the United States, W. J. Bryan and Arthur Sewall, and the platform adopted at the national convention in Chicago. In these candidates we recognize sterling exponents of the principles and doctrines of Jefferson, Jackson and Tilden, and worthy successors to the illustrious founders of the party of the people.

Believing that commercial and industrial experience has proved a bimetallic monetary system, based on both gold and silver, to be the best and most serviceable for the whole business world, we direct attention to the indisputable fact that such a system regarded from the standpoint of either economic principle or selfish expediency will in a special manner prove beneficial to our own country, and, therefore, call upon all friends of silver and bimetallicism to vote for Bryan and Sewall, and to the best of their power to secure the restoration of silver to its position under the constitution, prior to the crime of 1873.

We invite the attention of the voters of the district to the record of the Republican legislature of 1895, unparalleled in partisan patronage and untrifled in its extravagance, which, as the Philadelphia Ledger, should insure the defeat of the greater number of those unfortunates who have been the faithful servants of the people, but mere henchmen of Senator Quay and the corporations.

We pledge our earnest support to the nominees of this convention as well as to the rest of the nominees of the Democratic party in county convention today.

Henry T. Koehler was placed in nomination for representative by Peter Regan, John Barrett, of the Twentieth ward, named Frank Moeller.

It was one of the last men to vote and to avoid impersonation he cast his vote for Koehler. Mr. Koehler was brought before the convention and accepted the nomination with thanks.

FOR FIREMEN'S DAY.

Some Arrangements Are Made by the Board of Engineers.

The board of engineers of the fire department met last night in Chief Hickey's office in city hall. Those present were: Chief Hickey, Councilmen Fred Durr and James F. Noone, and Assistants John Timin, Louis Schwass, M. McManus, J. J. O'Malley and Charles Raynor.

It was decided that the formation of the parade on Firemen's day, the 23d, will be on Washington avenue, right facing on Lackawanna. At 2:05 p. m. the parade will start at city hall and the order to march will then be given. The route will be along Lackawanna avenue to Seventh street, countermarching; and back Lackawanna avenue to Adams, to Spruce, to Jefferson, to Pine, to Washington. The reviewing stand will be on Washington avenue at the city hall.

Chief Hickey has issued invitations to all the councilmen to join in the parade. Carriages will be in waiting at the city hall. About 500 firemen will turn out. There will be eight bands to furnish music.

AN INNOCENT SINNER.

More Talent in the Caste Than Quality in the Play.

The talent which no doubt exhibits in the cast making up the "Innocent Sinner" company which appeared at the Academy of Music last evening is fortunate in its not having a play of more merit for its presentation.

The "Innocent Sinner" in question was a young orphan girl named "Hinda" whose varied emotions were presented with considerable ability, by Miss Lewis, although the cyclonic love scene in the last act in which Hinda appears as the party of the first part might have been tempered down several degrees to the very great improvement of that entire act. Mr. Lawrence Hanley is an actor of considerable talent and imparted a force and snap to the character of "Doc Jacob" which was appreciated by the audience. His counterfeiting of the hypnotist in the first act was quite clever. Mr. Murray as "Tom Bridges" and Miss Carey as "Laughing Annie" were also good. The audience which was air-seized seemed pleased with the production.

AND THE PROHIBITIONISTS.

Will Hold a Convention and Name a Full Ticket.

The Prohibitionists will hold a county convention at the Academy of Music tomorrow afternoon and will place in nomination a full, or rather, complete ticket. The congressional candidates are Professor H. H. Hooper, of Carbonate, W. H. Richmond and W. W. Lathrop, of this city.

Giles Clark, of the First district; John T. Broadbent of the Second district; Ira Davis, of the Third district and Fred Ferber, of the Fourth district are mentioned as legislative candidates.

Their campaign will be opened on the night of the convention. Hon. John G. Woolley, of Chicago will deliver an address at the Academy.

SHORT BUSINESS SESSION.

Held by the Board of Associated Charities Last Night.

A regular meeting of the Board of Associated Charities was held last night. Aside from the routine work of the board there was nothing of special interest except the monthly report of Mr. Duggan.

The total number of cases reported to her during the month just ended was 110, and all except 29 were found worthy and got assistance. Work was found for 19; transportation was furnished for 11; lodging and meals for 4; 12 were sent to charitable institutions, 9 to hospitals, and 4 returned to their friends.

Tomorrow Night's Lecture.

The Prohibitionists will present their ablest orator, John G. Woolley, tomorrow night at the Academy. He will speak under the Central League auspices. Mr. Woolley is not only recognized as the greatest platform speaker of the Prohibition party, but he stands unrivaled for his work in behalf of christian citizenship, which movement he originated. He speaks every night to overflowing houses. The reserved seat diagram is open.

On a Gold Basis.

The School of Art and Design, 653 Madison avenue, will reopen Sept. 14, Miss Worthington, principal.

The Misses Merrill's School.

The Misses Merrill's private school for primary and intermediate pupils, will open Monday, Sept. 14, 1896, 612 Jefferson avenue.

Read Williams' Business College ad.

FRANKLIN TROUBLE REACHES A CRISIS

John H. Reynolds Dismissed--Other Members Will Go with Him.

"SNAP" TACTICS IN MEETING

Rules Suspended and New Members Elected to Support the Successful Faction--An Insignificant Charge Was Made Against Reynolds--The "Old" Faction New in Control.

The crisis of the Franklin Engine company struggle was reached last night when eight new members were "snapped" into the company and John H. Reynolds was summarily deprived of his membership. The situation now sees James Beavers and his followers masters of the situation.

It was all done at a meeting of the company when sixteen of the seven-teen members assembled to do battle, faction vs. faction.

Since the recent investigation of the trouble by the city officials charges have been made against John H. Reynolds who was one of the younger element of the company and last night was scheduled by the majority for ousting him. And he went.

When President Frank Hutchinson called the meeting to order the following was the way the sides lined up: Old faction--Hutchinson, Allen, Griffin, the three Kimes, Beavers, Coslett and Hall; young faction--Snyder, Warnke, Reynolds, Daniels, Chase and Steinback, Score, 10 to 6.

After the regular routine business--a calm before the storm--the charges against Mr. Reynolds were brought up. He was accused of countermanding an order of his chiefs at the firemen's day celebration in this city about one year ago. In substance the charge was that he told Proprietor Fairchild, of Fairchild's Hotel, not to prepare for the Halsted company, which was the Franklin's guest, as arrangements had been made for a spread at St. David's Hall.

RETAINS HIS KEYS.

This was contrary to the orders of the Franklin executive committee in charge of the entertainment. It was claimed, the committee consisted of: Allen, Kime, Beavers, Coslett and Warnke, all "old" members except the last named. So Mr. Reynolds, being in the way of "harmony," was discharged. He was given no chance to defend himself last night, but by a vote of 10 to 6 he was expelled from the company. He departed from the meeting, but he took along with him his key and still holds the company uniform. These he refuses to give up to the company. He was followed from the meeting by Fred Warnke, a member of the "young" faction. This left the vote 10 to 4.

Then it was that the "snap" work was done. The president listened to eight propositions for membership in the company. The new names proposed were: John Lowry, David Nichols, Ben Allen (son of Fireman Thomas Allen), John Brown, Zeno Derby, Richard Davis, Bert Green and Simon Thomas. All of these men are supposed to be friendly toward the older faction, who so skillfully engineered them through.

Under the Franklin constitution one black ball against a proposed member prevents his election. John Coslett moved that the usual rule for balloting on new names be temporarily suspended. And the motion was carried by a vote of 10 to 4. This left a clear path for the eight new members and they were elected then and there. Thus the younger faction are completely swamped. They claim that the action in suspending the rules at the same meeting in which the motion is made is contrary to a clause in the company's by-laws. As the vote now stands the "old" faction stands against the young with a majority of twelve members.

ARRANGING FOR THE REUNION.

The 132d Regiment Survivors Will Meet Here on the 17th.

There was a meeting in Alderman Wright's office last night of the hundreds who belonged to the One Hundred and Thirty-second regiment of Pennsylvania volunteers. Their purpose was to make arrangements for the reunion which will be held here on the 17th of this month. About 100 veterans will visit the city, and it was to map out a suitable programme for their entertainment that the meeting was held.

Thomas M. Barrowman was chosen chairman and D. J. Newman, secretary. It was decided that the visiting comrades be treated to a trolley ride and luncheon in the evening. A committee with Colonel F. L. Hitebeck as chairman was appointed to solicit funds for the expense of entertaining the visitors.

Steam Heating and Plumbing.

P. F. & M. T. Howley, 231 Wyoming ave.

Read Williams' Business College ad.

Prices Cut IN HALF.

Bells and Waist Sets IN STERLING SILVER.

BERRY, THE JEWELER 423 Lackawanna Avenue.

Clarke Bros.' Very Best Patent Flour, per barrel, $3.75

Feed, Meal or Corn, per hundred, .70

Clarke Bros.' Celebrated Berkshire Sugar Cured Hams, per lb., .0934

Strictly Fancy Elgin Creamery Butter, per lb., .18

20 lbs. Granulated Sugar, 1.00

Choicest Light and Very Lean Bacon per lb., .054

These goods are warranted to be the finest sold in the city of Scranton.

CLARKE BROS. POWELL'S Music Store. PIANO SPECIALTIES: Chickering (The Standard of the World.) Ivers & Pond (With Patent Soft-Stop.) McPhail (With Compensating Rods.) Norris & Hyde (With Transposing Keyboard.) And other excellent makes. Prices and terms on application.

A. R. SAWYER, 132 Wyoming Avenue.

BEST SETS OF TEETH, $8.00

Including the painless extracting of teeth by an entirely new process.

S. C. SNYDER, D. D. S., 201 Spruce St., Opp. Hotel Jermyn.

GREAT BARGAINS IN MATTINGS AND RUGS.

Japanese Rugs, 9x9 ft., $5; some slightly damaged, $4.00

Japanese Rugs, 7-1-2x10-1-2, ft. $5; some slightly damaged, 3.50

Japanese Rugs, 3x3 ft., 60c. each.

Str