STILL ENSHROUDED 21 DEEP MYSTERY

Tuesday Night's Shooting Has Not Yet Been Explained.

THE VICTIM GIVES HIS VERSION

Says Two Masked Men Demanded Carriage, and in the Fight Following His Refusal They Shot Him. The Girl, Celia Clark, Says Ler Forest Hill cometery. First Story Was False. *

There is still no acceptable explanation of Tuesday night's mysterious shooting affray. Scholz and the Clark girl still adhere to their disjointed and somewhat improbable story that two men rushed out from the woods upon them and shot Scholz without cause or reason. He is too weak to give any extended description of the affair and she refused to go into details, claiming when pushed for an explanation that she "did not notice" that she "was too excited."

The police do not accept Scholz's and the girl's account of the affair but are at a loss to offer a better explanation. They worked on the theory that the girl's lover committed the deed but gave it up when it was found that this personage had been in the central city at the time when the shooting is supposed to have occurred, which is between 10.30 and 11 Welock. The lover known about the town as English Tim, Scholz and the girl started away at 9 o'clock. It is asserted that he was very jealous of her and this coupled with the report that he saw them start off together, led the police to suspect that possibly he followed in the direction they took and came upon them when they halled.

The report that the police had found the blanket and buffalo robe, left behind on the grass, is not true. Chief Robling and Lieutenant Davis hunted for them at 1 o'clock in the morning and again at daybreak, but no trace of them could w discovered. The police believe that the assailants may yet disclose their identity by trying to dispose of the robe and blankets.

SCHOLZ MAY RECOVER.

In the opinion of the hospital physician, Scholz's chances of recovery good. The bullet entered on the right side at the fifth rib, perforated the lung and lodged just beneath the skin at the extreme end of the right shoulder blade. No attempt has been made to remove the bullet owing to his weak condition. Scholz has another slight wound on the palm of his right hand about at the base of the thumb. It could have been caused, House Surgoon Blanchard says, by the same butlet which entered the breast.

A Tribune reporter saw him at the hospital last night and he told ma- Weichel, was for several years Clark girl when taken into custody. CHURCH TROUBLE IS NOT OVER YET

Father Aust Sleeps with a Breechloader Within Reach.

CARDINAL SATOLLI APPEALED TO

The Polish Catholic church troubles are not over yet. A meeting of those arrayed against Rev. Father Aust was held last night in Wilczek's hall on South Wyoming avenue, and they decided to remain as determined as ever from the pastorate. An ex-priest

Joseph Nytch, president of the antielement, and Martin Rabilga, trensurer, went to Baltimore and laid the case before Cardinal Saxolli. They arrequested to ternoon and made their report at the forward their credentials and dues to meeting. The cardinal did not give Vice President Goodman as promptly them any satisfaction, but told them as possible, as no vote will be allowed that Bishop Hoban will deal with their violence. Their interview was short and they returned in anything but a well pleased frame of mind.

The Rev. Mr. Dimpski made a speech and urged them not to submit to called on for remarks and responded, A collection was taken up to pay the fine of $50 imposed upon Mathias Surtermined to keep up the agitation against Father Aust who says he will remain on the ground and fight it out with them.

GUARD ON DUTY.

Since Sunday night about fifteen men have remained on guard around the church and priest's house. They any attempt is made to molest the priest after dark. Father Aust has been told that threats were made that the church and sisters' school and his house would be set on fire.

He asked the sisters to go away for awhile until the trouble is settled, but the school. Some one circulated the report that it was decided at the meeting in Wilczek's hall last night as soon as they adjourned to march-one going one way and another, another way, no two to go together, but all to march upon the church and take Father Aust out and batter down the house The police heard of this and for awhile the relephone wires were kept hor be tween the South Side and the central station. Lieutenant Zang, Patrolmen Harmerty, George Jones, Gescheidle, Boland, Sartor and Neuls were prepared to move toward the church at the first sign of an outbreak.

A Tribune reporter went to the church at 11.15 and everything was quiet. Five or six men were at the front gate and back farther in the church yard could be seen several moving about. Father Aust came out and appeared to be not in any great dread. He says the first one that comes with a hostile spirit to his house after he subject for the coroner's jury. ment on the street in front of the church. Every twenty feet there was a woman out with a shawl on her head and knots of men were gathered on the corners. They were brought out from hearing of the expected attack on the church.

MEETING ON SATURDAY. The anti-cicment will hold a meeting Saturday night and decide on what to do Sunday. If another such crowd gathers in the back yard of the church to prevent Father Aust from saying mass as that which tried it last Sunday, there will no doubt be a different

The discontented members of the church will send another committee to walt upon Bishop Hoban. It will probably go to Ashley today to see him.

SUFKA FINED FIFTY DOLLARS.

The preliminary examination Refused to Pay It by Advice of His Attorney.

Another of the alleged participants in Sunday's disturbance at the Pollah church was arrested yesterday. He is Matthias Sufka and it is charged against him that he was one of those who incited the women to assault the onicers and that it was he also who Schmidt of their clubs. When arrested At the hearing before Alderman Millar, his attorney, Charles E. Olver, entered a plea of not guilty and proceeded A. R. SAWYER, to show that Sufka was not creating any disturbance; that he could not obey the officer's command to leave the premises because he was hemmed in by the crowd and that he only grabbed the officer's club to prevent himself from being hit.

The two policemen, Dyer and Schmidt, took the stand and testified that Sufka was in the crowd that pushed the police through the fence, and that he is the one who disarmed them both. In answer to Mr. Olver's questions they each in turn admitted that the crowd was creating no disturbance when the police started in to disperse them and both stated that they were out Mr. Olver argued that Sufka had as a citizen does not have to submit to an illegal arrest. The alderman, however, would not listen to this contention.

SUFKA'S EXPLANATION.

Sufka was put on the stand and explained that he went to Patrolman Schmidt's home on his way to work yesterday morning to return to him the club he had wrested from Officer Dyer and the other which had been turned over to him by the young man whom he lapanese Rugs, 3x3 ft., Schmidt. This is how he happened to have them in his possession and how one of them was on his person when he was arrested. He retained the clubs slightly used; fully warranted. Address | until vesterday on the advice of his attorney.

At the outset of the hearing Mr. Oiver asked that the evidence be reduced to writing and the objections of counsel noted. This the alderman declined to do, saving it was neither customary nor obligatory. Mr. Olver protested that it was obligatory when demanded. It stands to reason, he said, that when a case is appealed, as this one which they might arrive at a conclusion. The alderman replied that this company is making matters worse the particular case would not admit of appenl as an alderman's decision in this has determined to call the fire departkind of a proceeding was final. Mr. "We'll see about that," and asked for judgment.

The alderman adjudged Sufka guilty of both charges and fined him $50.

AUTHORITY OF THE POLICE. It was not his place, he said, to judge whether or not the police had a right to disperse the crowd at the church on the Sunday in question. It was enough for him to know that of-ficers sent there on the authority of the city had been assailed and that turbance Was to Take Place Last they had met with resistance. The defendent, he was satisfied, was implicated, and he would, under the law, have to suffer summary punishment.

Mr. Olver wanted to have his client held over for court but this the ulderman refused to do. Then he asked that ball should be accepted for his appearance if at the end of five days an appeal should not be granted. The alderman again refused to comply. holding that no appeal could be taken. Mr. Olver thereupon directed his client to go to jail. He unwillingly complied, preferring to pay the fine

They Caused a Good Beal of Excite ment About Taylor.

People down in Taylor and Minooka are just recovering from a general fever brought on by fright. There was a ball in Weber's Rink Tuesday night and among the dancers were a number of Minooka young people, About one o'clock the band played "Home Sweet Home" and the followers of the fantastic wended their way homeward When the Minuoka young people reached the small bridge which spans the Lackawanna near the Taylor station, they stopped, because swinging from a top girder of the bridge was a rope and on the lower end of the rope was a body. It was just dark enough to be fearful.

The Minooka crowd drew back hurriedly and with jumping hearts, About one-hundred yards from the bridge : consultation was had. What was to be done? Some suggested that he police be informed of the suicide. But no Taylor policeman was known. After an hour's walt, a couple of the young men gathered their scattered courage and approached the bridge.

They threw stones at the body; they hit it, and it swung lightly in the air from the force of the blow. It was to feathery for real flesh and after several more shots the boys decided that it was a hoax. About 3 o'clock the last Mi nooka person had passed under the swinging "thing." They didn't know what it was, but a man could not be so easily moved. This they were sure

When daylight came around there within sight of the object became excited and by nine o'clock half of Taylor was talking about the "suicide on the bridge," Some one was plucky enough to cut the object down and upon exammen's clothing stuffed with straw. Afterward it was found that a number of Mincoka young men had brought up the thing and the excitement that it caused was just what the young men had bargained and worked for.
