Will Speak in this City on September 23 or Thereabouts.

Editor E. J. Lynett, of the Times, returned last night from the Harrisburg convention with the news that Candidate Bryan, unless something unforseen changes the programme, will be in this city on September 23.

State Chairman Garman, who is Mr. Lynett's authority for the announcement, said that it is arranged to have the "boy orator" come this way after his Philadelphia speech, which is set for the 22nd inst. On the day following it is proposed to have him talk in Wilkes-Barre and Scranton.

It may be, however, that he will stop at Pottsville or some other town and not arrive here until the 24th. At all events he is going to be here.

ANOTHER COUNTY TICKET IS NAMED

Agreeing Upon Their Candidates.

It Was One of the Strong Features of Hockenberry, of Carbondale, Was Named for Congress-Names of the Other Candidates Those Who Attended the Convention.

A mass convention of the Prohibitionists of the county was held in the Academy of Music yesterday afternoon at which a full ticket was nominated. Candidates were also named for the various legislative districts. The most striking feature of the convention was a characteristic address by Rev. J. C. Hogan, who was introduced as a "field marshal of prohibition." Rev. Mr. Hogan will be remembered as the clergyman who figured so conspicuously at the last two meetings of the Wyoming conference. The convention was called to order about 3 o'clock by Calvin W. Parson, of Dalton, chairman of the county committee, who said the first business for the convention to do was to elect a permanent chairman. H. M. Walton was chosen for that position. He thanked the delegates for the honor and a need of prohibitionists as at this time, for they offer a remedy for the evils the body politic suffers, which surpasses anything suggested by either of the old parties, C. L. Wheeler and G. D. Rogers were named as permanent secreturies and then the following committees were named by the chairman:

MATTER OF FINANCE.

When the convention was again called to order the committee on finance presented its report recommending that the matter of raising funds to carry on the campaign be referred entirely to the secretary of the county commit-tee and that he be selected with special regard to his fitness for the position. The following were reported as the members of the new county committee: H. M. Walton, A. G. Thomason, W. W. Lathrope, James F. Judge, Glies L. Clark, C. C. White, Peckville; Pierce Butler, T. C. Robinson, Carbondale; H. G. Thayer, Elmhurst; D. W. Hornbaker, Madisonville; C. W. Parsons, Dalton; Ira Davis, Ransom; John R. Calvin, Blakely Rev. James Fielding, La Plume, Amos Washer, Dunmore.

The committee on nominations reported the following: Congress, Prof. H. J. Hockenberry, Carbondale; county commissioners, M. W. Edwards, Scranton; Amos Washer, Dunmore; auditors, R. W. Kellow, Scranton; Ira Davis, Ransom. All of these nominations were made by acclamation. The following legislative nominations were then made: First district, Giles L. Clark; Second district, John F. Broadbent; Third district, George W. Weldy, of Jubilee; Fourth district, Mark Walker, of Peckville, Attorney W. W. Lathrop presented the following as the report of the committee on resolutions which was unanimously adopted:

THE RESOLUTIONS. The Prohibitionists of Lackawanna

county, in convention assembled, submit the following declaration of principles and statement of facts.

The body politic is sick. It is covered dangerous diseases:

foreigners are imported from year to year. Instead of being civilized and Christianized, they are allowed to herd like cattle and to enter schools of vice

Political corruption was never more in evidence than now. The purity of the ballot box is almost gone. Govern-ment by the people and for the people, has virtually ceased. Instead thereof, we have government by bosses, by corporations, by monopolles and, to a large extent, by the criminal classes. Candi-dates often buy both nomination and

MONEY IN POLITICS. In our own county, money has be-come more potent than ever in politics.

Its use for corrupt purposes has become they furnish any remedy for the fright-ful increase of crime. They ignore moral keepers and half the preachers belong

ADDRESS OF THE REV. J. C. HOGAN They do, however, propose remedies for the prevailing discontent and bitt Was One of the Strong Features of terness of the masses. The Republicans prescribe "Tariff;" The Democrats. "Free Coinage of Silver." Tariff has been tried and failed to cure. The other prescription is an experiment, fraught as many believe with danger.

We aver that one chief cause of the three great evils named, is the liquor traffic, As was said by Abraham Linceln: "It is a cancer in society, cating out its vitals and threatening destruc-tion." In his younger days, William McKinley described it as "This most degrading and ruinous of all human pursuits."

We propose a plain remedy, to wit: the destruction of the chief cause of social and political disease. The abo-lition of the liquor traffic would feed more hungry mouths, clothe more ragged children, brighten more desolate homes and save more money for the poor, than legislation in any other direction could possibly do. It would divert over 1,200 millions of dollars annually-more money than all the gold and silver coin in the country—into the channels of legitimate trade. Thus it would open new markets for the far-mer's products and the merchant's wares, to a fare greater extent than the tariff ever has done, or than free silver ever can do.

WOULD DIMINISH CRIME.

That it would diminish crime imsaid that never before was there such mensely, goes without saying. That it would lessen political corruption is plain. The saloons are chiefly the places in which voters are bought and sold. We therefore affirm, with emphasis, that Prohibition is the most important political issue before the American people whether considered from a financial, ocial or moral standpoint. We heartily endorse the nomination of Joshua Levering of Maryland for Pres-ident and Hale Johnson of Illinois for vice-president. They are types of the best American manhood; strong, clean, Christian men. No one who votes for them will throw away his vote. It will count for God and home and native land. A million votes would not elect our candidates. But they would give us a moral power that would compel favcrable legislation and soon revolutionize he country.

We will do all we honorably can toward electing the ticket nominated here this day. To every patriot, to every philanthropist, to every Christian, we appeal in the name of God and humanity and our common country. In the unequal con-test which we are waging with the many who are influenced by avarice, by deprayed appetite, by personal ambition or by business policy, we have the right to demand the aid of all true men. Be you Protestant or Catholic. Jew or Gentile, protectionist or free trader, gold standard man or silverite, if you believe that the saloon is the enemy of all that is good, all that is noble, all that is pure, we ask you to record this conviction at the polls, and to cast a ballot that shall stand the test of God's all-searching gaze.

TO FILL VACANCIES On motion of Mr. Thomason, the county committee was authorized to fill any vacancy that may occur on the Tallie Morgan, of New York, who was present, was made a member of the convention and requested to address the body. He said that the old parties are going to pieces and that this is the year for prohibitionists to make converts. The virtue of the country, he said, was greater than the vice and for Mike Casco was held in $30 bail by Al- Wheeler, M. W. Edwards, John F. Broad- that reason prohibition principles must ultimately triumph.

Plerce Butler suggested that the ladies be heard from and in response to the chairman's invitation, Mrs. C. D. of the city were present: Mrs. C. D. Simpson and Mrs. Yost briefly addressed the convention.

Then, on motion of Rev. G. L. Maice. Rev. J. C. Hogan was brought before the convention and made one of the radical addresses which have brought him into prominence during recent years. Among other things, Mr. Hogan

"I have given up going for the drunkards and am now after the deacons. What we want is an application of religion. We hear a good deal about Christian citizenship in these days, but I am of the opinion that it is a thing of imagination and very thin imagination at that, which exists only in spots and these are prohibition spots."

The speaker proceeded to read extracts from the utterances of the last general assembly of the Presbyterian church and the general conference of the Methodist church defining the attitude of these religious leaders in a political way and made some very caustic comments on what he believed to be temporizing with evil. As he viewed these utterances, "No sin or crime a man may commit in the ballot box or in his political relations would impair his standing in the pulpit and pew. This he conceived to be a desperate condition of affairs, as is also the fact stated by him that 95 per cent. of the church members of the country vote with the old parties and 80 per cent, of the ministers follow their example.

A COMPARISON. There is very little difference, Mr. Hogan believes, between Colonel Ingersoll and Father Endeavor Clarke. Both are Christian gentlemen in some respects, but as the speaker regards the Christian Endeavor leader he deserve severe censure for not throwing all his influence in the direction of prohibition. He closed by saying: "This is a government of the saloon, by the saloon and for the saloon, and I want to make it a government of the home, by the home and for the home." After the adjournment of the convention the new county committee met and organized.

FIRST GUN FIRED.

Address of Hon. John G. Wooley in the Academy of Music. Hon. John G. Wooley, of Chicago, fired the first gun of the Prohibition campaign at a mass meeting in the evening in the Academy of Music. His audience numbered about 700, there being two women to every man and only a small percentage of young folks. All ombined to give him an enthusiastic reception, which his eloquent and winning style of oratory merited.

The salonkeeper is not as much to blame as the Christian voter who elects to legalize rum traffic at so many dollars a year for the privilege. You may look over the make-up of either of the two no cure for all this corruption. Nor do principal parties, he said, and you will

The court house will not be in shape for use until, probably, the end of October. Postmaster Vandling has written to Washington and filed the request of the commissioners for the Federal room. He has not received a reply and if he does not by tomorrow it will be necessary to seek some other place for equity court. There is not a great desire on the part of the judges or attorneys to meet in the arbitration room.

That place, at any time, has not been comfortable for court purposes, and now with the building operations in progress and a stationary engine puffing close to the windows, it is less desirable. Providing no answer comes from Washington before Monday, the select council chamber in city hall will likely be used.
