Miss Marietta Reeside, the well known missionary among the Kiowa Indiana, Oklahoma territory, addressed the large audience, describing the habits of those people and the necessity of ticipate in the entertainment, which spiritual work among them. The matter of raising money for Miss Race, a student at Keystone Academy, who is preparing for missionary work was discussed favorably, and by subscriptions from the various churches in the association $180 was raised. It was decided to hold the next convention at Dundaff in 1897. The sermon yesterday afternoon by President Harris, L.L.D., of Bucknell University, was a masterly one. More than 200 delegates were present. Following are some of the places that sent delegates and the names of their representatives: Scranton, Mrs. John Thomas, Miss May Powell, Miss Effic Callender, John M. Hughes, E. F. Chamberlain, F.
