M'KINLEY'S FAITH IN AMERICANS

Extracts from a Speech to the Vermont Delegation.

FIRES OF PATRIOTISM STILL BURN

People Who Emerged from the War with a Large Interest-Bearing Debt Will Not Seek to Repudiate One Dollar of It or Cheapen the Coin in Which It Is to Be Paid.

Canton, Ohio, Sept. 11.—In replying to a delegation from Vermont, who called on him today, Major McKinley said in part:

Some of the newspapers have asked me to interpret the results of the election in Vermont on September first, but it seems to me that there are the most interesting, (laughter and applause).

They have simply declared what any student of our history must already have discovered, that you thoughtfully and patriotically citizens are as ever—sweeter than ever, to the tenets of good morals, good politics and good government.

They have shown by their attention to the entire country, the free silver orators and organs of Vermont, they conceded, if they did not positively assert that which is being proclaimed everywhere, that their solicitude is the relief of the debtors, no matter at what sacrifice of the plainest precepts of good morals.

They are urging us to accept by legislation to make fifty cents worth of silver to pass current as a legal tender on our national and private obligations on plan, old-fashioned principles of good faith and honesty which have always been the basis of our American people. (Applause.)

His life and career will be a study to the American people as a nation. Like those of the state of Vermont, are entirely above and beyond reproach. (Applause.)

FAITH IN AMERICANS PEOPLE. The American people as a nation. Like those of the state of Vermont, are entirely above and beyond reproach. (Applause.)

WILL PAY THE DEBTS. A people who had the satisfaction of seeing their debt reduced to 68,000,000 on March 3, 1881, at the close of the splendid administration of President Harrison (applause), will readily and quickly meet both the remainder of the debt and all that has been made since (laughter), and pay it off, principal and interest, in the best money of the world and recognized by the civilized nations to be the best.

THE SPEECH ON LINCOLN.

Mr. McKinley Pays a Tribute to the Memory of the Martyred President.

Canton, O., Sept. 11.—Three governors clasped hands with Major McKinley today and visitors from the Green mountains of Vermont joined with others from Narragansett Bay, from North-western Pennsylvania and from Ohio in greeting and cheering the Republican candidate for the presidency. Major McKinley had more than three thousand callers today and shook hands with all of them and listened to their cordial words and expressions of good wishes.

DANGEROUS CREED OF TALKER BRYAN

Attorney General Harmon's Opinions Upon States' Rights.

DOESN'T ADMIRE CHICAGO PLATFORM

The Attorney General Calls Attention to the Dangerous Elements of Mr. Bryan's Doctrine—He Also Quotes from Convention Resolutions of 1894.

Washington, Sept. 11.—Attorney General Judson Harmon today made public his views respecting the political situation, especially emphasizing his opinion on the question of "federal interference in local affairs," on which subject the attorney general does not agree with the protest embodied in the Chicago platform. Mr. Harmon's communication, which is lengthy, says:

"Mr. Bryan, in his letter accepting the nomination for president by the convention at Chicago, amplifies the protest which that convention made in its platform against federal interference in local affairs, which strangely enough is not found in the platform of the other two conventions which have also nominated him."

These protests were intended and are understood to be directed against the recent action of the president in forcibly suppressing riotous disorders which had stopped the carriage of the mails and interstate commerce and were defying the civil officers of the United States. The president took this action not only without the request, but in some instances against the protest, of the authorities of the states in which the riots occurred and Mr. Bryan taking section four of article 4 of the constitution to be the law on the subject, pledges himself against any repetition of the violation thereof, which his letter necessarily charges. He vindicates the wisdom of the framers of the constitution by declaring that the local authorities are better qualified than the president to judge of the necessity for federal assistance. This, in my judgment is a far more serious matter than the money question or any of the questions before the people, graver than they all are.

But by the express terms of the constitution a state has nothing to do with the maintenance of the authority of the executives of the laws of the United States within the territory of the state. The prevention and punishment of offenses committed within the state, with interstate commerce and with the administration of justice in the federal courts, are committed to the general government and to it alone. Therefore, the state cannot require protection against them. The state has no duties to discharge in these matters.

NEW ORLEANS TROUBLE.

Sub-Treasury Will Aid in Restoring Confidence.

Washington, Sept. 11.—Acting under the general instructions given them, the receivers of several failed national banks at New Orleans, took possession of all the property found in the vaults of the institutions. Among these were a number of boxes containing securities and other papers of depositors and others left with the banks for safe keeping. Comptroller Eckels today wired instructions to the receivers to deliver the boxes to all owners who are not indebted to the banks, and to allow no other papers not relating to their transactions with the banks or which could not be used in settling them. Mr. Eckels explained that it was not only the wish of the department to interfere with or embarrass the business men of the city in any way by the management of the receivers, but on the other hand to facilitate and help them as much as possible.

MORE RIOTING FEARED.

Shops in Galata and Stamboul Closed Because of the Danger.

Constantinople, Sept. 11.—Fears are entertained here of a renewal of the recent disorders, and these apprehensions have caused a panic among the general public. The shops at Galata and Stamboul were closed at an early hour today, owing to a rumor that fresh manifestations were being organized. Trade is almost at a standstill, and the lack of money in the Turkish treasury is a serious feature of the situation.

DEMOCRATIC HEADQUARTERS.

Harrisburg Pa., Sept. 11.—Democratic state committee headquarters were today established in this city at the Mechanics' bank building. Chairman Garman appointed T. K. Vanduyke, of Harrisburg, resident secretary. Professor Sabier, of Harrisburg, was named as secretary.

STEAMSHIP ARRIVALS.

New York, Sept. 11.—Arrived: Elam from Amsterdam and Boulogne; Paris from Southampton. Arrived out: Norman from Hamburg; Mississippi, at London. Sailed for New York: Columbia, from Southampton; Purcellia, from Glasgow; Sept. 10 Night: Etiruria, from New York for Queenstown and Liverpool, passed Brown Head.

SALOON BLOWN UP.

Logansport, Ind., Sept. 11.—Six barrels of dynamite were blown up with dynamite at midnight last night. The explosion shook the earth for miles around. The attempt to destroy the saloons in the result of a temperance war waged against the saloons. Barriers declares that he will rebuild and stay.

THE DEMOCRATIC SITUATION.

From the San Francisco Call.

AGAINST MERGENTHALER.

Commissioner of Patents Rules That W. S. Cudder Is the Inventor of the Linotype Machine.

Washington, Sept. 11.—The commissioner of patents has reversed the decision of the examining-in-chief in the case of W. S. Cudder vs. Ottmar Mergenthaler as to priority of invention in the casting machines and awarded the case to Scudder. He finds "that Scudder conceived the invention as an organized product of the intellect as early as May, 1890, that he proceeded thereon, under all the circumstances of the case, with reasonable diligence to the construction of his complicated, costly, but entirely successful second machine in October, 1892, and therefore priority of invention is awarded to Scudder and the decision of the examining-in-chief is reversed."

The patent controverted by the interference decided by the commissioner, it is said by one of the parties interested in the case, is for a minor part of the type setting machine and the decision will have no practical bearing upon the situation until after the expiration of the basic patent of the Mergenthaler machine.

QUITTING BRYAN.

Prominent Democrats Break Away from the Silver Candidate—Desertions Are Numerous.

Indianapolis, Sept. 11.—Sterling R. Holt has resigned as chairman of the Democratic state committee. The thirteen members of the committee have been wired to meet here at 11 o'clock tomorrow to receive the resignation, which will be in writing. Rufus Magee, a member of the committee from the eleventh district, has also resigned, and other resignations of members of the committee who feel that they cannot endorse the Chicago platform and ticket are looked for. The resignation of the chairman is the direct result of the quarrel between him and Governor Matthews over the appointment of J. E. McCulloch of this city as a member of the state board of election commissioners. Two weeks ago Mr. Holt, in accordance with the authority vested in him as chairman of the state committee, named Mr. McCulloch as the Democratic representative in the election board. It is said that the governor hesitated to approve the appointment because Mr. McCulloch had been recommended as a sound money Democrat. It is believed that the resignation of the chairman will result in some of the county chairmen throughout the state retiring.

MORE NONSENSE.

Corbett and Fitzsimmons Begin to Make Faces at Each Other.

New York, Sept. 11.—A despatch was received in this city today from James J. Corbett, now staying at Asbury Park, N. J., in which he says he will meet Fitzsimmons at the Police Gazette office at 10:30 p. m. tomorrow and will surely accept his challenge.
