MORE ERRORS.

Gillon Pitched Great Ball, but the Grays Are Able to Win on Scranton's Errors.

Scranton had the Grays in the hole to the extent of three-nothing until the last of the sixth, when the score was tied on the rainiest kind of rain-kicker errors.

With one out Bassett was hit by pitcher and Maquire fumbled Knight's easy bonder. He fielded the ball late to Massey and "Bill" kept the thing going by falling over the ball and himself, too, and letting Bassett get to third. Knight was forced at second by Fraubly. Bassett coming in the play, Friel singled Drauby to second. Lyons hit a fango to left center, Friel going to third. Lyons began a steal and Gannon fielded the ball clean to Hickey. The kid had a good chance to run Lyons down, but began to play tag. Friel was menuching in the play. Fribly, Lyons, made a successful break past Hickey for second. The latter threw wild to Moss on the bag and Friel brought in the tying run.

THE WINNING RUN.

In the next inning Coogan was piously hit by a pitched ball. Curry wouldn't see it that way, however. Coogan made a successful steal and scored the winning run on Bassett's hit with two out.

Gillon pitched the kind of ball that usually wins games for him. He pitched five hits, two of them being in the fatal sixth, after Scranton had missed three chances to retire the side. Dolan, too, with his speed and south paw curves, twirled good ball, but he was hit for two earned runs out of Scranton's total of three. He gave nine hits altogether.

ANYHOW, THE GAME WAS CALCULATED TO PLEASE AND EACH OF THE FEW HUNDRED spectators, on account of the uncertainty of the thing, got his money's worth of excitement. Empire-Umpire Murray was clearly wrong in declaring Curry safe after a steal to third in the fifth inning and that furnished an entertaining feature for a few moments, during which the cranks had a few unkind remarks to make, but the Grays failed to score and the incident was forgotten. It was different, though, in the seventh, when Curry, on account of a pitched ball and ambled to first. Curry wouldn't decide that it was purposely done. The result was a stolen base and Bassett's hit, which brought in the winning run.

SLOW BEGINNING.

Griffin on a walk and Eagan on a single found themselves on the circuit in the first inning, with only one out, but Hickey flew out to center and Massey fanned. Only nine men faced Dolan in the next three innings. And for four innings Providence was not much more than a front porch. During interval two bases on balls and Dolan's double were all that Gillon permitted.

Scranton broke the ice in the fifth. Maguire singled and would have been thrown out on an attempted steal but for Friel's miss of Coogan's throw, which left the runner safe. During the next four balls and Coogan threw wild to catch him at second. Maguire coming home and Moss making third. Gannon was retired at first and Gillon forced Moss at the plate. Griffin singled Gillon to third, but Massey was retired at first. After all the excitement had netted but one run.

Two of the six were made with two out. One was earned. Massey and Maquire singled and each advanced a base when Moss drew four wide ones. The two runs came in on Gannon's single. Gillon flew out to Drauby.

THEN CAME THE TROUBLE.

Then came the mess in the last half hour and the unearned run in the seventh, all of which has been described in the foregoing.

It seemed like a sort of fatality that in the seventh, eighth and ninth Scranton made one hit in each, but always after two were out.

WILKES-BARRE WINS A GAME.

Springfield Could Not Touch Pitcher Keenan Until It Was Too Late. Wilkes-Barre, Sept. 11.—In today's game between Wilkes-Barre and Springfield Keenan did the best pitching of his life. He pitched only one run and made out of his delivery. In the seventh the visitors succeeded in bunting their hits and made four runs. Keenan was hit freely also in the eighth and ninth, and the Springers came near tying the score. Lezotte, who was sold to Pittsburgh yesterday did some remarkable batting. He faced the opposing pitcher five times and made two doubles and two singles. He was applauded for his good work. Score:

ST. THOMAS COLLEGE.

Work the Xaverian Brothers Are Doing in That Institution. The advent of the Xaverian Brothers to St. Thomas' college supplies a want that was long felt in Scranton—namely the union of a thorough business education with the classics and sciences.

There are institutions in our city where a good business or a good classical or scientific education might be obtained; but no one where all three are combined.

Xaverian Brothers have achieved great success in their schools which are chiefly devoted to preparing young men for the professions and for the business of life. One of the most successful teachers in the Xav. is an order is Brother Angelus, at present director of studies at St. Thomas. Pupils taught by him in other cities have attained highest honors in civil service and competitive examinations.

Students entering St. Thomas will receive complete instruction in commercial accounts, book-keeping, type-writing and shorthand. The system of short-hand taught by the brothers is the celebrated Pearn system lately adopted at the high school at Harrisburg, Pa., and in the public schools of Brooklyn, N. Y.

The veteran pastor, Joe Jefferson, 2194, 17 years in the city, has no difficulty in reading his own notes even years after they were written; they will also read one another's notes with such ease as if they were written in long hand.
