Before Alderman Millar yesterday, Joseph Fetzer, of Pine Brook, was accused by his step-father, George Burker, with having broken into his money box and stolen $3 of his savings, a part of which was a recently drawn pension. Fetzer gave ball in the sum of $300 to answer the charge at court and then turned around and had Burkel arrested for making threats to kill him. The step-father was also required to furnish $300 baff.

On September 5 last Mrs. Mary Galla gher, a Dunmore widow of the ripe old age of 65 years was traveling home with a jug of whisky. She stopped in an eating house up in the borough and while re-freshing herself a crowd of youngsters made off with the jug. Yesterday she had Peter Mitchell, a Dunmore boy, arrested for being one of the thieves, but the evidence against him was not, in the opin-ion of Alderman Millar, sufficient to hold him for court, and the case was dismissed.

Louis Winkle, of Dunmore, with a valise in his hand and atticket for Germany in his pocket, was about to beard a Dela-ware, Lackawanna and Western train yesterday when Constable John Tierner of Alderman Millar's office, halted him with a warrant charging him with having promised to marry Carolina Bloom under circumstances which make it incumbent upon him to keep his promise or suffer criminal prosecution. He could not fur-nish $1,000 bail and had to go to the county jail. Winkle is 30 and the Bloom girl 10 years his junior.

D., whose residence in the oil region, study of geology of the oil-bearing rocks, and of chemistry of petroleum and its various products, qualifies him to in-terest and instruct those who may attend; and the meeting is open to the pub-lic generally. Three valuable publica-tions will be presented to all members in attendance whose dues are paid and an ortunity will be offered those in arrears to pay up.

MAY IS NOT AN ACROBAT.

Tried to Get Off a Trolley Car Backwards, with Painful Results. Martin May, of Providence, was severely shaked up last night while trying to alight from a trolly car at Penn avenue and Mulberry street.

May tried to get off backwards and as the car was moving at fair rate of peed he was given a violent pitch and landed on his head on the pavement.

Twenty minutes later he recovered usness in Vetter's drug store, where he was carried. Dr. Sulupas succeeded in reviving May and he was then sent to his home. He sustained fiesh wounds, but, fortunately, his skulf was not fractured.

WASHINGTON'S FAREWELL ADDRESS. Will Be Read Before Bryan and

Sewall Club Saturday Night. At last night's meeting of the Central Bryan-Sewall club, Chairman C. G. Boland announced that he had a talk to State Chairman John M. Garman, and the latter said Bryan will come to "I've found a new sun," said a native of Scranton for sure. Mr. Garman will meet with the campaign managers this week and the date of the Boy Orator's visit will be definitely fixed.

Attorney D. J. Reedy, secretary of the club, read a communication from Hon. Chauncey F. Black, president of the National association of Democratic clubs, setting forth that on September 19, 1796, George Washington declared his Imperishable farewell address. What the immortal hero's words have to do with the present free silver campaign was not made known, but Mr. Black suggests that every Bryan and Sewall club in the country meet next Saturday night, which will be the cenennial anniversary of the address and have it read before the members.

Secretary Reedy was selected by Mr. Merrifild's motion as the one with voice well adapted to read the address, and Mr. Reedy was appointed chairman of committee with M. J. O'Toole, M. J. Donahoe, Dr. E. F. Scanlan, Arthur McGee, J. Hammess and D. B. Replogle to secure Music Hall or some other suitable place for the occasion. Another communication from Mr. Black was read stating that the date of the second quadrennial convention of the National association of Demoratic clubs at St. Louis has been changed from September 30 to October . The rest of the time the club was engaged in listening to speeches by M. J. O'Toole, Michael Fitzpatrick, of Dunmore; James O'Holleran, leader of the Miners' union in days gone by: T. J. Jennings, G. W. Williams, of Dunmore, and Mr. Merrifield. The latter had a conference with Mr. Boland and party after the meeting and probably today will be able to say whether or not be will accept.

A Tribune reporter saw Mr. Merrifield as he was leaving the conference and inquired if he was as yet prepared to make known his intentions. He answered that he had not come to a decision, but would probably give his answer in the morning, when he had an oppointment, he said, with Chairman T. J. Jennings and a number of others.

BAPTIST MINISTERS' BANQUET.

Included a Series of Tonsts, at the Faurot House.

The Baptist ministers of Scranton and vicinity banquetted at the Faurot House at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. It was essentially a social gathering and had little to do with business.

A shipment of large machinery was nade last week by the Dickson Manufacturing company. It consisted of a shaft, crank wheels, fly wheel center and armature, for the Rice & Sargent engine for the West End Street Railway company, of Boston,

The crank wheels, fly wheel center and armature had been placed on the shaft at a pressure of 400 tons, and the whole weighed nearly 130,000 pounds, and was shipped on a special car. This shaft was for the large twenty-fourfeet wrought iron rim fly wheel which was shipped previously,

The shaft alone was twenty-four nches in diameter and twenty-two feet ong. Another similar wheel is under construction, and will be shipped in a couple of weeks.

CHILDREN'S TERRIBLE CONDITION.

Seven children of Mr. and Mrs. Fallon of Kelly's Patch slept in the police court room of the station house last night. Their parents slept in cells. The children were in a terrible condition. filthy, half naked and hungry, enduring the most wanton negligence on the part of their parents. For this the parents will have to answer in a criminal hearing before Alderman Millar this morning and it is almost certain oo, that the children will be given into the care of some institution. The arrest was made last night by County Detective Leyshon and a squad of police, on a warrant sworn out by Mrs. Duggan, of the Associated Chari-

CATHOLIC KNIGHTS ARE IN THE CITY

Seventh Bi-Annual Council of an Extensive Insurance Order.

THEIR BUSINESS SESSION TODAY

In Music Hall Last Night They Met Socially and Received Applications for a Second Scranton Branch. Bishop O'Hara Approves the Organization -- Will Meet in College Hall This Morning.

There are in Scranton today a hundred or more delegates to the seventh bi-annual state council of the Catholic Knights of America, and that number includes a score and a half of members of the Tourist club of Philadelphia. The Tourist club is made up of Knights and their wives who attend the convention for pleasure or business, or both com bined. The order is one for assessment insurance and involves a certain degree of fraternity and benevolence. Last night was held in Music Hall a "grand rally." so called, which meant a period of sociability and the organizing of a new branch of the Knights in this city. Beginning this morning the business session of the Knights will be held in College Hall and during the afternoon the Tourist Club and non-delegates will be shown the city by the Scranton members. While there are in attendance from all sections of the state, the main body is from Philadelphia and reached here in a special car attached to last evening's 6.22 Delaware aid Hudson train Those included the Tourist club and delegates. They were met at the station by a delegation of Scranton Knights and Bauer's band and were escorted to the St. Charles Hotel, the headquarters of the council.

MEMBERS OF THE PARTY. In this party were: Rev. B. A. Conway, the state spiritual adviser; Mr. and Mrs. Philip Hanck, Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Drueding, Mr. and Mrs. James J. Bonner, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ruf, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence McDon-ald, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel E. Dougherty, John C. Bretkaupt, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Buckley, Mr. and Mrs. James Furlong, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Me-Comeskey, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh B. Coyle, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Fahy, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Moyer, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Wade, Charles J. The "new" society was in reference to the second branch of the order to be established here. Its membership will be based upon the twenty-five applications filed at the "rally."

The session concluded with a collation and a season of sociability. The evening's doings were under the auspices of Scranton branch, No. 674.

MASS THIS MORNING.

This morning at 9 o'clock the Tourist club and delegates will attend solemn high mass at St. Peter's cathe-Rev. B. A. Conway, of Philadelphia, spiritual director, will be cele-brant. It is probable that Bishop O'Hara will be present.

The important gathering, the formal business session, will convene in College Hail at 10.30 o'clock, and, including an adjournment for dinner, will last until into the afternoon, Two state delegates will be chosen to attend the supreme convention in Mobile, Ala., next May. These will probably be William P. Sinnett, of Philadelphia, cashier of the Market street National bank, and M. B. McLoughlin, the as sistant district attorney of Schuylkill the county. The place for holding the next house. council will be decided, and new officerws will be chosen.

The delegates in the city are Philip Goldmyer, Blossburg William Kerford, Philadelphia Charles A. Fay, Philadelphia; Robert L. Graves, Eric William P. COLORED DELEGATE.

In the list of delegates appears the name of Oscar A. Moore, from Branch 786, of Philadelphia. He is the reprethe Mason and Dixon line whose members are of the negro race.

Tomorrow morning the Tourist club will leave in its car attached to the 7.45 Delaware and Hudson train. En route to Philadelphia the members wit "take in" the Switchback at Mauch Chunk and Glen Onoko, arriving in Philadelphia at 8.15 in the evening.

MEETING OF GRAND JURY.

Charge to It Was Delivered by Judge

Edwards Yesterday. The grand jury met yesterday morning at 10 o'clock in the arbitration room of the court house and after being charged by Judge Edwards went to common council chamber in City Hall to hear the cases that are to come before it. This will will be a record breaking grand jury. The highest number of cases ever disposed of at one session before was 509, and that was last September. So far there are nearly 600 transcripts sent in and at least 25 more will follow. Alderman W. S. Millar, of the Eighth ward, sent in 142 out of this number. Five constables were found who had something to report. James W. Clark, of the Eighteenth ward, returned three icensed saloonkeepers for selling on Sunday, Joseph Bolas, of Emmett street, J. M. Sheffield, of Scranton street, and Isaac Houselander, Michael McMurray, of the Twentieth

ward, returned Valentine Ankewich

for selling on Sunday and Jordan & Connolly for selling without a license. Bernard Davis, of the Second ward, found a man named John Skipleton in his bailiwick selling without a license; and N. F. McHale, of the Tihrd ward of Olyphant, on his rounds learned that John Fezko, a Hungarian, sells liquor and has no authority of law to do it. William Bradley, of Carbondale township, informed the court that the Carbondale turnpike over Salem mountain is too narrow to be passable, being only nine feet wide, and two teams cannot pass. There are no gutters on it either. All of the above complaints were referred to District Attorney John

THEY FAVOR M'KINLEY.

Result of a Poll of Workmen in Car Shops Announced at Meeting of Central Republican Club.

The Central Republican club met ast night and from this time on until after election will meet every Monday night. Last night's session was an important one. An interesting feature was a statement made by William Connell. He said that in recent poll of 530 workingmen in the car shops to learn their sentiment on the issues presented by the two great parties, it was found that 200 of the number were Democrats, but that sixty of them propose this time to vote for McKinley and sound money. Of the Republican majority among these men only ten were found who said they believed in free silver and the Chicago platform. Mr. Connell said that there was no prearranged selection of these workingmen, they were picked out promiscuously.

The club decided to purchase a Mc-Kinley and Hobart banner to string across the street in front of the quarters in the Price building, and in a businesslike way subscriptions were taken up in the meeting and the $125 that the banner will cost was subscribed in a few minutes and there were no large individual contributions, but a number of small ones given with a willing hand and exemplifying the enthusiasm that the object of the ioney aroused. Colonel E. H. Rippte. Major Everett Warren, and Hon. W. W. Watson were appointed a committee on banner.

There will be a rousing mass meeting in October, and committees will soon be set to work making the arrangements. Application for memberhip were received from William Mac-Lean, E. K. Hall, John F. Scragg, John T. Howe, A. T. Law, and Nelson G. Teets, and were acted upon favorably.

Speeches were made by Major Warren, Mr. Watson, Colonel Ripple, Sam H. Stevens, George Okell, and Mr. Connell. Each felt confident of substantial victory for the party in the county and country in November:

Colonel Ripple was chairman and in the absence of Alderman W. S. Millar, Captain George B. Thompson acted as secretary.

John H. Thomas, chairman of the county committee, desires to impress upon Republican voters that October is the last day on which taxes can be paid to entitle voters who have not paid within two years before, their rights to vote.

T. Brown. The jury will meet at Coroner Longstreet's office at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning and will go from there to the mine to the place where the deceased was roasted. Alexander Alkman, the foreman, will pilot the jury to the subterranean scene, And on Monday evening next a hearing will tayke place at the arbitration room of the court

MACK THE SWEET SINGER.

He Will Be Heard at the Academy of Music Tomorrow Night.

On Wednesday evening that sweet singing Irish comedian, Andrew Mack, will be seen at the Academy of Music in "Myles Aroon." He will be supported by a good company.

As the young Irish gardener Mack is at his best. He invests the character with a personality entirely his own, and is moreover carnest and natural in his methods. His singing is a potent factor and as he is a composer of note we may look for some new melodies. He will, of course, sing "Maggie My Own" and other favorite ballads.

LILLIAN RUSSELL IN AN AMERICAN BEAUT

Scored a Decided Success at the Frothlogham Last Night.

LARGE AND BRILLIANT AUDIENCE

Encouraged the Members of the Comyany to Do Their Best--Opera Was Given with a Smoothness and Finish Rarely Seen at a First Performauce--its Success Predicted by Manager Lederer.

Lillian Russell achieved a decided success last night as the dashing Widow Dalmont in "An American Beauty," a three act comic opera, the joint work of Hugh Morton and Gustave Kerker. Last night it had its first public production in the Frothingham which was crowded by one of Scranton's most representative audience. A number of New York theatrical writers and men interested in matters theatrical also saw the performance.

There was an air of expectancy about the audience after the curtain went up at 8.20. The moment when the fair Lillian would get her cue to come on the stage was awaited with interest, and when it did arrive and she came tripping down to the footlights she was given a magnificent reception. From that moment she had her audience with her and the unstinted applause given encouraged Miss Russell and the members of the company to do their best. They imparted a dash and spirit to their work that carried the opera along with a smoothness rarely seen on an opening night.

Of the opera itself it must be said that it is not opera at all as that term is usually understood, but it certainly is a bright, clever, up-to-date creation with music that is eatehy and attractive enough to make it popular with the great army of theatregoers. Miss Russell was in good voice and every number she sang was heartily encored. Three encores were demanded after she sang that seductive ditty in the second act about the French maiden and the French ball. The singing of Richle Ling, the tenor, was a greatly appreciated feature of the performance. The honors among the comedians went to Jerome Sykes, although there are at least three other very clever fun-makers in the company.

The story of the opera was printed in The Tribune yesterday morning and it will be unnecessary to repeat it here. It is embellished with a wealth of gorgeous scenery, costumes and stage of fects, in which poems of color hav been worked out with true artistic effect. In the second and third acts there were specialties by Lillian Thurgate, Walter Simms, and the "Rouge et Noir" dancers. From this city the company goes to Williamsport. Manager George W. Lederer and the author and composer, who saw last night's production, were well pleased and Mr. Lederer unhesitatingly predicted that it will be a big success. C. A. GREEN TO LECTURE.

Will Be Heard at Next Meeting of Board of Trade.

An event that will be of more than ordinary interest to the manufacturers of Northeastern Pennsylvania hasbeen arranged by the Scranton board of trade. It is an address to be delivered under the board's auspices at next Mo day night's meeting by C. A. Green of the Philadelphia Museums.

The word "musemus" in the title might mean almost anything; in this case it has reference to an institution established by the city of Philadelphia where is displayed a collection of this country's imports and exports and the city of Scranton. where are compiled and kept on record the most accurate and non-partisar manufacturing statistics in the world Delegations from the Pittston and Carbondale boards of trade will hear Mr. Green's talk.
