WOES OF THE BIG POPOCRATIC BOSSES

Senators Jones and Faulkner Are Two Very Despondent Men.

THINGS ARE NOT GOING THEIR WAY

Out West the Dems and the Pops Are in an Inextricable Tangle, and in the East Bryan Has No Following. His Job.

> Buureau of The Tribune, 501 14th street, N. W.

Washington, Sept. 15. Senator Dubols has come east bringing Senator Teller with him to meet Jones. They held a conference yesterday, and the bolting Republicans laid down their ultimatum before Jones and Faulkner. The ultimatum in plain words is to the effect that if Dubois is not given assurances of the Democratic support in Idaho both Teller and Dubols will not turn a hand's lick to throw the free silver Republican vote of the state to Bryan. They clothed their ultimatum in more diplomatic lines, but dinner pail. It meant nothing less than their determination to knife the ticket unless the Democrts came to the rescue of Dubols.

Democratic support in Idaho Dubois will not have time to take the stump in the west for Bryan; that he will be too busy saving his seat in the senate from his owne state. Senator Teller said that if there was danger of Dubois losing his seat that he would not have time to do general work in the west for Bryan; that Dubois had sacrificed everything to follow him to the St. Louis convention, and that he could not sit idly by and see his young lieutenant destroyed politically, and that he would spend the next six weeks in Idaho working for Dubois' re-election. Jones said that he had done all in his power to aid Dubois. "I sent Johnon, one of the shrewdest members of the National committee, to Idaho but he could do nothing with the Democrats. What else can I do?" "Something has got to be done," was what Dubois and Teller said. These two men hold the whip handle, and they are able to dictate terms to the Democrats. They are capable of dictating very rigid terms, too. There is some justice in their claims moreover. As Teller said to Jones, their refusal to vote with their party in the senate, sacrificing the tariff to silver, had done more than anything else to arouse a silver majority in Chicago; it was they who had put gist and vim into the fresilver fight. In spite of the fact that they were doing this for their free silver constituents, they demand that the Democrats shall see to it that Dubols is returned to his seat in the sen-

Dubols says that the chairman of the Democratic state central committee of Idaho is a relative of his enemy Shoup, and pointed out to Senator Jones that if he would go to Idaho himself and convince the rank and file of Democrats there that this chairman was practically in the employ of the enemies of silver they would support him for the senate. It is probable then that Senator Jones will make a trip to Idaho. He has been brought to terms and if he does not make the trip he will send some one there to do Dubois' bidding. The situation is very mixed, and somewhat alarming. But Dubols and Teller have betrayed their party, and are equally ready to betray Bryan if they cannot use him to their own advantage. Their influence in the west cannot be disputed. They have a tremendous personal following and care influence it to vote as they say. Mr Bryan's managers confess freely that they cannot afford to lose a single western state. In spite of their spasmodic claims of some states in the east they see no hope of carrying a single one of them, and look with jealous cyrs on Illinois and Indiana.

Senator Jones looks very much wor ried. He is far from pleased with what he has learned of the situation in New York. One would hardly take him for an all powerful head of a national campaign committee. He was very much disgruntled because no Demo crat of consequence called on him, and he had to put up with a lot of small fry politicians of the calibre of Billy Sulzer and Jimmle O'Brian. He expected that his rooms would be crowded with those anxious to hand in substantial amounts to aid in paying expense of the campaign of repudiation. With the possible exception of John C. Sheehan and James L. Ridgeway the callers were few who could cash their checks for ten dollars. He could not hide his disappointment that neither Senator Hill nor James W Hinckley had met him. Gorman did not even come to him. He went to Gorman, however, and it hurts Jones mightily to have to appear in the pub lic mind as seeking Gorman's assistance, as if he were not able to steer Bryan's campaign without the aid of the shrewd Marylander.

One good look at Jones and Faulkner together forecasts the election, if there is anything in the adage that coming events cast their shadows before; for a more despondent looking political pair could scarcely be imagined in the midst of a campaign. Jones is at a trying to bring peace in the warring factions of the silver leaders here. Jones is Populist enough to know how to smooth Butler down, Senator Faulkner and the Populist manager rub each other the wrong way, and has gotter not only themselves but all the other members of their committee in a suarl. Senator Jones has gone from one to the other trying to make peace, and has restored the semblance of it at any rate. Senator Jones is thoroughly in earnest in his work, but his lack of experience in actional affal's rackes his position a difficult one. W. R. B.

Boston Minister Gives His Opinion

on the Free Silver Sentiment. Boston, Sept. 15.-Rev. E. A. Winship was a caller at Republican headquarters today. He has been away for six weeks, stumping in Pennsylvania, Ohio West Virginia and Maryland. In his opinion the free silver movement is greatly exaggerated.

'It is a curious thing about this campaign," said Mr. Winship, "that in any place you go you are told there is no free silver sentiment there, but it is very extensive everywhere else. sentiment in favor of Major McKinley is overwhelming. I tried hard to find one of those communities which we were told exist so plentifully which are given over entirely to the silver craze. I failed to do so. When I got to a place where I had been assured I hould find nothing but silver advocates, I found in talking with people that I had got into the wrong town. "'We are all right here,' they would say, but we understand that the places all about us are full of silver men. "I believe that the Bryan campaign will go to pieces before the election. It will be a repetition of the Greeley cam-

A crowd soon gathered to listen to the discussion. Riley is no orator and saw himself getting the worst of the discussion. To illustate a point he finally

"How many of you are silverites?" "We all are," lyelled the crowd. "Ain't any of you gold men?" quered Riley, anxiously.

"Ha! ha! ha!" hooted the crowd. Where's your gold bugs?"

"All at work," rejoined Riley, and he hastened down the street, swinging his Beaver Falls, Pa., Sept. 15 .- Anthony Bovee, an old umbrella mender, living the life of a hermit in a cave near here. has fallen heir to one-third of an estate of $3,000,000 in France. Bove: was injured in battle during the Rebellion, from which he has never recovered, and he is considered rather unsound mentally. When he to'd his story to friends in Beaver Falls a week ago it was not considered true.

Today, however, an atterney from the east visited Beaver Falls for the purpose of getting data from iter an which will substantiate his claims to the fortune. John Jean Bovee, an extensive iron manufacturer of France, died ten years ago, and Anthony, with two brothers, one who lives in Crawford, Pa., and another not found yet, are heirs to the big estate.

Rough and Ready No. 1. Rescue Hook and Ladder company.

Hose company No. 2. The line of march was through the principal streets of the borough, Rough and Ready and No. 2 divided equally the honors as to manouvers while on parade. Rescue Hook and Ladder company did not attempt any fancy movements. After the parade an exciting run was made by the companies to the Armory which was the supposed scene of a fire. In less than two minutes several streams of water were playing on the building. During the afternoon and evening the department kept open house for their many friends. The efficiency of the several companies was fully manifested in their excellent work. The fiftieth annual fair of the Susquehanna Agricultural society will be held Tuesday and Wednesday, September 29 and 30. A prize of $100 will be given to all couples who have been married 50 years or over, and many other new features will be added to the usual list of cash premiums.

HOW OUR DOLLARS

Secretary Carlisle Explains the Present Method of Maintaining Parity.

EQUALITY IS COMMANDED BY LAW

Only by a Limited Coinage of the Intion .- The Good Faith of the Government Pledged to the Interconvertibility of All Our Dollars.

Washington, Sept. 15 .- Secretary Carlisle from his summer retreat in Bar Harbor, Me., has addressed to one of his Kentucky correspondents the following letter, which is this day made public:

Your letter, asking how the silver dollars which contain a quantity of bullion commercially worth only about 52 cents each, are maintained at a parity with gold, notwithstanding the fact that the government does not directly redeem them, or the certificates issued upon them. In gold, is received. As a great many inquiries upon the same question are addressed to me daily from different parts of the country, which it is impracticable to answer in detail, I will take advantage of your favor to answer them all at once.

All the standard silver dollars issued from the mints since the passage of the act of 1878, now amounting to more than $433,000,00, have been coined to public account from bullion purchased by the government, and are legal tender in payment of all debts, public and private, without regard to the amount except when otherwise expressly stipudated in the contracts between the partles. They belong to the government when coined, and they are paid out by the government at a parity with gold for property and services of all kinds and received from the people at a parity with gold in the payment of all public dues and demand.

The government has made no discrimination whatever between the coins of the two metals, gold having been paid on its coin obligations when gold was demanded and silver having been paid when silver was demanded. Under this policy the coinage has been so limited by law and the policy of the treasury department as to drive the more valuable coin, gold, out of use, and thus destroy the basis of our monetary system; and so long as the two metals are of unequal commercial value, at the ratio established by law, this limitstion upon the coinage, is, in my opinion absolutely essential to the maintenance of their parity in effecting exchanges, it constitutes the principal safeguard for the protection of our currency against the depreciation which the exchanges it constitutes the principal safeguard for the protection of our currency against the depreciation which the earny would be impossible

PARITY REQUIRED BY LAW. The implied obligation of the government to preserve the value of the more which it coins from its own bullion an or its own use and which it asks its cli zens to receive in exchange for their property and services has been supple-mented by two statutory declarations which substantially pledge the public The act of July 14. 1890, after providing that the secretary of the treasury should, under such regulations as he might prescribe, redeem the treasury notes issued in the purchase of silver buillon in gold or silver coin, which is his discretion, daclares that it "is the established policy of the United States to maintain the two metals on a parity with each other upon the present legal ratto, or such ratio as may be provided by law," and the act of isse, again dechares it to be "the policy of the United States to favor the use of both gold and silver as standard money and to coin both gold and silver into money on equal intrinsic and exchangeable value, such equality to be secured through international agreement or by such safeguards of legislation as will insure the maintenance of the parity of values of the coins of the two metals and an equal power on every dollar at all times in the markets and in the payment of debts."

With knowledge of these assurances, the people have received these coins and have relied confidently upon the good faith of their government; and the confidence thus inspired has been a most potent factor in the maintenance of the parity. The public has felt satisfied that, so long as our present monetary system is preserved, the government will do whatever its moral obligations and express declarations require it to do, and very largely as a consequence of this confidence in the good faith of the executive authorities, the coins have not depreciated in value. It is not doubted that whatever can be lawfully done whenever it becomes necessary, and althoush silver dollars and silver certificates have not, up to the preserved time, he a received in exchange for gold, yet, if the time shall ever come when the parity carnot be otherwise maintained, such exchanges will be made. It is the duty of the sellerary of the treasury, and of all other public efficials to execute in good faith the policy declared by congress and whenever he shall be satisfied that the silver dollar cannot be kept equal in
