REUNION TOMORROW.

Comrades of the 132nd Regiment Will Meet in This City.

Scranton will welcome tomorrow the comrades of the One Hundred and Thirty-second Regiment of Pennsylseventh reunion in this city at the rooms of Lieutenant Ezra S. Griffin Post. No. 139, G. A. R., on Lackawanna avenue, A meeting was held in Alderman Wright's office last night to make the ecessary arrangements. Thomas M. Barrowman was chairman, and D. J. Newman, secretary. James Randolph was appointed chairman of the reception committee, and he ordered that all the comrades of the city meet at Griffin Post rooms at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning and report to him. They will visit the different railway stations and escort the visiting comrades to the hall.

From 8 o'clock until noon the reception will be going on and at 2 p. m. the business session will open. From 7 until 9 in the evening a trolley ride will be enjoyed, and after the ride the comrades will sit down to a camp fire in the dining room of the Wyoming house. The start on the trolley ride will be made from the corner of Lackawanna and Wyoming avenues.

John Fern is a committee of one to look after the ride. He has already engaged three open cars, but has not definitely fixed the route. The trip will quite probably be up on the Suburban to Dunmore and down on the Laurel Hill line. After that they will go either to Hyde Park or Minooka.

There are about forty comrades of the regiment residents of Scranton, It was made up of men from northeastern Pennsylvania, principally from this county, Bradford, Wyoming, Carbond and Northampton counties. The survivors are not more than 125. About 75 visiting comrades are expected.

North End Delegates Made a Determined Claim for the Nomination. but Had Not the Necessary Number of Votes to Secure It -- Feeling Ran High and Speakers Were Cheered and Hissed.

One of the most exciting conventions ever held by the Republicans of the First Legislative district took place yesterday afternoon in St. David's hall and resulted in the nomination of John R. Yesterday the North End delegates made a determined effort to secure the nomination for a representative of that part of the district and as a result the convention was in a constant tumult The argument that fair play demanded that the nomination go to the North Women's Christian Temperance Union End this year did not sway Mr. Farr's delegates, although repeatedly urged by the North End delegates. RESOLUTIONS COMMITTEE.

John Paine, Albert Jones, Thomas Holden, Thomas Evans and Thomas Powell were named as a committee on resolutions, and this caused another outbreak on the part of the North End delegates. Delegate A. A. Vosburg presented a resolution instructing the nominee of the convention to use all honorable means to secure the election of Governor Daniel H. Hastings as United States senator. It was referred to the committee on resolutions.

Nominees for permanent chairman were called for and John Miller named Henry O. Hettes, who was unanimous ly chosen. He made a neat address thanking the delegates for the honor and asked them to select two permanent secretaries. John H. Walker, John vania Volunteers. They will hold their D. Davis and Charles Terwilliger were named and the first mentioned two were selected. The committee on resolutions reported the following:

VOSBURG'S RESOLUTION.

VOSBURG'S RESOLUTION.

Be It resolved that it is the sense of this convention that the directors of the poor district be elected by the people; that the nomlnee if elected be instructed to use all honorable means to secure such legislation as will give the people this right. We heartily endorse the platform as enunciated by our national convention at St. Louis and the standard bearers she gave us in that great champion of protection. William McKinley, of Ohio and Garret A. Hobart, of New Jersey.

We further endorse and recommend to the suffrage of the voters of Pennsylvania the platform adopted by our state convention and the choice it made for congressmentatiarge, Galusha A. Grow, of Susquehamm and Samuel A. Davenport, of Erie.

rie. We endorse the action of the Republiwe emorse the action of the Republican county convention in nominating William Connell for congress; Samuel W. Roberts and Giles Roberts for county commissioners; A. E. Kiefer and F. L. Ward, for county auditors.

When these resolutions were read Mr. Vosburg wanted to know what had become of his resolution with regard to the United States senatorship. He received no answer, and after some de bate and parliamentary sparring the resolutions were adopted, with the exception of the portion referring to the election of members of the poor board. That was killed.

Mr. Vosburg then re-introduced his resolution, and moved its adoption. I read as follows:

Resolved, That the nominee of this convention be instructed, if elected, to use all honorable means to secure the election of Governor D. H. Hastings as United States Senator.

This resolution was killed by a vote of 22 to 14. Chairman Hettes called for nominations for the legislature and William Campion presented the name of John R. Farr in the following words: of John R. Farr in the following words:
It gives me great pleasure to present the name of Hon. J. R. Farr. I feel it an honor to do so. It is hardly necessary for me to say anything in his behalf for his works speak for themselves. Throughout this great Commonwealth no legislator is better known than the author of the free text bools and Compulsory Education laws. These are monuments to his service. No other laws have been of such great benefit to the masses. His faithfulness and steadfastness to his constituents; his energy and ability are acknowledged by all, and we should again send him to Harrishurg to render service to the people.

The North End was entitled to the nomination, he said, and they had a candidate to present who was a man of the people; a miner who under stands mining, and who would go to the legislature to pass laws that will benefit the mine laborer and make such eccidents as that at the Twin shaft at Pittston impossible. He stood there for fair play and if they got it the commation would be conceded to Prov-

Captain E. W. Pierce seconded the nomination of Mr. Jones in a fervid speech. He told of the seventeen long years since Providence has had a Re publican representative in the legislature and asked the delegates if they thought the North End was content with merely doing the voting always. Attorney George Beale nominated M. E. Sanders, but the latter withdrew his name, and said he hoped the concention would accord the nomination to the North End.

CAPTAIN PIERCE'S BOMB. Captain Pierce at this point was recognized by the chair and said he had been instructed by his constituents to inquire into the truth of certain charges made against Mr. Farr. He did not refer to Mr. Farr directly by name, but he did mention the nature of the rumor and before he had completed a storm of protests drowned his voice, and a number of angry men gathered about him. A scene of disorder followed, during which Mr. Farr entered the hall to make a statement concerning Captain Pierce's remarks. As Mr. Farr mounted the stage John and said, while he shook his finger close to the captain's face: "Now, you'll have to take your mediine; you'll have to take it right here." captain put out his hand to shove Mr. Reynolds away, and the hand and cheek collided. That was a signal for the friends of both men to rady around them, but cool heads prevented blows being struck. The blows of the chairman's gavel at last partially restored order and Mr. Farr decided to postpone making his answer until the vote was taken. It resulted as follows: Farr, 21; Jones, 15. MR. FARR'S SPEECH.

Then occurred another scene of disorder. The Farr men yelled and cheered and the North End delegates started to leave the hall. At the request of the chairman, however, they remained to hear Mr. Farr speak. The latter denied that he had ever promised to concede the nomination to the North End this year, and also denied most emphatically that he did anything dishonorable during his legislative career at Harrisburg. The story Captain Pierce referred to originated with an ingrate, he said, and he challenged the closest scrutiny of his record in the legislature. His nomination, he said, thanked the delegates as the representatives of the people for the honor. The chairman of the convention and the candidate were instructed to name a legislative committee and the convention adjourned sine die.

FOUGHT SHY OF BONDS.

Bidders Are Not Anxious to Buy County Bonds Because They Are Not Payable in Gold.

As the court house clock struck 12 yesterday the time for receiving sealed proposals to furnish $65,000 for the repairs on the court house was at an end. County Commissioners Glies Roberts, S. W. Roberts and John Demuth opened the bids received and found that there was not any possibility of awarding the contract just then.

The commissioners have not decided whether to extend the time for bidding or to advertise over again. The bonds were to be payable in lawful money of the United States. There would be no scarcity of bidders if the bonds were payable in gold. It is not in any measure due to the lack of confidence in the credit of Lackawanna county, but to the free silver agitation.

Those who did send in proposals were not willing to offer any premium for the bonds, and only two bidders would take the entire issue. A large of brokers sent in bids to take the bonds after they are floated and dispose of them at the highest advantage on the The commissioners have received stacks of letters from financial firms willing to take the bonds and pay a good premium for them if the words "payable in gold" are inserted.

City Union Makes Nominations and Transacts Other Important Business-Matters Pertaining to Decorations, Entertainment and Reception Are Passed Upon by Committees Having Their Respective Affairs in Charge--Resolutions on President Stubblebine's Departure.

Four different ante-convention meetings of the Christian Endeavors were held in Young Men's Christian association hall last night. The entertainment committee of which W. W. Ingles is chairman, put the finishing touches to their arrangements for taking care of the delegates. There will be assistants in each district of the city, J. J. Parkhurst in the central city, Miss Louise Williams on the West Side, Miss Lizzie Williams in Providence, D. J. Phillips in Green Ridge and H. J. Smith in Dunmore, Each of these will appoint a district committee, and these committees will see to it that the delegates who will have headquarters in the churches of their respective districts will be provided with entertainment.

The committee on decorations com posed of Professor D. H. Stone, chairman; D. L. Morgan, R. D. Hall, Miss Bessie Rice, Miss Lizzie Mumford and Miss Lena Clark decided to advertise for proposals for decorating the Frothingham, Academy of Music and Eim Park church; and, also, to publish a request that merchants and residents of the business portion of the city dec-orate their buildings with the convention colors, red and white.

Captains of the reception committee held a meeting and arranged for a session of the general reception committee at the First Presbyterian church tomorrow night.

NEW OFFICERS CHOSEN.

The regular monthly meeting of the general committee was also held. Rev. W. H. Stubblebine presided. Nominations of officers for the ensuing year were made as follows: President, Rev. W. F. on Lackawanna Avenue. A chicken hawk was last evening about 10.30 o'clock seen flying above the tops of the buildings on Lackawanna avenue. The street crowd noticed it and there was a great stretch of necks for a while. After a ten minutes' fly the big bird became tangled in the electric wires in front of the Traders' National bank building. So tangled did it become that it fell to the pave. The cabmen of Lackawanna avenu-
