BRYAN IS NOW IN NORTH CAROLINA

Popocratic Candidate Reaches Asheville in a Palatial Special Train.

HE MADE FEW SPEECHES EN ROUTE

Trying to Save Ilis Voice from Complete Paralysis -- He, However, Addressed Thirty Thousand People at Asheville in the Afternoon -- Features of His Invasion of the South.

Morristown, Tenn., Sept. 16.-The train on which Mr. Bryan left Knoxville for Asheville was a special engaged by the Knoxville company, and the candidate was provided with every wille for Asheville was a special engaged by the Knoxville company, and the candidate was provided with every comfort or route. W. W. Howen, assistant general superintendent of the Southern railway, accompanied the party, attached his private car to the train for the use of Mr. Bryan. The first stop was at Mossy Creek, where several hundred people cheered Mr. Bryan at Mossy Creek, where several hundred people cheered Mr. Bryan it was announced in behalf of the candidate that he would speak as Bittle as possible today.

The Bryan party arrived at Morristown at the control of the party appears and the Lunder and the candidate that he would speak as allver speech on election day by putting a cross in the right place. On the platform was a large lithograph of Mr. Bryan in the candidate this year in the least and the only difference between the less and the control acrows the test and the only difference between the less and the support the nominee, I replied that I did not expect him to support the nominee of 2,000 people by Hon. John Mr. Shleds, of Morristown. Mr. Bryan spoke very briefly, urging all to make a silver speech on election day by putting a cross in the right place. On the platform was a large lithograph of Mr. Bryan side hoped it did not indicate he would receive a chilly reception in Tennessee. Mr. Shleds replied that it only signified that the Democratic candidate this year was col-headed. The train stopped at Morristown five minutes.

IN NORTH CAROLINA.

Hot Springs, N. C., Sept. 16.—Candidate Bryan reached here at 1.20 p. m. It was his first stop in North Carolina, and he was met by the Asheville reception committee, headed by John Y. Jordan, who had come down on a special car. Mr. Bryan made a speech to a big crowd at Newport, the last place where the train stopped in Ten-Pressee.

place where the train stopped in Ten-

Reaching Asheville at 3 o'clock, accompanied by a delegation from Knoxville, by a reception committee from mounted on all kinds of horse flesh. from spirited thoroughbreds to hard worked mules. Mr. Bryan was conveyed to the Battery Park hotel in a gaily decorated carriage ,drawn by four horses, and with him and the members of the party, galloped the mounted escort. The ladies who formed part of it were all dressed in the best fitting riding habits and formed an agreeable feature of the procession.

A PICTURESQUE SCENE. Mr. Bryan's carriage was driven rapidly and the horsemen rode furiously along the dusty streets, many of them shouting as they went and waving their hats in excess of enthuslasm. It was a wildly hilarious sight, exceedingly picturesque and the tired candidate enjoyed it highly. Luncheon was served at the Battery Park hotel

North Carolina contingents. Cutting short the luncheon the party proceeded again under escort of the horsemen and horsewomen, estimated to number more than a thousand, to a natural amphitheatre near the Southern railway depot, where the candidate addressed an immense audience. People from Buncombe county, and in fact from many points in the state, swelled the Asheville contingent to a large figure. Hundreds had come in from the mountains on horseback and in wagons. The sides of the hill on which the concourse was gathered were a solid mass of humanity, numbering, perhaps 30,000. Mr. Bryan was introduced by Hon. Locke Craig. The enthusiasm shown was of the heart-lest kind. When he had finished speaking, Mr. Bryan was taken to the Southern depot and left at 5 o'clock eastern time for Charlotte on a special train, furnished by the North Carolina State Democratic committee.

day was what William J. Bryan called an easy day. What he will call today is yet to be seen. He was up at 2 m., after retiring at midnight, to address several hundred people who had remained awake to see him at Somerset, Ky., when his train reached when a reception committee of twentyfive Knoxville Democrats boarded the train at Oliver Springs. On his arrival here he was taken to the stand on Court square, where a crowd estimated at 20,000 people greeted him. Mr. Bryan was loudly cheered when he appeared to speak, and his speech was frequently applauded. In the course of his speech he said:

of his speech he said:

Against the maintenance of a gold standard for one year, or forever, the Democratic party has arrayed liself. We are opposed to a gold standard. We have declared an honorable opposition to it. We have commenced a war of extermination against it, a war that will not cease while there is any party or any considerable number of men who are attempting to fasten this foreign yoke upon an independent people. (Applause.) I seek no votes under false pretenses. I want no one to vote for me under misunderstanding. If there is any one who believes that the gold standard is a good thing or that it should be maintained, I warn him not to cast his vote for me, because I promise him that it will not be maintained in this country longer than I am able to get rid of it." (Cheers and applause.)

Mr. Bryan then left for Asheville.

BOY'S SENSATIONAL STORY.

Accuses His Abductor of Killing a Detective in Michigan.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Sept. 16.-A lad named Bowen told Humane Officer Schlaudref a sensational story today sensational feature of the lad's peculiar story is the statement that Stiver killed a railroad detective near Vicksburg. Mich., a few days ago while the officer was trying to force him to leave the company's property. The detective was buried by Stiver, who compelled Bowen, who is only 11 years old, to kneel on the grave and swear never to reveal the secret.

Stiver was arrested this evening, and is being held on a charge of abduction pending an investigation by the officers of the more serious charge.

a convention as did the voters of the Democratic party with the convention at Chicago. This question was submitted to the voters. The Democratic idea has been that the party is but the instrument of those who compose it, and derives its power from the will of the voters who number themselves as members of that party. Yet it is often the case that the party machinery or bosses have more to do with shaping the policy and making the nomination than the voters themselves. I am proud to be the nominee of a convention which represented no machine—no bosses but the unsurchased suffrages of the voters of this country. (Great applause.

chine—no bosses but the unimiters of this country. (Great applause.

A few months ago the most sanguing Democrats did not believe that success this fall was more than possible. The most sanguine Democrats felt that four years of gold standard administration had destroyed almost the possibility of success. But the voters of the Democratic party determined to make one final fight and determined that if die the party must it should at least maintain the honor of those who believe in the right of the people to govern themselves. (Cheers.) The result is just what it always is, if people lay aside expediency and seek to do their duty and accept consequences. In trying to do right the Democratic party won a possibility of success which it never could have hoped for if it had consulted expediency. (Cheers.)
