

The Scranton Tribune

Daily and Weekly. No Sunday Edition. Published at Scranton, Pa., by The Tribune Publishing Company.

Entered at the Postoffice at Scranton, Pa., as Second-Class Matter.

SCRANTON, SEPTEMBER 18, 1896.

THE REPUBLICAN TICKET.

NATIONAL. President—WILLIAM MCKINLEY. Vice President—GARRET A. HOBART.

STATE. Congressmen—L. Large—GALUSHA, A. GROW, SAMUEL A. DAVENPORT.

COUNTY. Congress—WILLIAM CONNELL, ROBERTS, GILES. Auditors—A. E. KIEFER, FRED L. WARD.

LEGISLATIVE. Senate, 21st District—COL. W. J. SCOTT. Representative, 1st District—JOHN T. FAIRIE, 2d District—A. T. CONNELL, 3d District—DR. N. C. MACKEV.

Mr. Thacher, the Democratic nominee for governor of New York state, went to Chicago a gold man, but is now running on a free coinage platform.

Mr Merrifield Accp.s. The acceptance by Mr. Merrifield yesterday of the Democratic congressional nomination opens up a fair and square issue to the voters of this county.

Let Us Have Peace. At the conclusion of his victorious fight against the Penrose-Durham contingent in Philadelphia David Martin said: "This is the end of Republican factionalism. I hope, and we will all now drift together for the good and welfare of the city and the country."

The Eclipse of David B. Hill. There is more truth than poetry in the Washington Post's remark that "six weeks ago Hon. D. B. Hill was one of the most important men in the United States."

Colonel McClure has not forgotten Judge Gordon of Philadelphia for sundry passages at arms that have occurred between in the course of professional business.

William J. Bryan. Bryan spoke more low, but cheerily still. And with that tremulo in his voice he said: "I pray thee, then, write me as one who loves his fellow men."

Mrs. Bryan and Her Passes. From the Des Moines Capital. In traveling westward from her eastern town with her husband Mrs. W. J. Bryan of Lincoln, Neb., the wife of the Popocratic presidential nominee, lost her pocketbook containing all the money she saved during the past year.

erence. He trifled with an emergency, and it in return has shot him into the depths of popular derision and contempt. It is possible that the far South may remain solid for Bryan. It is a community still largely at the mercy of the ignorant and unsophisticated vote.

The Case of the Farmer.

It is figured out that the average consumption of wheat in the years 1894 and 1895, in this country, when times were bad, was 33 per cent. lower than in 1890, when times were good.

It might be well for some one to inform the Democratic nominee for congress in this district that it is nowhere proposed to continue the "ruinous financial policy of Grover Cleveland" another four years.

The cry of "full barns but empty pockets," to which Mr. Merrifield alludes, began to be heard about the time that the Democratic party set to work to reconstruct the tariff.

Says the Buffalo News: "The way the York state silverites clamored for an endorsement on the back of the Chicago ticket recalls the practice of a newspaper man down in Scranton, who made all his checks payable 'only after personal presentation to me.'"

The thanks of The Tribune are due to William G. Johnston & Co., of Pittsburgh, for a copy of a pamphlet published by that firm entitled "The Voter's Guide."

It is true that this government has lost over $150,000,000 while trying to prop up a limited coinage of silver; but it isn't true that it intends to remove either the limit or the props.

It is announced that Gorman's health will not permit him to take an active part in the management of Bryan's canvass.

In New York city 13,000 children were turned away from the public schools on opening day because of lack of room.

They are calling Palmer's campaign of the Four Hundred. This may truthfully express its elite quality but as a mathematical proposition isn't it rather large?

Senator Faulkner avers that Secretary Carlisle's party letter will give the Popocrats thousands of votes.

The secret of Bryan's coming to Scranton is probably that Garman needs him in Luzerne.

One thing at least is certain. David B. Hill cannot much longer refuse to fish or cut bait.

Concerning Maine, Bryan "had nothing to say." But then, what could he say?

WILLIAM J. BRYAN. William J. Bryan—may his tribe decrease one night from a sweet dream of peace.

And so within the moonlight's silver gleam An angel writing in a book of gold. His last great speech had made Will Bryan bold.

And to the presence in the room he said, What'riest thou?

The vision slowly raised its head and in a voice all made of sweet accord answered:

"The names of those that love the Lord." "And is mine one?" said Bryan.

"Nay, not so." Bryan spoke more low, but cheerily still.

And with that tremulo in his voice he said: "I pray thee, then, write me as one who loves his fellow men."

The angel wrote, and vanished, and the next night came again with a great awakening light and showed the names whom love of God had blessed, and lo! Will Bryan's name had been erased!

From the Times-Herald.

tion of justice, and would be sublimely economical. True, about one-half the cases tried in such a court would have to be tried over again, but justice would be hastened over Judge Gordon's administration by reason of its greater accuracy in the aggregate.

On June 24 of this year at Saratoga the Democrats of New York in state convention assembled declared themselves "opposed to the free and unlimited coinage of silver in the absence of the co-operation of other great nations."

It might be well for some one to inform the Democratic nominee for congress in this district that it is nowhere proposed to continue the "ruinous financial policy of Grover Cleveland" another four years.

The cry of "full barns but empty pockets," to which Mr. Merrifield alludes, began to be heard about the time that the Democratic party set to work to reconstruct the tariff.

Says the Buffalo News: "The way the York state silverites clamored for an endorsement on the back of the Chicago ticket recalls the practice of a newspaper man down in Scranton, who made all his checks payable 'only after personal presentation to me.'"

The thanks of The Tribune are due to William G. Johnston & Co., of Pittsburgh, for a copy of a pamphlet published by that firm entitled "The Voter's Guide."

It is true that this government has lost over $150,000,000 while trying to prop up a limited coinage of silver; but it isn't true that it intends to remove either the limit or the props.

It is announced that Gorman's health will not permit him to take an active part in the management of Bryan's canvass.

In New York city 13,000 children were turned away from the public schools on opening day because of lack of room.

They are calling Palmer's campaign of the Four Hundred. This may truthfully express its elite quality but as a mathematical proposition isn't it rather large?

Senator Faulkner avers that Secretary Carlisle's party letter will give the Popocrats thousands of votes.

The secret of Bryan's coming to Scranton is probably that Garman needs him in Luzerne.

One thing at least is certain. David B. Hill cannot much longer refuse to fish or cut bait.

Concerning Maine, Bryan "had nothing to say." But then, what could he say?

WILLIAM J. BRYAN. William J. Bryan—may his tribe decrease one night from a sweet dream of peace.

And so within the moonlight's silver gleam An angel writing in a book of gold. His last great speech had made Will Bryan bold.

And to the presence in the room he said, What'riest thou?

The vision slowly raised its head and in a voice all made of sweet accord answered:

"The names of those that love the Lord." "And is mine one?" said Bryan.

"Nay, not so." Bryan spoke more low, but cheerily still.

And with that tremulo in his voice he said: "I pray thee, then, write me as one who loves his fellow men."

The angel wrote, and vanished, and the next night came again with a great awakening light and showed the names whom love of God had blessed, and lo! Will Bryan's name had been erased!

From the Times-Herald.

Is It True That Gold Is Cornered?

From the Times-Herald. One of the stock statements in common use among the silverites, volubly made alike on the platform and on the streets, is that gold is cornered. That the Rothschilds, the Morgans, the Rockefellers, the other conspirators, generally known as "the money power," have formed a combination to make gold scarce and dear, and to drive the silverites into bankruptcy and all who are in debt, the object of these conspirators is to ruin debtors and confiscate entirely such securities as have been put up.

Now, if gold is cornered it must be cornered in Europe as well as in the United States, in London and Paris as much as in New York.

To go no further back than the discovery of America, the gold production since 1820 amounts to about $8,000,000,000. Some, of course, has been lost or destroyed.

Senator Palmer will speak at New York next Tuesday evening.

Senator Teller will in a few days begin a stump tour for Bryan in Kentucky.

Senator-elect Foraker just returned from Europe, says he believes Ohio will give McKinley 200,000 majority.

A secret ballot taken among the 1,500 employees of the Crane Elevator works at Chicago, showed less than 100 votes for silver.

Clarence S. Darrow, the Populist who was attorney for Eugene V. Debs at Chicago, has been nominated for congress by the Democrats of the Third Illinois district.

Evangelist Sam Small has written Kentucky friends that he will make a thorough tour in the interest of Bryan.

Senator Gorman's refusal to attend the Bryan reception to be held in Washington Saturday is rather disheartening to the Democratic managers.

On Tuesday there was a conference in Washington between Senators Jones, Teller, Foraker and Bryan.

Says Walker Wellman: "I speak whereof I know when I say all the Democratic managers now in Washington are beginning to fear they are to be overwhelmed by a great tidal wave."

THE MACHINE AND THE MAN. From the Washington Post.

J. M. H. Frederick has an article in the American Journal of Civics for August and September in which he takes the untoward ground that invention and machinery are inimical to the happiness and prosperity of the people.

There are wholesome signs that the tidal wave will run as strongly through the remainder of New England as it has run in Vermont and Maine.

There are hopes for even Missouri and Kansas. The Democratic managers admit that the hardest thing they will have to contend against henceforth will be the general belief that Bryan is whipped and that the only question remaining to be decided is as to the size of McKinley's majority.

MRS. BRYAN AND HER PASSES. From the Des Moines Capital.

In traveling westward from her eastern town with her husband Mrs. W. J. Bryan of Lincoln, Neb., the wife of the Popocratic presidential nominee, lost her pocketbook containing all the money she saved during the past year.

and in all ways, a larger return for their work.

IT'S PENCHANT FOR "FREE"DOM. From Barcus' "Boomerang."

Mr. Bryan, why is it that you Democrats always want something free? During the war your party fought for free labor—didn't you want to pay anything for it—wanted actual slavery.

After that you wanted free trade; i. e., since you could not get the work for nothing you wanted it for the smallest pay possible by putting us in competition with the pauper labor of foreign countries.

Now, having partly accomplished that, you want free silver, so as to give us our reduced wages in half-priced money. Let us see then—to sum up:

1861.—Free work equals no pay equals absolute slavery.

1862.—Free trade equals one-half work at one-half pay equals three-fourths slavery.

1863.—Free silver equals one-half work at one-half pay, and pay worth one-half equals seven-eighths slavery.

THE SULTAN'S FORESIGHT. From the Washington Star.

The Sultan's defence consists in bringing forward either of two propositions, as the occasion may require. That there are no outrages in Armenia, and that if there are it is nobody's business except his own.

A BOLD POLICEMAN. "I wonder," said the policeman who knows more about the local regulations than about Biblical history, "why it was that Joshua made the sun stop?"

And the member of the bicycle-club expanded his chest and looked learned and answered:

"That's easy. He probably arrested it for scorching."—Washington Star.

LIGHTNING FRUIT JARS. All good housekeepers use Lightning Jars. Why? Because they open and close easy, and are perfect sealers. The result is they never lose a can of fruit.

THE GLEMONS, FERBER, O'MALLEY CO., LIMITED. 422 LACKAWANNA AVE.

Sweetheart Travellers, A Charming New Juvenile by S. R. CROCKETT.

Author of Sixty Minister, Lilies Sunbonnet, The Raiders and The Play Actress. The greatest juvenile since Mrs. Burnett's "Fanny Hill." It takes by storm the hearts of all the children from baby to grandma.

BEIDLEMAN, THE BOOKMAN. 427 Spruce St., Opp. The Commonswealth.

GOLDSMITH'S BAZAAR.

Black Goods

Our new stock now complete. It comprises all of the latest weaves, such as Lizard Cloths, Crepons, Basket Cloths, Boucles, Camel's Hairs, Cheviots, Cravennettes, Vicunas, Brocades, Serges, Henriettas, etc., etc. It will be a pleasure to show them.

Special Sale

200 Dozen Point De Venice Handkerchiefs, in 15 designs. Your Choice, 22 Cents.

Every Street Car Stops at the Door.

CRAZY. They say we are crazy, selling such Suits, Overcoats and Pants at such low prices. Well, let us be crazy. Crazyness has been our success. Therefore we continue to be crazy. GREAT EASTERN SUIT AND PANTS CO., 429 Lackawanna Ave. FINE TAILORING AT POPULAR PRICES.

CURRENCY AND PRICES. Treasury reports show clearly enough that more money, both in the aggregate and per capita, is now in circulation than in 1872, and that owing to the purchase of silver under the Bland and Sherman acts, we have had more silver and more circulating medium than ever before in our history.

Money in Circulation. Year. 1872..... $45,000,000 1873..... 71,000,000 1874..... 75,000,000 1875..... 71,000,000 1876..... 92,000,000 1877..... 122,000,000 1878..... 145,000,000 1879..... 1,502,000,000 and in all ways, a larger return for their work. IT'S PENCHANT FOR "FREE"DOM. From Barcus' "Boomerang." Mr. Bryan, why is it that you Democrats always want something free? During the war your party fought for free labor—didn't you want to pay anything for it—wanted actual slavery.

and in all ways, a larger return for their work. IT'S PENCHANT FOR "FREE"DOM. From Barcus' "Boomerang." Mr. Bryan, why is it that you Democrats always want something free? During the war your party fought for free labor—didn't you want to pay anything for it—wanted actual slavery.

WRITE IT DOWN. As your needs suggests anything in the way of Stationery, Blank Books or Office Supplies and when your list is full bring it in and we will surprise you with the novelties we receive daily. We also carry a very neat line of Calling Cards and Wedding Invitations at a moderate price.

REYNOLDS BROS., Stationers and Engravers, HOTEL JERMYN BUILDING. CONRAD IS SHOWING HIS FALL HATS. Never So Cheap. GOOD HATS. Never So Cheap. CHEAP HATS. Never So Good.

BEIDLEMAN, THE BOOKMAN. 427 Spruce St., Opp. The Commonswealth.

WRITE IT DOWN. As your needs suggests anything in the way of Stationery, Blank Books or Office Supplies and when your list is full bring it in and we will surprise you with the novelties we receive daily.

REYNOLDS BROS., Stationers and Engravers, HOTEL JERMYN BUILDING.

CONRAD IS SHOWING HIS FALL HATS. Never So Cheap. GOOD HATS. Never So Cheap. CHEAP HATS. Never So Good.

BEIDLEMAN, THE BOOKMAN. 427 Spruce St., Opp. The Commonswealth.