A committee was appointed to consider the feasibility of petitioning the legislature for the erection of a One Hundred and Thirty-second regiment memorial tablet on the Antietam battlefield. In this battle the regiment bore an important part. It was of the Second corps. The committee is John Fern, of this city; N. F. Lightner, of Philadelphia, and Colonel Hitchcock, of this city. It was advocated that a regimental tablet be placed in Memorial Chapel at Sharpesburg, but no decisive action up by E. L. Weeks. The sale will take was taken, though the matter was quite fully discussed.

A feature that pleased the gathering was Colonel Hitchcock's presentation of an Antietam souvenir to each one present. The souvenirs were evenly cut chips from the well preserved tlefield. Wilkes-Barre was selected for the next place of meeting.

COMMITTEES AT WORK.

Arranging the Details for the Big Christian Endeavor State Convention. Address to the Citizens.

Last night two important meetings of Christian Endeavor committees were held and transacted business relative to the approaching state convention to be held here Oct. 6, 7 and 8. The committee of '96, the main executive body, met in the Young Men's Christian association building, and the reception committee, which has over 200 members, met in the lecture room of the First Presbyterian church.

Other cities have been lavish in their decorations during the convention periods, and, that Scranton may be equally emphatic in its welcome of bunting, the Committee of '96 decided to issue a public request for generous decorating. The following open letter on the matter was approved:

Scranton, Pa., Sept. 17, 1896. To the Business Men and Citizens of To the Business Men and Citizens of Scranton.

The tenth annual state convention of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor will be held in Scranton on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 6, 7 and 8. It will bring to the city at least 4,000 visitors. While it will be primarily a religious gathering, still the effect of such a large number of delegates in the city will be felt in business circles. Scranton's welcome abould be commensurate with the magnitude of the convention. The committee of '38, the executive committee of arrangements, therefore requests that business men fittingly decorate their stores, and citizens their homes, to give expression to a cordial welcome to all delegates. The convention colors are to be red and white, and there is also a specially designed flag. Hoping that there will be a generous response to this request for decorating the city, we are, for the committee of '38.

Chairment of Charles E, Daniels,

Charles E, Daniels, Chairman, Committee of '96; D. A. Stone, Chairman, Decorating Committee.

It was decided to hold the final preconvention rally in the Penn Avenue Baptist church on Thursday night, Oct. The arranging of a programme was relegated to Rev. W F. Gibbons, Rev. W. H. Stubblebine and C. E. Daniels. Places for holding committee confermeeting, Penn Avenue Baptist church: temperance and citizenshp, Grace Reformed Episcopal church.

Miss Della P. Evans and E. S. Willlams, chairmen of the mammoth reception committee, presided over the session of that body. The committee is one of the most important attached to the convention machinery and is composed of ten members from each of the twenty-three societies in the city. Each of these bands of ten is headed by a lieutenant and the whole is divided into four groups representing the central city, West Side, North End and Green Ridge. There are four captains, one for each group. Thus the work of so large a body is carried along without confusion through its two chairmen four captains, twenty-three lieutenants and over 200 members. The reception committee will meet all in-coming delegations and escort them to designated headquarters in certain churches according to an already established schedule by counties.

DETERMINED AIR OF ATTORNEY WATSON

His Opinion Gives an Inkling of the Turnpike Company's Stand.

THEY ARE EVIDENTLY IN EARNEST

Willing to Have an Amicable Action at Court, but Repairs to the Road Must Go on Undisturbed in the Meantime -- Excerpt from the Opinion Under Which the Company Is Making Its Fight.

When the attorneys for city and the Providence and Abington Turnpike ompany met in Alderman Millar's ofice yesterday morning to war over the arrest of President H. E. Paine and his gang of workmen on the previous day, it was mutually agreed that the prosecution should be indefinitely postooned and that the differences between the city and the company should be submitted to court in the form of a

S. B. Price, the city's attorney, also agreed to advise Mr. Kinsley not to further interfere with the company's vorkmen, feeling satisfied that the city will win in the long run, and the company will not be able to collect the ost of the repairs from the city.

Mr. Watson, attorney for the comoany, said he could not do otherwise than direct his clients to continue the work of repair. In an opinion on this point submitted to the directors on Sept. 8, he said, after reciting the law on the case which holds the company privately responsible for the condition of the road:

MR. WATSON'S OPINION.

What shall this company do? As I have shown the officers of the company are liable to be arrested and indicted. The only strange thing to me is that we are not all of us arrested and under indictment. Perhaps it is because the traveling public do not know the law. That we are liable to indictment and have been for weeks and indeed, for months is beyond question, and if I were not a member of the company and was compelled to travel over this turnpike and pay tolls I would have the officers of the company indicted at the next court of Quarter session and I would proceed against the company and recover every penalty provided by statute and thus compel this company to provide a suitable roadbed, a good road, one that would accommodate the traveling public and comply with the Act of Assembly.

Of course, it is the duty of the city to put the road in such repair, but the city and it is therefore the bounden duty of this company to proceed at once to repair that portion of its road.

The fact that certain officials of the city threatened to arrest or enjoin the officers of this company if they go upon that portion of its road to repair the same is of no earthly account. It does not release this company of its duty in any respect whatsoever nor does the fact that the street commissioner has gone upon that part of the road and shoveled the roads while constructing a sewer therein make any difference in this regard. Nor is the company released of its obligation if there are some places in the rond above the bridge not in proper condition.

CITY HAS DONE NOTHING. MR. WATSON'S OPINION

CITY HAS DONE NOTHING.

The city has done nothing, absolutely nothing, toward repairing this road. It has not fulfilled its agreement to keep this road in repair any more than if it had never done anything upon it.

It is, it refere, my direction, so far as I am authorized by the company, to direct that the president of this company proceed without further delay to repair that part of the turnpike from Leggett's creek bridge to Mulley's Corners, and that such repairs commence at Leggett's creek bridge and be continued down the line of the road. That coarse stones, so far as is necessary, be broken into the shallow places or hollows until the road shall be of the level provided by the Act of Assembly and that crushed stones then be placed upon the surface of the road until it shall be macadamized and in good condition as provided by law and by resolution of this company.

That the president of the company or some person authorized by him keep an exact and correct account of the time of the employes working upon the road and of all the expense incurred in repairing the same and that a sworn statement of the money so expended be redered/to the city clerk each month and payment of the same be demanded of the city, and that if the city refuses or neglects to pay the same that suit be instituted and the moneys so expended he redered/to the city clerk each month and payment of the same be demanded of the city, and that if the city refuses or neglects to pay the same that suit be instituted and the moneys so expended recovered from the city.

Twill only add that a my budgment if CITY HAS DONE NOTHING.

oneys so expended recovered from the moneys so expended recovered from the city.

I will only add that, in my judgment, if the present board of managers of the Providence and Abington Turnpike and Plank Road company has not the courage to do its duty in this regard and carry out the plan herein suggested the board had better resign at once and permit the stockholders of the company to elect a board that will do its duty under the law and the decisions of the courts. All of which is respectfully submitted. Mr. Watson also directed a letter to

Mr. Paine defining his duties in the premises and telling him he should not se swerved from his duty by the intererence of any of the city officials. Mr. Paine and his workmen recomsenced operations yesterday afternoon.

Instead of simply grading and levelling the road they are building a solid and substantial macadam roadbed and in case the city should come out second best in the litigation now on, it will have a bill of repairs of very robust dinensions to meet.

Rev. Dr. James McLeod, of the First Presbyterian church, was the officiating clergyman. There was no formality of any kind. The bride was attired in a stylish, brown colored traveling sult, and the groom was in conventional business dress. Following the ceremony, which took place at 9 'clock a collation was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Richards left here for New York city at 1.40 o'clock this morning via the Lackawanna road. They will sail in the Umbria tomorrow morning, and will be in Europe for about two months.

The bride is a member of the city's most prominent social element. Her splendid executive qualities have caused her to be identified with the management of many semi-public af-fairs in the First Presbyterian church, of which she is a member, and in other interests. Few women, her acquaintinces say, could be possessed of a heerier manner or affability and tact than she. These qualities have won for her a large and loyal circle of
