GROVESNOR GIVES OUT AN ESTIMATE

The Mathematician of the McKinley Boom Ventures a Prediction.

HIS TABLE OF ELECTORAL VOTES

It Shows That the Ohio Candidate Has Certainly Fifty-four More Votes Than Will Be Needed to Elect and May Get Several More--Ohio Good for 100,000 Republican Plurality.

Athens, O., Sept. 20.—General Grovesnor tonight gave out a table of estimates of the probable result of the presidential election. He said: "I have been urged for several weeks to authorize the publication of a table of estimate of the presidential election and I have hesitated to do so because there was more or less uncertainty in regard to the result; not that there has ever been any uncertainty or doubt in the intelligence of those who would be elected, but that the St. Louis convention and the nomination of Bryan and Sewall by one faction of the Democratic party, and the substantial absorption of the Populist party, which succeeded that event, there was some uncertainty as to how a number of states would finally go, and the possibility of uncertainty has not yet entirely disappeared, but the general drift of political events has reached a point where I think I need not hesitate to point out substantially how the several states will go.

The six New England states, with 29 electoral votes, will go to McKinley. So I head my table as follows:

New England	29	Wisconsin	12
New York	33	Iowa	12
New Jersey	10	Minnesota	9
Maryland	8	South Dakota	4
Delaware	3	Kentucky	13
Pennsylvania	23	Oregon	4
West Virginia	12	California	4
Ohio	21	Illinois	15
Indiana	11	Michigan	14
Missouri	12	Total	275

"Here is a total of 278 votes, or 54 more than sufficient to elect, all of which are practically sure for McKinley.

STATES IN DOUBT. "I come now to some states which are still in doubt, but which under the high tide of Republican success now sweeping over the country will be almost sure to vote for McKinley, if not all of them, at least a very large proportion of them, to wit:

Kansas	10	Wyoming	3
Nebbraska	11	North Carolina	11
North Dakota	3	Total	25

"Here are thirty-five electoral votes from which McKinley will surely receive enough to make good any accident that may befall the total of 278. Of the remaining states, Louisiana, with 8 electoral votes, Tennessee, 12; Missouri, 12; Texas, 15; and Virginia, with 17, or 64 in all, one or more of them is within the line of possibility. I might almost say reasonable probability.

"I concede to Bryan and Watson, or Bryan and Sewall, or Bryan and whoever it may be at the right time:

Alabama	11	Mississippi	9
Arkansas	7	Montana	3
Colorado	4	Nevada	3
Florida	4	South Carolina	9
Georgia	11	Utah	3
Idaho	3	Total	64

"These are practically sure for the opposition, although there may be a possible dispute even along that line.

CHANGE IN SENTIMENT. "I put my estimate upon the facts within my own personal knowledge of the rapid and mighty change in public sentiment that has been going on ever since the actual campaign of 1896 began. I believe that the vote of Arkansas, exhibited such a decided leaning with pride, is more significant of coming results in the middle and western states than is even the magnificent victory in Maine. The fact that a state like Arkansas, with the character of whose elections we have become familiar, exhibited such an apparent increase of Republican votes, and such a significant decrease of Democratic votes, is in the highest degree important and a relative increase of Republican votes in the other states of the middle and west would give us practically a solid vote. No sensible man should doubt that the McKinley tide has been rising since about the first of August and that the ratio of its increase grows greater every day. The campaign is suggestive of 1872, when in July and August there was a grave apprehension that McKinley would be elected. Yet in November he was overwhelmingly and disastrously defeated.

"I may add in this connection that estimates and prophetic utterances of our opponents may be well illustrated by the situation in Ohio. During my recent trip to that state I found scores of Republicans who were anxiously desiring that Ohio would be carried by McKinley and scores of Democrats who insisted that their information left no possible doubt of McKinley's defeat in his native state. Since my return I have had advice from every congressional district in the state and I predict with confidence that McKinley will have more than 100,000 majority in Ohio and that he will carry as many congressional districts as we did in 1894, or in no event will we lose more than one district.

SAT IN LINCOLN'S PEW. Mr. Bryan Attended Religious Services While in Washington. Washington, Sept. 20.—Accompanied by his host, Mr. Bryan attended service this morning at the New York Avenue Presbyterian church. The announcement of this fact attracted to the church a number of persons not accustomed to worship there. Mr. Bryan was not a stranger to the members of the New York Avenue church. During his congressional career, and while Rev. W. A. Bartlett was pastor, Mr. Bryan was a frequent attendant upon his services. Today Mr. Bryan had a seat in the pew occupied by President Lincoln, who attended the church under the pastorate of Rev. Dr. Gurley. Rev. Dr. Radcliffe, the pastor, had no previous knowledge of the intended presence of the presidential candidate. He was only the slightest reference

CHAIRMAN HANNA IS ENTHUSIASTIC

Says Everything Points to a Sweeping Victory for McKinley.

THE WEST IS GETTING INTO LINE

Something About the Marvelous Organization Which the Present Chairman Has Perfected--Nothing Like It Ever Known Before in the History of American Politics.

Chicago, Sept. 20.—Chairman Hanna left for Cleveland and the east last night. When he returns he will devote all his time until the close of the campaign to the abolition of the tariff. He would not only carry the great central states of the west by handsome majorities, but that he would probably win in other states where electoral votes are now confidently claimed by the Democrats. Henry C. Payne will retain charge of the headquarters in this city, but will devote all his time to the transaction of business here.

WELL ORGANIZED. It is Mr. Hanna's opinion—and in this he is supported by many who have grown gray in the working of political machinery—that today the Republican party has the strongest and best national political organization ever formed in the United States, not excepting even the famous Tilden organization of the centennial year. Illinois, Kansas, Iowa, Michigan, Indiana, Nebraska and Minnesota and the two western states of the north, are the very core, through what is known as the township system, by which the state committee works in direct connection with the county committee, the latter in turn with the township organization. This in turn with the ward committee and the latter with the precinct board. Thus the state committee, and through it the national committee, has its finger, as it were, upon the pulse of every voter already on the side of patriotism and of every one who has in him the making of a convert.

A WONDERFUL SYSTEM. It is a wonderful system, and yet simplicity itself. To quote Mr. Hanna: "This systematic organization is about complete, and if organization is of any use in elections, then we have that much advantage over the Democrats. I honestly do not believe that there were ever so many people actively engaged in electing a president as there are in the present Republican campaign. My representatives show that tens of thousands of men, who never before have taken any interest in politics beyond going to the polls, are now working themselves out of their skins in electing a president for McKinley, distributing literature or making polls of their business places or residences. This remarkable and extraordinary willingness to work I regard as one of the most encouraging phases of the campaign."

NEBRASKA APPEARS TO HAVE REACHED THE LINE. In its method of township organization, in a detailed statement rendered to headquarters, by Chairman George W. Post, it is shown that every square mile of land in the state has a Republican worker, whose duty it is to look after the voters or voter residing thereon. In some of the prairie regions such work has only one man in his bailiwick, while others have but four or five.

VERY LIVELY POLITICS.

Utah Silver Question and Pandemonium Temporarily Reigns. Salt Lake, Utah, Sept. 20.—Yesterday was a day of conventions in this city, no fewer than four being held, two Republican, one Democratic, and one Populist. The two latter were for the nomination of county officers and passage of a resolution. One of the Republican conventions was to elect delegates to the McKinley Republican state convention to be held on Sept. 28 and the other to elect delegates to the silver Republican convention. This gathering was an exceedingly lively affair.

The committee resolutions brought in two reports. The majority recommended that the delegates elected on Friday by the independent or third wing of the Republicans, be chosen as delegates to the silver Republican convention and the minority report recommended that the convention proceed to elect delegates in the usual manner. This precipitated a fight on the adoption of the reports and for a while pandemonium reigned.

At about six o'clock the meeting on the platform and stage portrait of Major McKinley, which adorned the chairman's table, proceeded to tear it to pieces. The McKinley followers rushed to the rescue of the picture and a free fight followed which the sergeants-at-arms were powerless to stop. Finally some of the McKinley workers ejected from the hall and peace was restored. The minority report was adopted by a large majority and the business of electing delegates proceeded without interruption.

DISOBEYED ORDERS.

The Result is That These Miners Were Badly Burned. Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Sept. 20.—Anthony Carroll, a miner, and his laborer, John Brennan, were badly burned by an explosion of gas at a late hour last evening in the Clear Spring mine at Pittston. They entered a chamber which was filled with gas to go to work, contrary to orders of the fire boss, and ignited the gas with the lighted lamps they carried on their hats.

Both men are burned on hands, face and neck. They were removed to the hospital and tonight their condition is considered fatal.

Isn't This Terrible?

Chicago, Sept. 20.—The Democratic national committee claimed yesterday to have received a card of a citizen, which had been sent by the Northwestern Harvesting Machine company, of Chicago, to its agents throughout the west, telling them to supply their traders with gold tickets and money. These are also among the farmers the same as advertising matter of the firm.

County Treasurer Short $18,000. San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 20.—A special to the Call from Redding, Cal., says that William Jackson, county treasurer of Shasta county, is short over $18,000 in his accounts, and it is probable that he will be increased to $18,000 when his books have been thoroughly examined. Jackson has held the office for sixteen years.

Terrible Revenge on a Negro. Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 20.—At Stuyden's crossing, a hamlet between Lamar, Miss., and Grand Junction, Tenn., in the former state, Walter Brown, a young negro, was shot to death and then burned yesterday. His crime was a murderous assault upon Mrs. Stuyden, postmistress, aged 72 years, late Friday night.

Steamship Arrivals. New York, Sept. 20.—Arrived: La Gasconne, from Havre; Maasdam, from Rotterdam and Boulogne. Arrived at: La Normandie, at Havre. Sailed for New York: Etruria, from Queenstown.

HOODLUMS HARRASS HIM.

They Rudely Interrupt Mr. Powderly at Cleveland and Necessitate the Intervention of the Police.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 20.—A bitter political battle was waged in Central Park last night where Terence V. Powderly addressed a Republican meeting. Pandemonium broke loose when the chairman was introduced and a crowd in the gallery made it almost impossible for him to proceed with the meeting.

When he finally managed to introduce Mr. Powderly the scene was indescribable. The ex-labor leader was pelted with the vilest epithets and for fully five minutes such a racket was kept up that it was impossible for Powderly to begin. A riot seemed imminent. The police were summoned and several arrests made. Finally, when Powderly opened his speech a great many people evidently by a pre-arranged plan left the hall in a body, making all the noise they could, shouting, slandering and hooting as they left.

When Powderly mentioned Bryan's name there were cheers and hisses, mingled with cheers for McKinley. In the midst of the excitement, a Populist leader named Howard Dennis climbed on the stage and prepared to ask Powderly questions. The police were again called and Dennis was taken off the platform. Mr. Powderly then proceeded.

IN AID OF DR. GALLAGHER.

Public Demonstration Arranged by Irish Societies. Philadelphia, Sept. 20.—A number of delegates from the various Irish societies of Philadelphia met at Industrial Art hall this afternoon for a public demonstration in aid of Dr. Gallagher and other recently released Irish prisoners. There was a large representation present.

Addresses were made by Patrick O'Neil, James F. Lennon, Joseph Carter, of Scranton; Edward Mullally, of Washington and several others. Nearly all the speakers agreed that this was not the time to discuss the wisdom of the acts which placed the Irish prisoners in England's grasp, nor the time to discuss means for Ireland's advancement. It was time, however, to do all that was possible to keep these men from want and privation. A committee was finally authorized to secure the Academy of Music or some other large hall for an early date. Arrangements are being made for a similar movement to be held in Pittsburg.

MEDAL OF HONOR LEGION.

What Will Scranton Do to Entertain Its Members? "What is Scranton going to do to entertain the members of the Medal of Honor Legion when they meet in this city early next summer?" is a question that is frequently asked.

As yet nothing has been done in the way of organizing a committee to take charge of the matter but the supposition is that steps will be taken in time to enable Scranton to give a fitting reception to the men whose gallant deeds have won for them the country's highest recognition—the medal of honor.

EX-GOVERNOR M'LANE FOR MCKINLEY.

The Well-Known Maryland Democrat Declines Against Bryan. Baltimore, Sept. 20.—Ex-Governor R. M. McLane, who has held a number of positions abroad under Democratic administrations, says in a letter to his brother that he will not be able to vote at the coming presidential election, and adds:

"I must say that I do not consider the late Democratic convention entitled to my respect, and I am only deterred by a feeling of courtesy to many of the individuals composing it from terming it a fool's paradise, where the great and good are the victims of the revolutionists' idea now prevailing in Europe. I owe it to my self-respect to say to you that if I could vote I would cast my ballot for the candidate most likely to defeat Bryan and Sewall, and this, as I see it, is Governor McKinley."

ENGLAND ASKS FOR TYNAN.

She Makes a Formal Demand on France for His Extradition. Paris, Sept. 20.—The French government has received a formal demand from Great Britain for the extradition of Patrick J. Tynan, the leader of the alleged dynamite conspiracy against Queen Victoria and the Czar of Russia, who was arrested at Boulogne-sur-Mer on last Sunday morning.

NED CRANE KILLS HIMSELF.

In His Palmy Days He Was One of the Star Pitchers. Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 20.—Edward N. Crane, who was in his day one of the finest base ball pitchers in the country, ended his life at Congress Hall last night. He had been drinking heavily of late and became despondent. An empty chloral found on the dresser this morning tells the story. Mr. Crane has for twelve years been prominently identified with the national game. He first sprang into prominence in 1857, when he pitched a

PITCHED BATTLE IN PHILADELPHIA

Police Raid on a Speak-Easy Leads to Serious Results.

ONE MAN KILLED, FIVE INJURED

It All Came About Through the Attempt of a Squad of Bluecoats to Enforce the Brooks Law in a Portion of the City Known as Little Italy.

Philadelphia, Sept. 20.—A pitched battle occurred early this morning in that part of the city known as "Little Italy" between a squad of policemen and the inmates of a speak-easy who were resisting arrest. Although the encounter lasted but fifteen minutes, one man was shot and instantly killed, while five others were injured or less seriously injured. The proprietor of the speak-easy was finally arrested, together with seven of the combatants, and at a hearing before Magistrate Jermon today the participants were held without bail on the charge of murder.

HOW IT STARTED.

The scene of the affray was a dinky three-story brick house, 612 Baker street, which is in the heart of the Italian district. About midnight Special Officers Hamm and Baker, together with Policemen Sibert, Mitchell, Thayer, Wagner, Phillips and Roney, all attired in citizen's clothes, arrived at the Baker street house with a warrant for the arrest of Michael Wolff, a spectator, shot in the hand by Policeman Mitchell, struck in the head by a brick; Robert Donabue, a citizen, who took part in the fray, struck in the head with a brick and stabbed in the breast. The injured were all taken to the Pennsylvania hospital.

Those of the police who were in a side alley found themselves hemmed in at either outlet by crowds of threatening foreigners. A portion of the inmates had by this time reached the roof, and they began to shoot at the officers in the alley. Bricks were also thrown from the chimneys and hurled at the officers. Bullets and bricks flew in all directions and finally when the combatants were subdued Michael Pizsa was found dead on the roof. He lay on his back with the blood gushing from two gaping bullet wounds. It is not known whether he was shot by the policemen or by his comrades in mistake.

VERY DARING BURGLAR.

Residence in Twentieth Ward Entered and $8 Stolen. Some time between midnight and daylight yesterday morning the residence of Charles Henry Deane, 222 Birney avenue, in the upper part of the Twentieth ward, was entered by a burglar and $8 in cash was stolen from the dressing case in the bedroom where he and his wife slept.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

Two Houses Hit and in One a Woman Was Stunned by the Shock. During the storm Saturday morning the lightning was very sharp and close. A bolt struck the residence of David D. Griffiths, of Minooka, inside foreman at the National shaft of the William Connell & Co., and his wife was stunned by the shock. The passage of the lightning was down through the chimney, but beyond shattering the bricks no damage was done. Medical aid was summoned for Mrs. Griffiths and she recovered in a short time and is now well.
