BRYAN'S SPEECH AT WILMINGTON

He Discusses Finances in the Land the Delaware Peach Crop.

EXPLANATION OF THE BOND ISSUE

The Boy Orator Declares the Whole Affair a System of Financial Jugglery .- Duties of Government Officials Defined, but No Suggestions as to Easy Methods of Obtaining Silver Dollars Are Given.

Wilmington, Del., Sept. 21.—The day of campaigning which William J. Bry-an began at five o'clock this morning, when he arose from his bed in Baltiwhen he arose from his bed in Baltimore to catch an early train for Dover ended tonight with two speeches in Wamington to large audiences. At 8.39 he addressed about 5,000 people in the auditorium. The building was packed and in addition to its seating capacity of 2,500, more than a thousand more spectators squeezed themselves into the available standing space. When the doors were opened early this evening there was a terrible crush and some women were badly bruised. The hall filled in ten minutes.

When Mr. Bryan entered the auditorium with National Committeeman

When Mr. Bryan entered the auditor-ium with National Committeeman Kenney and members of the local re-ception committee there was a wild out-burst of applause. L. Irving Handy, Democratic candidate for congress, in-troduced him. Mr. Handy in his pres-entation speech mentioned the name of William McKinley and there was an immediate respense from the audience.

an overflow meeting from a stand erected outside the auditorium. Mr. Bryan spoke as follows:

MR. BRYAN'S SPEECH.

Mr. Camirman, laddes and gentlemen:—
It is sometimes customary for the people who desire to see a presidential candidate to form excursions and visit the home of the candidate (Laughter and cheers), but times are hard this year and the candidate comes to you to save the expense of trayel. Clasinghier and cheers.) I do not believe our people can travel as cheaply, anyhow, as our opponents can during this campaign. (Greet cheers.) I want to talk to you awhile tonight about the financist policy of the government. I have an old-fashioned idea that the people have a right to select their public servants and that those public servants and that those public servants and that those public servants and that the government as the people want that government conducted. If you want to employ a man to do a certain kind of work you want to know that the man is able to do the work that you want done and that ne is willing to do the work that you want to find out first what you want done and then you want to find out who is the best person to do that work in a manner in which ryou want to find out who is the best person to do that work in a manner in which ryou want to find out who is the best person to decide whether our way is your way. The treasury department is an important part of our government. It has to MR. BRYAN'S SPEECH.

FEATURES OF FINANCE.

FEATURES OF FINANCE.

First, what use shall we make of the silver dollars already in existence? Second, shall we have any more silver dollars put into existence? In the first place our silver dollar is not redocmable in gold by law. Our silver dollar is a legal tender for all debts public and private unless the contract expressly excludes the silver dollar, our soverment has a right to pay all debts public and private unless the contract expressly excludes the silver dollar. Our government has a right to pay every coin obligation in either gold or silver, whichever the government then desires. (Applause.) Furthermore this government has no gold obligation except gold notes, and for every note there is a gold dollar in the treasury ready to pay it. This government has no paper outstanding excepting the gold notes, apon which gold can legally be demanded. What use shall we make of the silver dollar? The Chicago platform declares that the silver dollar shall be used just as the gold dollar is and that the government shall not discriminate in favor of one or against the other in the treatment of the coin. (Great applause.) If you will turn to the language of John Sherman in 1878, when he was secretary of the treasury, you will find that he admits that the greenbacks are legally redeemable in silver. If you will turn to the Matthews resolution passed through both houses in 1878, you will find that the solution expressely declares that the United States has the right to pay all coin obligation in either gold or silver. If you will turn to Mr. Carlisle's testimony before the complicited on appropriations of the house of representatives on the first day of January, 1805, you will find that Mr. Carlisle's testimony before the complicited that by the law the govday of January, 1895, you will find that Mr Carlisle admitted that by the law the gov ernment could redeem greenbacks and treasury notes in silver, but Mr. Carliste said in his judgment it would be unsafe for the government to exercise that right because other secretaries of the treasury because other secretaries of the treasury had established a precedent and that pre-cedent was that the note holders would be permitted to designate the kind of pay-ment instead of the government. BOND ISSUE UNNECESSARY.

BOND ISSUE UNNECESSARY.

I lay this down as a ground work, because, my friends, the issue of $252,000,000 of bonds was unnecessary. It was simply those bonds were issued because the secretary refused to exercise the rights given by law and preferred to saddie a bonded debt upon this country instead of departing from the customs, (Cheers.) More than that, my friends, not only has the secretary of the treasury issued bonds to the extent of $252,000,000 to buy gold when the necessity for buying gold could have been avoided by the use of silver. Not only have those bonds been issued, but there is no end to the issue of bonds if this financial system continues, and the Republican party proposes to continue the same limancial system that has cursed this country for the last twenty-three years, (Great applause). Let me show you what is possible under this system, because I have so much confidence in the ability and patriotism of the people that I believe a clear understanding of the manipulation of the treasury for private gain by the great syndicate formed for the purpose would open the eyes of the people and arouse a unanimous protest against it. The first $50,000,000 of bonds were advertised for and the advertisement stated that only gold would be received for the bonds. Suppose the man had gone to the secretary of the treasury with $1,000 in greenbacks and treasury notes and said to the secretary. The secretary would have said: "We can't sell you these bonds for greenbacks and treasury notes, and treasury notes and the first sould have said: "We can't sell you these bonds for gold. Then the man would say: "Do I understand that you have some bonds for said! them for greenbacks and treasury notes, and treasury notes, and them for gold." The secretary would have said: "Well, that is what we are here for," and would have given him the $1,000 in gold. Then the man would say: "Do I understand that you have some bonds for said?" "Yes," "Well, here is your $1,000 in gold to pay for those b the absurdity of that proposition, I ask him to ask his wife about it, because there is not a wife that cannot tell you that it was an idiotic transaction. Then they issued $50,000,000 more and drew out a larger percentage of the gold than the first time. Then they made the Rothschild contract. There was a contract by which this government sold to a private syndicate bonds at left, which were at that time worth 19 in the market. There is not a private citizen who would ever do that thing or his relatives would have a guardian appointed to take care of his property. (Laughter and applause.) Mencan do as public officers that which they would not do if they were handing their own money and attending to their own business.

MANIPULATING GOLD.

MANIPULATING GOLD. MANIPULATING GOLD.

We were told when we sold bonds at home we had to furnish the gold to buy the bonds with. So they tried to buy the gold abroad and they would not have to furnish the gold with which they were buying. It made a little larger circle. It took a little longer to get around. The one provision in that contract struck me as an exceedingly sagacious one was the one providing that this gold should be paid in instalments extending aver some an exceedingly sagacious one was the one providing that this gold should be paid in instalments extending over some months. The beauty of that was that the gold could not be gotten out until it got in, and the longer it took setting in the longer it took setting in the longer it took to get out. They sold bonds and sent them across the ocean, and for six months afterward these bonds came back to this country and took gold away from this country at the rate of 129. That is disanciering. Changhter and applause. That is wisdom in financial circles. Haughter.) And if there is any one here that does not see that if is wise to not sell, say so, because they will say you are an ignorannous down in Wall street. That contract contained a sibulation by which the Rothschild and Morgan syndicate agreed for a certain length of time to do their best to protect the treasury of the United States. I think that was the worst clause in the contract that the services of those men were worth buying and paying a large orice for.

If was a recognition that but for the purchase the services could not have been rendered, if this government is going to admit that it depends for its financial existence upon the banking firms, one for eight and one domestle, then it puts itself where these people can charge this government what they please. I am not much of a financier, but my idea is that instead of hiring those men to let us alone we ought to try them as they do any other men who conspire against the government and punish them for conspiring against the country. (Great cheering.)

CORONADO SHAFT HOUSE IS BURNED | Heavy Storm and Flood Causes Much

A Fireman, White Endeavoring to Extinguish the Fire, Is Shot and Mortally Wounded -- Other Attacks by the Lawless Mobs Repelled by Bullets .- The Killed and Wounded.

Leadville, Col., Sept. 21.-Leadville is a battle ground toda, and the Coron-ado mine is the scene of a desperate engagement between strikers and the twenty men who were working in and living at the mine. The bloody hand of dynamite bombs burned the Cor onado shaft house and made a forced attack on the men, but they were driv-en from their ground with three of their number mortally wounded and two seriously injured.

The most atrocious crime committed during this lawless attack was the shooting and mortal wounding of Jerry O'Keefe, who was doing his duty as a fireman in trying to extinguish the blaze that, despite the efforts of the fire department, consumed four dwelling houses as well as the Coronado shaft house and out buildings. But the bloody work of the strikers was not confined alone to the Coronado mine. A lawless mob gathered around the Emmett, a little after the attack was made on the Coronado, but the men at the Emmett were ready for the attack and when the crowd ap-peared they fired such a volley of bullets into them that they found it un-safe to go further in their nefarious work. Not one of their number was killed, but Jerry Mahoney, a miner liv-ing near the Resurrection, who happened to be coming along the road a firing about a hundred shots into the shaft house. Armed men also prowled around the can mine at about the same time and fired several shots into the shaft house, but did not come close enough to throw dynamite bombs and fire the building. A great quantity of giant powder was burned out-side the feace of the Einmett mine, but no harm was done by it. This powder was brought to blow up the Enmett shaft house, but the resistance made to the attack by the men on the inside foiled the strikers' plans and

WALKED IN A TRAP. John Mahoney is not dead, but the doctors say he cannot live. Mahoney is not a striker, although he is a union miner. He was working a lease with two others and they were with him when he was shot, but none of the men knew they walked into a death trap until Mahoney was pierced by a ball and fell from his horse. None of the men killed have families. O'Keefe and Mahoney are single men and it is be-

The madame is fair and fat and over forty. She boarded long enough with Mr. Terry to run up a bill of about $75 that she neglects to pay, and that's the reason he wants to expose her. The charge against her is that during the month of September and at other times, she pretended for gain or lucre to prediet future events by telling fortunes A young woman named Barrett swor she got her fortune told by Madan Anbrey and gave her a dollar for it. The alderman made the defendant furnish ball for her appearance at court. She then had a warrant issued for Terry, charging him with assault and battery, and by force of arms and ad ministering medicine to her forcibly and against her will, making a crim inel assault upon her. Bail was en tered in this case, also. Deputy Con-stable Yeomans served both warrants. Attorney F. F. Gibbs represented the prosecutor and Attorneys John F. Scragg and Frank E. Boyle the de-
