Brooklyn, Sept. 23.-William J. Bry-Brooklyn, Sept. 23.—William J. Bryan journey from Philadelphia today by way of Trenton, Lambertyille, Phillipsburg, Washington, Newark and Hoboken. At Trenton a big crowd was in walting at the station but the train did not stop long enough for the candidate to make a speech. At Lambertyille a large proportion of the townspeople gave Mr. Bryan a stirring reception. Stockton turned out a small gathering, while Phillipsburg's crowd numbered between four and five thousand. At the latter place there was a stop of fifteen minutes and Mr. Bryan made a speech, in the course of which made a speech, in the course of which he said:

I see here laboring men. I want you to remember that in this campaign we have opposed to us every man who has attempted to destroy labor organizations and break up these associations of laboring men. (Great applause.) I want you to understand that we have on our side in this campaign the only people who have aided labor in its endeavor to better the condition of those who toll and we can better submit our cause to those who are interested in the welfare of the laboring man themselves than to submit the cause to these who are interested in the welfare of the laboring man themselves than to submit the cause to these who in this election try to destroy everything that is of benefit to the laboring man. I remember when I was in congress we had a bill up to compet the railroads to put on couplers to protect the lives of the railway employees and every tailway attorney opposed it and told us that it would cost too much, measuring human life in dollars and cents, and when we insisted that we had the same right to protect the lives of the laboring man as we had of other men, we could not touch the hearts of these people. If the presidents of railroads are able to manipulate the voice of their employes in the interests of those whom the presidents of tailroads want elected, then the presidents of tailroads will manipulate the men after the election and will be deaf to every entreaty of the men who voted for their interests under coercion. (Great applance.)

HE REACHES BELVIDERE. Several hundred people heard Mr. Bryan for a few minutes at Belvidere. A brass band augmented the enthusiasm. The moon day sun did little to temper the chill air at Manunka Chunk, reached by Mr. Bryan at 12.05. Matunka Chunk is a little junction where the Pennsylvania and Delaware. Lackawanna and Western roads meet. It is not a settlement. Mr. Bryan stood on a baggage truck in the center of the platform between the two tracks and talked a few minutes to a couple of hundred people. He said the issue was between the drones and the bees. TALK AT WASHINGTON.

Mr Bryan's speech here lasted three-marters of an hour. He spoke from a stand in the public square to an audiof between 2,500 and 3,000 people. Washington, Garrett A. Hobart has an organ factory, and as the train are weinto the station Mr. Bryan saw a bix McKiniey and Hobart flag floating from one of its windows. In his speech he referred to the organ industry of the town, but did not mention Mr. Ho-His audience was very atten-and showed some enthusiasm. A feature of the meeting in the park was a cavalende of thiry young women. Mr. Fryan spoke in part as follows:

I want the interest you manifest in the letion to grow until the ballots are all i. I believe our cause will grow because is the truth and truth commends itself in I believe our cause will grow because it is the truth and truth commends itself to those who think. Our opponents tell us to open the mills. What is the use of opening the mills unless you can buy what the mills produce. You can open all the factories you will, but until you put enough money in the farmer's pockets to buy products, you might no well close your factories. Nearly half the people of this country are engaged in agriculture. You cannot destroy the property of those engaged in agriculture and expect people to prosper, If you want prosperity in this country you have got to begin at the bottom and let prosperity work up. Prosperly never came down to the people from the money changers of any country on the face of the earth. (Cheers.)

After sold standard means half time in the factories and double time on the farms to make the same amount of money, it means half time in the factories because there is not work enough for the people to be employed full time, and it means double time on the farm to make a living. They tell us to have confidence for several years and it is getting to be mighty thin diet. (Laughter.) You ask for something to eat and they say have confidence; that you have had enough to eat and you won't feel hungry. They tell you to have faith. Faith is the substance of things hoped for the evidence of things not seen. (Laughter.)

MORE WORK AND LESS FAITH.

MORE WORK AND LESS FAITH.

MORE WORK AND LESS FAITH.

You have been exercising faith so long that you are getting fired of it. The Bible says that faith without work is dead, People are getting to a point where they want more work and less faith in this you can have just which the giving us, you want because the dollars as dollar by law and the laws are made by the people with the people was are made by the people whenever the syndicates let them. (Laughter) The syndicates will let them whenever the people make up their miled they were now have is the laws. If the dollar we now have is the laws. If the dollar we now have is not dear enough you can make it dearer and push it up until addition to the people was an enough to the people of the world, every law shall off the people of the world, every law shall off the people of the world, every law shall of the great as well as a curities alraws a resultar amount of interest every year and that interest buys more and more every year.

Show me a man who makes his money out of legislation and I will show you a man who will stand on a street corner and abuse people who want to have legislation for themselves. He will say these man and the will demonstrate themselves greater than those who are afraid the government will not be good enough.

SPEECHES AT BROOKLYN.

at the Academy of Music.

Brooklyn, Sept. 23.—Bryan delivered three speeches in the Academy of Music tonight, next to an overflow meeting outside, and later addressed a large gathering of labor men in the upper part of the city. A solid mass of humanity packed the Academy of Music, and the streets surorunding the Academy were blocked with a disappointed emy were blocked with a disappointed

Kings county to an earnest and uncompromising support to Bryan and Sewall.

When the names of Senator Quay and Mr. Platt (both of whom were sarcas-tically alluded to in the resolutions) were mentioned, there were hisses, while loud groans followed the men-tion of Chairman Mark Hanna's name. Then Bryan came. The secretary had just said: "I have a list of vice-presidents of the meeting, I will read a But he never read them. A mighty shout went up. The audience seemed to rise as one man. In an instant men and women were shouting with all the power of their lungs and as nearly everybody was armed with a small American flag, these were waved in the air until the whole auditorium appeared to be a kalediscope of red, white and blue. Those who did not participate at first became infected with the enthusiasm and rose and cheared with their ware amortional. Joh white and blue. Those who did not participate at first became infected with the enthusiasm and rose and cheered with their more emotional neighbors. The waving of the flags, the resounding cheers from thousands of throats, the excited beople all contributed to make it a scene worth witnessing.

When quiet wis restored, Mr. Bryan an spoke as follows:

If you don't stop, if you don't preserve order, our opponents will say you are against order as well as against law.

I only wish that the distinguished divine whose name has added even to the fame of your great city—thenry Ward Beecher (applause)—were with us today that he migrat again champion the cause of the people in their great fight. Any man would whose sympathles were on the side of humanity, my friends. (Applause.) We are opposing an enemy that he war.") We are fighting an enemy that was never honest in its dealings with the people. We are fighting an enemy that has ever sought to avoid the real issue and fight the battle on some other. IN DEFENSE OF THE PLATFORM. Before addressing myself to the money question I desire to say something in regard to the planks of our platform which have been assailed by the enemy. I only speak of them because persons in the Republican party have called amention to them, and sought to twist them linto a meaning never intended, and to give them an interpretation which they will not bear.

Mr. Bryan then read the plank denomining federal interference and denomin

Mr. Bryan then read the plank de-nouncing federal interference and declared it as mild in tone when viewed by the side of the plank on the inviola-bility of state rights in the Lincoln platform of 1860. Continuing, Mr. Bryan said:

If not, what right had this court to reverse the courts for one hundred years before it? (Applause.) This court changes from time to time; judges die or resign, and new judges take their places. Is it not possible, my friends, that future judges may adhere to precedents of a hundred years instead of adhering to a decision rendered by a majority of one, and that one changed his mind in two months? Every time a lawyer goes into court and asks for a reversal of a decision of the court—and it is not an infrequent thins—every time a lawyer does it he attacks the correctness of the decision which he desires to have reversed. Let me read to you what the Republican platform said about decisions of the Supreme court in 180:

African slave trade under the cover of our national flag, aided by perversions of judicial power." That is what that plat-form said; it declared that a decision of the court was a perversion of indicial power. There is no language in our plat-form that is as harsh on the Supreme court as that Republican platform.

of Supreme Court. Our platform is not as hash as the language of Abraham Lincoln.

I quote these authorities, my friends, in order that you may all see how far-fetched is the criticism that is levelled aginast us. I quote these in order that you may see that the very men who used the criticisms against us must, in order to do so, abandon their Republican platform upon which Lincoln was elected. (Applause.) Now, our opponents say that we are opposed to the enforcement of law. I deny it. I stand as the candidate of three parties. I do not speak of myself as an individual because the individual is lost in a campaign of representative character of the candidate. But, my friends, I want to say to you that the fear that is expressed is not a fear that if elected that I will not enforce the law. I have said it before: I say it again, if by the suffrages of my countrymen I am placed in that position, which is the highest position in the gift of the people of the world, every law shall be enforced against the great as well as against the small. (Great applause.) It is not a fear of lawlessness, my friends. Think of men who have transgressed the law being afraid that there will be a lax enforcement of the law within that of men who have considered themselves greater than those who are afraid the government will not be good enough.

PLOT TO WRECK AND THEN ROB.

Passengers on a Mackinaw Train Have a Narrow Escape.

Grayling, Mich., Sept 23.-The Mackinaw train was partly wrecked two miles south on Grayling hill early this morning. The baggage and mail cars were ditched and the smoking car de-railed, but no one was injured. The spikes had been removed from the track and a rail pried in six inches. It is supposed this was done to wreck the north bound train which runs at a terrific rate of speed down the hill, and that robbery was the motive of the wreckers. Sheriff Chalker has arrested two suspicious characters and is scouring the woods.
