The companion measure, instructing the city solicitor to go before the grandjury and ask to have the turnpike condemned has not as yet been signed by the mayor, and it is possible that he will not sign it, as he has learned from the city solicitor the method of procedure prescribed is not according to legal practice. To institute con-demnation proceedings it is necessary to present a petition to court signed by twenty-five citizens. It is likely that Mayor Barley will return the resolu-tion to councils with a communication calling attention to this fact.

AUERBACH SPENT A NIGHT IN JAIL

Arrested on a Charge of Libelling Mon ris J. Davidow.

DEFENDANT LIVES IN NEW YORK

Arrived in This City Tuesday Night and Registered at the Hotel Jermyn. Some Time After He Was Visited by a Constable and Taken Before Alderman Donovau for a Hearing Obtained Bail 1 esterday.

Alderman C. C. Donovan, of th Twelfth ward, was roused from his bed in the dead hour of Tuesday night bed in the dead hour of Tuesday night by Morris J. Davidow, the Lackawanna avenue clothier, who wanted a warrant and an officer to serve it. While the alderman was dressing himself to at-tend to Mr. Davidow, a man was un-dressing himself in a room in Hotel Jermyn, brevaring to take a night's rest, and he was all oblivious of the offairs sping on over in the Twelfuh affairs going on over in the Twelfth in which he was destined to play the leading part.

This man was A. Leopold Auerbach, of New York, a prosperous young busi-ness man in Gotham. He and Mr Davidow are married in the same fam-ily; their wives are sisters. The story goes that Auerbach was so well pleased with his wife that he determined to see her sister married to his brother. The best laid plans of mice and men are apt to go astray, and particularly cases of the heart.

Despite all of Auerbach's intrigues Mr. Davidow wooed and won her, and Auerbach's brother was set aside. Since then Auerbach has written sever-al letters to Mrs. Davidow reflecting seriously on the character of her hus band, and like a dutiful wife she let her liege lord read them, On Tuesday night as Mr. Davidow was on his way home he saw Auer-bach enter the Jermyn, register on the hotel book, and go to his room. The former immediately got a cab and drove to Alderman Donovan's office. A warrant was sworn out charging criminal libel, and Constable John C. Moran was awakened. He and Mr. Davidow rode back in the cab Auerbach was arrested in bed, brought over to the alderman's office and given a pre llminary hearing.

In default of bail he was taken to the county jail. He got a bondsman yesterday morning and was released to appear for a further hearing Saturday morning.

AMUSEMENTS.

Connois-seurs of the modiste's art pronounce her one of the best dressed women on the stage. the stage.

It is a wonderfully strong east with which Manager Charles Frohman has equipped William Gillette's latest play "Secret Service," which is to come to the Frothingham Friday and Saturday nights. The two leading roles will be played by Mr. Gillette himself and Amy Basby. Everyone remembers Mr. Gil-lette for his elever work in his other plays, "Held by the Ememy," "The Pri-vate Secretary" and "Too Much John-son," Miss Busby has made more dis-tinct hits in the last few seconds than tinct hits in the last few seasons that my other New York leading lady

There is pathos and fun depicted in the "South Before the War," which will be produced at the Academy of Music Friday and Saturday evenings and Saturday afternoon. The drams opens on the scene of a slave re-turning from the north, to the plan tation to his wife, "Chlocs," and num erous children who are given a hollday to celebrate the event, and celebrate it in their own peculiar way. The leves on the Mississippl river with the danc-ing and staging, the camp meeting on Frog Island with all the peculiarities of characters usually seen in such ec-casions, the cake walk, which closes the performance, all together combine to make the entertainment one to be the seasons by analysis.

It is well known that our fine stock of Carpets, Draperies, etc., has never been offered at "great reductions," "clearance sales," etc., for the reason that the goods were new and select in styles, durable in quality, and right in price. The recent fire in the Coal Exchange has made conditions different. The pattern and quality is still the same, but the appearance is somewhat impaired by having been wet. Our trade is such that we cannot afford to have anything in the store with even a suspicion of damage. Therefore every grade of goods must be closed out for what it will bring whether damaged or not. If you need anything for floors or windows, you may never again have the opportunity of buying, such goods at such prices.
