JOHN BOYD THACHER DECLINES TO RUN

Will Not Make Contest for Governor of New York on the Coinage Issue.

A BIMETALLIC DEMOCRAT

But Can Not Subscribe to the Doctrine of Free Silver Coinage -- There Is Now Room for Wilbur F. Porter. Mr. Thacher's Letter of Declina-

Albany, Sept. 27.—John Boyd Thacher has declined to accept the Democratic nomination for governor, which was awarded him at Buffalo by the Democratic convention on Sept. 17. The platform adopted by that convention, in so far as it unequivocally en-dorsed the Chicago platform, cannot be subscribed to by Mr. Thacher any more than he could have given his ap-proval to the Chicago platform itself in many of its essential features. The result of this is his declination to stand as a candidate.

Mr. Thacher had been led to be-lieve that the Democratic state platform would be entirely acceptable to him and would not do violence to the stand taken by him at Saratoga on June 24 in favor of an international bi-metallism currency. Therefore he had agreed to stand as a Democratic candidate for governor for the sole pur-pose, as he says, of striving to keep the Democratic party in this state to-gether for the future as well as for the present. His idea was that the fight in this state should be confined are underlined for Cleveland on Wed nesday. Thursday and Saturday, Oct. 7 and 10 accept his analysis of the political situation in this state and have demanded that an out and out silver man be placed on the ticket for governor and that the fight in this state shall be made upon the national issues, and more particularly upon the Dem-ocratic proposition of free coinage at

ROOM FOR MR. PORTER.

Mr. Thacher thinks his declination will result in Wilbur F. Porter, of Wa-tertown, his companion on the pres-ent Democratic ticket, as candidate for lieutenant governor, being named by the state committee at its meeting on Monday night in New York city. as the candidate for governor. Daniel G. Griffin, the candidate of the gold Democrats, nominated in Brooklyn, on Thursday night, also comes from Wa-tertown and he and Mr. Porter have fought side by side for many years in numerous political contests.

Mr. Thacher came to Albany at 8.30 o'clock this morning from his summer home at Altamount, about eight miles from Albany. He was unaccompanied and there was no one at the station to meet him except a representative of the United Associated Presses. Mr. Thacher proceeded immediately to his city house, which is located about 500 feet from the main door of the execu-tive chamber, in which he had aspired to reign for two years from Jan. I next. Arriving at his home he handed the original draft of his address to the notification committee of the Dem-ocratic state committee and gave copies to the press.

THACHER'S DECLINATION. Mr. Thacher's address is as follows:

Mr. Thacher's address is as follows:

I am deeply sensible of the honor conferred upon me by the Democratic party of the state of New York in naming me as its camildats for governor. I am constrained to decline the nomination.

I was away from Albany and at my country home during the convention and I did not learn of my nomination until after 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon. It was not until 9 actock that might that I had an opportunity to learn the character of the platform adopted by the convention. There had never been athmitted to me a pressionly, a manuscript copy of any other copy of the proposed platform. If any one had been entrusted with the duty of presenting such copy the trust had not been fulfilled. I had no reason to expect, after the convention at Saratoga and after the the convention at Saratogn and after the attitude of the delegates from New York in the national convention, that the rexi tate convention would commit the Dem ocratic party unreservedly to all parts o in the national convention, that the pext state convention would commit the Democratic party unreservedly to all parts of the Chicago platform.

I addressed a communication to the honorable, the state committee, at the earliest moment consistent with maturing my thoughts and two days before its meeting in New York. In that communication I state my views on the financial question had not changed since I had publicly intered them at the state convention in June, and that I assumed my nomination was made with the expectation on the part of the convention that as the governor of the state of New York has absolutely no official connection with the question of mational finance, I could make the contest upon certain clearly defined state is sues which I then enumerated and which I deemed vital and dominant. While I had not sought the nomination or requested a single delegate to give me his support, I was willing and cager to contend against that system of "bossism" which is today in control of the public affairs of the state of New York.

I was prepared to organize the Democratic party from one end of the state to the other on a line of battle against but system and to wage an unremitting and vivorous warfare. I believed that municipal and other reforms in which the people are interested could not be obtained until the administration had been wrenched from the hands of the political boss.

The strength of the Democratic party gis its weakness, It stands with sympaths.

The strength of the Democratic party is its weakness. It stands with sympathetic arms welcoming the oppressed, the weak, the distressed and promising them comfort and relief. It is natural that miscolievous and destroying elemnts should clothe themselves in the garments of nonest distress and seek to shelter themselves within their arms and to conduct from that refuge their predatory raids.

NEEDS OF DEMOCRACY.

NEEDS OF DEMOCRACY.

What the Democratic party needs is a wise, fearless and powerful organization which will respond to every beat of the popular heart, but which will regulate the entrance of the wicked and perverse. This organization will not come from outside but from inside the party. I have no sympathy with those who desert the party now in its hours of need. Every Democrat who believes that the party is or can be made an instrument of good should stay within its ranks and by counsel and example endeavor to build it up and make it strong.

ple endeavor to build it up and make it strong.

I inherited with a patriotic love of country a profound and loyal affection for the Democratic party. When men revile it, they want the more to hold it fast, Men who wander at will from one party to another, who have no political ties which temporary discontent will not break, cannot understand this sentiment. My party can demand of me no honorable sacrifice I will not perform, My best usefulness now will be humbly to remain within its ranks and give such powers as I possess to strengthening its pillars and establishing its bulwarks.

I believed that the people would be with us on that issue. I believe that from the beginning of the campaign this issue would place the Republican party on the defenders. That if was the volmerable place in the armor of the enemy and that I had correctly estimated the importance of the position is proven by the immediate whiching of the Republican managers. This first thrust of the lance drew blood and a cry.

I has developed in the consideration first thrust of the lance drew blood and a cry.

It has developed in the consideration of the resolution by which the honorable state committee appointed your committee, as well as in the public press and other public and private communications that there is a very decided desire on the part of the Democratic party, to contest the election on the abstract question of unlimited coinage of sliver at the unalterable ratio of 15 to 1 as compared with gold, and ignore or make subordinate any other institutional issue and every other state issue. It is apparently the purpose of the party at this time to make the acceptance of an extreme political sentiment the sole test of a candidate's Democracy. It does not seem to be enough that men are willing to support the regular candidate of the regular Democratic party, but they are required to subscribe to every letter and phrase of the platform. The Republican managers invite the support of a Democrat without formally exacting of him approval of a high protective tariff and the principle of controlling Southern elections by army bayonets.

It is impossible for me with the views I hold to make a contest on the colnage issue. I believe in the good old Democratic doctrine of the joint free and equal use of gold and silver. This doctrine is as far removed from the single use of gold, which enables speculators to juggle with its value, as it is from that other principle which seeks to establish an impossible ratio for its sister metal.

Therefore, entertaining the views I do, and now thoroughly impressed with the belief that the party will consent to make the contest only or primarily on the silver issue, I feel that as an honorable man I should make way for some one who can carry the banner with that device. I am grateful to the honorable, the state committee, for the very flattering vote by which it provided for the appointment of your committee on notification and which so generously left to my decision the question of my remaining the standard bearer of the party.

I feel that the decided vote on that occasion was due more to the eloquence of a prominent member of the party than to the settled conviction of the individual members of the committee as to the propriety of my candidacy under the present circumstances. There seems no place in the Democratic party today for conservatism. Men are divided into two classes, each entertaining extreme views and each intolerant for the other. The history of legislation is that conservatism in the end prevalls. I believe that the Democratic party, when it approaches the responsibility of legislation, will be true to itself and to the people.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

The National league season was to have closed yesterday with two gan between Chicago and Cincinnati. Ra prevented the games yesterday, but even though either club should win both games, the standing of all the clubs will be as indicated in the appended table.

The Temple cup series was scheduled Saturday by agreement between Han-lon and Tebeau. The first three games will be played in Baltimore Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The next three are underlined for Cleveland on Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday, Oct. 7, and 10. If a seventh be necessary to Harmony Club Won the Game.

The Harmony and Eurekas clubs crossed bats yesterday afternoon on Eureka's grounds, to decide the championship of the city. The Harmony team won in a one-sided game. Cawley pitched an elegant game, and, with proper support, would have shut the Eurekas out. The game was notable for the heavy hitting of Gaughan. Coleman and Shine and the brilliant fielding of Coleman, Dean and Gaughan. Moran did some line fielding for the Eurekas. The following is the score:

Yesterdity's game between the Minoo-ka and Ohl Forge clubs was a disinterest-ing affair. The former put up a better game at the stick than their opponents, but both teams fielded poorly. The only feature was John O'Nell's heavy stick work and his usual clever playing. At the end of the Eighth inning, with the score It to 3 in favor of the Minookas, Umpire Lowry called the game on account of darkness.

FEATURES OF THE

Grand Exhibition to Open in Gotham's Madison Square Garden.

As has been said heretofore in The Tribune, the great fair of America for the season of 1896-97 will be the Com-mercial Travelers' fair, which is to open at Madison Square Garden, New York, Dec. 15 and to continue until Dec. 29 Its purpose is to raise a fund of $150,000 with which to complete the magnificent Commercial Travelers' Home at Binghamton, an institution designed to shelter incapicated and needy members of the profession of trade promoting.
The plans already perfected assure an exhibition full of novelty, instruction and entertainment. Some promised

One of these that will make a special appeal to society will be the show of the New York Society of Keramio Art. features of the fair are mentioned here-

THE CANDY BOOTH.

Because of its relative importance the central booth at the Commercial Travelers' fair will be the candy booth. Several of the largest manufacturers in the United States have promised liberal donations of candy. This candy booth will be original in its importance and extent. It will be a candy exposition, representative of the confectionery trade from Maine to California, with examples added of the confectionery of other nations. Surprising novelties are being developed for the candy booth, which will be presided over by three leading society matrons aided by a corps of one hundred of the loveliest misses in New York. The candy ven-ders will be a collection of society buds that will form an American beauty show of unrivalled merit.

Instead of the usual dickering over merchandise that has been character-istic of fairs, Director-General de Frece will characterize the Commercial Travelers' fair by giving away to the holders of season tickets the articles donated after they have been exhibited at and throughout the fair.

SUBSCRIPTIONS.

The subscription list has generously been headed with a check for $500.00 by R. G. Dun & Co. An order for season ticket No. 1 was received from the Hoffman house through J. P. Caddagan, manager. Mr. Caddagan's check without regard to the price of the ticket was $100. Ticket No. 2, at $100 also,was purchased by John R. Fife, proprietor

f New Metropolitan hotel. As a single example of the generosity toward the "drummers' fair," that is becoming epidemic in the manufacturing and mercantile world, men tion is made of a letter received recently by Director-General de Frece from the East Palestine Pottery Co., of East Palestine, O. It states that the company has in process one of the hand-somest complete dinner services ever made in the United States, which will e company's donation to the fair Merchants are recognizing the import-

At the Fourth avenue end of the Carden will be fitted up a headquarters for the commercial travelers during the fair. This will be a fac-simile representation of the Home, and Pre-Green will be there to receive visitors and welcome them.

One of the unique features of the fair will be the distribution of more than a score of beautiful and valuable prizes to members of the Commercial Travelers' Home association and their friends co-laboring with them for the success of the fair in various lines of effort. The recipients of prizes will be both ladies and gentlemen who succeed in selling the largest number of season tickets, bringing in the largest donations of merchandise, and in other com-petitions, and for pre-eminence in fem inine beauty and in activity displayed

HEARS OF A FORTUNE IN INDIA.

S. M. Rosenthal Thinks He Is Heir to About $150,000,000.

New York, Sept. 27.—S. M. Rosenthal, superintendent of the United States Industrial Insurance company, is now looking for blocks on Fifth avenue to buy and gilt-edged bonds to invest in. A fanciful story has come to him that a man has died in India and left him a fortune of £30,609,000. The estate is named Berwitz, who escaped from Russia fifty years ago with Rosenthal's father, and who left all his property to the latter. Since S. M. Rosenthal is an only child the money naturally comes to him, if it exists. To elucidate this point Mr. Rosenthal has written to the British consul in Calcutta, where the will is said to have been filed.
