MRS. HAYDEN ASHLEY INJURED.

Accident to Her Bicycle Throws Her Over an Embankment.
Mrs. Hayden Ashley, of South Main avenue, was thrown over a retaining wall near Pittston at 5:30 o'clock Saturday evening while riding a bicycle on the main road which is adjacent and runs parallel to the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western tracks near the Junction station. She was seriously injured.
Mrs. Ashley and her husband, who also was a wheelman, were bound for Scranton. The point where the accident occurred is well known to bicyclists who have traveled the road. It is about 300 yards this side of the Twin shaft breaker, and the wall was built to hold up the earth from the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western tracks. On the side of the highway nearest the railroad is a hard earthen wall, the depth of which is about 10 feet. As Mr. and Mrs. Ashley rode along the right pedal of Mrs. Ashley's wheel, in its downward stroke, fell upon the stump of a telegraph pole which protruded about four inches above the ground. When the pedal struck the stump the wheel was lifted and Mrs. Ashley was hurled over the embankment, a fall of about eight feet. She fell upon the railroad tracks. Mr. Ashley rendered all possible immediate assistance to his wife and after she had partially recovered from the fall she was brought to her home at 8 o'clock Saturday evening. Dr. Hoernmans, who was called, found that at least one rib is broken and another fractured, with the probability that, upon a more complete examination, other fractures will be found. Last evening Mrs. Ashley was resting easily at her home. She has ridden a wheel for a couple of years and was a very expert rider.

BALTIMORE HERE TODAY.

The Champions of the World and "Hughey" Jennings Coming.
Today's base ball game between the champion Baltimore of the National league, and the picked team of Scranton professionals will be called at 3 o'clock. The gates will be open at 1:30 o'clock.

If fair weather prevails it is quite likely that the athletic contest will contain one of the largest crowds of the year. This seems probable for two reasons: There are hundreds of persons who will want to watch the work of the team, which is admitted to be the fastest and strongest that ever existed, and there are almost as many who will attend for the special purpose of watching "Hughey" Jennings, whose home is at Avoca, who leads the league in hitting and in shortstop work, and whose activity on the bases is something nearly miraculous. There are others on the Orleole team whose work also is near perfection.

In making up the Scranton team there has been no lack of material. First base will be covered by Shafer, of Shenandoah, this year's manager and first baseman of the House of Commons of the Texas league, Frank Ward at second; "Jimmy" Dean, shortstop, and Coughlin, third base, will compose the remainder of what looks on paper to be a fast and strong team. The outlying territory will be looked after by Mallot in left, Manager Griffin in center and Dunn and Johnson in right. O'Neill, the Minnesota boy, will catch.

Dunn and Johnson will each pitch a portion of the game. Following is the batting order of the two clubs:
SCRANTON.
Ward, 2b; Shafer, 1b; Griffin, cf; Dealey, 3b; Coughlin, 3b; Mallot, cf; O'Neill, c; Dunn, cf and p; Johnson, p and rf; Hemlings, 1b.

No passes for the Eastern league season will be recognized at the gate excepting press tickets.

FROTHINGHAM THEATRE SOLD.

Purchased by Attorney C. H. Welles for the Judgment Creditors.

The Frothingham theatre property, owned by the late George Frothingham, at short sale on Saturday. The purchase was made for $43,502 by Attorney C. H. Welles, trustee for the judgment creditors of Laura and Arthur Frothingham.
The theatre brought $37,000, the Penn avenue plot $5,000, and the arcade lease $1,500.
What the creditors propose doing with the properties cannot be ascertained in other than a general way. To a Tribune reporter Attorney Welles declined to discuss the matter in any light whatsoever. He said it was a private business matter; he did not know what were the creditors' plans, nor would he say who the creditors were.
From another source enough was told the reporter to indicate that the arcade interest and Penn avenue plot will possibly be for sale, but that the theatre will be retained by all or a portion of the creditors.
Wagner and Reis will no doubt continue as lessees. The present intention of the creditors is to at once supply the really splendid place of amusement with a number of necessary details that are lacking in its stage equipment, to complete the unfinished portion of the structure and to add to its furnishings.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

Mrs. Ira Trapp entertained a number of friends at a birthday dinner at her home on North Main avenue Saturday.

J. Frank Siegel will give a complimentary social to his patrons and their friends, also intending patrons on Monday, Oct. 5.

Miss Mary McMillan, of West Pittston, and Attorney Walter Briggs, of this city, will be married on Oct. 7. The ceremony will be performed at the home of the brides parents.
Rev. E. J. Houghton, rector of the St. Mark's Episcopal church, was united in marriage Thursday at 8 a. m. to Miss V. Baber, of Pottsville, Pa., by the Rev. M. E. Foxworth, rector of the Pottsville Episcopal church. They at once took the train for Philadelphia where they will spend a few days, then to Baltimore, Washington, Old Point Comfort returning by New York. Mr. Houghton has a host of friends in this place who will welcome him and his young bride about Oct. 25.—Dunmore Pioneer.

BAIL WAS FORFEITED.

Editor Lopatynier Did Not Appear for a Hearing Before the Alderman.
Editor Z. Lopatynier, of the Nanticoke Polish paper, did not appear at the time set for a hearing Saturday morning before Alderman C. J. Donovan and the bail was forfeited. Joseph Nyck, of Beech street, is his bondsman in the sum of $500.
Lopatynier was arrested the fore part of last week on a warrant charging him with inciting to riot by delivering a seditious speech at a meeting held in Michalowski's hall, Pittston avenue and Elm street, the night before the riot at the Polish church. The warrant was sworn out the day after the riot, but Lopatynier was not arrested until last week. The night before the riot at the Polish church, Lopatynier was arrested for a hearing at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, and Alderman Donovan declared the bail forfeited.
Later in the day the alderman met Bondsman Nyck on the street and was told that Lopatynier was sick. The forfeited recognition must now be dealt with in the court.

AND STILL THEY COME.

Two Families from Other Districts Seek Aid from Scranton.
Two further instances of attempted imposition on Scranton charity were disclosed Saturday when Mrs. Dugan, agent for the Associated charities, found that two families asking aid had been shipped here from other poor districts, one from Taylor and the other from Illinois. The Taylor people were referred to poor authorities of their own town, and the western people were shipped back to the place they came from.
The onset of charities is in need of clothing more than anything else just at present and will gladly receive new or second hand garments to be distributed among the poor.

DRUGGIST PHELPS GREW DESPERATE

Took a Novel Method of Breaking Up Corner Loading.

CONSEQUENCES NOT CONSIDERED

Mail Boxes Located on the Corner in Front of His Store Dashed Over with White Paint—There Was a Great Deal of Talk About the Affair and Most of It Was Not of an Approving Nature.

Druggist John H. Phelps was a very much discussed personage about the central city last evening. The reason for this was the bold and daring thing he did something that was open for discussion.
On the corner in front of Mr. Phelps' drug store Uncle Sam maintains two mail boxes, one for letters, which is attached to a telegraph pole, and the other for papers and packages, resting along the curb on the sidewalk. The utility of the boxes is such that a person can lean against the larger one, throw his arm against the other and maintain an erect position with only slight effort. It is a most inviting place for a loaf and it is pretty generously patronized.

Mr. Phelps didn't take kindly to this sort of thing and determined to break it up. Without stopping to consult Uncle Sam's feelings in the matter, or to think of the consequences to himself if the government should get its ears about it, or to consider that thousands of people dressed in their Sunday best would pass that way during the evening, Mr. Phelps with a paint brush and some white, sticky mixture, daubed the top and portions of the sides of both boxes, liberally, if not artistically.

THEY WANTED TO KNOW.

Everybody who came along of course noticed the changed face of the once bright red letters on the boxes, and everybody wanted to know how it all happened. When the facts in the case were duly elicited, discussion ensued and judgment was passed. Every one agreed that Mr. Phelps had concluded to do the thing without first consulting the government. Some took occasion to tell him as much, and one or two heart told him so in a very emphatic way. Mr. Phelps, however, was satisfied he had done nothing wrong, and was not at all troubled by the unfavorable comments. In explaining his action to a Tribune reporter, he said:

"I did it to keep the masses from loitering on that corner. Every evening, but particularly Saturday and Sunday evenings there is a crowd hanging on that corner, starting at and insulting the ladies passing. Last night there was a crowd of eight or ten grown men, presumably guests from the hotel, hanging about the corner all evening passing remarks upon the ladies passing. I was not at all sure to be insulted with some such remark as 'making a date, eh?' or 'she must have a sweet tooth, or she must have a sweet tooth, or she must have a sweet tooth.' The stars and remarks of these loafers and it is injuring my business."

TO WASH IT AWAY.

Mr. Phelps also explained that the daubing was done with white and would not permanently soil clothing. He said he intended to wash the stuff off the boxes when he was ready to close his store.
Patrolmen Feeney and Neils, whose beats yesterday met at this corner, were in a quandary as to what should be done about the matter. They clearly a violation of the city ordinance against exposing fresh paint in a public place, without any warning sign, but owing to the fact that the police hesitated about taking summary action and referred it to police headquarters. Nothing was done about the matter at headquarters, except that Mr. Phelps was warned for not reporting that he objected to the looting and have the police instructed to put a stop to it.

VERDICT FOR THE HILLS.

Jury Refuses to Allow Mrs. Rebecca Flynn Any Damages.
After being out a few hours Saturday the jury in the case of Mrs. Rebecca Flynn against Dr. G. E. Hill and son returned a verdict in favor of the Hills. Mrs. Flynn sued to recover $1,000 her result of the case was watched with the greatest interest by doctors and dentists. Before the case went to trial Dr. Hill said that he was asked to settle on the basis of $200 damages but refused to do so. He said he was anxious to have the case tried believing the result of it would have a good effect.
Mrs. Flynn in her testimony said that one of Dr. Hill's assistants in trying to make a plaster impression of her mouth felt the plaster of Paris in her mouth for five minutes and hardened to such an extent that it was only removed with great difficulty. Dentists Fordham, Wheaton, McGraw and Taylor testified that it was impossible to do any damage to a woman's mouth and that if it remained in Mrs. Flynn's mouth for the length of time she said it did the saliva would have dissolved it. Mrs. Flynn also testified that when the plaster was in her mouth a gold filling that cost her $10 was removed from her tooth. The dentists swore that it was impossible to remove such a filling from a tooth with a plaster impression.
A Sunday paper stated yesterday that Dr. Hill is practicing without a diploma which is not true. He has passed an examination in three states, has taken three courses in medical colleges, two in Albany and one in Philadelphia and has a diploma for practicing medicine.
He was a dentist years before the law requiring dentists to register became a law.

BOY STOLE HALF A HUNDRED.

He has $24 in his pockets when searched and seeing dental was useless admitted his guilt. He was locked up pending a decision as to what is best to do with him.

CIVIL SUIT AGAINST AUERBACH.

Norris J. Davidow Brings Action for Damages in the Sum of $25,000.
A Leopold Auerbach, of New York, who was arrested in Scranton, at the instance of Morris J. Davidow, the Lackawanna avenue clothier, on a warrant issued by Alderman C. C. Donovan, of the West Side, charging Auerbach with writing malicious and libelous letters to Mrs. Davidow, reflecting on the character of her husband, and with seducing her, has filed a civil suit against the alderman, but he decided to enter bail for his appearance at the November term of court, and had a writ of habeas corpus for $1,000, Samuel Ross, of Pine street, becoming his bondsman.
Auerbach returned to his hotel, the

MAY GET A FREE PAVEMENT.

Dunn Bros. Will Take Chances on Collecting Their Money.
Despite the fact that City Engineer Phillips has given orders to the contractor Dunn Bros. to proceed tomorrow to lay the top coat of asphalt on Monroe avenue, and trust to the courts to get their pay.
The city engineer refuses to give his approval to the material the Dunn's are using, claiming that it is not of the quality called for in the specifications. The Dunn's say their asphalt meets the requirements. The matter will come up when the contractors ask for their pay. The city engineer will not approve their bill and consequently the courts will have to be appealed to. If the Dunn's do not succeed in getting court to interfere in their behalf Monroe avenue property holders may get a free pavement.

TO PROTEST AGAINST PAVING.

Mulberry Street Property Holders Will Meet Tonight.
J. W. Garney, M. Nabol, Charles A. Durr, J. W. Keiser, J. W. Keiser, James Pritch, Robert P. Koehler and A. C. Nettleton are among the leaders of the movement to defeat the Mulberry street paving project. The meeting to protest against the pavement and to adopt means of preventing the carrying out of the work will take place in the council rooms at 8 o'clock tonight.
Some of the objectors joined the movement because they prefer brick to asphalt, others because they prefer no pavement at all, and some because the signatures to the paving petition were secured under false names. The objectors claim that a large majority of the property holders are now arrayed against the pavement.
