Yesterday's Truth said: "Mr. Charles E. Daniels, for more than seven years a member of the local staff of this paper, today leaves journalism to take up the study of the law. Mr. Daniels has been a truthful and impartiel recorder of events, always striving to report occurrences as they actually happened without bias or favor. His reports could always be relied upon for exactness and thoroughness, and it is with a same of regret that the Truth loses his services as a resporter. In all those seven years not one unkind word has passed between him and his co-labor-ers and each feels in his departure the loss of a sinders friend. ### COUNTER ARGUMENT IN THE SMITH CASE

Answer to the Disbarred Attorney's Paper Book Is Ready.

PAMPHLET OF FORTY PAGES

When Testimony Was Taken, the Book Says, It Has Failed to Sustain Mr. Smith's Accusations in Aus Respect Whatsoever, and No Evidence Tuken Warranted Even a Suspicion of Them.

Attorneys E. C. Newcomb, S. B. Price, and City Solicitor J. H. Torrey, whom the court appointed to prosecute the rule against Cornellus Smith, when rule against Cornelius Smith, when that gentleman was called to answer for writing two letters to Judge F. W. Gunster impugning his integrity as a judge and charging him with having decided a case and recalled it at the instance of corrupt influence, served a copy of their answer to Mr. Smith's paper, book super, blue, vesterday paper book upon him yesterday. Mr. Smith, immediately after disbarrment brought the case to the su-preme court, and The Tribune a few weeks ago printed in substance the ar-guments of Mr. Smith as to why the upper court should reverse the finding of the court of this county and restore of the court of this county and restore him to his position of attorney from which he has been disbarred.

Mr. Smith's case comes up next Monday before the court in session at Pittsburg. It is the first on the list. The argument contained in the paper book of the attorneys for the court fills a pamphiet of forty pages. The first fifteen pages are taken up with a counter statement of facts giving every detail of the case since the day that James Jennings was injured in the Lehigh Valley wreck at Mud Run on Wednesday, Oct. 19, 1888. sday, Oct. 10, 1888.

Starting out with this argument hey charge that Mr. Smith through his privilege as an attorney has placed upon the records of the court of this county criminal charges against the judges, attorneys and officers. These charges have been written out in mo-tions, petitions, and declarations, and at the disbarrment trial have been repeated orally.

CHARGES AGAINST HIM. The charges upon which Mr. Smith was tried are that he wrote letters to Judge Gunster reflecting upon his official honesty and integrity; that the letters tended to influence and preju-dice the decision of a matter in the hands of the court; and that his conduct was a violation of his duty and oath as an attorney, and hi contempt and derogation of the administration of justice therein, and an attempted of justice therein, and an attempted interference therewith.

The sole inquiry with reference to Mr. Smith's letters is, "Do they constitute conduct unbecoming an attorney?" This question must be determined in the solution of the solution mined upon the result of the two-fold inquiry: What did he say; what did he mean? The argument then takes up the manner in which Mr. Smith attempted to explain what he meant in the letters, and asserts that the ex-planation was ridiculous and that Mr. Smith failed to give any reasonable motive for writing the letters.

He was well aware that Judge Gunster knew of his attacks, and it is argued that it was his intention to suggest to the judge the possibility that if he failed to satisfy Mr. Smith, his acts and motives would in like manner be impugned; and that in view of the at-stories, wood, Washburn street, Fifth ward.

It is a made upon bench and bar, Judge Gunster would not dare to decide the case against him.

The argument goes on by saying that there is no conduct more dangerous to the administration of justice than for officers of the court to question the integrity and honesty of the judges and threaten them with charges of criminal offenses. A wanton attack on the character of a judge is a serious injury to society.

THEORY OF THE LAW. The theory of law is and always has been that persons guilty of crimes or misdemeanors should be publicly proseuted, and that to charge them in connome in Parsons after a visit with relatives in this city.

Mrs. Mary Bailey and son, John. are in Honssdale, where they will remain for a visit of three weeks.

Deputy Prothonotary Myron Kasson attended the Busquehanna county fair at Montrose yesterday.

Dr. George A. Blanchard, resident physician at the Lackawanna hospital, returned yesterday after a two weeks' visit to his home in Massachusetts.

Ralph Howard, business manager of professional employment if his conduct. professional employment if his conduct is that which is unbecoming any layman or citizen.

If there were any truth in his charges, the method taken was not the remedy which was provided by law. The libelous matter was put on the record with no other motive than to unfairly influence the administration of justice. It is shocking to every sense of propriety to contamblets the criminations ty to contemplate the criminations made in all these proceedings. They are outrageous, unjustifiable, and unwarranted and from time to time as they have been proceeding. they have been made Mr. Smith has been given opportunity to substantiate but he has usually desired a change of vente or has complained that time enough was not given to him to produce the evidence. When testimony has been taken it has failed to sustain the accusations in any respect what-soever, and no evidence has been taken which warranted a suspicion of them.

From this on the argument cites extracts from opinions of the supreme court of this and other states. Mr. Smith complained that the judges of this county being the prosecutors, they ought not in all fairness to sit in judgment on the case. On this point Judge Mercur is quoted thus: "The power of the court to admit as an attorney at its the court to admit as an attorney at its bar a person possessing the requisite qualifications, and to remove him there-from when found unworthy, has been ecognized for ages and cannot be ques tioned. In fact the power of removal for just cause is as necessary as that of admission for a due administration

SHE DEFENDS THE SILENT STEED.

Paper of Dr. Anna C. Clark Before the State Homeopathic Society. At a meeting of the Homeopathic Medical society of Pennsylvania held in Philadelphia Tuesday, Dr. Anna C. Clark, of this city, read a paper on bi-cycle riding concerning which the Philadelphia Inquirer says: "Of the papers read in the morning there was none more interesting and timely than that of Dr. Anna C. Clark, of Scranton. Dr. Clark gave an elabo-rate dissertation upon 'As to the Wheel.' She defended that modern invention against all attacks made upon it by individuals and physicians. She stated that as a promulgator of health it has no superior and few equals. If the wheel is more beneficial to one sex than the other, it is the woman who are benefited in the higher degree-every muscle is brought into play and fully developed. Dr. Clark stated that the bicycle as a cure for consumption in its primary stages is equal to the horse, and too much riding is absolute-ly no worse than an excess of any other kind of exercise."

GLASS CASE FINISHED.

Went to the Jury at Adjournment and the Verdiet Was Sealed. When court convenes this morning the jury in the case of the B. N. Mc-Coy Glass company against the Lacka-wanna Hardware company will return its verdict. The case was finished at adjournment and the jury retired to deliberate and after agreeing upon a verdict they seared it.

The case depends on the way a con tract made between the parties should be construed. The plaintiff was to furnish five car loads of giass, and the sizes of the glass were to be sent in by the defendant before a certain date. These specifications, the plaintiff claims, did not reach them until after the date and that worked as a cancella tion of the contract. One car load of the glass was sent to the Hardware company, and they refused to pay for it on the ground that by reason of can-celing the contract they sustained certain damages, and they wanted to set our these damages against the debt.

MONTROSE BOY KILLED.

By the Cars at Factoryville Where He Was a Student.

Stanley Newton, aged 15 years, a student at Keystone Academy at Fac-toryville, was instantly killed by the cars at that place yesterday afternoon. He was a son of Dr. C. R. Newton, a well known physician of Montrose, While the boy's mutilated body was lying in the Factoryville depot his mother was waiting in the station in this city to meet him. She had telegraphed him to meet her here where she had been doing a day's shopping. Young Newton was standing alongside a northbound coal train and next the rails of the south bound track when there approached a milk train going to ward Scranton. It is supposed a pro-jecting hand rail struck him and knocked him agains one of the stand-ing coal cars with such force that he rebounded beneath the wheels of the moving train. The body was cut in twain in two places. The remains were taken to Montrose

RALLY IN PENN AVENUE CHURCH

Programme Includes a Combination of Religion, Business and Sociability .- United Choir Will Sing. Practical Illustration of the System Proposed for Handling Delegates. Committee of '96 Headquarters Sept. 29, 30. # Oct. 1 and 2. Open Today in Y. M. C. A. Building.

This will be a big night with the local Endeavors. In the Penn Avenue Baptist church they will hold the last and big rally preceding the convention of next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Tonight's gathering will be neither a solely religious nor a business one but will combine the two and will also include a social feature. Beginning at 7 o'clock in the lecture room of the church the 250 members of the reception committee will receive the caps that will distinguish the wearers from other Endeavorers during the convention period; at 7.80 o'clock the United choir of 300 singers will meet in the lecture room and be The lamp has its old. will meet in the lecture room and be assigned seats for the evening; at 7.45 'clock the devotions and business part of the rally will begin; at 8.45 o'clock will begin a period of sociability and an illustration of the workings of the reception and entertainment commit-tees. The programme has been ar-ranged as follows:

7.45-Praise service. 7.55-Devotional service, Rev. W. G. Watkins. 8.10-Report of union, Miss Lena Clark, Come.

8.10-Report of union, Miss Lena Ctark, secretary.
8.15-Election and introduction of new officers and response by Rev. G. E. Guild, president,
8.20-Anthem, "Our God Is Mighty to Save," United choir.
8.25-Three minute talks-"A Convention Thought," T. F. Wells, Rev. James McLeod, D. D., Rev. Charles E. Robinson, D. D., Rev. A. B. O'Neal, Rev. Newman Matthews, Rev. J. P. Moffatt.
8.45-Benediction.

Rev. W. H. Stubblebine, the retiring president of the City union, will pre-side. It is probable that each of the three sections of the big choir will sing. A perfect system of meeting delegates, assigning them to private houses or hotels and conducting them thither has been devised and the illustration of this system after the meeting proper will be watched with interest. Last night in nearly every church in the city and Dunmore a special prayer meeting was held in the interest of the convention. The prayers, addresses and singing were all based on the prospective gathering.

Beginning today the headquarters of the committee of '96 will be in the Young Men's Christian association building, where Chairman Charles E. Daniels and Rev. W. H. Stubblebine. chairman of the press committee, will be constantly in attendance.
