BILLY BRYAN QUOTES HISTORY

He Reads Extracts from Speeches of Major McKinley.

The Boy Orator Thinks, Have Not

in his speech at Clarksburg said:
"I want to quote to you not from Democratic authority, but from Republican authority: I want to quote to you, not from one of the lesser Republicans, but from a great one; not from the rank and file of the Lepublican party, but what the great leader, the Repub-lican candidate for president, said this year and what he said six years ago in year and what he sald six years ago in regard to the necessity for an increasing circulation. You will find in his letter of acceptance of this year this statement: 'It is not more money we want. What we want is to but the money we already have at work.' Now, remember, my friends, that these words were uttered at a time when the circulating medium had fallen off $150,000.000 in two years. Remember that he 600 in two years. Remember that he says we do not need more money, but need to put what we have in circula-tion and says this at a time when the circulation had fallen off $150,00,000 in two years. Let me compare that with what he said six years ago, when, in-stead of having a decreasing volume of currency, we had an increase of about $24,000,000 every year. At that time they were trying to substitute the Sherman law for the Bland-Allison act. The Bland-Allison act put in circula-tion about $24,000,000 every year, so that need to put what we have in circulation about $24,000,000 every year, so that the circulation was increasing and not decreasing as now. Let me read you what the Republican candidate then sity for an increasing circulation: Speaker, I will not vote against this bill and thus deprive the people of my country and the laborers and the producers and the industries of my counof $30,000,000 annually of additional circulating mediums."

A voice: "He didn't know Mark Hanna then." (Laughter and ap-Mr. Bryan-"At that then he declared that he would not vote to prevent his people, the laborers, the producers, from the benefits of the Bland-Allison act, and yet now with a decreasing circulation he tells you that it is not more money we need, but to put what money we have in circulation. (Great ap-plause.) My friends, what change has taken place in the last six years. Then be desired to increase the amount of money in circulation, and now he be leves all you have to do is to have con-idence; that you have enough and that will never notice the loss.

REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

'My friends, the Republican plat-form upon which the candidate stands declares in favor of the maintenance of a gold standard until the leading commercial nations of the world join us in abandoning it. Let me read you what the Republican candidate said six years ago in the discussion of this Sherman bill: 'I am for the largest use of silver in the currency of the country. would not dishonor it. I would give equal credit and equality with gold. would make no discrimination. would utilize both metals as money and discredit neither. I want the double standard and I believe confidence will accomplish this purpose. He wanted the double standard then. He wants the gold standard now. What change has taken place. (Cheers). If the double standard was good six years ago it is good now. (Cries of 'good' and ap-plause). The principles which underlie the double standard have not changed in six years. The laws of finance hav not changed in six years. The rule that govern this government now governed it then. And yet, my friends, we find Republicans who were openly, earn-estly, enthusiastically championing estly, enthusiastically championing the double standard then, who are to-day for some reason, known or un-known, turned completely about and known, turned completely about and are opposing today what they advocat-

"Now, my friends, they tell us that we are trying to furnish a market for silver bullion. They tell us that our cause is simply the cause of the bullion We deny it. We insist that we want silver for money and that we want it, not because we produce silver in this country, but because we need silver in the commerce of this country. ers). And, yet, my friends, the people who are accusing us of working in the interest of the mine owners are supporting a Republican candidate for the presidency, who six years ago, argued in favor of the Sherman law, and one of the reasons he gave was that it would furnish a market for all the silver produced in the United States. (Applause). Let me read further: 'So I say, Mr. Speaker, this bill is just to the silver producers of the United States, for it does what the present law, as administered by every administration for ten years, has

AS TO SILVER BULLION.

"It takes every dollar of silver bul-lion that is produced in the United States and places it at the disposal of States and places it at the disposal of the people as money. And yet the man who used that language six years ago is standing upon a platform which re-fuses to take a single dollar of the sil-ver produced in this country and put it at the disposal of the people for money. My friends, I call your atten-tion to these extracts from speeches made by the Republican candidate in congress and compare them with what he says, not because I deny to a man the right to change his mind, but, my friends, I insist that when a man changes his mind, he ought to have reasons for it that he is willing to give to the American people. (Applause.) I am not insisting that a man who has an opinion at one time must always keep it, but I do not like to have men insist that it is an evidence of wisdom CONDITIONS OF SIX YEARS AGO

Reep It, but I do not like to have then insist that it is an evidence of wisdom to change their opinion and then have the evidence depend on the mere change without saying anything to justify the change." (Cheers.)

ROBBERS ON HIS TRIAL. Charksburg, W. Va., Oct. L.—William Changed.-He Believes That Free J. Bryan left Grafton on his special train at 8.30 this morning and arrived Silver Is as Necessary as the BlandAllison Scheme to Increase Currency Circulation.

Parkersburg, W. Va., Oct. 1.—Bryan
in his speech at Clarksburg said:
"I want to quote to you not from Democratic authority; I want to quote to you, not from one of the lesser Republicans, but from ne of the lesser Republicans, but from a great one; not from the the candidate summoned to identify him.

The hearing lasted until 4 a. m. At that hour it was decided that if Mr. Bryan was detained as a witness his West Virginia schedule would be disarranged and the men were released with with personal recognizances. Mr. Bryan and his party had breakfast at the Traders' hotel here. Despite the conthe Traders' hotel here. Despite the continued bad weather there was a big crowd in the streets. The candidate was persuaded while at the hotel to make his appearance on the balcony where he made a short speech to 600 enthuslastic people. He was then driven to the fair grounds where he delivered.

DOUBLE TRAGEDY AT PLANO.

Peter Hein Kills Perry Ferguson and Then Shoots His Wife.

Plano, Ill., Oct. 1.—Peter Hein was committed to the Kendall county jail today to await the action of the October grand jury on a charge of killing Perry Ferguson and probably fatally shooting his wife. On Monday night Ferguson, a well-to-do neighbor and farmer, asked Mrs. Hein to accompany him to a political raily in an adjacent town. She complied. Hein followed them to the Ferguson house, Mrs. Ferguson being absent in Aurora. Hein waited about on the outside until he observed the putting out of the lamp. He then entered the house and sought Ferguson. Hein asked for his wife.

Ferguson denied knowledge of her hereabouts. Then Hein fired, the ball striking Ferguson in the left breast. killing him. Hein then turned in search of his wife. He found her in an adfacent room and shot her in the throat. The doctors say she cannot live but a short time. Today she made a postmortem statement, fully exonerating er husband and confessing to her dual

TEST VOTE AMONG STUDENTS.

Ballots at the University of Iowa Give a Majority in Favor of Mckinley. Iowa City, Iowa, Oct. 1.-In order to ascertain as accurately as possible the position of the students of the Uni-versity of Iowa upon the political isversity of Iowa upon the political issues of the present campaign a test vote for presidential candidates was taken today. The voting booth was located upon the campus in front of the central building, and was kept open from 10 o'clock a, m. until 4 p. m. To guard against fraudulent and duplicate voting special ballots had been prepared, requiring the voter's signature before being accepted.

before being accepted.

The votes were counted by a nonpartisan committee this evening, and the following result was disclosed: Fo McKinley, 403; non-voters, 93; total, 496 Bryan, voters, 56; non-voters, 11; total, 67. For Palmer, voters, 15; non-voters, 13; total, 28. Defective ballots, 9; total vote cast, 610. A number of the Bryan men refused to vote.

SOCIETY GIRL IN POLICE COURT.

New York Woman Acquitted of Her Servant's Absurd Charge. New York, Oct. 1.-Miss Jeanne Held, a young society woman, who was charged by Delia O'Brien, a servant, with stealing her watch, was honorably discharged by Magistrate Deuel in the Yorkville police court this afternoon. The case is a most unusual one. Miss Held is a daughter of Mrs. Samuel J. Held. She is a beautiful brunette, who since her debut three years ago has become a social favorite, and became prominent as an amateur actress and singer. She fences and rides a wheel. She is tall and of graceful carriage. Her position is such as to make the servant's charge appear absurd, yet the girl persisted in the complaint, and Miss Held appeared in court today as a prisoner, having been paroled in cus-tody of her counsel, Maurice Meyer. There was no evidence to convict the young woman, who was accompanied to court by many of her society friends, and she was honorably discharged.

COLLAPSE OF A REVIEWING STAND

Bad Accident at the Celebration of lowa's Semi-Centennial.

VICE-PRESIDENT STEVENSON HURT

Governor Drake and Ex-Governor Sherman and Many Others Are Injured -- Enthusiastic Sightseers Who Did Not Heed the Warning -- Injuries That May Prove Fatal.

Burlington, Iowa, Oct. 1.—The semi-centennial celebration of Iowa's state-hood commenced today in a blaze of glory. After three weeks of state rain, the sun shone forth today. Elec-tric lights are strung at intervals of tric lights are strung at intervals of ten feet on all the main streets and a sea of banners and bunting is strung across the streets and on the buildings, even out into the residence district. The parade, the grandest ever seen here, started at 11 a.m., and was witnessed by 25,000 people. Governor Drake and Vice-President Stevenson rode near the head of the column, followed by the governor's staff, mounted and gold laced. A full battalion of the Iowa National guard headed the column. Brass bands from all over the state were in line. Floats representing

The sufferers were conveyed to hos-pitals and hotels and their injuries promptly attended to. The stand was a private affair, hardly constructed and had not been inspected like the others. The crowd was warned not to go on it as the officials were all who were inas the officials were all who were in-

Miss Lewis of New York Rescues He Affianced From Drowning.

Groton, N. Y., Oct. 1.—Gilbert Duane was rescued from drowning at Rush Hollow this morning by Miss Mazie Lewis, his afflanced. Duane and the young woman, accompanied by several friends, had been enjoying a cycling trip. They attempted to walk across a narrow foot bridge over a stream when Duane, becoming dizzy, fell into deep water. He was unable to swim and shouted for assistance, but no one present could help him from the shore. While the other members of the party were running excitedly about trying to devise some means of rescuing the drowning man Miss Lewis, who was attired in bloomer costume, plunged in-to the water. She is a good swimmer, and soon reached her sweetheart, who was nearly exhausted, and towed him

DEADLY PERIL OF AN AERONAUT.

John W. Inness in Aerial Somersault at 1,500 Feet Elevation.

Rushville, Ind., Oct. 1.—John W. In-ness, an aeronaut of this city, had a thrilling experience in a balloon ascension yesterday evening at a Recension yesterday evening at a Republican rally at Manilla.

At an elevation of 2,500 feet his balloon burst and before he could disengage his parachute he was drawn downward by the falling balloon. After falling 1,000 feet the parachute opened and the balloon and parachute then turned a series of aerial somersaults, through all of which Inness still clune through all of which Inness still clung to the ropes.

The horrified spectators stood aghast, fearing at any moment to see Inness mangled at their feet, but he alighted safely and without a scratch. The balloon he used has, it is said, killed four men and two women

BLOOMERS IN A SCHOOL-ROOM.

Female Students at Detroit Will Wea

Them While at Work. Detroit, Mich., Oct. 1.-The women who attend the Detroit Normal Training school are in high glee over what they consider a victory for the "new woman" over old fogyism. Ever since the physical culture department started the teachers have been importuned by the young women to be per-mitted to wear the bloomer costume while taking lessons or giving them in this department.

Today they won a victory, when Miss Nettie Kimberlin, who has charge of this department, secured consent from the school authorities to adopt the bloomer costume. It will consist of the regular bloomers and blouse, and will be worn during the time spent in the physical culture department.

TORPEDO BOATS LAUNCHED.

Three Crafts Finished at the Columbin Iron Works.

Baltimore, Oct. 1.—The first of the three torpede boats which have for several months been under construc-tion at the Columbia Iron works for tion at the Columbia Iron works for the United States navy, was launched this afternoon, in the presence of a large crowd. The unusual feature was the absence of the government officials. The navy was represented only by the naval constructors delegated to superintend the building of three vessels. The new boat will be known as torpedo boat, No. 3, pending the decision as to the advisability of naming vessels after men, as in the case of Cushing and Erleson.

The vessel launched will be required to attain a speed of 24 1-2 knots an hour
