Brief Mention of What Is Doing in the Pleasure Way.

GOLF IS THE POPULAR PASTIME

The Week Saw the Usual Number of Weddings, but Very Little Else. Swell Set Is Devoting Itself to Golf and Anticipating a Match with Wilkes-Barres-Personal Mention.

This week, like the one preceding, has been conspicuous by its absence of any events of general interest. There were weddings and the like, but nothing else that might call for comment. The swell set has been devoting itself to golf on the country club grounds, and with such persistence that everything else has been relegated to the background. There are no big events in

It is quite likely that the golf matches between the Wilkes-Barre and Scranton players will be started in about two weeks. The first games will probably be played on the Wilkes-Barre links. The Scranton players have not been selected, nor will they be be-fore Saturday of next week by which time Captain T. H. Watkins will be able to judge what five men are best fitted to appear in the matches.

The club house of the country club is rapidly nearing completion. It is now wholly enclosed and the work on the interior has been started. The floors are being laid and partitions put in and by November 7 it is expected the place will be ready for occupancy. There has been some talk of a "house-warming" but the matter has not been fully Chroniclings of Particular Interest to Church-Going People.

HOW TO BEHAVE DURING SERVICE

Rev. Dr. Dixon Expresses Himself in a Way That Will Interest Congregations Other Than His Own -- Call Extended to Rev. D. Jones -- Other Subjects of Church Gossip and Religious News Notes -- Aunounce ments of Tomorrow's Services.

Some very pertinent thoughts con-cerning tardiness at worship and chareteristic of the writer appear in the leaflet containing the announcement of services and the church news of the Penn Avenue Baptist church. The ar-ticle is "About Our Worship" and was written by the new pastor, Rev. Dr. Joseph K. Dixon; it is as follows:

Joseph K. Dixon; it is as follows:
"In the house of the Lord everything should be done decently and in order. God wants the best. We are here to give him the best. On a separate card the church will find the new order of worship." There are no preliminaries to. ship." There are no preliminaries to the sermon, the service should all lead up to the sermon and the close should crown and clinch the sermon. All parts of the service should dove-tail, so as to form a beautiful and effective

"Generally. Baptist churches have been so afraid of a ritual, that they have followed the ritual of a rut. The 'prelude' by the organ means some-thing, should be chosen by the organist to fit the rest of the service. The people should be there to hear it. Ten-thirty, the hour of service, should mark the time when all should be in their pews—not to visit but to worship. is a beautiful sight to see people into the sanctuary, take their places, then bow their head on the bew in front of them in a moment of silent devotion. Let us be punctual then—if we were going anywhere else than the Sanctuary we would be on time. To straggle in after the service has begun never yet added to the effectiveness of the worship.

"The 'organ postlude' means some-thing. The organist will fit this part of the service to all that has gone beore—if the sermon has been upon 'The Nation' the postlude will be one of tri-umph-if it has been a tender appeal to the unconverted, the organ will yield its softest, tenderest strains, the 'vox angelica' or the 'vox humana' stop will be pulled—the postlude is the amen to he service—it is the last act of praise not a boisterous burst to hurry people away,-not a time for the adjustment of wraps,—a signal to scurry across the aisle and speak to somebody so as to save a visit on Monday—not a time to go out-but to worship. The congregation are requested therefore to remain with bowed heads during the closing prayer and the response which follows the prayer by the chair, during the benediction and the amen to the benediction, rendered by the choir—when the pastor will take his seat, and the congregation will remain with him—seated—until the organist has fin-ished his 'postlude' when we will all rise together, which will conclude the worship for that service.

Rev. D. Jones, who last Sunday re dgned from the pastorate of the First Welsh Congregational church, has received a call from the Eleventh Street Congregational church of New York city. Mr. Jones received notice from the New York church on Wednesday of this week. It was a complete surprise. He had not been in communication with any one in the church revisit with her.

At an afternoon party given Wednesday by Mrs. M. C. Kelley, of New street, those present were: Mrs. W. J. Brown, of Connellton: Miss Bessie Blewit, of Pittston: Mrs. E. E. Gillespie, Mrs. Owen Cowley, Mrs. Daniel Tinsley, Mrs. J. Gillespie, Mrs. Owen Cowley, P. J. Cowley, and Mrs. P. J. Langan, of Olyphant.

tion with any one in the church regarding the pastorate and up to Weddents and up to Weddents of Colock Thursday morning and continuing during the day. Classes 9 and 16 of the same church conducted a social fairly hard bed. Then the position and entertainment Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Osterhout, on West Market street. The proceeds were deside, which is the proper attitude for side. me there." Mr. Jones has the call un-der consideration. In regard to his resignation Mr. Jones refuses to give a reason therefor. The New York church's call had nothing whatever to do with it. Mr. Jones will preach at the First Congregational church until the end of the year. It was stipulated in the contract when Mr. Jones entered the pastorate that church or pastor should give three months' notice of

Rev. George E. Guild, of the Providece Presbyerian church, was on Thursday night elected president of the City Union of Christian Endeavor societies, He succeeds Rev. W. H. Stubblebine, whose term has expired and who will soon leave the city. All the other past officers were re-elected as follows: Miss Lena Clark, of the North End, secretary; A. E. Smith, corresponding secretary; William McCullough, of the central city, treasurer; Mrs. S. E. Krigbaum, of the Penn avenue Baptist church, superintendent of missionary work; Mrs. J. F. Hangi, of Green Ridge.

superintendent of union work; W. W. Inglis, of the central city, superintendent of citizenship work.

J. C. Manning, of Pittston, the state transportation agent of the Christian Endeavor societies was here Thursday night and attended the rally in the Penn avenue Baptist church.

The decision of Scranton Messenger service officials not to permit its mes-sengers to answer calls issuing from houses of questionable character has gone into effect. The little uniformed fellows have been obliged to traverse the alleys at all hours of the day and night and the effect of the evil associations was too apparent to permit the officials to refuse to remove the call boxes from the houses when the request to do so was made by persons interested in city charity work.

The Jackson Street Baptist church has issued a call to Rev. Thomas De Gruchy, of South Kingston, a suburb of Wakefield, R. I. The call is unanimous. Mr. DeGruchy preached in the church during two Sundays early last month. He is a middle-aged man and has a family. The church has been pastorless for nearly two years, ever since the turbulent circumstances at-tending the departure of Rev. Dr. D. C. Hughes, who left to become editor of a religious journal in New York city. Over a month ago a call issued by the congregation to Rev. Dr. J. W. Wil-liams, of Swansen, South Wales, was declined. It is believed Dr. DeGruchy will accept. Several of the West Side churches will hold union services tomorrow even-ing in the Washburn Street Presby-terian church. The meeting is in line with a resolution adopted at the last meeting of the City Pastor's union the purport of which was that at least one ervice next Sunday be devoted to the interests of the coming Christian En-deavor convention. The service will begin at 7.30 o'clock. The Sumner Avenue Presbyterian, the Plymouth Con-gregational and Washburn Street Presbyterian churches will sacrific their usual Sunday evening meeting and will attend the union meeting. The services at the other churches end at such a time that people can attend the meeting. The West Side choir will

The revival services held in Asbury church during the past week have been largely attended and of great interest. A number have sought salvation and many have been greatly helped in their religious life. Mrs. Davis sings and speaks at each service, and her songs have been a blessing to many. During this series of meetings a singing book of favorite songs is being used. This book is compiled by Mrs. Davis and Rev. Mr. Hoffman and many of the songs are written by Mrs. Davis. Tosongs are written by Mrs. Davis. To-morrow, at the morning service, Mrs. Davis will give her experience, telling how, after a period of heart wandering and skeptical darkness, she was led into the light and called into evan-gelistic work, in which she has led thousands to Christ. This morning service begins at 10 o'clock. In the af-ternoon at 345, she will conduct a serservice begins at 19 o'clock. In the at-ternoon at 3.45, she will conduct a ser-vice for men only. In the evening she will again speak. These Sunday ser-vices give promise of being unusually interesting and profitable. Special services will be held during the even-ings of the coming week. All are welcome.

The North End churches having Endeavor societies will hold a union service tomorrow evening in the Provi-dence Presbyterian church. The North End Endeavor choir of one hundred and fifty voices will render two of its convention anthems. Revs. Kinter and Watkins will make appropriate addresses. The service is not for Endeavorers only but the public at large. It will begin at 7.30 o'clock.

In West Side religious circles this week there were two interesting moveweek there were two interesting move-ments. On Sunday night Rev. D. Jones tendered his resignation from the pas-torate of the First Welsh Congrega-tional church and on Monday night Rev. Thomas De Gruchy, of Wake-Rev. Thomas De Gruchy, of Wake-field, L. I., was called to the Jackson Street Baptist church. The call of Mr. De Gruchy was extended at a meeting of the church. He has preached to the Jackson street congregation several times during the past three months and the call is a general expression of the united church.

WHILE YOU SLEEP.

Some Good Reasons Why You Should Not Lie on Your Back.

The health and the lives of hundreds of thousands of people in this land are of thousands of people in this tand are daily injured and destroyed by the position in which they are permitted to sleep, says the New York Journal. This dangerous position is that of lying on the back. It will be found that a majority of babies either take it voluntarily or are placed in it when put to bed. The great mistake made is in putting them on a bed which enables them to take this position instead of the natural and healthy way of ly ing on the side.

The injuries arising from lying on the back are of several kinds. One is the hindrance of breathing by the pressure of the palate against the back of the throat. The other is the collecander Grass: vice-president, Moses ander Grass: vice-president, Moses Frank; secretary, L. Cohen; treasurer, B. Levy; trustees, Isaac Steinberg, first trustee; Jacob Mousky, second trustee; Nathan Koplitsky, third trustee. The Ladies' Ald society of the Providence Methodist church held a thimble party in the church, beginning at 10 party in the church, beginning at 10 printer or grant gr phasies his conclusions by some very striking pictures showing the evil results of sleeping on the back, from an anatomical point of view.

When the head is in an upright position there is a considerable space be-tween the palate, or uvula, and the back of the throat. It is through this open its mouth and breathe through it, which, as every one should know through is unwholesome and unnatural.

When the child lies on its side the palate has no tendency to fall backward, and remains in nearly the sam position as when the head is upright.
The position on the back also tends to increase the effects of injurious secre-tions. If, during sleep, the nose secrets mucus it is permitted to flow into the throat; whereas, if the position on the side had been taken, the mucus would have remained in the nose.

A person who has a severe cold in the head finds his lips red, swollen and cracked on account of the passage of mucus from the nose. In the same way, but to a higher degree, does this injurious secretion affect the delicate skin of the throat when it is allowed to enter there. Affections of the ear, the internal passage of which opens in this region, are also facilitated by the same cause. Dr. Madeuf noticed that disease of the nose, ears and throat, so common in Europe, are very rare in Algeria. The reason of this he attributed to the fact that the Arab mother put her child to sleep on a mat, with one or two light coverings. The hard couch was made necessary by the climate, but it also served a valuable purpose in obliging the child to sleep on its side, and not on its back. Thus it stood a better chance of growing up without weak ness or disease of the throat, ears and

The American child is in this respect less well off than the half-civilized Arab. It is usually put to bed on a pillow of down or feathers. Then, more often than not, it lies on its back. up its little face, and is in a fair way to develop the terrible diseases men

In this country grown-up persons have happily discarded the unwhole-some feather bed to a greater extent than in Europe; but when the seeds of disease are laid in infancy they de-velop in maturity.

MISS VAN DERVOORT'S SUCCESS

A Fine Programme Rendered at Mr Pennington's Recital -- Prof. Schilling Installed as Musical Director of Scranton Liederkanz -- Rosenthal's Appearance -- Other Notes.

Miss Elsie A. C. Van Dervoort, the solo contratto of the Elm Park Quar-tette, though but young in years, has already made a decided impression in musical circles. During the past year she has been a member of the above quarette, and the music committee have engaged her for the year com-mencing in May, '96, ending May '97. Her singing at concerts and social gatherings in addition to her church wor erings in addition to her church work has made her well and favorably known to the Scranton public. Miss Van Der-voort is indebted to her mother for her primary instruction. Madam Van Dervoort was a pupil of Prof. John B. Marsh, of Albany, who was in turn the favorite American pupil of Signor the favorite American pupil of Signo Bassini. Madam Van Dervoort was an is a grand singer and is also a me successful vocal and instrumental in-structor. As a child though never pushed forward, Miss Van Der Voort was regarded as a phenomenon of whor, great things were expected When she was but sixteen years of age she secured a free scholarship at the National Conservatory of Music in Seventeenth street, New York city. Among several hundred competitors she was the only lady who succeeded in satisfying the committee. Signor Santo was her vecal instructor while there. Shortly after this, she sang for a year in the Roman Cathonic church of the Sacred Heart in Mount Vernon, un der the direction of Maurice J. Sullivan, who was a pupil of Madame Lucia Campanni, The following year she was soloist in St. Francis' Xavier' Roman Catholic church, New Yor church, Sixteenth street, New York city. The next year in the Twelfth Street Reformed church in Brooklyn. Street Reformed chart.

During this time she was doing gost During this time she was doing gost During this time she was doing gost During this time. pel singing for the Metropolitan For-ward movement under the leadership of Charles H. Yatman, continuing is this work nearly two years. During the major portion of this time she was an earnest student under George Swee whose studies is at 487 Fifth avenue. New York city. It is frankly conceded by those well informed in musical matters that George Sweet is beyond question the finest vocal instructor and yorce builder in this country. This conscientions master of a noble profession has unhesitatingly commended Miss Van Dervoort as one of his most gifted and painstaking pupils. It ma be added parenthetically that she does full justice to the commendation. She came to Scranton a little over a year ago a young lady and a perfect stran ger. By meritorious work she has at tained a most distinguished position She has accepted a few vocal pupils. As an outcome to this and in response to additional applications this gifted singer and teacher wil open a studie at 409 Wyoming avenue, Oct. 1, 1896, Miss Van Dervoort has been engaged as the special soloist for the Christian Endeavor convention, held in this city Oct. 6, 7, and 8,

A very enjoyable musicale was given on Friday evening by Mr. and Mrs. J. Rosenthal is now at Abazzio, near Trieste, where he is making the final preparations for his coming American our in a delightful cottage that face he Adriatic, Although the engagement of the great planist was originally for lifty concerts, the demand for his services has been such that his manage Mr. Henry Wolfsohn, has been obliged to extend the contract to exactly doubl that number of concerts. One of the features of Rosenthal's tour will be a series of historical recitals, which he will give in the larger cities, Mr. Wolf-sohn has received a flattering offer for a tour of the Pacific Coast, and it is that Rosenthal will be there late in March and April. He will sail for this country on October 23rd from Cherbourg on the Augusta Vic-

The Scranton Liederkranz held pleasant session at their rehearsal rooms on Wednesday evening last when their new musical director, Prof. W. P. Schilling was formally installed. Liederkranz which was founded about twenty-seven years ago is one of the most flourishing of Scranton's musical societies. Unlike many similar organi-zations the German societies usually admit any unobjectionable citizens. whether they are singers or not. The vocalists of the Liederkranz are called active members and the silent ar-called passive members, and the Scran ton organization includes some of the best citizens of the valley on either the active or passive list. The members turned out in full force on Wed-nesday night to welcome their new con-ductor and the exercises were interesting throughout. After the meeting had been called to order President Leutner made a timely address it which he asked all members to give the new director their hearty support by prompt attendance to all rehearsals and welcomed the new official. Schilling responded briefly, thanking the society for the high honor con ferred upon him, and expressing his intention of broving worthy of the trust. The choir then sang a few selections, and refreshments were served after which the session was adjourned That the position obtained by Prof Schilling is one of honor, may be determined by the fact that there were thir-teen applications for the place, coming from Scranton, Wilkes-Barre, New York, Philadelphia and Germany,
