WEST SIDE EVENTS.

Keyser Valley Region Becoming Notorious for Its Lawlessness---Two Hungarians Brutally Assaulted.

. Lawlessness is becoming more and more general in the Keyser Valley re-gion. There is a gang of tough young men back there and they seem to have picked out the foreign element as especial objects of their thugery. Early yesterday morning Peter Patrick and John Lucas, two Hungarians, whose homes are on Continental hill, were waylaid and assaulted by these men on the highway near the Hampton switch. Keyser Valley. While the two Hun-garlans were held to the ground the thugs robbed them of $7 and $8 each. For several hours Patrick lay on the road in an unconscious condition from the effects of a blow on the head.

At daybreak the men went to Dr. Halbert's office, where the wound on Patrick's head was dressed. Dr. Halbert says that the wound is not dan-gerous. Lucas was roughly handled, but shows no severe hurt. The three highwaymen are not known. County Detective Leyshon is at work on the case. Lucas and Patrick were about the streets yesterday.

Michael Gallagher was assaulted
Thursday night in Keyser Valley. He was walking down the road near the Hyde Park breaker, when two men sprang upon him. He was laid unconscious to the road by a blow from a club in the hands of one of the men. They took from him a small sum of money. Gallagher recognized one of his assailants as Michael Whalen. He does not know the other. Sunday night Stanley Doer, a Hungarian, was struck by a billiard cue in the saloon of Patrick McGovern, on Luzerne street. It was at first thought that Doer would die, but yesterday and last evening he improved so greatly that the physicians now say there is no danger. James Dacey, Patrick Gallagher and Martin McNicolas, three young men were arrested for these young men, were arrested for the assault. They entered bail in the sum of $1,000 each to appear at court.

McNicholas, the young man mentioned in the Doer assault, on the same night beat his mother at their home on Luzerne street. He was held in bail.

STARNERS HAVE GONE.

George N. Starner left town some eft many anxious people in the town. Jomewhere out in New York state Staraer is supposed to have relatives. He called the place Long Eddy and he claimed that fish were as numerous there as creditors are here. While Starner was a fishing out there his wife was here a fishing all portable things from the Starner photographic apartents and placing them in trunks. hen sent the trunks to the lone fisherman of Long Eddy. The trunks went individually, not in a bunch; this would excite suspicion. Starner sent word to Hyde Park that he was suffering a bad attack of rheumatism. This was an awful blow to his wife, who immediately closed up shop and went out to New York to nurse her husband. It is a note-worthy fact that Mrs. Starner did not leave for the fisherman's side until nearly all of the household valuables had gone on before via the trunk line. And when people awoke a few weeks ago they found this hamlet Starnerless. Everybody made a grab for what was left in the photographer's apartments. There was not much—only a few pic-Yesterday afternoon Deputy Sheriff Price conducted a sale, and $29.20 was realized. The most valuable thing auctioned off was a handsome crayon portrait of Lieuten-ant of Police Thomas Williams, of this side. Patrolman Kiah Peters, Thomas losgrove, Mary J. Boylan and others purchased the picture for $1.13. They resented it to the lieutenant and ther ent in a bill to Mr. Williams for $2. The sicture now hangs in the police station. Undertaker P. W. Tague purchased a number of photographs and is busy giving them away to the people whose like-

Large Number of Elks Saw the Drama at the Frothingham.

"The American Girl," H. Gratton Donnelly's latest dramatic effort, was produced at the Frothingham last night by A. J. Scammon's company. It was Elk's night and the members of that order with their wives and lady friends were present in large numbers as the guests of Manager Kerr.

The drama is in four acts, one laid in Virginia, two in London and one in Scotland. The action revolves about the adventures of a true-hearted American girl who secretly marries an Eng. ican girl who secretly marries an Eng-glish artist, titled but poor. A series of unfortunate circumstances separates them for nine years and then comes a happy reuniting.

AMATEUR BASE BALL.

Manager of the Taylor Reds Makes a lor Reds by a score of 11 to 5 on the 29th ult. Now as the item is a direct false-hood, I wish to enter an emphatic contradiction to it. In the first place, at the game Tuesday, there were but three of the Reds present. I informed the manager of the Sunsets of that fact, and he desired me to pick a club from the spectators present. I did so with the understanding between us that they were not playing the Reds. At the end of the sixth inning the score was 6-5 in favor of the picked club, and according to the rules of base ball that was the correct score of the game, as the Sunsets batted their half of the seventh, and the picked club did not, thereby leaving the score as it was at the end of the last even innings played, Yours respectfully,

Evan G. Watkins,

Manager Taylor Reds.

AMATEUR BALL NOTES

V. I. S.—If a runner is on third, two are out, a safe hit is made, the man comes in from third, the hitter falls to touch first and the ball is fielded to first and the hitter declared out—in that case the run counts. The question is not a new one. It is answered on the same basis as would be in the case if the hitter touched first ran beyond the base and was tagged out on the line between first and second. In the first case the hitter was entitled to first on the hit. He is credited with a hit and the hit, not the play, scored the runner.—Sporting Ed.

Wall Street Review.

New York, Oct. 2—The situation at the Stock exchange today showed very little change. The volume of business increased moderately, but the movements in the leading shares as has been the case for several days past were most erratic. At the start prices were fractionally higher all around. St. Paul opened ½ per cent, higher at 72½, but under the pressure to sell it fell down to 71½. Sugar rose to 11½, but declined to 10½. The decline in St. Paul and Sugar were followed by a reaction in the general list of ½ to 1½ per cent, while Leather preferred broke to 55½ and railled to 5½. Manhattan was the strongest stock on the list and advanced 2½ to 3½, closing at 91½. The rise was due to a revival of the reports that a deal is in progress between the Manhattan and Metropolitan Traction companies. Speculation closed weak in tone. Net changes show declines of ½ to 2 per cent., Leather leading. Manhattan was an exception and gained 2½. Total sales were 202,055.
